TABLE OF SOURCE MATERIAL

Explanation: The bracketed references listed throughout the text will be found to contain a capital letter followed by a number. The letter refers to a group of source material, while the number refers to a given item within that group. For example, the reference, (B:1), indicates Group B of source material (Cemeteries), and the first township listed under that group (Alstead, N. H.).

B. CEMETERIES: Cemeteries mentioned in the text have been visited by the compiler within the respective townships, listed below, to which their numbers refer. In order to condense and simplify the list as much as possible, reference numbers have been assigned to townships only (except in Canada). For example, all cemeteries mentioned in the text and bearing the reference (B:5) will be found in the township of Bath, N. H. Villages liable to be mistaken for separate townships have been itemized following the township in which they lie. For this reason, Pettyboro and Swiftwater have been grouped with Bath, N. H., as they lie in the township of Bath. In Canada, where the number of cemeteries visited was relatively small, separate numbers have been given to all settlements within the townships, as well as to the townships themselves.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

My sincere thanks are extended to the many who have cooperated with me to make this family history a fitting memorial to these early ancestors of ours, who came to this country when it was little more than a wilderness, and who, by their patient industry, courage and endurance, have left us an inheritance of which we should be justly proud.

Special mention should be made of those who have made available many records which, otherwise, it would have been practically impossible to have obtained, as they came in a large part from a generation whose lips have long been silent.

Miss Ella Flanders of Franklin, N. H., spent many years of tireless effort in collecting this material on the Flanders family, all of which she has most generously contributed to the present volume. Mrs. Charles Brown of Fall River, Mass., loaned the records her father, Abiel Chandler Flanders, had collected during this same period, working in collaboration with Miss Ella Flanders. Through the courtesy of Miss Flanders and Mrs. Brown it has been possible to obtain much material on the intermediate generations of the family, which otherwise would have been irretrievably lost, as much of this was contained in personal letters from a generation which has since passed on.

Miss Louella Ward Flanders of New Orleans, La., spent many months gathering together the data on her own branch of the family, and from family papers has compiled a most interesting and valuable account of the lives and activities of those who settled in Louisiana in the early days.

Mrs. Sidney Stevens of Stanstead, P. Q., has assisted very materially with the Canadian branch of the family, contributing an old genealogy compiled in 1848, as well as many personal accounts of the lives of her father's family. Mr. Lewis Flanders of Brookline, Mass., has also given much time to the collecting of records pertaining to this Canadian branch, of which he is a descendant. He has in his possession many old documents relative to Gov. Alvan Flanders, and a most interesting old diary kept by his grandfather when he went from his home in Canada to settle in Boston, Mass.

Miss Minnie L. Flanders and Mrs. Farwell P. Merrick of Warner, N. H.; Mrs. Lewis Burton Flanders of Bridgeport, Ill., and Mrs. Charles Roscoe Flanders of Rockland, Me., have also been untiring in their efforts to obtain data for this family history, and have made most valuable contributions.

Mr. Harry Grant Flanders of Chicago, Ill., who has been engaged for many years in collecting family records, very courteously assisted with the results of his research.

My special thanks are given to Mr. Carl Lawrence Flanders of Amesbury, Mass., for the constant encouragement he has given me from the time this work was first undertaken up to the present time. He has been an unfailing source of inspiration, as well as a most valuable contributor.

During the course of the compilation of this family record, many have passed away, who took a very active interest in the work and whose loss has been deeply felt by the compiler. Among these are Mr. James Allen Flanders of Framingham, Mass., and Mr. Edward Aiken Flanders of San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. George McK. Roberts of New York City, who is collecting material for a history of the town of Enfield, N. H., has been most kind in assisting with all records pertaining to the Flanders family which he obtained in the course of his research. Mr. Harry Hequembourg Pierson of the American Legation at Bogotá, Columbia, S. A., who has in preparation a genealogy of the Hequembourg family, has also been a valuable contributor. Mr. Charles Preston French of Chicago, Ill., who is compiling a genealogy of the French family very courteously sent in material he had obtained on the Flanders family.

The illustrations in this book were made by Walter L. Flanders of Dover, N. H., who is an expert in photography, and it is due to his skill and patience that such excellent reproductions were made, in nearly all cases, from most unpromising material. Due to age, many of the photographs were badly faded. Others were merely small tintypes. His contribution is most gratefully acknowledged.

Without the assistance of my son, Francis Flanders Dunbar, much of the material in this book could not have been collected. He has been of invaluable assistance in locating practically forgotten cemeteries, overgrown with almost impenetrable thickets, piecing together the broken stones and deciphering the nearly obliterated inscriptions. He has also aided in copying records, both in this country and in Europe. In the latter, the records were in the old handwriting of the priests and were written in medieval Latin and French, and old Flemish.

My thanks are also extended to my sister, Miss Ellen I. Flanders, who has also assisted in the copying of records and cemetery inscriptions.

It is to be regretted that lack of space does not permit a personal acknowledgment to the many members of the family who have contributed their records. The assistance rendered by those whose names will be found listed in sections J, Q, R, and S, under Source Material has nevertheless been very deeply appreciated.

THE FLANDERS FAMILY
FROM EUROPE TO AMERICA

"In y$^{e}$ ffeare of God"

After reading the scanty documentary evidence, left behind by the early settlers of New England, one gets the impression that God mingled much more freely in the affairs of men in those days than now. Our fathers lived daily "in y$^{e}$ ffeare of God," and died "in y$^{e}$ hope of a joyfull resurrection." It would seem almost that they adopted the Old Testament for the rule and guide in this earthly life, and reserved the New Testament for the life to come. Religion was the paramount issue with them, and, apparently its maintenance in its original purity, as they conceived it, brought far more sorrow than joy.

It has been said that the Puritans settled New England. This is not strictly true. New England was settled by Puritans, by restless adventurers, by criminals fleeing from justice, and by non-conforming Christians whom the intolerance of the Puritans drove from their midst to the farthest confines of the then known land. It has been said that our fathers came to this country to escape religious persecution. This, again, is only partially true. To him who reads carefully, it is quite evident that they came to have their own way. For twelve years they lived in Holland where there was no religious persecution, and yet they were not content. They had dreams of a commonwealth in which the church rather than the state should be the governing power; and by "church," they meant their own particular form of religion. This statement is borne out by their persecution of the Baptists and Quakers in after years. They endured all kinds of hardship in coming to America; they died of starvation, and cold, and disease after they got here, and after all these sacrifices, no doubt they felt themselves justified in adhering rigidly to the principles upon which the colony was founded.

Religious movements are more often governed by fanatical zeal than by the rules of common sense. In the days of Peter the Hermit, men, women, and children entered upon a mad attempt to recover the Holy Sepulchre. They had no adequate means of protection; they had no organized plans for maintenance on the way, and they died by thousands before they reached Palestine. Even so, the Pilgrims, in their eagerness to reach the shores of America, embarked in rotten ships, without sufficient provisions and without the necessary tools with which to establish themselves in the new land. Somebody evidently noticed this and in response to the question, "How do they expect to live after they get there?" received the reply, "By fishing," and King James, with ill-concealed sarcasm said, "It was the Apostles' own calling."

Leaky ships and storms and head winds so delayed the passage that the Mayflower with her cargo of one hundred people entered Plymouth Bay in late December. Those of us familiar with a New England winter can easily reproduce the scene. The wilderness of pines and hemlocks, the drifting snow, the freezing winds whistling through the treetops—these things kept the Pilgrims huddled together in the ship for warmth as long as it was possible to retain her. And there were stories of Indians, a fierce and relentless foe, to be overcome, so that the first task was to build a platform on the top of a hill upon which they mounted some of the antiquated guns of the ship. As it happened, the Indians at that time were living "in ye ffeare of y^e^ Devil," and interpreted the coming of the settlers as a visitation upon them for the murder of a couple of Englishmen some months before. Both parties lived in equal fear of each other for a number of years.

Some ten years after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, began the great Puritan migration to the colony at Massachusetts Bay. The kings and queens of England and Europe gave to their subjects tracts of land in America which they did not own and which they had never seen. The Puritan conscience was more sensitive and in many instances the land was bought from the original owners. The price paid was ridiculously small, but what would you give for a tract of land which would require the labor of an entire generation, in point of time, to reduce to the bare conditions of living? The value of mediums of exchange varies according to the times and the circumstances. When an iron pot rises to the dignity of being specifically mentioned and bequeathed in a will, and a few scraps of rusty "ould irun" are inventoried as of considerable value in a man's estate, we are impressed with this fact.

As soon as the dwelling houses were completed the meeting house was built. About three miles from where I am sitting at this moment, upon the top of a hill overlooking rivers and bay, are the grassy outlines of such a house, erected in 1654. A few years later, when the Indians became troublesome, it was surrounded by a palisade with two sconces or "flankarts" from which armed watch was kept during service time. Across the way lived Elder Hatevil (Hate-evil) Nutter. Even the names were made to conform in those days. There were no cushioned pews, no stained glass windows, no pealing organ in that church. The people sat upon an unyielding ash plank and listened to a sermon two hours long. Light was admitted through greased paper or twisted glass bullseyes, and very likely Elder Nutter "raised the psalm" without the aid of a pitchpipe.

The sexton summoned the people to worship by the beating of a drum. Can you not see them, those stern men with guns at their shoulders, those sad-faced women in their white kerchiefs toiling slowly up the hill? They knew no better than to live "in y^e^ ffeare of God," and we, from the vantage-point of our superior knowledge and understanding, think we can afford to smile and invent sly quips about "falling upon their knees and then upon the aborigines," quite forgetting that nothing short of this same religious fervor could have opened this land of ours in the face of cold and starvation and mutilation at the hands of a savage foe. That first generation lived about long enough to clear the stubborn land and erect a few rude dwellings. What did they gain for themselves? Not even a comfortable living, but who can count the blessings they conferred upon us their descendants?

In the second generation we find community life at high tide. Theocratic government, the ideal of the Puritan, was firmly established and church membership was necessary for participation in the affairs of the body politic. Newcomers were required to take the "Oath of ffidelitie" in which they swore "by the greate and dreadfull name of the ever-lyveing God" to be loyal to the commonwealth.

I have said that New England was settled by Puritans, by adventurers, by criminals fleeing from justice and by dissenting Christians. Some of the followers of Anne Hutchinson, the Anabaptist, were driven into New Hampshire where they founded the towns of Hampton and Exeter. William Willis, in his history of Portland (Maine Hist. Soc. Collections, Vol. I, p. 90) says, "the want of a regular government east of Piscataqua for many years, encouraged a laxity of morals which did not prevail in any other part of New England." He mentions that the commissioners of the king in the report of their doings here in 1665, speaking of the people east of the Kennebec, say, "those people are for the most part fishermen, and never had any government among them; most of them are such as have fled from other places to avoid justice."

Such law as there was emanated from Massachusetts Bay and from petty governments established in the various plantations, and in its administration the influence of the Puritan is everywhere evident, striving to compel the people to live "in y^e^ ffeare of God" and in communion with the church. The Court records of the old town of York, Maine, bear eloquent testimony to these facts. Women were presented at court for "abuseing" their husbands and slandering their neighbors. One woman, for telling the sheriff what she thought of him, was condemned to have ten lashes laid upon her bare back. In 1674, Adam Gudding was presented for "denying the morality of the fourth commandment." The selectmen of Cape Porpus were presented for not seeing that "the children and youth of the town were taught their catechism and educated according to law." In 1671, Thomas Cloyse admitted to the court that he "played at cards," and was fined 5s. In this same year one Thomas Withers was convicted "for Scruptitiously indeavoring to prevent the providence of God, and privilidges of others, by putting in several Votes for himself to be an officer of Town Meeting, when He was Intrusted by divers Freemen to Vote for other men, and for now writing and forging of a Summons and subscribing the clerks of the Writ's Hand to itt without his order."

In the records of 1645, we catch a glimpse of Mrs. Sherman's stray pig which occupied the attention of the Church and the General Court at Boston for nearly two years, and which was instrumental in bringing about the bicameral form of government in America. It is evident that a pig might be properly included in the arms of the United States. This case shows also that the ungodly were alive to the fact that justice was not impartially meted out in those days. Read the deposition of George Cleaves, taken on May 1, 1645:

> "I, George Cleaves, do affirme that about the 25th of the 3rd month last, 1645, that three of Andrew Algar's men of Stratton's island came to my house in a botte to borrow scales and waits to way their fish, and I questioned them about all that shuting which troubled all the people in several plantations and they tould me that Mr. Nash shot them, and give them pouder to answer him againe and I also demanded of them if they were not all drunk, and they said that they were all merrie, and farther I affirme that I went and Mr. Tucker with mee to the house of John Cussin's and Thomas Smith, in Cascoe Bay and about 3 leagues from my house to have taken there testimony consarning Nash's slandering your General Court, but could not prevail upon them to take the oath, they being refractorrie and saith that Nash is in their debt, but confessed verbalie to us, as they had formalie tould Mr. Holland of Dorchester that Nash said the Court had done a great wrong to a pore woman about a sowe that none could have justice from you but such as were membars of the Church, and tould them they as good live in turkie as live under such a government, and tould them that thare were 19 witnesses sworne against Mr. Cane (Capt. Keayne) yet he being a membar carried the mattar against the poore woman and other witnesses to this effect, and this is in the mouths of all malignants, it being reported say they by thouse that live amongst them and therefore is undoubtedly trew."

These records give us a glimpse of the politics of that day, both civil and ecclesiastic.

It now no longer required all of one's time to provide the bare necessities of food and shelter, and many men reverted to the trades which they followed in the old country. The rivers and bays of the new land abounded in salmon, and many busied themselves in exporting fish to England. The thick forests furnished an abundance of spruces and pines suitable for masts and spars in the king's navy, and many of the highways leading to the coast in this part of New England from which I am writing, are still known as "the old mast roads." Oaks were plenty and they were fitted for staves for wine casks and exported to Spain and Portugal. Shipbuilding was begun wherever there were opportunities for launching, and now the old records begin to show ship-wrights, mill-wrights, house-wrights, and wain-wrights; coopers and carpenters, potters and blacksmiths. Further evidence that undesirable citizens who lived not "in y^e^ ffeare of God" were now coming to New England, is found in the election of "fish-viewers," "stave-viewers," and "mast-viewers," whose business it was to see that rotten fish or worm-eaten staves or shaky timbers did not leave the shores of America. Trading in land was a common enterprise, and those who acquired large holdings, or who were influential in affairs of state, began to be known by the title of "Mr."

Of course there were many lesser callings, such as wheel-wrights and caulkers and cordwainers. Do you know what a cordwainer is? There were many public officers such as pound-keepers, hog-reeves, fence-viewers, highway surveyors and herdsmen, and many of these occupations called for men of integrity and sound common sense. We are apt to think of a "cow common" as a little plot in the center of a village with a dozen cows grazing upon it. The copy of a vote in town meeting lies before me, which specifies that a certain tract of land, several miles in circumference, shall "lye common to y^e^ towne forever." In passing, one of the boundaries of that common was "y^e^ frogg pond." Somehow, the doubled consonants give me a satisfactory and realistic sense of the fecundity and multiplicity of the frog.

In the second generation flocks and herds were abundant in New England. One ship arriving at our shores was called the "Pied Cow." And there is documentary evidence that some of these animals lived "in y^e^ ffeare of God." We find on record a town which gave the use and improvement of the parsonage, barn, orchard and pasture, to the widow of their former minister, reserving accommodations for "minister's horses, which come to preach at the West meeting house."

What about the lives of the young people of that day? They were pretty drab, I fear. There was no dancing upon the village green, no sports in which the sexes mingled. I have in my possession an old book, published in the beginning of the eighteenth century. It is a terribly dry defence of some obsolete theological question and as such, interests me not at all. That which does interest me is the fly-leaf upon which is written, "Mary Tupper her Book," and I cannot escape the conviction that this book was Mary Tupper's light reading. Surrounded by a multitude of "blue laws," young people could meet only in the presence of their elders. Courting was done in the common living room, and the only privacy the young people had, was in the shadows cast by a dying fire. It was the old story of the laws of man in conflict with the laws of nature, and it is not surprising that lapses occurred now and then. That which is surprising is that the records do not show that our fathers meted out to cases of illegitimacy the punishment accorded to Hester Prynne in Hawthorne's romance. One of the bewildering things about the Puritan character is that with all his implacableness and hewing to the line, there come out occasional exhibitions of mercy and loving kindness, all the more acceptable because they are unexpected. In the scouting orders given to Joseph fflanders and others in 1702, they were directed "to range the hills" and if they met any Indians they were "not to kill them but to treat them kindly and bring them in to Major noye."

Illegitimacy is far more common now than in the early days of New England. The Puritan was concerned with the breach of the moral law; we of today are concerned over the possible effect it may have upon inheritance and the descent of property.

In this second generation we see the workings of that pioneer spirit so characteristic of New Englanders down to the present day. Of necessity, trades could thrive only in large communities; husbandry was always the refuge of the poor. The desire for better and cheaper land carried men far into the wilderness. In succeeding generations we find this same urge apparent, as in the case of Nehemiah Flanders, who with a bag of salt on his shoulder and four dollars in his pocket, walked from Warner, New Hampshire, to Colebrook, in the same state, a journey of one hundred miles as the crow flies, and, of course, much farther than that by the devious paths of that day. Distance and lack of transportation had no deterrent effect upon this man who was determined to establish himself in a new land. The restless husbandman was always on the move and was stopped only by the shores of the Pacific Ocean.

So, too, the desire to have one's own way has been perpetuated. This desire directed into the proper channels is responsible for the self government which we now enjoy. The Puritan was loath to accept dictation. In the early days of the colonies the mandates of the king were usually lost in committees sent out to consider them.

In this second generation, also, we have seen the beginnings of revolt against Theocracy. In the deliberations now going on with reference to the recognition of the Soviet government, it is rumored that the President of the United States will stipulate that Americans in Russia shall be allowed to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences.

It is to these characteristics of the Puritans which we sometimes condemn as narrow and bigoted, that we owe the United States of today. Have you ever thought of that?

He who attempts to place an estimate upon the character of the early settlers of New England, will be confronted with a bewildering and contradictory mass of evidence. This little sketch was written in the hope that it may throw side-lights upon that character, as revealed in the records which have been searched for the compilation of this book. Men should be judged not by inconsistencies, not by petty success or failure, but by the record of final achievement. Our fathers left us a stable government and a land improved and cultivated. In homely phrase, they did all the dirty work that we might live in luxury and ease. Do you recognize this? It is no exaggeration to say that there are men and women in New England who have never given the fact a serious thought. Once a year our governors issue a solemn proclamation for the Puritan Thanksgiving. We are urged to repair "to our several places of worship and there offer up thanks to Almighty God," etc., etc., and in response we flock by the thousands to the football stadium, without thought for those who made the holiday possible.

When I see the sunny pastures of New England, I am reminded that someone cleared them of forest and undergrowth and passed on as soon as the task was accomplished. When I contemplate the miles of stonewalls which cut the landscape into squares like a gigantic checkerboard, I am seized of a backache, and the sight of deserted houses and old cellar holes, half filled with bricks from the fallen chimney, send me off into dreamy speculation. I wonder who lived, who suffered, who was briefly happy there.

In these days of rushing automobiles, of pushing and crowding to gain more than one can use, I wish it were possible to persuade people, that it is their solemn duty to pay more than occasional homage to the memory of those men and women of indomitable will and sturdy perseverance, who clung so steadfastly to an ideal and who lived daily "in y$^{e}$ ffeare of God."

THE FLANDERS FAMILY

PIONEER TO THE AMERICAN COLONIES

With but few exceptions, all who bear the name of Flanders in the United States and Canada find a common ancestor in him whose signature appears above. The handwriting of our pioneer ancestor has thus been preserved to us, attached to many old documents of the period. The quaintness of the handwriting of the seventeenth century is at once an obstacle and a source of interest to the present day reader. For example, the ff in "fflanders" is double to indicate capitalization, and corresponds to our present capital F. An inspection of these early documents has shown that, despite certain minor variations in chirography, our ancestor invariably spelled his given name, STEVEN, employing the V in place of the usual PH. The French, German, and English spelling of the name is STEPHEN or STEPHAN. The Russians also employ the F (PH) sound, instead of the V. In contrast with these, the Flemish and Dutch employ the V, as did our ancestor.

While too much significance should not be attached to the spelling of a name, it is a matter of considerable interest that Steven Flanders should have followed the Flemish form in view of the fact that he was undeniably of Flemish stock, coming to this country from the Flemish Netherlands or possibly from England. I have been informed that the name of Stephen is most uncommon in England, but is found spelled with the V. As the biblical spelling, Stephen, is the more common, it is very likely that this V form was introduced by the Flemish emigrants, many of whom settled in England in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and a certain number even prior to that period.

Many of us consider that our ancestor, Steven Flanders, came from the Flemish Netherlands,—from the old provinces of Flanders (now a part of Belgium); others are disposed to believe that he came from England. In an attempt to settle this question, extensive research has been carried on both in Belgium and in England. The results of these investigations, being still open to controversy in certain details, will be found in the addenda of this volume. Further research is being carried on and should additional information be obtained, a later edition will be published. At the present time this much may be said: Steven Flanders was of Flemish origin. As to the country in which he was residing at the time of his emigration to America, the following possibilities exist: that he was a native of the old provinces of Flanders, and sailed from a Flemish port or a Dutch port to this country, or sailed first to England and resided there a certain time before coming to the Colonies; secondly, that he was born in England as a child of Flemish emigrants. From the evidence set forth in this volume, the reader is invited to draw his own conclusions as to which of these possibilities he considers the more probable.

From the family traditions we learn that our pioneer ancestor arrived in this country "soon after the Mayflower"; that he landed in Maine, Massachusetts, or New York; that he was the son of an earl; that he was found on a battlefield of Flanders when a boy of four or five years of age, and was then taken to England; that he fled from the Flemish Netherlands in a "pork barrel" in order to escape religious persecution; that he came to this country inspired by a love for adventure; and that he narrowly escaped shipwreck in a violent storm at sea, losing papers entitling him to money and property, so that he reached the shores of the new country in a penniless condition. It would be interesting, were it possible, to trace the common origin of these diverse accounts. While a fuller exposition of these traditions is given elsewhere in the book, the present summary reveals that, among the many inconsistencies of these legends, there is a point of mutual agreement;—that Steven Flanders came from the provinces of Flanders.

While the deficiency of data on our first American ancestor (inclining one to believe that the well-known "Flanders taciturnity" had its origin in him) leaves unanswered much that we would like to know, such information as has been obtained is quite consistent in what it suggests concerning his character, and affords us a rough outline of his activities.

The time of his coming and the date of his birth are unknown. Whether he was a youth, or a man nearing middle age, when he decided to seek his fortune in the New World, we do not know.

James Savage mentions in his "Genealogical Dictionary" that Steven Flanders was twice married. No authority is cited for this statement, nor have any records been found to verify it. However, it is quite possible that such was the case, for there are many indications that Steven was not a young man when he settled at Salisbury, Massachusetts. For example, he was never called upon for military service in the Indian troubles of the time. An additional indication of advanced age is found in the inventory of his estate, which lists among his belongings "2 payre of spectacles." In the Colonies during the seventeenth century, spectacles were uncommon; they were employed by the aged as an aid to reading,—an occupation for which there was seldom time until bodily infirmity prevented the early planters from carrying on their out-door activities. The fact that Steven was the owner of "2 payre" might well suggest that he was a man well advanced in years at the time of his death in 1684,—only 38 years after the birth of his first recorded child. If he had been a young man in 1646 when his first recorded child was born, he would have been but slightly over sixty years of age at the time of his death,—scarcely to be considered as an old man. Also, his will is subscribed, not with his signature, but with his mark. This instrument is dated four months prior to his death, and a petition made out in 1680 was signed for him (probably by his son Philip). As his own signature was attached to several earlier documents, the absence of his personal signature to the later ones might well be due to the infirmities of age.

It has been stated that Steven Flanders was the only one of the name who came to this country in the early days. If such were the case, then we must conclude that he was twice married and that he had other children by the first marriage;—for there are records of other Flanders in New York State and in Virginia about 1663. The data concerning these will be found listed under "Undetermined Descent."

The universal opinion appears to have been that Steven made his first settlement in Salisbury, Mass. Due probably to the fact that, in 1860, Savage stated in his "Genealogical Dictionary" that "Steven Flanders was in Salisbury in 1646," but that he was "not one of the first settlers," Dr. Prescott, in his brief genealogy of the Flanders family (in the N. E. H. & G. Reg., vol. 27) rephrased these statements to read: "Stephen Flanders came to America between 1640 and 1646," and that he "settled at Salisbury, Mass.," doubtless forming his conclusion from the above statement of Savage and the fact that the list of Salisbury's first settlers, drawn up in 1640, bore no mention of the name of Steven Flanders. Since the publication of Prescott's genealogy in 1873, all books of genealogical reference have repeated this statement in one form or another. Because of this continual repetition, it is important that the significance of these dates be appreciated, as they are misleading, and probably erroneous.

The town of Salisbury had no permanent settlement prior to 1640, and since Steven's name does not appear on the list of original settlers drawn up in 1640, his arrival would necessarily have been subsequent to that year. Now in 1646, on the 8th of March, we find entered among the births on the town records of Salisbury,—"Steven sone of Steven fflanders & Jane his wyfe." These two dates form the sole authority for the above statements in regard to the time of the arrival of our ancestor, Steven, in this country and his settlement at Salisbury.

In order to ascertain whether this birth record could be considered indubitable proof that Steven, Jr., was born at Salisbury, it was necessary to examine the original town records. For a long time, these could not be found, but, as a result of persistent search, they were finally located. Had the births been arranged in perfect chronological order, or nearly so, the inference that the birth occurred at Salisbury would have been justifiable, but the following excerpt from this old record book will show that this was not the case:

> Thomas, Sone of Richard Currier & Ann: his wyfe was born 8:1: mo:1646.
> Steven sone of Steven fflanders & Jane his wyfe was borne 8:1: mo: 1646.
> Martha, daughter of Tho: Currier & Mary his wyfe was born in ye 12: m:1645.
> Phillip Sone of Henry Brown & Abigail his wyfe was born 10th mo 1646.
> Mary, daughter of Jno. Hoyt & ffrances his wyfe was born: 20:12: mo:1645.
> Mary, daughter of Mr. Samll Dudley & Mary his wyfe was born 21:2:mo 1646.
> Debora, daughter of Wm Barnes & Rachell his wyfe was born 1:2: mo:1646.
> Elisha, Sone of Mr. Samll Winsley & Elizabeth his wyfe was born 30:3:mo:1646.
> Sarah daughter of Mr. Wm Worcester & Sarah his wyfe was born 22:4:mo:1646.
> Sarah, daughter of John Clough & Jane his wyfe was born 28:4: mo:1645.

As the births for 1646 are followed in several instances by births in 1645, it is clear that these entries could not have been made upon the town records at the time the child was born. At what subsequent date these births were recorded, it is, of course, impossible to state. Mr. David Hoyt gives this additional information that, there are "two ancient and three modern copies" of the Salisbury records. One of these ancient books is the one from which the above excerpt is taken, the other is the Old Norfolk County book. Both of these have been examined and in the latter book a birth in 1646 is followed by a birth in 1639; there are also other births recorded in 1637, 1638 and 1639 (births occurring before the town was settled) and a birth in 1641 is found among the births of 1644.

This lack of chronological order may be explained in the following manner:

On the 9th of Sept., 1639, an order was issued by the General Court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony that:

> .. .. .. there bee records kept of the dayes of every marriage, birth & death of every pson wthin this jurisdiction. For every death 1d, for every birth a 1d, the same to be certified once every yeare at > the time of the Generall Courte, the same party bringing the certificates to pay the fees vnto the recorder for entry of the same, and such townes to bee fined 40s as shall faile to send vp theire certificates.

As this order called for the annual presentation of these records, it would seem improbable that the original Salisbury record book (if, indeed, it was then in existence) was sent in every year: rather, one would suppose, separate lists were sent in for certification. Then, at a later period, these records were assembled, and a copy made from the earlier certificates,—an attempt being made by the recorder to place them in approximate chronological order. In fact, an examination of the old book of vital statistics for the town of Salisbury, reveals that all entries up to 1672 were made in the same handwriting, and in several cases, entries for an entire family follow in consecutive order; indicating that the book was not made up in its present form at the time these events occurred, but at some later period, as suggested above.

As Old Norfolk County was not organized until 1643, it is probable that the certificates were kept at Boston by the General Court prior to that time. A shire town was not established until October, 1649,—this town being Salisbury. With the establishment of a shire town, it is reasonable to suppose that all matters pertaining to the county were then ordered to be kept in County books. Therefore, about 1650, or even later, the records of the constituent towns would have been transferred from the Boston files to the Old Norfolk County books, where they now appear. The records in the Old Norfolk County book and the Salisbury town book differ in certain instances, indicating that the Salisbury book was made up later,—the variations between the two representing additions or emendations to the Old Norfolk County records, made, perhaps, at the request of the parties concerned. For example: the birth of Abigail Carter is entered in the Old Norfolk County book as occurring the latter part of June, 165–, while in the Salisbury book the fuller and corrected record of "11th mo: 1652" is given.

This being the case, the date of 1646 affords no proof that Steven was a resident of Salisbury at this time. An effort was, therefore, made to find some other record that would definitely establish his residence. This record was found in the "province and Court Records of Maine, 1636-1686":

> At a Generall Courte houlden at Gorgeana alias Accomenticus, the 16th of October, 1649, before the right worshipfull Edward Godfrey, Deputy Governor, Mr. Nicholas Shapleigh, Mr. Abraham Preble, Edward Rushworth, Assistants: and Basill Parker Re: Cor. "Presentments: The wife of Stephen Flanders presented for abuseing her husband and her neighbours; the Constable to have a warant to bring her to the next court."

This is significant as we find recorded at Gorgeana (a former name for York, Maine), under date of July, 1649:

> Whereas the Inhabitance of Pascataquache, Gorgeana & Wells in the province of Maine have begun to propagat and populate these parts of the Counterey did formerly by power derived from Sir Fernando Gorges exercise the regulating of the affayres of the Counterey as ny as we could according to the Lawes of England and such other ordinances as was thought meet & requiset for the better regulating thereof, now for as much as Sir Fernando Gorges is dead the Cunterey by ther generall letters sent to his Heyre in June 1647 & (48) but by the sad distractions in England noe (return) is yet come to hand: and command from the Parlament not to meddell in soe much as was granted to Mr. Rigbey: most of the commissioners being departed the province, the Inhabitance are for present in sume distraction about the regulating the affayres of these partes for the better ordering whereof tell Furder order power and authorryty shall come out of England: The Inhabitance with one Free and unius animus consent doe bynde themselves in a boddy politick and combination to see thes partes of the Cunterey and province regulated according to such lawes as formerly have bine exersised and such other as may be thought meet not repugnant to the Fundamentall lawes of our Nation and Cunterey: and to make choyse of such Governor or Governors as by most voysses they shall thinck meet: Dated in Gorgeana: alias Accomenticus the —— daye of July 1649.

The above clearly shows that the inhabitants of Gorgeana and the neighboring towns had resolved to set up a voluntary government of their own, and they would, therefore, have had no authority to summon a resident of the Massachusetts Bay Colony to their court;—a court which was appointed solely for the purpose of "regulating the affayres" of their own towns. It was not until Nov. 20, 1652, that the "Inhabitants of Gorgeana" acknowledged themselves subject to the "Government of Massachusetts in New England," and the name of the town was then changed to York. On May 18, 1653, Court was established at York under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. (G:40)

From the foregoing records we must conclude that Steven Flanders and his wife, Jane, were residents of York, Maine, on October 16, 1649, when the summons was issued for Jane to appear at the next court. This Court was held, apparently, October 15, 1650, but Charles Edward Banks, in his "History of York, Maine," states that: "As there is no further report of this case, he" (Steven Flanders) "must have removed immediately to Salisbury where he was taxed in 1650 and lived there until his death, June 27, 1684."

Possibly an additional piece of evidence is found in Mr. David Hoyt's statement that: "At least five of the first settlers of Salisbury had been previously at York. Later there were frequent removals between Essex County and York County of families bearing the names of: Flanders (perhaps); Blaisdell; Merrill"; etc. "This is true not only of York but of Wells, Kennebunkport, and other towns on the coast."

That Old Norfolk County in the Colony of Massachusetts Bay was organized in 1643 has been previously stated, and that Salisbury was made its shire town on October 17 (or 18), 1649. If it be supposed that Jane was summoned to the next Maine Court because the Salisbury Court was not yet established, even though such a step was legally out of order, since the inhabitants of Gorgeana could not exercise jurisdiction over the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, there still remain two points which would make her residence in Salisbury at this time untenable: first: the fact that Salisbury was to be immediately made the shire town of Old Norfolk County could not have been unknown to the Maine Court at the time it issued a warrant for Jane's later appearance before another Maine Court; second: there is no record that Jane was ever called before any Salisbury Court to answer this charge.

Some years prior to 1852, Joshua Coffin undertook to go over the Court files and other public papers in the County of Essex, comprising part of Old Norfolk County and to extract therefrom all the genealogical items contained in them. The results of his research are given under the title,—"Coffin's Minutes of the Early Settlers of Essex and Old Norfolk." He prefaces these "Minutes" as follows: "Where the residence was known it is given, and those not known resided in some part of Essex and the then County of Norfolk." When Old Norfolk County was organized it included several New Hampshire towns, namely, Dover, Portsmouth (then known as Strawberry Bank), Hampton, and Exeter; Salisbury and Haverhill in Massachusetts were also part of this county. Later when Old Norfolk County was abandoned (1679-80), Salisbury and Amesbury were added to Essex County.

An entry in these "Minutes" of Joshua Coffin, has caused a certain amount of confusion, for we find listed: "Flanders, Jane, wife of Stephen, 1648." No place of residence is given, therefore Mr. Coffin found nothing to indicate where she was living at the time. It has been assumed, because his research was confined to the records of Essex and Old Norfolk County, and because the birth of Steven, Jr., was entered on the Salisbury records under date of 1646, that Jane must have been residing at Salisbury in 1648. It will be noted that Mr. Coffin's records were taken from "Court files and other public papers" in the two counties of Essex and Norfolk; that Norfolk County then included Portsmouth, N. H., a town located but a few miles from York, Me. As it is impossible to locate the paper from which he obtained the above notation, and in view of the fact that we have conclusive evidence that in 1649, Jane was in York, Me., the only reasonable supposition appears to be that she may temporarily have been in Portsmouth at this time and served as a witness in some case, or that her name was attached to some paper of a public nature, possibly a land transaction. This reference cannot be considered in any sense, as an authoritative proof that she was then residing in Salisbury, Mass.

On Feb. 3, 1650, a town meeting was held at Salisbury at which "Steven Flanders," and others, were "accomp'ed townsmen and Comoners." Thus we have a definite statement that Steven Flanders was in Salisbury in 1650. As we have just as definite assurance that he was in York, Me., October, 1649, we must assume that he arrived at Salisbury sometime between Oct., 1649 and Feb., 1650.

On the Salisbury town records the death of Mary, daughter of Steven fflanders & Jane, his wyfe, under date of May 4, 1650, is given. Her date of birth is not recorded. Taken in connection with the foregoing evidence, we can but conclude that both she and Steven, Jr., were born elsewhere. It is possible that the town records of Salisbury were compiled at so late a date that her birth was not remembered or that, as she died so shortly after the arrival of her parents at Salisbury, her residence "w$^{th}$in the jurisdiction of Massachusetts" was not considered to have been of sufficient length to warrant the payment of "ld" for recording her birth.

The first land divisions in Salisbury were made with an eye to the monetary means of the settlers, as the account given in an old newspaper, published at Amesbury in 1874, and entitled "The Villager," bears witness:

> The first record of a meeting held at Salisbury bears the date of March 1639. At this meeting it was ordered by the original grantees that there should be two divisions of meadow land, "each man to have four acres to his one hundred pounds of personal property"; other divisions were left to be determined upon by future action. Upland lots were to be divided so that he who had 50 pounds of personal property should have four acres, and he who had from 50 to 150 pounds should have six acres, "and all above shall share four acres to every 100 pounds additional." This division of land was on the principle that "to him that hath shall be given," but its real object was to attract among the settlements men of wealth. The lots were granted on condition that they should be settled upon before the sixth of May and those having families should inhabit before the last of October. The granting of these lots shows the money value of the persons receiving them. On the 5th mo. 20th, 1641, an order was passed that all persons who had been granted lots of land should come and reside in the town before the first of November next or else their lands would be forfeited to the town.

Steven Flanders' name first appears on the tax list in Salisbury in 1650, when he was made townsman. A townsman was obliged to own land in his town, and we learn from the records that Steven was given an acre and a half for a house lot when the above office was conferred upon him. He was rated for three shillings, nine pence, and there were but few on the list of sixty-one who received a lower rating. It is evident that he possessed no ratable property aside from the acre and a half which had been given him. In view of the fact that only persons of wealth were desired in the town, we may wonder why he was made townsman and received a gift of land. The only explanation is, I believe, that given me by one who is an authority on the history and customs of the early settlements. He was considered, for reasons which we are at liberty to supply, a man of worth and value to the community, therefore, the inducements of land and town offices were given him in order that he might become a permanent resident.

We have another indication in this transaction that Steven's residence in the town had been comparatively short, for it was an early and very prevalent custom to "warn out of town" all prospective settlers who were considered undesirable, or of scanty means, lest they become a burden on the town. It frequently happened that men of good character and ability were thus "warned out of town" through the ignorance of the town officials and their fear that the town would be obliged to support these newly arrived settlers.

Steven Flanders was made townsman on condition that "he constantly keep the town herd of cows." Many of us today are ignorant of the nature of the office of townsman. While the "Selectman" of today is a lineal descendant of the "Townsman," the powers and duties of the latter were broader. Joshua Coffin in his "History of Newbury, Mass.," gives an interesting account of the functions of the townsman:

> Each township had the liberty to chuse prudential men, not exceeding seven, to order the affaires of the towne. They were at first called by the name of the "seven men," then "Towne's men," then "towne's men select," and finally "select men," as they are still called. They "were chosen," says the Rev. Richard Brown in his diary, "to discharge the business of the town, in taking in, or refuseing any to come, into town, as also to dispose of lands and lots, to make lawful orders, to impose fines on the breakers of orders, and also to levy and distrain them, and were fully impowered of themselves to do what the town had power for to do. The reason whereof was, the town judged it inconvenient and burdensome to be all called together on every occasion."

Steven's position as keeper of the town herd of cows does not seem elevating, judged from our present standards. However, the position was not only one of responsibility, but one involving duties which we do not associate with the "herdsmen" of today. Cattle were difficult to obtain, as but few could be brought over in the ships, and fences were almost an unknown quantity. Each town set aside a portion of land to be used as a cow common. Each settler was allotted a certain section in this common and paid a proportionate fee for the same. It was the duty of the keeper to see that cattle did not stray outside their proper bounds, and that no man entered his cattle in any section other than his own. In "The Villager" (referred to above), it is stated that,—"Salisbury in particular used extra care and guardianship for its cow common and ox common."

While there now seems to be no question that our ancestor was a resident of Gorgeana, Maine, and removed to Salisbury in 1649 or early in 1650, we have no evidence at all concerning the port of his arrival in this country. The principal harbors of that period were those of Boston, Salem, and Newburyport, on the Massachusetts coast, and Portsmouth on the New Hampshire coast. In Bradford's "History of the Plymouth Colony," he tells of a ship which arrived in February, 1623, which was nearly wrecked by a severe storm at sea. It succeeded, finally, in putting in at the harbor of Portsmouth, N. H. There is a certain correspondence between the description of this voyage, as given by William Bradford, and the old family tradition that Steven Flanders arrived shortly after the Mayflower, and was almost wrecked in a storm at sea. While this is merely a coincidence, it would, however, account for his settling at the nearby town of York, Maine,—a supposition which is interesting, though without proof.

Those of us who are interested in coincidence may find a certain pleasure in the fact that Maine, according to an article in the Maine Historical Collections, has been termed, "The Flanders, or in more modern phraseology, the Belgium of America." What could be more fitting than that Steven Flanders should make a settlement there?

While there is little to inform us of the temperament of our pioneer ancestor, or of his activities in Salisbury, he evidently made good, for we find him listed by John Q. Evans in his book: "Salisbury's Earliest Settlers," as one of the "prominent settlers whose names have been handed down to this generation." (1896)

We may believe that he was religious, though there are no records to show that he participated actively in the affairs of the Salisbury Church. He was not a member, and none of his children were baptized until after his death. But at the time of his death he had in his possession "bibles and books,"—the exact number is not stated. On May 19, 1658, he signed a petition relating to a "religious dissension" in the Salisbury Church, but this petition set forth that the "dissension was not of sufficient importance to require the appointment of a council, particularly as this would incur expense on the part of the towns people in the payment of their board at Sam'l Hall's." We may ask why Steven took no part in the activities of the Puritan Church at Salisbury until this dissension came up. What more obvious answer could there be than that he was a member of the dissenting party? At a time when the Puritan Church was an organ of government, such that "none could have justice" from the courts, "save such as were members," it is easy to understand why anyone not in sympathy with the church would prefer to have his dissension therefrom pass unnoticed; also, considering the text of the petition, as a member of the dissenting party, his signature would give greater weight to the petition. Of course, we might add that he was averse to assist in paying the board of the council at Sam'l Hall's. As he was of Flemish origin, it is natural to suppose that he was a Walloon or French Protestant, and this conjecture is substantiated by the fact that the majority of his descendants, from his immediate progeny up to the present generations, were and are members of the Baptist or Methodist form of faith, many becoming ministers of these denominations.

There is no record that Steven Flanders ever became a freeman. This is an additional reason for believing that he was not a Puritan, for only members of the church could be admitted to the "rights of freemen." This ruling in regard to being church members went through many changes; it being frequently repealed and then again put into effect. The additional privileges vested in the freeman included the right to vote in the nomination of magistrates and in the choice of deputies or representatives (H:57), and to become a shareholder in town property and the property of the old Massachusetts Bay Company (G:40).

However, on the 8th of February, 1651, he did take the "Oath of Fidelitie." That he took this oath shortly after his arrival in Salisbury is, perhaps, one of the best reasons for supposing that he was not a Puritan, and that he was not a native of England before he came to this country. The oath and the purpose for its administration are here given in full, that the implication made therein, that he was a stranger from foreign parts, may be better appreciated.

> Forasmuch as divers inhabitants within this Jurisdicō, who haue longe contynued amongst us, receiveing p̄tection from this goverment, haue, as we are informed vttered offensiue speeches, whereby theire fidelitie to this goverment may be justly suspected, and also that diuers straungers of forraigne parts, of whose fidelity we haue not that assureance which is com̄only required by all goverments, it is therefore ordred by this Court & the authoritie thereof, that the County Courts, or any one magistrate out of Court, shall haue power, and is hereby authorized, to require the oath of fidelitie of all settled inhabitants amongst us who hath not already taken the same, as also to require this oath under written of all straungers who, after two months, haue theire abode here; & if any p̄son shall refuse to take the respectiue oath, he or they shalbe bound ouer to the next County Court, or Court of Assistants, where if he shall refuse, he shall forfeit fiue pounds a weeke for euery weeke he shall contynue in this jurisdiction after his s̄d refusall, vnless he can giue suffycient securitie to the satisfaction of the Court, or magist̄, for his fidelitie dureing his or theire residence amongst us; the oath to be as follows:
> "I (A B) being by God's providence an Inhabitant within the Jurisdiction of this Common-wealth, doe freely and sincerely acknowledge my selfe to be subject to the goverment thereof. An doe heer swear by the great and dreadful name of the Everliving God that I will be true and faythfull to the same, and will accordingly yield assistance thereunto, with my p̄son and estate, as in equity I am bound: and will also truly indeavor to maintein and preserve all the Liberties & Privilidges thereof, submitting my selfe unto the wholesome Laws made & established by the same. And further that I will not plott or practice any evil against it, or consent to any that shall so doe: but will timely discover and reveal the same to lawfull Authoritie now heer established, for the speedy preventing thereof. So help me God in our Lord Jesus Christ" (Recs. Mass. Bay Colony, v. 3, p. 263).

Since no records of any seditious speeches uttered by Steven against the government have been found, we must conclude that he was held as "a straunger of forraigne parts." This oath was issued in 1644 and was an oath of fidelity to the "Common-wealth" of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, as its text plainly shows. This is still further evidence that Steven Flanders was residing in Maine prior to 1650, for had he been a resident of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, seven years would not have been allowed to elapse before he was required to take the Oath of Fidelity.

Of Steven's occupation while at Salisbury, we know but little. In the deeds of his land transactions, he is termed "a planter," which in modern parlance, may be rendered as both farmer and settler, or farmer and pioneer. That he was enterprising, industrious and resourceful may be gathered from the amount of property accumulated during the thirty-four years he resided at Salisbury. In 1650, his holdings were an acre and a half for a house lot, while in 1684, at the time of his death, he was in possession of a certain amount of commonage and 74 acres of land, of which 30 acres formed his homestead. His estate was valued at 300 pounds. From the "bibles and books" inventoried in his estate (and the "2 payre of spectacles") anyone would be justified in saying that he was a man of education. He could sign his name, which was anything but a common accomplishment among the early settlers. He held the office of townsman and was a "commoner," so that it may be said that he was held in some esteem by the community. If, as the evidence indicates, he came to Salisbury in 1649 or 1650, penniless, a Walloon emigrant, unused to the language and customs of the people among whom he settled,—as tradition and to some extent, actual evidence indicates,—the difficulties with which he was faced may be readily appreciated, if one is at all conversant with the times; how he could have accomplished what he did in the thirty-four years of life given him there, is, perhaps, less easy of comprehension.

An attempt has been made in the foregoing sketch of Steven Flanders to piece together the character and activities of our first American ancestor from the meager records he has left us, and to form as accurate a conception of the country from which he came, the time of his arrival, the place of his first residence and the time of his removal to Salisbury. The deeds of his land transactions, which follow this account, shed but little light on these questions. His will (which also follows) does, however, furnish us with one valuable piece of evidence, which may be mentioned here. When he had this instrument drawn up, it was dated: "this fourth day of february, Anno: Domini: one thousand six hundred eighty three or foure." Those of us who are unfamiliar with the system of "double-dating" will wonder why he did not know which year it was! As an account of the intricacies of "double-dating" is given at another point in this volume, it will suffice to point out that in the old calendar, New Year's Day was the 25th of March, not the 1st of January, as in our present calendar. Hence, at a time when both systems were being used, the months of January, February, and a part of March, were followed by the two years to which, in the two systems, they belonged. Thus the will was dated, according to the present system, February 4, 1684; while in the old system, the year would have been 1683. At the period in question, England and the American Colonies were using the old system of dating exclusively; hence, they did not "double-date," as they paid no attention to the new system. But the Netherlands, Scotland, and all Catholic countries were using the new system before 1600. Why then, did Steven date his will 1683 or 1684? An authority on this question of "double-dating" has informed me that, in England and the Colonies, legal documents were always dated according to the old system, and that "double-dating" on such documents was extremely rare, indicating, usually, that a party concerned in the document was a "foreigner" who went by the other system. Again, the inference to be drawn is that Steven came from the Flemish Netherlands, and requested, very likely, that both years be entered on his will.

For the benefit of the reader, the evidence given in detail above, may be summarized with reference to the more important points at issue:

Steven Flanders was at Salisbury, Mass., in 1650. He arrived in this country several years before this time, probably, and it may be many years before, as there have been found scattered records of men bearing the name of Flanders in other parts of the American Colonies in sixteen and early seventeen hundred, who may have been his children by a former marriage.

He resided at York, Me., before coming to Salisbury, where he made his first settlement in 1649 or 1650. The evidence on which this supposition rests is: (1) His wife was presented at a court in York, Maine, Oct. 16, 1649. At that time the inhabitants of York and the nearby towns had established their own court and the Massachusetts Colony had no jurisdiction over them, nor had they the power to serve a summons on any inhabitant of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Had Jane committed an offense she would have been called before a Massachusetts Court, if a resident of Salisbury, Mass. (2) Had Steven Flanders resided at Salisbury some years before 1650, he would have been required to take the Oath of Fidelity to the Massachusetts Bay Colony prior to 1651. (3) Steven Flanders owned no land in Salisbury before 1650, when an acre and a half was given to him: the early land divisions at Salisbury encouraged wealthy settlers to come, and the early settlements in general "warned out of town" men without property or monetary means. (4) David Hoyt (F:13) thought it possible that Steven Flanders resided first at Gorgeana, or York, Maine, and came from there to Salisbury. (5) The date 1646 found on the Salisbury Town Records and on the Old Norfolk County Records, stating that a son was born to Steven Flanders in that year, cannot be considered proof of Steven's residence in Salisbury at the time, as the evidence clearly shows the entries were not made at the time the event recorded occurred. (6) Definite proof of Steven's residence in York, Maine, in 1649, and that he was a resident of Salisbury, Mass. in 1650, has been shown.

It is probable that Steven Flanders was not a Puritan, for: (1) He took no active part in the Salisbury (Puritan) Church, so far as can be ascertained, save once, when he signed a petition relating to dissension in the Church, and his action is more easily explained by considering him a member of the dissenting party. He was not a member of the church. (2) None of his children joined the Salisbury church during his life-time, and but few of his descendants were members of that form of faith, the majority being identified with the Baptist or Methodist denominations. (3) There is evidence that he was not a native of England, but was of Flemish stock, and an indication that he was a Walloon. (4) He did not become a freeman.

Steven Flanders was certainly of Flemish origin, and the available evidence strongly suggests that he was a native of the Flemish Netherlands. For this there is the following evidence: (1) The majority of the family traditions state that he came from Flanders. (2) He was required to take the Oath of Fidelity to the Massachusetts Bay Colony, which implied that he came from foreign parts. (3) He dated his will in accordance with both the old and the new systems of the calendar, while in the Colonies and in England, only the old system was employed for legal documents; in the Netherlands, the new system was used. (4) The evidence that he was not a Puritan, some of which indicates that he was a Walloon (Walloons in the Colonies were usually Baptists). (5) He spelled his given name with the V, as do the Flemish and Dutch,—not with the PH, as do the English and most other countries. (6) A mass of evidence given in the addenda of this volume.

LAND TRANSACTIONS

Feb. 18, 1650, he was given an acre and a half for a house lot, this was located "beyond Willi: Allen's house, near Samll Hall's." "On the 13th of the 11th month, 1653, Steven Flanders of Salisbury, Planter, conveyed to Samuel Buswell of the same town, husbandman, for 50 shillings, about 3 acres of salt marsh in Salisbury, in ye general division towards Hampton, butting upon ye salt marsh of John Gill & mostly encompassed by little river" (G:2).

In 1653/4, Steven Flanders was one of sixty who shared in the "Mowing of Beach Lots" division in Salisbury (F:13).

In 1654, he was one of sixty-two who shared in the Cow Common division (H:6).

In 1657, Samuel Hall sold his farm of 100 acres, described as "lying towards Hampton," to the town of Salisbury. This farm was divided into 48 lots, and Steven purchased Lot No. 31 for 8 shillings, 9 pence (H:6).

"June 1, 1659, Steven fflanders of Salisbury, Planter, for 33 shillings" conveyed to "Willi: Chandler of Newbury, 3 acres of salt marsh in Salisbury, bounded by the Merrimack River; grantor's wife Jane released her dower right in Court 8:2:mo:1662" (G:34).

"Willi: Osgood of Salisbury, millwright, conveyed to Steven fflanders of Salisbury, Planter, a 10 acre planting lot in Salisbury, formerly of George Brown, bounded by Willi: Brown, Sam: Getchell, Pawwaus river and common land. Ack. and grantor's wife consented, 10:2:mo:1660" (G:34).

"Steven fflanders of Salisbury conveyed to Henry Green of Hampton a part of Mr. Hall's farm in Salisbury, June 3, 1664. Ack. in Court, 11:2:mo:1665. Jane fflanders signs (her X mark)" (G:34).

"Steven fflanders, Sen., of Salisbury mortgaged to Mr. Rich: Cutts of Portsmouth, merchant, my 10 acre lot of upland near my dwelling house in Salisbury for 5 pounds, 3 sh., 16d, it being my proportion of the 500 acres granted by Salisbury to its inhabitants; Oct. 2, 1667" (G:34). This division was made in 1659, and 3 acres of upland was allotted for every acre of meadow land (H:6).

SALISBURY, MASS. AND THE ROCKY HILL MEETING HOUSE

At the Centennial Celebration of the old Rocky Hill Meeting House held at Salisbury, June 17, 1885, the Rev. S. J. Spaulding of Newburyport, Mass., gave an historical address, from which the following extracts have been made:

> It is noticeable in all the early New England settlements that there was an irrepressible disposition to go outside of allotted boundaries.

There was a fringe of hunters, fishermen, adventurers, fortune seekers, around every plantation granted by the General Court. This was true of Salisbury.

The upland, with the exception of a few cleared spots occupied by the Indians for planting corn, was an unbroken forest. The marshes and meadows were covered with rank grasses.

The original boundary of Salisbury included the present towns of Amesbury, Merrimack, and, in New Hampshire, South Hampton, a portion of Kingston, Plaistow, Newton, Seabrook and Hampstead.

The extent of the territory originally known as Salisbury should be noted, for otherwise, many of the old records may be confusing. After the above towns were set off into different townships, it frequently happened that a family reported as residing in Salisbury would be found listed in some other one of these towns, although the residence of the family may not have changed.

The inducement which led to the settlement of Salisbury was doubtless the same which led to the settlement of all prominent points on the coast, from Massachusetts Bay to Mason and Gorge's line,—namely, a fear of the French, who had already turned Cape Sable and were coming down with their settlements upon the coast of Maine, bringing a foreign language and religion.

Sept. 4th, 1639, the General Court gave the plantation of Merrimack the name of Colchester. This name, apparently, was not acceptable to the majority of the people, and on October 7, 1640, it was changed by the General Court from Colchester to Salisbury. Mr. Merrill in his "History of Amesbury," conjectures that the name of Salisbury was taken out of consideration to Mr. Christopher Batt, who came from Salisbury, England, in 1638, and was an influential member of the first company.

No place could have the sanction and protection of the General Court of Massachusetts Bay, unless it was able to build a church and maintain both a minister and a schoolmaster.

A log meeting-house was among the first buildings erected and occupied a lot in the open green. There is no known record extant which fixes the year in which it was built, it is probable that it was built in 1639,—certainly not later than 1640. A bell, brought from England by order of Rev. William Worcester was hung upon it in 1642.

In 1646, a petition was sent to the General Court requesting a new church organization, as in the west part of Salisbury, the population had increased because of the mills erected at the falls of the Powow River. The distance from the meeting-house in the lower part of the town had become an "Intolerable grievance" to the people of the upper, or west end. The location of this first church in the West Parish of Salisbury was about one half mile north of the present church (the Rocky Hill Meeting-house), on the training field, and in the corner formed by the old Portsmouth road and the so-called Dark Lane. When this old church was taken down all the material available was placed in the present building, which was erected in 1785.

From the description of the land owned by Steven Flanders, it would appear that his homestead stood very near the location of this old West Parish Church.

The first burying ground of Salisbury was laid out in 1639, and was located about half a mile northeast of the site of the first meeting house built in Salisbury. It is probable that Steven Flanders was buried in this cemetery, though no stone is left to mark his grave. The first five ministers of Salisbury are buried there. The Salisbury Plains cemetery, now in Amesbury, is about half a mile north of the old Rocky Hill Meeting house, near the site of the old West Parish Church; this is probably the one laid out in 1726/7. Another old cemetery, formerly in Salisbury but now in Amesbury, is the Salisbury Point cemetery. Many of the earlier generations of the Flanders family are buried here.

JANE, WYFE OF STEVEN FLANDERS

Aside from a few court records, we have practically no knowledge of our ancestress, Jane. Tradition, it is true, states that she was an Indian woman, who had been converted to Christianity, and that her name was thought to have been Sandusky, or that she belonged to the tribe of Sandusky Indians. No confirmation of either of these statements has been found, nor have any records of a tribe of this name in the eastern part of this country been obtained. The high cheek bones, quite prevalent in the Flanders family, are considered evidences of this Indian ancestry, but these are also found in the Flemish prototype, as described in "Human Heredity."

No record of the marriage of Steven Flanders and Jane has been found, therefore, we have no way of determining when and where this marriage took place. The natural deduction would be that they were married after Steven arrived in this country, for, apparently the son born in 1646 was their first child. Had there been other living children born to them prior to this time, some trace of them must surely have been found.

The length of the residence of Steven and Jane in Maine is not known. At the time of the first settlement of Salisbury, Mass., we learn that many French settlers were coming down the St. Lawrence into Maine and it would not be unnatural to assume that Steven married a daughter of one of these French emigrants, as the surname of Sandusky given to Jane in the old tradition might easily be a corruption of some French name, such as Saint Estrées; also the indications of her nervous, excitable temperament, given in the the old court records, incline one to this belief.

A ready tongue, together with no hesitancy in using it, were attributes which could not pass unrecorded in a community of Puritans whose government was severe to the point of condoning nothing. That Jane possessed these attributes cannot be doubted, after reading the following court records. If anyone should be inclined to think harshly of her conduct, he would do well to study the old court records, for contention among neighbors was a common offense and the majority of the women of the day were summoned to court to answer to this charge. Their lives of constant struggle against all manner of hardships and discomforts were provocative of abusive speech. In Jane's particular case the difference in religion, and the possible difference of race and language,—factors never found to promote understanding,—would account for much of this discord with her neighbors. It is also true that the early settlements were composed of men of varying culture, brought together in a status of fairly uniform equality; a state of things more conducive to cause disputes among neighbors than would have been the case had all had the same cultural background.

Jane Flanders died at Salisbury, Mass., on November 19th, 1683.

The Old Norfolk County records give the following:

4:8:1653; Hampton Quarterly Court: Willi: Osgood vs Jane fflanders; Slanders; In saying he threatened to beat her and in using reviling speeches against him and his wife; calling his wife, mill mare, and him, forsworn wretch; with drawn.

Wher as Jane fflanders the wyffe of Steven fflanders was convicted before this Court of being guilty of telling severall lies, & for makeing debate among neighbrs & casting great reproaches upon severall: Also ye sd Jane fflanders did acknowledg in Court that she is often distempered in her head the prmises considered: this Court doth judg yt she shalbe disenabled for giving evidence in any case duering the pleasure of the Court & to be bound to her good behaviour in the sum of ten pound and upon legall prof of ye breach of hir good behavior before Capt Pike & Mr. Thos. Bradbury to pay hir ten pound or to be whipt to ye number of (10) stripes at or upon som lecture day when they shal appoint ye Constable to performe the same: & to pay ye witnisses 20sh. Jane fflanders doth binde hirselfe to ye sum of tenn pound to ye treasurer of this County on condicion that she shall be of good behavior towards all men.

Thos. Bradbury, recd

Complaint to Salisbury Court of Goodwife fflanders: Against Samuel Gachell & his wife for calling her vile names. She and hir daughter went into Gachell's field to see where their cattle had broken in and Goodwife Gachell met them and asked if they had come to steal their corn, "I said no I have no need of yor corn: then shee said geet out of my ground thou pennycoinquick—I am shure you are com to stell my corn she had a pumking in hir hand she held it up & said shee woold stave my hed wth it, then I said if my Cattell have stroyed your corn yor piggs have stroyed Mine wheat, then she said com down St. Donstan to heare how the Deuill lies & Likewise good man Gacheall doe often prouache me by calling my Children Deuills, etc.

Referred to next Hampton Court.

CALENDAR

Before presenting the genealogical portion of this record, it may be of value to give an explanation of the calendar in use at this period. Joshua Coffin in his "History of Newbury, Mass.," writes that:

> ——with our Puritan forefathers, (the year) began on the twenty-fifth of March, and not on the first of January, as the custom now is. Not satisfied with renouncing all rites and ceremonies, not, in their opinion, clearly warranted by the bible, they attempted a reformation of the calendar by repudiating the names of the months, and of the days of the week, as of heathenish origin, and altogether unsuitable to be used by Christians, for, in the language of Johnson, in his "Wonderworking Providence," "the practice was designed of purpose to prevent the heathenish and popish observation of days, months, and years, that they may be forgotten among the people of the Lord." They also commenced their year in March, the twenty-fifth of that month being New Year's Day. In order, however, to accommodate all those who did not desire this reformation, a double date was used between January first and March twenty-fifth. Thus twelfth mo. 1634/5 meant either February the twelfth month, 1634, or February the second month, 1635, according to the different opinions of the reader.

This system of double dating between the months of January and March 25th, should be borne in mind in reading the vital records, otherwise confusion may arise as to the exact date of birth, marriage, or death, as given in the old records.

The change in the calendar in 1752 apparently aroused some consternation in the minds of the people, as is indicated by the following:

> From "Job Shepherd's almanack" published in Newport by James Franklin: "The king and parliament have thought proper to enact that the month of September, 1752 shall contain but nineteen days so that we are not to have two beginnings to our years, but the first of January is to be the first day and first month of the year 1752. Eleven days are taken from September and begin one Tuesday, two Wednesday, and fourteen Thursday. Be not much astonished, nor look with concern, dear reader, at such a deduction of days, nor regret as for the loss of so much time, but take this for your consolation that your expenses will appear lighter and your mind be more at ease. And what an indulgence is here for those, who love their pillows, to lie down in peace on the second of this month and not perhaps awake, or be disturbed till the fourteenth in the morning" (H:57).

FIRST GENERATION

1 STEVEN[1] FLANDERS, "departed this life 27 day of June 1684" at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); m. to Jane ——, who "departed this life ye 19th of November 1683," at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89).

Children (Flanders), births recorded at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89; O88a):

+ 2 i. Steven[2], b. 8:1:$\frac{o}{m}$ 1646 (Mch. 8, 1646).
3 ii. Mary[2], b. ——; d. 4:3:mo:1650 (May 4, 1650), at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a).
+ 4 iii. Mary[2], b. 7:3:$\frac{o}{m}$ 1650 (May 7, 1650).
+ 5 iv. Phillip[2], b. 14:5:$\frac{o}{m}$ 1652 (July 14, 1652).
+ 6 v. Sarah[2], b. 5:9:m$^o$ 1654 (Nov. 5, 1654).
+ 7 vi. Naomi[2], b. "15:10$^{th}$ mo:1656" (Dec. 15, 1656).
+ 8 vii. John[2], b. 11:12m$^o$: 1658 (Feb. 11, 1659).

According to the old system John's birth occurred Feb. 11, 1658, but by the new system, it was Feb. 11, 1659.

SECOND GENERATION

2 Steven[2] Flanders, b. Mch. 8, 1646, birth recorded at Salisbury, Mass., but born elsewhere; d. prior to May 29, 1689, at Salisbury, Mass. (K:4); m. 28:10th mo:1670 (Dec. 28, 1670), at Salisbury, Mass., to Abigail Carter (O:88a); b. "in 11th mo 1652" (O:88a), at Salisbury, Mass.; latter end of June, 165– (O:89); living in 1747, at Salisbury (K:4); dau. of Thomas Carter and Mary —— (O:89).

Steven[2] Flanders died intestate and the inventory of his estate was made on the 29th:3 mo:1689 (May 29, 1689), by Joseph Dow, Onesiphorus Page, and Jarvis Ring. His widow, Abigail, returned this inventory in open Court at Salem, Mass. 26:9ber:1689 (Sept. 26, 1689); the total amount being 220 pounds, 13sh, 6d. The widow, Abigail, was appointed administratrix of the estate (G:2).

Steven Flanders, Jr., received from his father, by will, one third part of all the meadow land owned by Steven, Sen. at the time of his death; also one barrel of "syder" yearly from the orchard until he removed the three apple trees which belonged to him. His homestead adjoined the elder Steven's, but he evidently did not own the land, as this was bequeathed to him in his father's will.

In the old New Hampshire records, the following account of a misdemeanor committed by Steven, Jr. and his brothers, was found:

> June 28, 1679, On complaint of Nathaniel Ware Steven flanders, Jun., Phillip fflanders & John fflanders for stealing of about 1100 of Red oak Hogshead staves from the old mast road out of his pasture in Hampton bounds upon 2day morning the 18th Day of this yclept month upon the full hearing of the case and examination of evidence (not deciphered) adjudge that the Plaintiff Nathaniel Ware shall (not deciphered)& that Steven fflanders is forthwith to be admonished for joyning with his brothers in the fact and pay his proportion of the (not deciphered) and that Phillip fflanders & John fflanders are adjudged for their offense to pay each of them 10 shillings to the County & all costs (I:10).
> 3:12:1679: John fflanders & Phillip fflanders paid 10 shillings each (I:10).

A second account of this case is given in the Court Records of Essex Co.:

> On June 28, 1679: Nathaniel Ware vs Steven fflanders, jun., Phillip fflanders & John fflanders: for stealing 1100 red oak hogshead staves out of his pasture in Hampton bounds on June 18, 1679: judgement for plaintiff, he to enjoy his staves which were seized by the Constable of Salisbury at the landing place by Mr. Mudgett's ship, and said Steven was admonished for joining with his brothers and the others were fined.

A description is given in "The Villager" of difficulties encountered in laying out certain lots of land, to the effect that,—"the woods were so thick that it was with difficulty that one lot was kept from running into another." This may have some bearing on the above case, for a portion of Steven Flanders, Sen.'s land lay "near Hampton line," and Steven, Jr. and his brothers may have unwittingly trespassed upon the land of their neighbor while cutting their staves. The decision reached by the Court calls to mind the allegation that,— "none but such as were members of the church could have justice from the courts." (Nathaniel Ware was a member of the church.) (H:56).

On Sept. 26, 1682, Steven flanders, jun. owned: 3 cowes, 2:3 year olds: 3:2 year olds: 1 swine: 2 broke up lands: 1 head: 2 commonages: Estate valued 21 pounds: 10sh. (G:2).

Before his death Steven purchased land of Robert Downer, as is shown by the following deed:

> Robert Downer of Salisbury for 15 pounds already paid him by Stephen Flanders, late of Salisbury, deceased. (This deed to replace a former deed "asserted by the awfull providence of God to be consumed in the late burning of the house it was in") grants to Abigail Flanders, relict of Stephen Flanders and administratrix of his estate, 30 acres appertaining to the Mill Division, bounded southwardly by ye highway, and northwardly by the Back River; Sept. 27, 1710 (I:5).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

9 i. Thomas[3], b. 17:12 mo:1670 (Feb. 17, 1671); d. "12th day of April 1671" (O:88a), at Salisbury, Mass.

+ 10 ii. Steven[3], b. 31:11 mo:1671 (Jan. 31, 1672).

+ 11 iii. Thomas[3], b. "3rd Day of December 1673."

+ 12 iv. Daniel[3], b. "16 Day of March 167⅘" (Mch. 16, 1675).

+ 13 v. Joseph[3], b. "28th day of March 1677."

14 vi. Philip[3], b. "was born ye 10th day of January" (no year, but was in the 1678 entries); d. "23rd of February 1678" (O:88a), at Salisbury.

15 vii. Sarah[3], b. "7th day of December 1679"; d. Jan. 1715/16 (Jan. 1716), at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); never married.

+ 16 viii. Philip[3], b. "8th day of January 1681."

+ 17 ix. Jane[3], b. "borne ye 5th of March 168⅘" (Mch. 5, 1684).

+ 18 x. "Jeremie" (Jeremiah)[3], b. "was borne ye 5th day of September 1686."

19 xi. Abigail[3], b. "22nd of October 1688"; m. Sept. 28, 1712, at Portsmouth, N. H., to Peter Dixon (G:43). Oct. 14, 1709, Abigail Flanders of Salisbury, singlewoman, dau. of Stephen Flanders, late of Salisbury, deceased, for 15 pounds, paid "by my brother, Jeremiah Flanders of Salisbury," granted a parcel of upland (called the division above the Mills, or the Mills division), lying between "the land of my brothers, Daniel & Joseph Flanders, and being part of the estate of my honoured Father, Stephen Flanders" (I:5).

4 MARY[2] FLANDERS, b. May 7, 1650, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Nov. 11, 1719, at Salisbury (O:89); never married.

Mary Flanders had a child born Feb. 18, 1689, "a boy"; supposedly by Philip Favor (G:3). From depositions made in court by John[2] Flanders, his wife, Elizabeth, and Naomi[2] Flanders, it is apparent that this child was illegitimate. The following excerpt from the deposition of Elizabeth, wife of John[2] Flanders, is of interest as indicating the superstition of the time: "I herd Favor say hark how the wind blows it may be the devoll is out for me, what if he should carry me away" (G:3).

Phillip[2] Flanders made a bequest in his will to "Philip Feavor, son of my sister Mary." Sept. 26, 1729, Phillip Feavor, Jun., of Salisbury, granted land to Jeremiah Flanders of Salisbury, it being "part of the land given me by my uncle Phillip Flanders, late of Salisbury, deceased, also the part I bought of John Darling of Salisbury, which my uncle Flanders gave him with me in partnership, lying in Salisbury in a place called Chair Hill" (I:5).

Child (Feavor), b. at Salisbury, Mass. (G:3):

20 i. Phillip[3], b. Feb. 18, 1689.

5 PHILLIP[2] FLANDERS, b. July 14, 1652, at Salisbury, Mass., bp. Sept. 24, 1710, by Rev. Caleb Cushing, 4th minister of the Church at Salisbury (G:2); admitted to the church, Dec. 3, 1710 (G:2); d. Aug. 27, 1712, at Salisbury (O:88); m. Nov. 4, 1686, at Salisbury, to Martha (Eaton) Collins, wid. of Benjamin Collins (F:13); b. Aug. 12, 1648, at Salisbury (F:13); admitted to the church at Salisbury, by Rev. Caleb Cushing, Feb. 19, 1698/9 (G:2); d. Apr. 19, 1734, at Salisbury (O:88); dau. of John Eaton and Martha Rowlandson (F:13); she m. (1) July 9, 1668, Benjamin Collins, who d. in 1683 (G:12).

There is no record of any issue from this marriage of Phillip Flanders to Martha (Eaton) Collins, but on "May 28, 1699, Benjamin and Ephraim, ye sons of Martha Flanders by her former husband Collins," were admitted to the Salisbury Church (G:2).

Phillip and his younger brother, John, were made joint executors of their father's will and received the major portion of his estate on the condition that they "lovingly, peaceably & tend[r]ly as becometh obedient and dutifull children maintaine & take care of my person in sickness & health as long as I shall continue in this vale of tears." Whether Steven, Sr. placed more dependence upon his two younger sons than upon his elder son, Steven, Jr., is a matter of conjecture, but the records show that Phillip and John remained very closely associated throughout their lives and appear to have been men of high standing and value in the community.

On Feb. 22, 1680, Phillip signed the Old Norfolk County petition together with his father and brother John. This was a petition made by the residents on the north side of the Merrimack river, requesting that Old Norfolk County might not go out of existence, and that Court might still be held at Salisbury once a year, as formerly. This petition was not granted and Salisbury and Amesbury were added to Essex County.

Phillip Flanders' name is on the list of freemen under date of Apr. 18, 1690. As he did not join the Salisbury Church until 1710, it seems probable that this was one of the times when the ruling in respect to freemen being church members, had been repealed. On June 21, 1699, John Wadley was given "rights to set up a mill and run the same on the Powow river." This privilege was granted by a certain number of "freeholders and commoners of the town of Salisbury." The name of Phillip Flanders appears among those who signed this document, so he was also a freeholder. A freeholder was one who "either by grant, purchase or inheritance, was entitled to a share in all the common or undivided lands" (H:57).

LAND TRANSACTIONS

Many of these deeds are of interest as they specify certain of the holdings of Steven[1] Flanders, and they also testify to the loyalty and affection Phillip had for his family.

June 16, 1683, Daniel Moody conveyed a lot of salt marsh to Phillip and John fflanders, planters (I:5).

Apr. 6, 1684, John Roe of Gloucester conveyed to Phillip fflanders of Salisbury "all that great division of upland lying in ye Range of Lotts above ye mill within ye bounds of Salisbury" (I:5).

Apr. 29, 1685, Phillip fflanders of Salisbury, planter, for thirty pounds conveyed to "my brother John fflanders of the same place, planter, all my part of ye housing and land of ye homestead bequeathed to me by my father Steven fflanders excepting my part of ye oarchyard" (G:2).

June 16, 1703, Phillip fflanders of Salisbury, husbandman, "for twenty pounds sterling, paid on demand, if I should live to want it, by Phillip Flanders, Jun. of Salisbury, blacksmith, son of my brother Steven, but more especially for and in consideration of the natural affection I bear unto said Phillip fflanders." This refers to a grant of land in Salisbury (I:5).

Mch. 10, 1707, Phillip & John fflanders, both of Salisbury, conveyed to Abraham Morrill an 8 acre lot, No. 21, in the upland division called Batts Hill (I:5).

July 18, 1707, Phillip fflanders conveyed to John Collins Lott No. 56 (a ten acre lot on Gravelly Ridge), "had in right of my Honoured Father, Steven fflanders, late of Salisbury, deceased (I:5).

Dec. 22, 1710, Phillip fflanders, sen. & John fflanders conveyed to Capt. Eaton "a lot of land lying & being in ye township of Salisbury in ye Cow Common Division, so called, being about twenty acres, more or less, which was laid out to ye Original right of Steven fflanders, being ye 36th Lott in number in ye aforesaid division" (I:5).

July 12, 1712, Phillip fflanders of Salisbury conveyed to Daniel fflanders of Amesbury a "share of salt marsh in Salisbury in a place called the Cow Common near the Hook's Creek which was formerly in the possession of my Honoured Father, deceased" (I:5).

6 SARAH[2] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 5, 1654, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Jan. 18, 1717 (Q:2); m. July 17, 1679, at Lynn, Mass., to John Newhall (G:2). In 1718 he is referred to as deceased (G:2); son of Thomas Newhall and Mary —— (G:2); he m. (1) Feb. 3, 1657, Elizabeth Laighton, as given in Lynn Vital Records, but the Salem, Mass. records give her name as Paton; she d. Oct. 22, 1677, thirteen days after the birth and death of her only child (G:2).

On the 4th of Feb'y 1711/12, administration at large on the estate of his son Joseph Newhall was granted to John Newhall, he signing the bond as John Newhall, Sr. He presented the inventory 7th Feb'y 1712. Among the charges was one to "Sarah Newhall for mourning nine pounds" (G:2).

Children (Newhall), (G:2):

21 i. Hannah[3], b. Mch. 6, 1679/80; m. John Farrington.
22 ii. John[3], b. 13: 8 mo: 1681 (Oct. 13, 1681); d. Nov. 2, 1681.
23 iii. Joseph[3], b. Dec. 18, 1682; d. ca Feb., 1711/12.
24 iv. Jeremiah[3], b. Feb. 12, 1684/5; probably died young.

7 NAOMI[2] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 15, 1656, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. July 24, 1718, at Salisbury, Mass. (E:62); m. (int. Feb. 4, 1698/9) Apr. 4, 1699, at Salisbury, to Benjamin Eastman (O:88); b. Dec. 12, 1652, at Salisbury (E:62); d. prior to Mch. 4, 1728 (E:62); son of Roger Eastman (E:62); he m. (1) Apr. 5, 1678, Anne (Pitts) Joy, wid. of Samuel Joy (E:62); d. Dec. 13, 1698 (E:62). His 3rd marriage was to Sarah, wid. of Samuel Carter, on Oct. 5, 1719 (E:13); in his will, Benjamin Eastman mentions "my first wife," and, again, "my wife Sarah and the estate she brought me." The will was dated Aug. 13, 1725, prob. Mch. 4, 1727/8 (F:13). Roger Eastman is supposed to have married a Smith. He came to this country from Southampton, Eng., on the ship "Confidence," 1638 (E:62).

In the original town records of Salisbury this entry is given: "John ye sone of Naomy fflanders was borne ye 21st of ye 12th mo: 1683." On Apr. 29, 1684, Naomi was summoned to Court at Ipswich and acknowledged that the child was illegitimate (O:89). This child is referred to in the will of Phillip[2] Flanders as "John Darlin, son of my sister Naomy." Naomi was admitted to the church in Salisbury, Apr. 2, 1699 (G:2), just prior to her marriage to Benjamin Eastman, and the child, John Darling, was baptized June 4, 1699 (F:13).

Child (Darling), b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

29 i. John[3], b. Feb. 21, 1683; m. (int. Nov. 6, 1708), at Salisbury, to Mary Page (P:49).

Children (Darling), all b. at Salisbury (P:49):

1. Abigail[4], b. Oct. 4, 1709; m. Feb. 20, 1729, to Benjamin Sweatt (H:49).
2. Daniel[4], b. Nov. 27, 1711.
3. Judith[4], b. June 15, 1714; m. Mch. 4, 1736, to Benjamin Cilley (H:49).
4. John[4], b. Sept. 27, 1716.
5. Naomey[4], b. July 12, 1719; m. July 7, 1741, to Jacob[4] Flanders (D:4); (No. 90).
6. Onesiphorus[4], b. Jan. 12, 1721.
7. Philip[4], b. Feb. 24, 1722/3; probably died young.
8. Philip[4], b. Aug. 29, 1724.
9. Mary[4], b. Dec. 8, 1725.

Child (Eastman), (E:62):

30 i. Joseph[3], b. July 17, 1700, at Salisbury; m. (1) unknown; m. (2) Dorothy (Lindsey) Quimby (E:62).

8 JOHN[2] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 11, 1659, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. "Corporal John Flanders, deceased, Dec. 24, 1716" (K:4), at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); m. Jan. 18, 1687/8, at Amesbury, Mass., to Elizabeth Sargent (O:5); b. ca 1668, at Salisbury (G:26); d. Sept. 12, 1713, at Salisbury (O:89); dau. (supposedly) of Thomas Sargent and Rachel Barnes (G:26).

The parentage of Elizabeth Sargent is uncertain. Sarah Osgood had a child born in 1668, and in the suit between Sarah Osgood and Thomas Sargent, the Court decided that, "there was too much ground for suspicion," but "the case was not proved," and the Court "could not judge Sargent to be the father" (G:26). She is not recorded in the Sargent family records (F:13). William Osgood of Salisbury, mentions in his will, under date of Mch. 15, 1700, his "grand daughter Elizabeth, wife of John Flanders" (G:27).

John[2] Flanders was but 17 years of age when he took part in the Falls Fight under Capt. William Turner.

Capt. William Turner had collected a company of volunteers to participate in the Indian Wars, but had been denied a commission because of his affiliation with the Anabaptists in Boston. He was one of the original members of the First Baptist Church gathered at Boston in 1665, and many of his company were Anabaptists. He was imprisoned at Boston by the magistrates on account of his religious activities, but was set free later, and asked to accept a commission and lead a company to assist in garrisoning the Connecticut River towns. He appears to have marched from Boston Feb. 21, 1675/6. He served under Major Savage in the vicinity of Northfield and Hatfield until Major Savage was recalled to Boston, Apr. 7, 1676. Capt. Turner was then left in command with some 150 men to garrison the towns. After Major Savage's departure it was rumored that the Indians had become bold and had relaxed their vigilance against attack. After waiting in vain for reinforcements from the Connecticut Colony, Capt. Turner resolved to march upon some bands of Indians encamped near the Upper Falls of the Connecticut (now Turner's Falls). He gathered a force of about 150 men drawn largely from the nearby towns. Many of his original company had returned to Boston on April 7th, those remaining being single men or boys, better fitted for garrison duty, and of the latter it is probable that only volunteers were selected to join the attacking party. John[2] Flanders must have been one of these volunteers. The attacking party marched for the Falls from Hatfield on the evening of the 18th of May, 1676. The twenty miles march to the Falls was completed during the night, and in the midst of a thunder storm. The company descended upon a camp of Indians just before daybreak, discharging their muskets into the camp of the sleeping foe. The terrified Indians, believing their old enemies, the Mohawks, were upon them, rushed to the river, where many were shot down or carried over the falls to their death. Very few escaped and contemporary writers estimated their loss at three hundred. Only one of the English was killed, and he, accidentally, by his comrades. However, the news of the encounter spread rapidly to the nearby encampments of the Indians, and these soon began to close in around the English. Capt. Turner realized the necessity for a speedy retreat, and the march back to Hatfield was begun while the Indians in increasing numbers gathered upon the flank and rear. Capt. Turner was shot down and killed where the Green River enters the Connecticut, and his second in command, Capt. Holyoke, had his horse shot from under him, and defended himself with pistols until rescued by his comrades. It was rumored that Philip with a thousand warriors was in the near vicinity, and this news threw the company into confusion. There was disagreement on the part of the guides as to the course of return and several parties were separated from the main body. "That the retreat did not end in general massacre is doubtless due to the bravery and skill of Capt. Holyoke." "As it was, they found, on arriving at Hatfield, that some forty-five or more of their men were missing." Although the expedition of Capt. Turner resulted in heavy losses to the English, the Indians had been disbanded and greatly intimidated. Philip himself moved down towards Plymouth and his old retreat at Mt. Hope (in Bristol, R. I.). There were no major encounters until the end of the war, when Philip was shot on August 12, 1676 (G:29).

John[2] Flanders is not listed among Capt. Turner's men as late as Apr. 25, 1676. As he was in the fight at the Falls on May 19, 1676, his arrival must have taken place between these dates. How long he remained cannot be ascertained, but he was "Credited under Capt. Poole, Sept. 23, 1676," and received as pay "02 14 10." Capt. Poole was placed in command of the garrison forces in the Connecticut towns, and remained in that capacity until relieved by Capt. Turner, Apr. 7, 1676. (He took command in the fall of 1675 and resumed command after the death of Capt. Turner.) (G:29).

"A list of ye Soldiers y$^{t}$ were in ye Falls Fight" (May 19, 1676) "under Capt. Wm. Turner, approved off by ye Committee of ye Gen. Court." This was held at Boston under date of June, 1736 . . . "Flanders, John" . . . Subscribed to this list was the following: "By ye best Acco$^{tt}$ we can come at ye foregoing is a true list of ye Soldiers y$^{t}$ were in ye falls fight w$^{th}$ ye Indians under Capt. Turner & for ought appears to us at present y$^{er}$ Descendants according to ye acts of ye General Court are to be admitted to share in ye Grant of ye township above Deerfield granted to them." The grant embraced the present town of Bernardston (at first called "Falltown"), Colraine, Leyden, etc.

In June, 1736, another list was made out giving the names of the Soldiers and their descendants: "A list of Soldiers and Descndts of such as are deceased that were in the fight called the falls fight above Deerfield who are intituled to the township granted by the Generall Court, as follows: . . . John Flanders, Kingston, son of John Flanders." The names of the descendants stand first in the above list. This list was accepted at Council in Boston, June 23, 1736 (G:29).

In a recently printed genealogy on the Flanders family, it is stated that John[3] Flanders fought the Indians under Capt. Turner in 1736, and received the rank of Lieutenant. That this was an impossibility will be seen from the above records. Capt. Turner was killed in 1676, and there is no record that there was a second Falls Fight in 1736. The compiler evidently confused the record of 1676 with that of 1736, which is clearly shown to be an account of those who took part in the Fight of 1676 and of their descendants who were entitled to participate in the land grant. Owing to the fact that only an incomplete list of those who served under Capt. Turner could be found, these records had to be collected from the old men living at the time and from the descendants of those who were deceased.

That John continued his activities against the Indians in and around Salisbury is shown from the following account taken from the "Order Book of Capt. Henry True": "Nov. 25, 1702 order was given to Serg$^{nt}$ Osgood to detach or impres: Corp$^{ll}$ John Flanders, Philip Flanders, Will Hacket, Jr., Joseph French, Jr., & Thomas Flanders to scout in ye woods according to orders given to him the 10th Inst: & to Continew till farther order." It will be seen in later records that many of John's descendants became very celebrated Indian fighters.

In 1680, John[2] Flanders signed the Norfolk Co. petition with his father and brother, Phillip, and on Apr. 18, 1690, his name is on the list of freemen. He is also mentioned as "freeholder and commoner" in the order giving John Wadley "the rights to set up a mill and run the same on the Powow River."

John was associated with his brother Phillip in several land transactions (see Phillip[2]), and on Apr. 29, 1685, he purchased from Phillip all the part of "ye housing and land of ye homestead" which Phillip had received from their father. John died intestate and his estate was administered Jan. 14, 1717. Guardians were appointed for the five younger children, they being minors.

From the inventory of John's estate we learn that he was ill about three months and that his eldest son, Jacob, had great trouble in getting wood and hay during his father's illness. Steven[1]'s "speckttickells" appear in this inventory and the enumeration of the implements in use at this period is most interesting.

In his comparatively short life of less than 58 years, Corporal John gained, apparently, the respect of his fellow townsmen, for the title of Mr. was bestowed upon him. A mark of distinction in those days, indicating a man of social standing and influence. The value placed upon his estate at his death was over 620 pounds, about one third of this (as nearly as can be estimated) he received from his father and brother Phillip. That he could increase his holdings to such a marked extent testifies to his ability and industry.

THIRD GENERATION

10 STEVEN[3] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 31, 1671/2, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Oct. 4, 1744, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); m. (1) (int. May 11, 1706, at Salisbury) June 20, 1706, at Amesbury, Mass., to Sarah Blaisdell (O:5); b. Nov. 11, 1671, at Amesbury, Mass. (F:13); d. Jan. 20, 1732/3, at Salisbury (O:89); dau. of Henry Blaisdell and Mary Haddon (F:13); m. (2) (int. July 7, 1733, at Salisbury (O:89) Aug. 13, 1733, at Hampton Falls, N. H., to Elizabeth Stevens, of Hampton, N. H. (G:18).

Steven[3] Flanders was admitted to the West Parish, 2nd Church of Salisbury on Apr. 5, 1724, Caleb Cushing, 4th minister of Salisbury (F:13); in 1743/4, he joined the church at South Hampton, N. H. (F:13); his wife, Sarah Blaisdell, was admitted to the West Parish, 2nd Church at Salisbury on Oct. 2, 1720, Caleb Cushing, minister (F:13).

In previous genealogies, the marriage of Steven Flanders to Elizabeth Stevens has been thought to refer to Stephen[4] Flanders, but as Stephen[4] resided in Kingston, N. H. after he removed from Salisbury, and as the name of his wife Sarah, has been found attached to deeds of land transactions as late as 1756, it seems evident that this second marriage was contracted by Steven[3] Flanders, as above recorded. Steven[3] also owned land near the Hampton line, and as Elizabeth Stevens was of Hampton and the marriage took place at Hampton Falls, this seems an additional indication that it was the father Steven who remarried, and not the son Stephen. South Hampton was incorporated in 1742, and originally formed part of Hampton, as did Hampton Falls.

Steven[3] Flanders was a weaver by trade. He resided at Salisbury, Mass., and South Hampton, N. H. "It is probable that he found himself in the latter town after the establishment of the province line in 1741" (F:13).

LAND TRANSACTIONS

Feb. 18, 1717, Stephen Flanders of Salisbury, weaver, Daniel Flanders of Almsbury, carpenter, and Joseph Flanders, of Salisbury, potter, convey to Richard Fitts the full half part of lot No. 43 in the 3rd division, commonly called Goodale's Swamp Division. This was laid out to the original right of Steven[1] Flanders (I:5).

Mch. 14, 1731/2, "In consideration of Five Hundred pounds, well & truly paid by my two sons, viz, Asa Flanders & Samuel Flanders, both of Salisbury," Stephen Flanders conveyed one dwelling house & barn together with about forty six acres of land lying in the Mill Division, "bounded northerly on land formerly belonging to my Honr father, Stephen Flanders" (I:5).

Sept. 25, 1732, Stephen and Sarah Flanders convey to Jonathan Blaisdell, of Almsbury, one third part of a lot of land in Almsbury, it being one third part of lot No. 27 in that division called the "Peak Division" next to Hampton line, which lot "was bequeathed to said Stephen and Sarah by the last will and testament of their Honoured grandfather, Jarret Haddon" (I:5).

Children (Flanders):

+ 40 i. Stephen[4], b. Mch. 6, 1705 (Mch. 6, 1706), at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5); this birth date is given by Mr. David Hoyt (F:13) as Mch. 6, 1706/7.

+ 41 ii. Asa[4], b. Feb. 7, 1707/8 (Feb. 7, 1708), at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5).

+ 42 iii. Samuel[4], b. July 8, 1709, at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5).

+ 43 iv. Abigail[4], bp. Feb. 26, 1726, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Mass. (F:13).

44 v. Mary[4], b. Mch. 23, 1714, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); m. (prob.) (int. Nov. 12, 1737), at Salisbury to John Lunt (O:89); b. Oct. 22, 1669, at Newbury, Mass. (H:37); d. Apr. 22, 1741, at Salisbury (H:37); he m. (1) Oct. 26, 1696, Ruth (——) Jewett, wid. of Capt. Joseph Jewett (H:37); she d. Nov. 29, 1734 (H:37); he m. (2) Mch. 18, 1734/5, Ann (——) Richardson, wid. of Joseph Richardson of Newbury (H:37). John Lunt was a tavern keeper and mentions himself in his will as "of Salisbury" (H:37). There was no issue by Mary Flanders (H:37).

45 vi. Sarah[4], admitted to the South Hampton Church ca 1743 (F:13). No further record.

46 vii. Nathaniel[4]. (?).

In Hoyt's "Old Families of Salisbury and Amesbury," the above children are listed and the statement is made that part of these records were taken from the Blaisdell Papers. Apparently Mr. Hoyt questioned Nathaniel, as he entered him thus,—"(Nathaniel ?)". However, he gave the additional information that Nathaniel signed a deed with his brother Asa in 1752. "Margaret, res. Exeter," is also listed by Mr. Hoyt among the children of Stephen Flanders and Sarah Blaisdell. Thomas[4] Flanders resided at Exeter and his wife's name was Margaret, from the fact that no further record of Margaret, dau. of Stephen and Sarah, has been found, it seems probable that Margaret, wife of Thomas, was the one referred to as residing in Exeter. As this entry was of such a doubtful character, it did not seem advisable to list Margaret among the children given above.

11 THOMAS[3] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 3, 1673, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Dec. 10, 1721, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); d. Oct. 4, 1741, at Salisbury (O:89); m. (int. Feb. 17, 1710/1) Mch. 8, 1710/1, by "ye Rev. Mr. Calib Cushing, minister of ye Gospell," at Salisbury to Katherine Hackett (O:89); bp. as an adult Sept. 9, 1705, at Salisbury (F:13); adm. to West Parish Ch. at Salisbury, Nov. 6, 1720, Rev. Caleb Cushing, minister (F:13); living in 1747 (I:5); dau. of Capt. William Hackett and Sarah Barnard (F:13).

On Nov. 25, 1702, Thomas Flanders was ordered on scout duty in Salisbury (see account under John[2], No. 8).

LAND TRANSACTIONS

May 10, 1716, Thomas Flanders, of Salisbury, Yeoman, conveys to Samuel Browne of Salisbury, lot No. 38, a piece of salt marsh in the Cow Common Division, 4 acres, bounded northerly by Little River, easterly by Long Pine Point (I:5).

Sept. 30, 1717, Thomas Flanders, of Salisbury, conveyed a piece of land in Salisbury of 4 acres, bounded easterly & northerly by land of Jacob Bradbury & southwardly by ye Town way leading from Salisbury Old Towne to the plains & westerly by land of Robert Carr (I:5).

Nov. 5, 1730, Thomas fflanders is mentioned in a deed for building a drainage ditch in Salisbury (O:88a).

Mch. 14, 1737/8, Thomas Flanders, of Salisbury, Yeoman, conveyed to Phillip Rowell, of Salisbury, trader, 3 1/2 acres of upland in the Salisbury Mills division, bounded southerly on Phillip Rowell's land, westerly on Ephraim Carter, northerly on land of above said Thomas Flanders, easterly by land of Samuel French. Signed and sealed in presence of Samuel Joy and Katherine Flanders on last tuesday in September 1747. Katherine Flanders appeared and made oath that she was present and saw Thomas Flanders within named, since deceased, sign, seal, and execute this instrument (I:5).

SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE OF THOMAS FLANDERS

Katherin Flanders, widow of Thomas Flanders, renounced her right to the possession of her husband's estate and appointed her son, Benjamin, administrator. An inventory was taken Nov. 2, 1741.

The estate is debited with certain amounts due various individuals including "20 pounds to ye mother of the deceased for her maintenance and to the widow for necessarys, 40 pounds." A later account was rendered Aug. 10, 1747, specifying the sale of land and the estate was again debited with 35 pounds for the "maintenance of my Grandmother and repaying ye former with ye proceeds of ye estate with ye widow's dower" (K:4). The mother of the "deceased" was Abigail Carter, born Feb. 1752, therefore, she must have been living in 1747 at the advanced age of over ninety five years.

Children (Flanders), all bapt. at West Parish Ch., in Salisbury on same day (F:13):

\+ 47 i. Benjamin[4], b. Jan. 4, 1712, at Salisbury, Mass. (Q:2).

48 ii. Mehitable[4], bp. Dec. 10, 1721; m. Jan. 29, 1735, at Salisbury to Jacob Clough (O:89); b. June 5, 1710, at Salisbury (P:49); son of Benony Clough and Hannah —— (P:49).

From her father's estate, Mehitable received: "one bed and bedstead, bedding, one sute of curtins, chaiers, loom & tackling, puter, one wheel, wooden & earthern ware, chests & box, two potts, kittle & frying pan, tramill & shovel, tub, two tables, three sheep, a looking glass, a box of iron, and table linnin." She is listed in the inventory, as "Mehitable Clough," one of the children of Thomas and Katherine, who had already received a portion of the estate.

\+ 49 iii. Thomas[4], bp. Dec. 10, 1721.

50 iv. Abigail[4], bp. Dec. 10, 1721; m. (int. Dec. 14, 1734) Jan. 30, 1735, at Salisbury to Jabez Page (O:89); bp. Feb. 4, 1710/1, at Salisbury (F:13); son of Onesiphorus Page and Ruth Merrill (F:13).

In the inventory of her father's estate, she is listed as "Abigail Page," who had already received from the estate the following: "one bed and bedding, one sute of curtins, bedstead, chaiers, puter, wooden & earthern ware, a chest, a pott, Kittle & frying pan, tramill & shovel, table, two sheep, looking glass, one wheel, pot hooks, one cow, & table linnin" (K:4).

51 v. Judith[4], bp. Dec. 10, 1721; unmarried in 1753 (I:5).

Listed in inventory of her father's estate as "Judith Flanders." She had already received from the estate: "one bed and bedding, loome, one chest, one box of iron" (K:4). Mch. 7, 1753, Judith Flanders of Salisbury, singlewoman, "buys land of her brother Benjamin in the salt marsh, lying in the township of Salisbury, at the lower Higleedee-pigleedee" (I:5).

12 DANIEL[3] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 16, 1674/5, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. prior to Apr. 1, 1735, at Amesbury, Mass. (K:4); m. (1) May 1, 1700, at Amesbury, Mass. to Sarah Jane Colby (Q:1); d. after 1720 (presum.) as Daniel "signed a receipt for his wife" in that year

(F:13); dau. of Serg. John Colby and Sarah Osgood (F:13); m. (2) (int. Oct. 24, 1724, at Amesbury) to Dorothy (Worthen) Hoyt (O:5); wid. of Joseph Hoyt (E:94).

Daniel Flanders was a carpenter by trade and resided at Amesbury. In the Order Book of Capt. Henry True, Jr., he is mentioned as one of ten men "sent by conduct of En. John Wadley, to Haverhill." These men were "prest" by Jarvis Ring and Benjamin Eastman, Mch. 1697/8 (F:13).

No record has been found of the death of Daniel Flanders, but on Apr. 1, 1735, Dorothy Flanders, widow of Daniel, refused to accept the division of his estate (K:4). Since the General Court of Massachusetts Bay Colony had ordered that all estates should be administered within 30 days of the decease, it is probable that he died in March of that year. His estate was apprized Apr. 15, 1735, and administration granted to his son Daniel, Jr. (K:4).

In the records of the 1st Church of Amesbury, the following entry is given: "It was voted that the Reasons Sent by the Widow Dorothy Flanders why She had not Pay$^{d}$ her Part to the Support of the Sacram$^{ts}$ for the year past are Insufficient; and that she be informed that the Ch$^{h}$ dont think fit to Release her of any part of the Sum and that she be directed to Consid$^{r}$ seriously of her Neglect, and fault therein, and without Delay Discharge her Duty in the Matt$^{r}$" (F:13).

LAND TRANSACTIONS

Feb. 20, 1722/3. Stephen, Joseph, and Daniel Flanders sold to Jonathan Grele of Salisbury, 2 1/2 acres of land in the Great Neck Division of Salisbury, laid out to the original right of Stephen Flanders, this was lot No. 26. As Daniel did not live to sign the deed, his son Daniel, Jr., "heir & administrator of the Estate" of Daniel, Sr., for 10 pounds paid by Jonathan Grele, made over his father's part of the above mentioned land: dated Mch. 6, 1749/50 (I:5). Dec. 15, 1724, Daniel Flanders of Amesbury, carpenter, sold to his brother Jeremiah of Salisbury, the whole rights & privileges to the estate of their "honoured father, Steven Flanders, late of Salisbury, deceased" (I:5).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5):

+ 52 i. Elenor$^{4}$, b. Jan. 19, 1701/2; bp. Feb. 1, 1718/19 (F:13).
+ 53 ii. Jerediah$^{4}$, b. Apr. 13, 1705.
+ 54 iii. Daniel$^{4}$, b. Aug. 9, 1707.
55 iv. Judith$^{4}$, b. Feb. 4, 1711/2; m. (int. Sept. 21, 1728) (O:5). Oct. 22, 1728, at Amesbury to Samuel Hadley, 3rd of Amesbury (F:13); b. May 5, 1707, at Amesbury (F:13); son of Samuel Hadley and Dorothy Colby (F:13). Judith's birth given, "Juda, dau. of Daniel & Sarah Flandres."
+ 56 v. Sarah$^{4}$, b. Mch. 29, 1714.

Mch. 9, 1736/7, Judith and Samuel Hadley of Amesbury and Sarah & Obadiah Clements of Haverhill, children and heirs "to the estate of our honored mother, Sarah Flanders, late of Amesbury, deceased," granted their mother's estate, both real & personal, to their uncle Joseph Colby (I:5).

13 JOSEPH[3] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 28, 1677, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. and owned the covenant in West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Apr. 5, 1724 (F:13); d. Dec. 29, 1734, at Salisbury (O:89); m. (1) Aug. 5, 1700 (P:48); in "marriages returned by Rev. Mr. Joseph Green, of Salem, the date is Sept. 3, 1700 (G:50), at Salem, Mass., to Hester Cash (P:48; G:50); b. Mch. 9, 1679, at Salem (E:59); d. Mch. 7, 1701/2, at Salisbury (O:89); dau. of William Cash and Elizabeth Lambert (E:59); m. (2) (int. June, 1703 at Salisbury) to Hannah —— (record torn) (O:88); she d. May 5, 1714, at Salisbury (O:89); m. (3) (int. Oct. 4, 1718) Oct. 16, 1718 to Mary (——) (Ash) Thompson (O:89; F:13); she m. (1) John Ash, Jr., who was b. Feb. 3, 1669/70 and was killed by the Indians in Amesbury, July 4, 1706 (F:13); son of John Ash and Mary Bartlett (F:13); she m. (2) July 28, 1707, at Amesbury, John Thompson, who d. July 30, 1717, at Salisbury (F:13).

Joseph Flanders also took part in the scouting service in and around Salisbury, as is seen from the Order Book of Capt. Henry True, Jr.: "Conserning o[r] scouting we intended to take turns round the town but we found it wold not attaine ye end; therfore on november ye 11[th] 1702 Serg[t] Will Osgood had orders to scout with Joseph flanders John Ring tho. Morell & Nath[ll] osgood & to range the woods on ye back side powas hill & to ye new medows & to batts hill or grape hill & to ye grate plaine & to folow his orders. if ye meet w[th] any Indians to take ȳ & not to kill them if posible but to use them as kindly as they Cold & to Cary them to Maior noye: & to give me intiligence if they se any thing more than ordanary that so I might give the same to Colo. Pierce, etc" (F:13).

The following excerpt from Capt. True's Order Book indicates the need to maintain a garrison against the Indians at this time and shows the peril to which the settlers of Salisbury were exposed: "Conserning o[r] garrisoning orders was given forth—: for Isaac Morrells to: himself Jarvis Ring: or Sergent osgood: for ye plaine to abram browne to himself & Sarg[nt] Page to Sergent Morrels to himself & Serg[nt] gill: to Andrew Greleys: to Richard Smith & henry Ambrus To M[r]. Cushings Ensign Eaton & Serg[nt] True & to Jeremy Allins himself Serg[nt] Tho. Bradbury & Sam[ll] Eastman: & ye men ordered to doe ye worke at the several garrisons According to y[r] order & direction: given under my hand the 11th of november: 1702."

LAND TRANSACTIONS

Feb. 18, 1717, Joseph Flanders, potter, with his brothers, Steven Flanders, weaver, and Daniel Flanders, carpenter, sold land in the Goodale Swamp division (I:5).

July 19, 1720, he conveyed a certain lot of land to John Jones and Jacob Fowler which was bounded by the land of Steven Flanders and by that belonging to his brothers Philip and Jeremiah (I:5).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89):

By first wife:

+ 57 i. Ann (Annah, Hannah)[4], b. June 15, 1701.

By second wife:

65 ix. Moses[4], b. Nov. 17, 1727 (P:49).

Moses Flanders, private, Capt. Light's co., Col. Samuel Moore's regt., Louisberg Expedition, 1745. Samuel Moore's regt., sailed from Portsmouth Mch. 23, 1745. The expedition was successful, Louisberg taken, and the way paved for the later conquest of Canada (G:52). No. further record of him. It is possible that he was the ancestor of the branch of the family that lived at Cape Breton, N. B.

16 PHILIP[3] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 8, 1681/2, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. and owned the covenant at the West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Apr. 5, 1724 (F:13); living 1755 at Chester, N. H. (I:10); m. (int. Dec. 31, 1709) (O:89), Feb. 2, 1710, at Salisbury, to Joanna Smith (P:49); b. May 22, 1686, at Salisbury (F:13); date of death unknown; dau. of Richard Smith and Elizabeth —— (F:13); she was bp. June 30, 1723, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); adm. to the church, Jan. 7, 1728 (F:13).

Philip Flanders was a blacksmith by trade and was called Philip, Jr. He resided at Salisbury, Mass. and Chester, N. H. He apparently owned land in Kingston, N. H. at one time, for on the town records of Kingston an entry is made under date of Mch. 5, 1715, that Philip Flanders had forfeited his rights in the town.

On Nov. 25, 1702, he served on scout duty against the Indians in and around Salisbury, according to an order given by Capt. Henry True, Jr. (F:13).

At the time of the division of his father's (Steven[2]) estate, Philip received for his share, his mother's third, on condition that he care for her during her life. On July 24, 1708, the same day the estate was divided, Philip executed a bond with his mother, Abigail, for the proper fulfillment of this agreement. It reads as follows:

> To all christon people unto whom this writing or covenent shall come that I Philep flanders of the towne of Sailsbury and of the provence of the maseychusets bay in new England blacksmith the said flanders doe by thease prasence coveynent promes and in gadge too and with my natorl mother abeygele flanders of the towne and provence abov said widow: for and in considorations here after named doe covenen promes and in gadg to mayntayne my said mother to provide for her all sutable and convenent mayntaynanse that she shale stand in ned of during all the tim of her natorle life wth sutable houseroome beding vitols drink tendence nursing docktors if ned shale so require and at the expiration of her natorll life as a bove said then to bury her deasently all this to be dun and the considoration folowing that the said flandors is to have into his hands and to improve his said mothers third part of her husbands estat divided to her as may apper by said division bareing eaqwill date with these prasons and at the expiration of his said mothers natorll life then to him and to his haiers and asines for evr to have and to hold as good shur and absolute Estat of in herytens in fee simple for evr— — — the condisons of this writing or Coveynent is such that if in Case the sayd Philep flandors a bove said should naglect or re fuse to perform all and evry or aney pertikelor a bove mentioned that hath relation to the mayntaynans of his mothr as a bove said then thos two men here after named shall have full powr and Lawfull athoryty to tak in to thir hands and leat out aney part of said estat or seall aney part thir of or the whole if thay see ned for the comfortable subsistance of the widow a bove said and in case one of thes men shale die be for the a bove said widow then the other serviveing shale have the same powr as a bove said: the men that are here chosen as a bove manshoned and impowred is Laft nathanell Brown and Jams Purenton both of sailsbury in witnes here of we have here unto sat our hands and seals this 24 day of July 1708. sined sealed and dylivrd

In view of the above bond it is somewhat difficult to understand why the mother, Abigail, was living with her son Thomas, in 1741, as is shown in the administration of the estate of Thomas[3] Flanders. From the following deeds it is apparent that Philip was living in Salisbury as late as 1748.

LAND TRANSACTIONS

June 16, 1703, Philip Flanders, Jun. of Salisbury, blacksmith, received land from his uncle Phillip[2] Flanders (I:5).

July 10, 1712, Philip Flanders of Salisbury, conveyed to Daniel Flanders of Amesbury a share of salt marsh in Salisbury in a place called the cow common near Hooks Creek which was "formerly in the possession of my Honoured father, deceased" (I:5).

July 19, 1720, Joseph Flanders of Salisbury conveyed a certain lot of land butting & bounding north Eastwardly on Stephen Flanders land and West No'wardly on land "of my brother Phillip Flanders," East Southerly on land of Jeremiah Flanders, southwesterly on land of Phillip Flanders "who owns the other half of said lot." This land was granted to John Jones and Jacob Fowler (I:5).

Mch. 7, 1734/5, Jacob Fowler, of Salisbury for 2 acres of Land secured to him by Jeremiah Flanders of Salisbury, yeoman, conveyed to Phillip Flanders of Salisbury 2 acres in the Mill Division of Salisbury, bounded easterly, southerly & westerly upon land of Phillip Flanders, northerly upon land of Jacob Fowler (I:10).

Mch. 24, 1748, Phillip Flanders, of Salisbury, blacksmith, grants half his homestead and pasture land to his son Phillip Flanders (I:10).

Jan. 11, 1754, Joseph Bosford of Chester, husbandman, for 317 pounds paid by Phillip Flanders of Salisbury, blacksmith, grants 40 acres of land in Chester, being part of Lott 57 laid out to the original right of Capt. Thomas Pierce (I:10).

July 13, 1754, Phillip Flanders of Chester, blacksmith, for 370 pounds paid by John Calfe of Kingston, cordwainer, grants 40 acres of land in Chester, being the southerly end of lott 57, laid out to the original right of Capt. Thomas Pierce. Ack. by Phillip Flanders the same date (I:10).

Jan. 24, 1755, Thomas Sheila of Chester, wheelwright, for 1,200 pounds paid by Phillip Flanders of Chester, blacksmith, grants land in Chester (I:10).

July 21, 1755, Phillip Flanders of Chester, blacksmith, grants land in Chester for 60 pounds paid by Page Bachelder of Chester, yeoman (I:10).

There are no further records of land transactions on the part of Phillip[3] so it is probable that he died soon after 1755.

18 JEREMIAH[3] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 5, 1686, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Apr. 14, 1757, at South Hampton, N. H., in the 71st year of his age, bur. in Old cem. at South Hampton (B:77) (see illustration of tombstone); m. (1) (int. Feb. 29, 1723/4, at Salisbury) to Mary Haise (Hayes) of Salisbury (O:89); it is probable that she died after the birth of her child in 1725; m. (2) (int. Sept. 17, 1726, at Salisbury) (O:89) Dec. 29, 1726, at Amesbury to Mehitable Hoyt, of Amesbury (P:49); b. Nov. 25, 1705, at Amesbury (F:13); d. Jan. 15, 1789, at South Hampton, N. H., in the 84th year of her age (B:77), bur. in Old cem. at South Hampton; dau. of Joseph Hoyt and Dorothy Worthen (F:13); [Dorothy (Worthen) Hoyt m. (2) Daniel Flanders brother of Jeremiah]; Mehitable m. (2) Oct. 13, 1767, at South Hampton to Capt. Ephraim Brown (O:93); who d. Feb. 22, 1768, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

In the division of his father's estate, made in 1708, Jeremiah received for his portion "a part of salt marsh medow." From his uncle, Phillip Flanders, Sen., he received one half or moity of a piece of land in the mill division of Salisbury, in partnership with Phillip Feavor, Jr. and John Darling. In 1709, he bought of his sister Abigail, her portion of their father's estate and in 1724, he bought his brother Daniel's portion. Phillip Feavor, Jr. bought John Darling's share in the land willed to them by their uncle Phillip Flanders, and in 1718, Jeremiah bought both these portions from Phillip Feavor, Jr. He also bought the Eaton lot which Phillip Feavor had purchased from his uncle Phillip Flanders. This he sold in 1729 to Joseph Maxfield. In 1715, he sold land to Samuel Dow and in 1725 he sold land to Henry French. He apparently continued dealing in real estate throughout his life, for there is listed in the inventory of his estate at the time of his death,—land in Southampton, valued at 4,180 pounds, old tenor; land in Kingston, valued at 2,080 pounds, old tenor; "Right and interest in land in a place called Contoocook, valued at 200 pounds, old tenor; and thatch ground in South Hampton, valued at 5 pounds, old tenor. The term "old tenor" was given to the Province bills, issued in 1702. These ceased to pass for full value in 1750,—having depreciated in the ratio of seven and a half to one.

Jeremiah Flanders was also one of the original grantees of "Township, No. 1" (Warner, N. H) (H:46).

That he became a man of influence and of high standing in the community in which he lived, is evidenced by the title of "Mr." cut upon his tombstone.

On Jan. 7, 1728, he and his wife Mehitable were dismissed from the West Parish Church in Salisbury to the church in South Hampton (F:13).

Jeremiah Flanders died intestate and the administration of his estate was granted to his son, Jeremiah, Jr. of South Hampton, N. H.

Children (Flanders), all but the last child b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89):

By first wife:

76 i. Sarah[4], b. July 15, 1725 (G:12); died in infancy (G:12).

By second wife:

77 ii. Isiah[4], b. July 15, 1727; d. "Here lieth the body of Isiah Flanders son of Jeremiah Flanders & Mehitable his wife.

He died in the fourth year of his age Aprel 11, 1731." This inscription was copied from the tombstone in the old cem. at South Hampton, where Isiah was buried (B:77).

\+ 78 iii. Jeremiah[4], b. Sept. 15, 1728.

79 iv. Sarah[4], b. Mch. 7, 1729/30 (O:88); m. Feb. 7, 1752, at South Hampton, N. H. to Caleb Burley (O:93).
In 1758, Caleb and Sarah Burley, of Nottingham, for 250 pounds, old tenor paid by Jeremiah Flanders, released all claim to the estate of Jeremiah Flanders, Sr. (I:11).

80 v. Judith[4], b. Sept. 7, 1731; unmarried in 1759 (I:11). Feb. 14, 1759, Judith Flanders for 300 pounds paid by her brother Jeremiah Flanders, quits claim to all right in the estate of her father, Jeremiah Flanders (I:11).

81 vi. Mehetabel[4], b. Feb. 4, 1732/3; m. Mch. 3, 1757, at South Hampton, N. H. to Ephraim Brown, Jr. (O:93).
On Mch. 16, 1759, Mehetabel Brown and Ephraim Brown, Jr. quit claim to all rights in the estate of Jeremiah Flanders, for 800 pounds, old tenor, Bills of Credit of said Province of New Hampshire, paid by Jeremiah Flanders, Jr. (I:11).

82 vii. Abigail[4] (twin), b. July 22, 1734; d. in infancy (Q:2).

83 viii. Dorothy[4] (twin), b. July 22, 1734; d. "Here lieth the body of Dorothy Flanders, daughter of Jeremiah Flanders & Mehitable who dyed in ye 3 y of her age August 10, 1736," bur. old cem. at South Hampton, N. H. (B:77). On her foot stone is cut "Twin Born."

84 ix. Josiah[4], b. Feb. 10, 1735/6; d. "Here lie the earthly remains of Josiah Flanders. A son who died in the ninth year of his age January 2, 1744 "(1744/5), bur. in old cem. at South Hampton (B:77).

\+ 85 x. Moses[4], b. June 29, 1737.

\+ 86 xi. Dorothy[4], b. Aug. 21, 1740; bp. Dec. 1, 1745, at South Hampton (D:8).

87 xii. Miriam[4], b. Aug. 22, 1745, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); bp. Dec. 1, 1745, at South Hampton (D:8); d. "in the 4th year of her age Oct. 1749," bur. old cem. at South Hampton (B:77).

31 JACOB[3] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 5, 1689, at Salisbury, Mass.; living in 1759 (I:10); m. (int. Sept. 27, 1710), at Salisbury to Mercy Clough (O:89); b. Mch. 17, 1690/1, at Salisbury (F:13); dau. of John Clough and Mercy Page (F:13).

May 26, 1718, when the estate of Corp. John Flanders was divided, his son Jacob[3] Flanders received as his portion, a lot and a half of land at Grape Hill, a piece of land at Great Neck, a lot of meadow at Long Pines, and part of a lot near the dwelling house of Corp. John "with a barn & orchard upon it."

In Dec. 1718, he sold land in Salisbury to John Carter and to Moses and Aaron Clough, buying land and buildings in Kingston on Dec. 17, 1718, from Joseph & Benjamin Mason, land originally belonging to Francis Mason, then deceased.

Jan. 21, 1719, he sold to John Challis and Joseph Colby "1/40 part of all the floated land on both sides of the Powas River between Trickling Falls Dam and the Country Pond, alias Powas Pond; also 1/40 part of all the upland & swamp that lyeth betwixt the said floated ground and the line betwixt Almsbury (Amesbury) & Kingstown not damnifying any former grant from Kingstown" (I:10).

Jan. 1, 1720, Jacob Flanders of Kingstown, yeoman, sold 1/4 part of the common or undivided land in Kingstown, formerly granted to Francis Mason, to John Maxfield, of Salisbury, "Inholder." (I:10), and on May 2, 1720, he sold to Jonathan Greeley, one moiety or half part of a certain lot of land in the Great Neck division in Salisbury; land which was originally laid out to Stephen[1] Flanders, it being lot No. 26, in that division (I:5).

Dec. 26, 1720, he sold to Joseph Emons, of Hampton, one common right or share in all the common land "that is not laid out or granted to be laid out in the town of Kingstown," and on Apr. 6, 1721, he granted to Jacob Morrill, Jr., of Salisbury, sixty acres of land in the Maple Swamp division of Kingstown, this being originally laid out to Francis Mason (I:10).

Apr. 23, 1722, Jacob Flanders of Kingston, carpenter, granted 40 acres of land in Kingston, it "being the house lot upon which I am living," to Ebenezer Stevens of Kingston, and Mercy Flanders, wife of Jacob, released her dower rights (I:10).

June 18, 1724, he conveyed to Moses Merrill, a salt meadow in Salisbury, laid out to the original right of Stephen Flanders, it being 3/4 of an acre in lot No. 59 (I:5).

In 1728, 1729, and 1730, he made other sales of land in Kingston, and on May 7, 1734, he sold to Jonathan Grele one right of commonage in Salisbury,—"it being in ye comon or Undivided Lands at ye said Beach between Merrimack & Hampton Rivers, and also One Right in all ye other comons in ye town of Salisbury, which originally was the right of my grandfather, Stephen Flanders, late of Salisbury, deceased" (I:5).

Oct. 21, 1735, Jacob Flanders & Jacob Flanders, Jr., both of Kingston, granted land in Kingston to Samuel Bean, Jr., of Kingston, for "70 pounds in Good Bills of Credit" (I:10).

From these numerous land transactions it would appear that the principal occupation of Jacob[3] Flanders was in buying and selling land, although in 1722 he is mentioned as a carpenter by trade, and later on as a housewright. It is probable that he removed to Boscawen (then a part of Contoocook) shortly after 1735, as in 1738, the "History of Boscawen" records that,—"Jacob Flanders, Lt. Jonathan Coffin and Joseph Gerrish were appointed to build a meeting-house in Boscawen, which was to be of logs, 40 ft. long and as wide as Rumford (now Concord) meeting-house, only 2 foot higher." He was said to be 45 years of age when he came to Boscawen and was looked upon as a leading spirit in the town (H:7). Rev. Dr.

Bouton, in his "History of Concord," alludes to the Flanders of Boscawen, as men of great physical strength and endurance.

The town of Boscawen, N. H. was incorporated in 1760 and prior to this time formed a part of the plantation of Contoocook.

In 1749, Jacob Flanders of Contoocook (so called), Gentleman, and John Flanders, Gentleman, & Josiah Flanders, yeoman, & Jonathan Flanders, cordwainer, & Joshua Clough, cordwainer, with his wife, Hannah Clough, all of South Hampton, and Philip Flanders of Salisbury, yeoman, for 545 pounds, old tenor, paid by Henry French of South Hampton, yeoman, granted land in South Hampton, "which was our sister Tamzen's (late deceased) land" (I:10). The date of this deed was never entered but it was acknowledged by John Flanders, Josiah Flanders, Joshua and Hannah Clough, Mch. 5, 1749/50; by Jonathan Flanders, Apr. 2, 1750; by Philip Flanders, July 2, 1750, and by Jacob Flanders, Dec. 3, 1750 (I:10).

In 1752, Jacob Flanders and others were employed to build a fort at Contoocook because of the hostilities of the Arosaguntacook tribe of Indians (H:7). On Mch. 20, 1755, Jacob Flanders was one of the signers of a petition for a guard, as they had fields two or three miles distant from the garrison houses. They feared the "enemy (Indians)" would come down upon them in the spring, thus preventing their plowing and planting their fields, so that,—"we shall not be able to subsist ourselves & families, but must of necessity break up and leave the Place, and consequently be reduced to poverty, if we should escape Death, or Captivity by the Hands of the enemy" (G:15).

Jan. 23, 1759, Jacob Flanders of Contoocook, divided land with Moses Call, and gave a quit claim to the easterly end of Lott No. 57 (I:10).

Children (Flanders): Owing to incomplete birth records it is difficult to determine the order in which these children should be given. The records of the old Kingston Church contain the following: "Dec. 31, 1727, children of Jacob Flanders were baptized, Mercy, Ezekiel, John, Jesse; further were baptized, Jacob, Tabitha, Ruth Flanders, grown to years of understanding." Also, "Jacob Flanders lost a child, July 31, 1735; Jacob Flanders had a child which died May 16, 1726; Aug. 15, 1735, Jacob Flanders lost a child." In view of the above records, the following seems the most probable order:

\+ 88 i. Tabitha[4], b. Apr. 7, 1711, at Salisbury, Mass (O:89).

89 ii. Elizabeth[4], (H:7) m. (From the Diary of the Rev. Timothy Walker): "Mch. ye 27, 1738, Rumford" (Concord, N. H.) "These may certifie yt Daniel Rolfe, Jr., of Rumford, and Elizabeth Flanders, of Salisbury, alias Rumford were Lawfully married to each on ye 22 Day of this Instant March by Timothy Walker" (F:17). The town History of Boscawen states that Betsey dau. of Jacob and Mercy Flanders m. Daniel Rolfe.

+ 90 iii. Jacob[4], b. Aug. 14, 1715, at Kingston, N. H. (O:57).
+ 91 iv. Ruth[4], bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4).
92 v. Mercy[4], bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4); may have been one of the children who died in 1735, as no further record of her has been found.
+ 93 vi. Ezekiel[4], b. May 21, 1721, at Kingston, N. H. (Q:2).
+ 94 vii. John[4], b. Jan. 10, 1724, at Kingston, N. H. (Q:1).
95 viii Child[4], b. date of birth unknown; d. May 16, 1726, at Kingston (D:4).
+ 96 ix. Jesse[4], bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4).
+ 97 x. Philip[4] (H:7).
98 xi. Child[4], b. date of birth unknown; d. Aug. 15, 1735, at Kingston (D:4).
+ 99 xii. Hannah[4] (H:7).
100 xiii. Mehitable[4], b. Aug. 30, 1740, at Boscawen, N. H. (Q:2).

32 Lieut. JOHN[3] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 22, 1691, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. and owned the Covenant at West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Apr. 5, 1724 (F:13); d. "Lieut. John Flanders died Nov. 14, 1782" at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); will probated Nov. 27, 1782 (K:9). The date of Oct. 25, 1745, as given in a recently printed genealogy of the Flanders Family is clearly erroneous in view of the preceding records. m. (int. Feb. 12, 17—) at Gloucester, Mass., to Sarah Prince (P:26); b. ca. 1692; d. "Sarah, wife of Lieut. John Flanders died Apr. 15, 1775, ae. 83 yr," at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); dau. of Thomas Prince, Jr. and Elizabeth Harraden (P:55; I:5).

When the division of John[2] Flanders' estate was made, his son, John[3], was given land on Long Hill near the meeting-house and half a lot in Goodale's Swamp division, a lot at the Peak and a third part of a lot at the Beach.

Apr. 3, 1713, John Flanders, late of Gloster, now of Salisbury, blacksmith, "who married with Sarah Prince, dau. of Thomas Prince, Jun., late of Gloster, agrees with our brother, John Prince to make no demands on the estate given by Thomas Prince, Sen., late of Gloster, deceased, my wives grandfather, unto her uncle Isaac Prince, late of Gloster, deceased" (I:5).

Dec. 18, 1717, John Flanders, sen., of Salisbury, blacksmith, "who married with Sarah, dau. of Mr. Thomas Prince, Jun., late of Gloster, in consideration of 8 pounds current paid by John Prince, of Gloster, acquits claim unto our brother aforesaid John Prince, to lands and other estate wh. her father Thomas Prince, Jun., and her grandfather Thomas Prince, Sen., possessed; also to all right, title or interest in any estate which might have belonged to her brother Edward Prince and her uncle Isaac Prince." This deed was witnessed by Ezekiel and Josiah Flanders (I:5).

Dec. 8, 1718, John Flanders of Salisbury, blacksmith, conveyed to John Maxfield of Salisbury, a certain piece of land in Salisbury, "near ye upper meeting-house, bounded southerly on ye country road & easterly running in a strait line from ye corner of ye land against ye northwest corner of abovesaid meeting-house; and Sarah, ye wife of me, ye sd John Flanders, doth willingly yield all right of dower" (I:5).

July 23, 1718, John Flanders of Salisbury, sold to Capt. John Gyles of Salisbury, and now resident at Fort George in Brunswick in the county of York, one half part of a nine acre lot which was laid out in the Goodale Swamp division to the original right of "my grandfather, Stephen Flanders, dec., being lot No. 93 in sd division" (I:5).

Oct. 16, 1722, John Flanders of Salisbury, blacksmith, granted to Abraham Morrill, land laid out to the original right of Phillip Flanders, lot No. 32, in the Peak division (I:5).

May 16, 1723, John purchased from his brother Josiah Flanders part of the land which he had received in the division of their father's estate, and in 1726, he purchased from his brother Jonathan Flanders the land which had been allotted to him in this division (I:5). In 1727, John sold to John Morrill, six acres of land in the mill division which he had purchased from Josiah Flanders (I:5).

Lieut. John was living in South Hampton, N. H., in 1742, for on Nov. 26th of that year, he was chosen moderator of the town meeting, "a meeting of the inhabitants of the town of South Hampton for appointing a Day of Fasting and Prayer, in order for the calling and settling of a Gospel minister among us." "We the Inhabitants of this Town being In Present want of a Peious larned orthodox minister of a Good Conversation to Dispence the word and administer the ordinances of our lord Jesus a mong us" (G:15).

It is possible that Lieut. John was living in that part of Salisbury which formed part of South Hampton after the establishment of the province line in 1741, and that his place of residence remained unchanged. South Hampton was incorporated in May, 1742. Dec. 27, 1742, Lieut. John was again chosen moderator of the town meeting at which it was voted, "that we Will Give the Rev$^{d}$ mr William Parsons a Call to Settel In the work of the Gospel ministry among us," (G:15). Lieut. John was for many years a deacon of the church at South Hampton and was greatly respected for his integrity and uprightness (G:12).

In 1749/50, Lieut. John joined with his brothers, Jacob, Josiah and Jonathan, and his sister Hannah Clough, in granting land, formerly owned by their sister Tamzin, to Henry French (I:10).

In his will under date of Nov. 13, 1775, he bequeathes to his son Prince Flanders, one half his house and lands in South Hampton, the other half being given to his son Philip Flanders, to whom he also gives the "whole of my salt marsh in consideration of services he has do for me in my old age." He also enjoins Prince Flanders to "pay my daughter, Elizabeth Greenfield, & my daughter, Sarah Fowler, 5 sh. each; & my daughter, Susanna Eastman, 3 sh.; my son, Phillip is to pay my daughter, Susanna Eastman, 3 sh., and my daughter, Mary Dow, 6 sh., & my daughter, Abigail Watts 6 sh." The will was probated Nov. 27, 1782 (K:9).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89):

109 ix. Philip[4], b. Apr. 27, 1739; m. Jan. 1, 1759, at South Hampton, to Ruth Getchel, by Rev. William Parsons, of South Hampton (O:93; M:5); b. July 18, 1738 (Q:1). June 24, 1776, Philip Flanders signed the Association Test at South Hampton (G:15). The census of 1790 gives Philip Flanders of South Hampton: 2 males over 16 and 2 females. No record of his family has been found.

Apr. 3, 1780, Philip Flanders, of South Hampton, yeoman, granted to Richard Currier Flanders, of Salisbury, yeoman, 30 acres of land, "it being the farm where I now live, bounded northerly on the highway leading from South Hampton meeting-house to Newton, . . . together with the buildings standing thereon" (I:11).

Mch. 20, 1783, for a quit claim deed from his brother, Prince Flanders, Philip granted 46 acres of land in South Hampton, lately owned by his father, late deceased, "save for one acre which my honoured father purchased of Nathaniel Rowell, together with a privilege for my said brother, Prince, to pass thru this piece." Ack. by Philip Flanders, Dec. 25, 1789 (I:11).

35 JOSIAH[3] FLANDERS, b. July 28, 1700, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Feb. 16, 1781, at South Hampton, N. H. (Q:2); m. (int. Dec. 12, 1724) Jan. 28, 1724/5, at Salisbury, to Mehitable Osgood, of Salisbury (O:89); b. Apr. 26, 1706, at Salisbury (F:13); d. Oct. 25, 1782, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); dau. of William Osgood and Hannah Colby (F:13).

Josiah's portion of his father's estate was part of a lot in the Mill division of Salisbury; part of this he sold in 1723, to his brother John, and in 1731, he sold 140 acres of this land to Daniel Osgood of Salisbury (I:5). On Dec. 25, 1744, Timothy Osgood sold his dwelling house in Salisbury to Josiah Flanders of South Hampton, yeoman (I:5).

Josiah Flanders was on the muster roll of Col. Shadrack Walton's co. at Martha's Vineyard, from July to Nov. 1722 (G:12). He signed the Association Test at South Hampton, June 24, 1776 (G:15).

114 v. Unis (Eunice)[4], b. Mch. 13, 1734/5, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89). In the book containing the original town records of Salisbury, this birth is entered on the page headed "Deaths," but the word "born" precedes the date, and there is nothing to indicate that she also died at this time. There are several entries of this nature at the bottom of this page, the explanation being, apparently, that these births were entered here for lack of space on the page headed "Births." In the Church records of the West Parish, Salisbury, there is an entry of a Eunice, who was bapt. May 4, 1735. At the present time, this is the only Eunice found recorded, to whom this entry could apply.

36 PHILIP[3] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 19, 1702, at Salisbury, Mass.; living at South Hampton in 1777 (I:5); m. (int. Oct. 20, 1722) at Salisbury, Mass., to Abigail French of Salisbury (O:89); dau. of Joseph French (I:10).

Philip[3], son of John[2] Flanders, was called Philip, Jr., while Philip[4], son of Philip[3], son of Steven[2], was called Philip, 3rd. In the division of his father's estate, Philip Flanders, Jr., received as his share, a lot and part of a lot in the mill division in Salisbury; a part of a meadow lying in Hall's Farm, and a piece of meadow in the higleedee piggleetee swamp. From his uncle, Phillip[2] Flanders, he had received by will, a homestead which the elder Phillip had bought of "John Dickoson."

> Feb. 14, 1733, Phillip Flanders, Jun. of Salisbury, conveys to "my honoured father, Joseph French of Salisbury, all my part of salt marsh, situated in Salisbury, Below Greeley's Mill, which part of salt marsh was set out for part of my portion of my father's estate" (I:10).

July 26, 1753, Philip Flanders, Jr. of Salisbury, yeoman, granted to Ephraim Brown of South Hampton, yeoman, 1/4 part of lott No. 4, in the 11th Range on the northern side of the "Piscataquoy River," in that tract of land lying in the Province of New Hampshire, known by the name of Goffs Town. His wife, Abigail, gave up her dower rights (I:5).

In 1755, he sold to Parker Flanders, blacksmith, 8 acres of land in Salisbury, it being "part of my homestead where I now dwell"; witnessed by Richard Flanders and Philip Rowell (I:5).

Aug. 11, 1760, Philip Flanders of Salisbury, yeoman, for 1,332 pounds, old tenor, paid by Daniel Jones of South Hampton, yeoman (husband of Judith[4] dau. of Philip's brother Jonathan), conveyed a parcel of land in South Hampton, containing 12 acres "which is part of the Real Estate of Jonathan Jones, late of Almsbury, deceased, & was sold to me at Publick Vendue by aforesd Daniel Jones, as administrator of the aforesd estate, bounded westerly on land that was set off to widow Mehitable Jones, as her Dower or thirds in her late husband's estate (I:11).

In 1773, he sold to Jacob Collins of South Hampton, blacksmith, 15 acres of land together with the house standing thereon; later in the same year he sold to John Shepard of Salisbury, 6 acres of land in Salisbury, bounded northerly upon land of Parker Flanders but now in possession of said Philip Flanders, said land being a part of a piece of land where said Flanders lived in time past. Ack. by Philip Flanders, Mch. 10, 1777 (I:5).

120 i. Son[4] (stillborn), b. Oct. 20, 1724.

121 ii. Nathan[4], b. Feb. 13, 1728. This birth is recorded by Dr. Prescott in his "Flanders Memorial," but is not given in the Salisbury T.R. No further record of this child has been found.

122 iii. Nathaniell[4], b. Nov. 15, 1737; d. Aug. 13, 1738, at Salisbury (O:89).

37 JONATHAN[3] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 23, 1705, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Jan. 7, 1728 at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); d. date unknown, but deceased on Feb. 17, 1792 (I:11); m. (int. Mch. 22, 1727/8) May 2, 1728, at Salisbury to Judith Merrill (O:89); b. Sept. 14, 1706, at Newbury, Mass. (E:104); d. Oct. 8.. 1773, at South Hampton, N. H. (E:104); dau. of Thomas Merrill and Judith Kent (E:104).

When his father died, Jonathan, being a minor, was placed under the guardianship of his brother Jacob, but on Mch. 23, 1724, he chose Joseph Osgood for his guardian and on July 6th of the same year, he chose Thomas[3] Flanders for his guardian. His portion of his father's estate was part of a lot in the mill division of Salisbury. On Oct. 13, 1726, he deeded a portion of this land to his brother, John Flanders, and on Nov. 27, 1731, he sold another portion to Phillip Rowell, of Salisbury. Jonathan acknowledged this deed Sept. 26, 1742, and his wife Judith gave up her dower rights (I:5).

Apr. 18, 1731, he purchased land from his sister, Hannah (Flanders) Clough (I:5).

Jonathan Flanders was a cordwainer by trade, and probably removed to South Hampton, N. H. shortly after 1733. His wife, Judith Merrill, is mentioned in the will of her father, Thomas Merrill, dated Feb. 1, 1748/9.

July 19, 1755, Jonathan Flanders of South Hampton, cordwainer, granted one acre of upland in South Hampton to his son, Merrill Flanders, cordwainer (I:10). Feb. 17, 1792, Jonathan Flanders is referred to as deceased, in a deed between Merrill Flanders and Joseph Merrill (I:11). It is probable that he died prior to 1776, as his name is not among the signers of the Association Test, nor among those who refused to sign, although his sons and his brothers, who were then living, were signers. All males above the age of twenty-one years were requested to sign this paper and the names of those refusing to sign were reported to the Committee of Safety, therefore, as his name does not appear, it seems evident that he was not living at the time.

Children (Flanders):

+123 i. Abra[4], b. June 19, 1729, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89).

124 ii. Merrill[4], b. Feb. 24, 1730/31 (Feb. 24, 1731), at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); d. Dec. 29, 1826, at Hopkinton, N. H.; bur. in Old cem. at Hopkinton, ae 95y (B:46); never married (G:12). Merrill Flanders was a very celebrated shoemaker, and at his death left an estate valued at nearly $2,800. In 1792, he is mentioned in the land deeds as "of South Hampton," so his removal to Hopkinton must have occurred after this date. He provided a home for the wife and children of his deceased brother, Richard Currier Flanders, taking them to live with him in Hopkinton. Jan. 12, 1827, Jonathan Flanders, brother of Merrill, requested that his cousin, Col. Merrill Flanders of South Hampton, be appointed administrator of the estate of Merrill Flanders of Hopkinton. Jonathan stated that he was the only living brother of Merrill and was too old and infirm to administer the estate himself (K:7).

+125 iii. Parker[4], b. June 13, 1733, at Salisbury, Mass (O:89).

+132 x. Richard Currier[4], b. Mch. 8, 1748, at South Hampton, N. H. (Q:2).

38 TAMZIN[3] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 9, 1707, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. May 30, 1725, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); d. ca 1731, at South Hampton, N. H. (F:13); m. (int. Nov. 25, 1726) Jan. 10, 1726/7 (Jan. 10, 1727) at Salisbury, Mass., by Rev. Joseph Parsons, to Henry French (O:89; F:13); b. Feb. 24, 1703/4, at Salisbury, Mass. (F:13); son of Henry French and Elizabeth Collins (F:13); he m. (2) ca 1732, Rebecca French (F:13).

During her father's last illness, Tamzin was left in the care of her aunts, Mary Flanders and Naomi (Flanders) Eastman. At the death of her father, her aunts requested that Edmond Eastman be appointed her guardian (K:4). The land she received from her father's estate bordered upon the land of Henry French, whose son she later married. In 1723, this land was sold to Ephraim Carter (I:5). That she owned land in South Hampton, N. H. at the time of her death is shown by the deed given under Jacob[3] Flanders (No. 31).

39 HANNAH[3] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 16, 1710, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. and owned the covenant at the West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Dec. 17, 1727 (F:13); m. (int. Mch. 26, 1731), at Salisbury, to Joshua Clough (O:89); b. Jan. 16, 1709, at Salisbury (O:88); son of Caleb Clough and Mary —— (O:88).

Joshua Clough was a cordwainer and was living in South Hampton, N. H., in 1749/50, when he and his wife participated in the sale of the land owned by Tamzin[3] Flanders (I:5).

At her father's death, Hannah was placed under the guardianship of her brother, John[2] Flanders (K:4). She received as her share of her father's estate, the dwelling house and land adjoining it "together with the orchard upon it," also a piece of land on the west side of the road leading to the mills (K:4). In 1731, Hannah and Joshua Clough granted to their brother Jonathan Flanders, the land which bordered on Thomas Flanders' land in Salisbury (I:5).

Children (Clough):

133 i. Abia[4], b. date unknown; d. Oct. 30, 1735, at Salisbury (O:88).

134 ii. Ezekiel[4], b. May 19, 1735, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88).

FOURTH GENERATION

40 STEPHEN[4] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 6, 1705/6 (or 1706/7) (F:13), at Amesbury, Mass.; bp. at 2nd. Ch. in Salisbury, Feb. 26, 1721 (F:13); living in 1765, at Plaistow, N. H. (I:10); m. (int. Apr. 16, 1726) June 27, 1726, at Salisbury, to Sarah Perkins (O:89); she was living in 1756 at Plaistow, N. H. (I:10); dau. of Humphrey Perkins and Martha Moulton (H:56).

Sept. 13, 1731, "John Webster, of Salisbury, weaver, for 40 pounds paid by Stephen fflanders, Junr, labourer," conveyed a certain lot of land in Kingston, "it being the 6th Lott in number in ye division between ye Lower 2nd division in Kingstown of ye 200 acre Grants" (I:10). On Apr. 26, 1750, Stephen Flanders of Kingston, yeoman, sold his land to Jonathan French, late of South Hampton, for 800 pounds, old tenor, and Sarah, wife of Stephen Flanders, released her dower rights, June 25, 1753 (I:10).

Jan. 21, 1734/5, Samuel Webster of Kingston, yeoman, for 65 pounds, paid by Stephen Flanders, of Kingston, yeoman, grants 20 acres of land at the Beach Plain in Kingston, it being lot No. 8, between the 200 acre grant and the lower 2nd division (I:10).

On May 6, 1737/8, Stephen Flanders was admitted to the Church in Kingston from the church in Salisbury, and on July 8, 1743/4, Sarah Flanders was admitted to the Kingston Church (D:4).

Aug. 1, 1750, Eliphaz Sanborn, of Chester, for 250 pounds in bills of old tenor, grants to Stephen Flanders, of Kingston, 40 acres of land in Chester, being part of an 80 acre lot in the 3rd division, No. 125. On June 16, 1752, Stephen sold this land to Josiah Hook, of Salisbury, for 300 pounds, old tenor (I:10).

Jan. 29, 1750, Stephen Flanders, of Plaistow, in consideration of 100 pounds paid by Ezekiel Flanders, of Plaistow, yeoman, grants a tract of land in Chester, 30 acres out of the land Stephen Flanders bought of Jonathan Sanborn, it being part of a lot laid out to Zachariah Clifford. Signed, sealed & delivered in the presence of Sarah Flanders, Apr. 16, 1756 (I:10).

The town of Plaistow was incorporated in 1749 and borders on Kingston, so it is probable that Stephen's land holdings were located in both of these towns before Plaistow was set off into a separate township.

LIST OF BAPTISTS IN PLAISTOW, N. H.

"Those that Profess themselves of y[e] Baptist Perswation which in all Parrish afairs have appeared aginst y[e] Peace and welfair of our minister and his society are as follows: Stephen Flanders. (29 other names were given.)

In 1760, Samuel Johnson, of Plaistow, sold land in Kingston to Stephen Flanders, of Plaistow, and on Sept. 7, 1763, in consideration of 700 pounds equal to old tenor, Stephen Flanders conveyed a tract of land in Kingston to Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, yeoman. Signed and sealed in presence of Asa and Mehitable Flanders (I:10).

41 ASA[4] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 7, 1707/8 (Feb. 7, 1708), at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Feb. 20, 1720/1, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); living in 1776 (G:15); m. (int. Dec. 25, 1731) Mch. 16, 1731/2, at Salisbury to Mehitable Dow (O:88); b. Jan. 13, 1706 (H:56); dau. of Simon Dow and Mehitable Green (F:13).

In the town records of Salisbury, Mehitable, wife of Asa, is given both as Mehitable Dow and Mehitable Page. This confusion arose from the fact that her mother, Mehitable (Green) Dow, married as her second husband, Onesiphorus Page in 1711 (F:13).

In 1732, Asa and his brother Samuel, bought from their father, a dwelling house and barn together with forty six acres of land in the mill division of Salisbury (I:5). In 1749, Asa and Samuel were residing in South Hampton, as Asa of South Hampton received a quit claim deed from Samuel of South Hampton for the above land, as well as for 10 acres of meadow land which Samuel had purchased from John Jones of Amesbury (I:10). Dec. 17, 1750, Asa Flanders and Mehitable Flanders, his wife, both of South Hampton, grant land in the Peak division to Capt. Abraham Brown of South Hampton (I:10).

It is quite probable that Asa and Samuel, like their father, Stephen, found themselves in South Hampton when the province line was established in 1741, and that there was no change of residence. About 1751, Asa moved to Kingston.

Nov. 19, 1751, Asa Flanders of Kingston, sold land in South Hampton to Moses "Acars" of South Hampton (I:10). In 1762, Asa Flanders of Kingston, sold land in South Hampton (or Hampton Falls) to "Jacob Evens and Jabez Tucker of Salisbury" (I:11). Oct. 21, 1765, Asa and Mehitable, his wife, witnessed a deed for his brother, Stephen (I:10).

in Danville, N. H. (O:34), and in 1776, he signed the Association test in Danville (G:15). Jan. 15, 1777, Jacob Jones and Jacob Eastman were appointed to take an inventory of the estate of Isaac Flanders, lately deceased, and his wife, Judith, was appointed administratrix (K:9).

143 iii. David[5], b. Jan. 15, 1737, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88). David Flanders was a private in Capt. Isaac Smith's co., Col. Nathaniel Meserve's regt., on the expedition against Crown Point in 1756. Date of entry, May 1, 1756; discharged Sept. 21, 1756 (Adj. Gen. Report, 1866); also private in Capt. Phillip Johnson's co., Col. John Goffe's regt., in expedition to invade Canada, 1760; entered Mch. 21, 1760; discharged Nov. 21, 1760. This regiment had its rendezvous at Litchfield and marched by way of Monson, Peterborough, and Keene, to Number Four (now Charlestown). Then cut a road through the wilderness, 26 miles, to the Green Mountains, and from thence to Crown Point. They were 44 days in cutting the road to the foot of the Green Mountains which they crossed. A large drove of cattle followed them for the army at Crown Point (Adj. Gen. Report, 1866). On the return home, David Flanders was taken sick with small pox, Dec. 1760, and Jan. 1761, being cared for by the selectmen of Kingston, total cost, 376 pounds, old tenor (G:15). Feb. 23, 1758, Asa Flanders was allowed 8 pounds in full for his son, David Flanders, who was a soldier under Capt. Isaac Smith, and was made up in the muster roll short of the time of service (G:15). May 18, 1763, David Flanders, John Hazen and others were listed as grantees of Newbury, Vt. (G:15).

+146 vi. Simon[5], b. Feb. 15, 1750, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); bp. Feb. 26, 1753, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4).

42 SAMUEL[4] FLANDERS, b. July 8, 1709, at Amesbury, Mass.; bp. Feb. 26, 1721, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); d. Adm. of estate granted Sept. 27, 1758 (K:8); m. (int. Dec. 15, 1733) Jan. 24, 1733/34, at Salisbury, Mass. to Mary Page (O:89); b. Aug. 18, 1713, at Salisbury (F:13); d. prior to July 6, 1781, at Poplin, N. H. (I:10); dau. of Onesiphorus Page and Mehitable (Green) Dow (E:56).

Samuel Flanders was a cordwainer by trade. The Grant for the town of Warner, N. H., was received in 1735, and Samuel was one of the original grantees. In 1749, he gave his brother, Asa, a quit claim deed on the property they had purchased in Salisbury from their father, in 1731. In 1756, he is mentioned as Samuel Flanders of South Hampton, cordwainer, in a deed relating to the sale of an upland and meadow in South Hampton to John Norton of Newbury; Mary, wife of Samuel, released her dower rights (I:10).

His removal to Brentwood, N. H., must have occurred shortly after this, as Sept. 27, 1758, The Court of Probate, held at Portsmouth, granted the administration of the estate of Samuel Flanders, late of Brentwood, deceased, intestate, to his widow, Mary Flanders, who "gave bond for the faithful discharge of that Trust" (K:8). On Oct. 31, 1759, an account of the administration of the estate was made. In this it is stated that, "At the time of her Husband's decease, she had neither house nor barn," but her husband, before his death, had set up a frame for a house and she had made said house habitable. "This serves to notify your Honour that the Place, the above named Mary Flanders is in possession of by her administration, is new and there is but little income from it and we, the children, are all sharers in the same and we think that our Hon$^{r}$ Mother ought not to allow anything for the same for the time past. Signed: Rhoda Flanders, Abigail Flanders" (K:8). May 27, 1761, "This may certify to your Honour that our Mother has done the work unto the cellar according to the within account at a Reasonable Rate. Signed: Onesiphorus Flanders, Samuel Flanders, Mehetibel Flanders" (K:8).

Nov. 20, 1760, Rhoda Flanders, of Brentwood, for 300 pounds, paid "By my mother, Mary Flanders, of Brentwood, widow," granted "two thirds of my right of land in the estate of my father, Samuel Flanders of Brentwood, deceased" (I:10).

Mch. 25, 1761, a division was made of the estate of Samuel Flanders of Brentwood, deceased. "Widow Mary Flanders, her Dower: & the Residue of the said Real Estate to & among the children of said Samuel Flanders, being six in number, allowing the eldest son a Double Share and to the others, one full share each. To Rhoda, the 1st share; to Samuel, the 2nd & 3rd shares; to Abigail, the 4th share; to Mary, the 5th share; to Onesiphorus, the 6th share; and to Mehetable, the 7th share (K:8).

The town of Brentwood was incorporated June 26, 1742, and was set off from Exeter; June 22, 1764, Fremont was incorporated under the name of Poplin, the name being changed to Fremont July 8, 1854. Fremont was set off from Brentwood. All of this territory originally belonging to Exeter.

Apr. 19, 1765, Joseph Hoyt of Epping, currier, & "Abigail, my wife, for 285 pounds paid by our Honoured Mother, Mary Flanders of Poplin, widow" grant land in Poplin, being the part set off to Abigail in the division of her late father's estate (I:10). On this same date, Jeremiah Page of Epping, and Mary his wife, "to our Honoured Mother, Mary Flanders of Poplin, widow," granted the portion set off to Mary from her father's estate (I:10).

Aug. 12, 1776, Mary Flanders of Poplin granted to her son, Samuel Flanders, all the land she had purchased from Rhoda Flanders, Jeremiah Page and his wife, Mary, and from Joseph Hoyt and his wife, Abigail, "this being the compleat 2/3 of their share which fell to them of, in or unto that 50 acres of land that my husband Samuel Flanders late of Brentwood, deceased, died possessed of." This deed was acknowledged by Mary Flanders, Nov. 30, 1779 (I:11).

July 6, 1781, Joseph Hoit, yeoman, and Abigail Hoit; Jeremiah Page & Mary Page of Sandwich; Samuel Dolloff & Rhoda Dolloff & Onesiphorus Flanders of New Hampton & Nicholas Folsom & Mehetabel Folsom of Meredith, grant the whole "of our shares in the Thirds set off to our late Mother, Mary Flanders, by order of the Judge of Probate of Wills, late of said Poplin, widow, deceased, with buildings thereon" (I:11).

47 BENJAMIN[4] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 4, 1712, at Salisbury, Mass.; living May 31, 1770, at Chester, N. H. (I:10); m. (int. Oct. 19, 1734) Nov. 7, 1734, at Salisbury, Mass. to Mariah Brown (O:89); b. Sept. 27, 1715 (G:34); bp. and owned the covenant July 25, 1736, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); living May 31, 1770, at Chester, N. H. (I:10); dau. of Ephraim Brown and Lydia Eastman (G:34).

Benjamin Flanders served as administrator of his father's estate. He was a farmer and resided at Salisbury, Mass., and Chester, N. H. In 1743, he sold land in South Hampton, N. H. to Jonathan Dow of Kensington (I:10). Mch. 17, 1753, he sold to his sister, Judith Flanders, singlewoman, a piece of "Salt Marsh lying in the Township of Salisbury, at the lower Higleedee Pigleedee butted & bounded easterly on the marsh of the Flanderses" (I:5).

Mch. 1, 1753, he bought 46 acres of land in Chester, N. H. from James McFarson of Chester, it being "part of the homestead of his father, Paul McFarson" (I:11). Dec. 18, 1753, he sold to Benjamin Osgood of Salisbury, 14 acres of land in Salisbury together with the buildings and orchards thereon (I:5). Feb. 22, 1754, Benjamin Flanders of Salisbury, yeoman, Judith Flanders of Salisbury, singlewoman, and Thomas Flanders of Exeter, joyner, sole owners of about 12 acres of land in Salisbury, decided to divide it. This land formed part of the estate of their father, Thomas Flanders. By this division, Benjamin received 4 1/2 acres of this land and Judith and Thomas had 4 1/2 acres & the "Dwelling house upon it and all the household stuff, moveable effects & stock" (I:10). On May 9, 1755, Benjamin Flanders of Chester, sold his share of this land to Samuel Adams of Salisbury, shipwright, "to gather with the Orchards & fruit trees standing on said land & all the liberties, Proffitts and Priviladges unto the same belonging" (I:5).

May 31, 1770, Benjamin Flanders of Chester, yeoman, sold 44 acres of land in the Township of Chester, bounded by William Flanders land, to John Webster of Chester. Signed by Benjamin and "Merriah" Flanders (I:11). On this same date, Benjamin and "Merriah" Flanders grant land in Chester to their son, William Flanders (I:10).

Children (Flanders):

155 i. William[5], b. May 26, 1735, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); m. Jan. 4, 1769, at South Hampton, N. H., by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes of South Hampton, to Ruth Brown (O:93). Owned land in Chester in 1770 (I:10).

162 viii. Jacob Adams[5], b. July 25, 1756, at Chester, N. H. (M:5). Served in the Revolution, was at Bunker Hill and Valley Forge (H:48). Enlisted Feb. 20, 1777, for 3 years, on command, in Capt. Nathaniel Hutchins' co., Col. Joseph Cilley's regt., 1st Battalion N. H. forces in the service of the United States; returned to Weare, Mch. 26, 1782 (G:15).

163 ix. Samuel[5], b. Nov. 30, 1758, at Chester, N. H. (M:5).

49 THOMAS[4] FLANDERS, bp. Dec. 10, 1721, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. estate adm. Mch. 24, 1797, at Gilmanton, N. H. (K:10); m. Margaret Lawrence (K:8); dau. of Joseph Lawrence of Stratham, and Mehitable —— (K:8).

In his will, dated Jan. 9, 1761, Joseph Lawrence mentions his wife, Mehitable and his daughter, Margaret Flanders. Joseph Lawrence was "of Stratham," and Stratham was formerly a part of Exeter. In the administration of the estate of Thomas[4] Flanders, his wife's name is given as Margaret. Thomas Flanders was living in Exeter in 1743, as he was on the list of rates for supporting a minister in Brentwood (then a part of Exeter) and in a deed, dated 1745, he is mentioned as "of Exeter." Although no record of this marriage has been found, it seems natural to conclude that the Margaret Flanders, referred to in Joseph Lawrence's will, was Margaret, wife of Thomas.

Aug. 4, 1744, a stray ox was found on the cornfield of Thomas Flanders' farm in Exeter (O:38). He was on the tax list in Exeter in 1763, but his name does not appear on later records (O:38). Apr. 3, 1745, Ephraim Robinson of Exeter, sold to Thomas Flanders of Exeter, a tract of land lying on the northerly side of the country road which "leadeth from Thomas Webster's dwelling house to Kingston" (I:10).

> May 20, 1755, Thomas Flanders of Exeter, joyner, and Judith Flanders of Salisbury, singlewoman, sold the land and dwelling house which they received in the division of their father's estate to Samuel Adams of Salisbury (I:5). On Mch. 7, 1761, Joseph Thing of Brintwood, blacksmith, granted Thomas Flanders of Exeter, one whole right or proprietors share in Gilmanton (I:10).

Thomas Flanders and his family were among the first families to settle at Gilmanton. They were there in 1767 and lived on lot 21 in the 2nd range. He signed the Association Test in 1776 and was a selectman in 1768 (H:62).

> In 1781, Thomas bought 55 acres of land in Gilmanton from Stephen Gale for 100 silver dollars (I:13). On Apr. 23, 1789, Thomas Flanders granted land in Gilmanton to his sons, Jonathan and Joseph, for 5sh. each, and "in consideration of the Love & Affection I have for them" (I:13). Apr. 23, 1796, he granted two 40 acre lots in Gilmanton to his son, Thomas Flanders, Jun., for the sum of $1,300. "The above named Thomas Flanders, being a Blindman, the above deed was read to him and he then acknowledged the same to be his free act & deed" (I:13).

Mch. 24, 1797, the administration of the estate of Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, deceased, was granted to his widow, Margaret Flanders, she refused to act and David Sanborn was appointed in her place (K:10).

Children (Flanders):

Feb. 9, 1706, at Amesbury (F:13); dau. of Samuel Barnard and Anne Currier (F:13).

Jedidiah Flanders was a carpenter and housewright by trade. Jan. 28, 1724/5, Daniel Flanders of Amesbury, carpenter, "in consideration that Jerediah Flanders of Amesbury, shall & do acquite, surrender & yeild up to & for ye only Proper use, benefit & behoof of my son Daniell fflanders of Almsbury, all the right, Title, challing, claim & demand which sd Jerediah fflanders now have or ever hereafter might or should or could have had in & unto the whole and any or every part of the Real estate within the bounds of the Town of Almsbury which did appertain to my grandfather John Colby, late of Almsbury, deceased, which consideration (iff fullfil'd) me thereunto moving, Do by these presents Give & bequeath unto him ye sd Jerediah fflanders one half of a Lott of Land lying in the Mill Division" (I:5).

Sept. 20, 1729, Thomas Colby of Amesbury, granted to Jedidiah Flanders of Salisbury, carpenter, the northerly half of a salt meadow in Salisbury called Higgledepiglie (I:5). Apr. 13, 1754, Nathaniel Easman of Kingstown, in consideration of nine hundred pounds, old tenor, paid by Jedidiah Flanders of Salisbury, granted "all of my homestead in Almsbury" (I:5).

54 DANIEL[4] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 9, 1707, at Amesbury, Mass.; d. at Alton, N. H., bur. old cem. Gilmanton Iron Works Corner, N. H., grave marked "D. F." (Q:3); m. (int. July 16, 1726) Nov. 3, 1726, at Amesbury, Mass., by William Bradbury, Esq., to Elizabeth Kingsbury Eastman of Salisbury (O:6; F:13); b. Mch. 3, 1708/9, at Salisbury (F:13); d. at Alton, N. H., bur. in old cem. at Gilmanton Iron Works Corner, N. H. (Q:3); dau. of John Eastman and Huldah Kingsbury (E:62).

Daniel Flanders, Jr., was granted property in Amesbury which originally belonged to his great grandfather, John Colby. (Deed under Jedidiah[4], No. 53.)

Mch. 22, 1738/9, Daniel Flanders of Amesbury, administrator of the estate of his father, Daniel Flanders, late of Amesbury, deceased, granted to Moses Morrill of Salisbury, "1/9th part of a Beach lot of Salt Marsh, in Salisbury, also 1/6th part of a small cow common lott of marsh of about 3 acres, lying on the south side of the Long Pines, so called, in Salisbury, laid out to Stephen Flanders, it being lott No. 59." The land was held "in fee simple to Daniel Flanders from Daniel Flanders" (I:5). In 1746, Daniel granted "a certain piece of land of my homestead living" to Jacob Weed. Elizabeth, wife of Daniel, released her dower rights (I:5). In 1758, he sold another piece of his homestead land to Isaac Morrill, and in 1762, he bought 2 acres in the Barberry Meadows in Salisbury from Jonathan Watson of Southampton (I:5).

It is probable that he removed from Amesbury shortly after this, as his daughter, Miriam, was married in 1765 at South Danville, and was said to be "of Epping." Epping was formerly a part of Exeter, as was Poplin, and in 1774, Daniel was in Poplin, as is shown by the following deed:

Sept. 5, 1774, Daniel Flanders of Poplin, cooper, grants land in Poplin to Daniel Brown of Poplin, Gentleman. Elizabeth, wife of Daniel Flanders, released dower rights. Ack. by Daniel Flanders, Sept. 5, 1774; wit: Enoch Brown and Jonathan Coffin (I:11).

In 1773, Jonathan Coffin and Thomas Flanders, son of Daniel, purchased in partnership a tract of land in New Durham Gore (renamed Alton in 1796), and it was doubtless for this reason that Daniel sold his holdings in Poplin, for it is stated in a brief genealogy compiled by his great grandson, David Edgerly Flanders, that Daniel with his wife, his sons, Thomas and Ezekiel, and one daughter, removed to Alton prior to 1776.

230 ii. Sarah[5], b. Mch. 30, 1740 (O:89); d. Oct. 15, 1820, at Newburyport, Mass. (P:41); never married (K:4). There are many deeds given by Sarah Flanders of Newburyport, singlewoman, and she is also styled "a trader." On Aug. 14, 1818, Sarah Flanders of Newburyport drew up her will in favor of her nephew, John Flanders:—"I bequeath to my beloved nephew, John Flanders of Newburyport, cabinet maker, all of my estate, real, personal & mixed." The will was probated Dec. 26, 1820 (K:4). On Nov. 7, 1820, there is an entry that John Flanders was named executor to the instrument of Sarah Flanders, singlewoman, deceased, of Newburyport (K:4).

233 v. David[5], b. Jan. 22, 1747 (O:88a); d. ca 1786 (K:4). Sept 9, 1786, Sarah Flanders, singlewoman, was appointed administratrix of David Flanders' estate. The estate was settled by Sarah Flanders and Nehemiah Flanders, both of Newburyport (K:4). No wife or children are mentioned in the administration of the estate, so it is probable that David never married. He was a shipwright by trade. David Flanders of Salisbury, was a private in Capt. Henry Morrill's Co., Col. Caleb Cushing's regt., which marched Apr. 20, 1775, in response to the Alarm of Apr. 19, 1775; service 8 days (G:30).

(G:12). "Wee the Subscribers Do Inlist ourselves in the Continental Army to serve for the space of three months according to An Act of the Great & General Court of this State. Further more we Do Promise to obey all the orders Rules & Regulations of the sd Army whatsoever; as Witness our Hands. Newbury Dec. 1776." A muster roll of the Company in his Majesty's service; Richard Flanders, private, entered Apr. 4; served to May 5; 57 wks., 4 dys. (G:2).

243 vi. Mercy[5], b. Nov. 7, 1751; m. (int. Mch. 31, 1775) May 4, 1775, at Newbury to Moses Dustan (P:40).

+244 vii. Molle[5], b. Sept. 20, 1754.

245 viii. Benjamin[5], b. 1757, at Newbury (G:30). Benjamin Flanders, of Newbury, private, in Capt. William Roger's co., Col. Samuel Gerrish's regt., enlisted Apr. 26, 1775, service 3m, 13d. Also Capt. Roger's co., Col. Loammi Baldwin's regt. list of recruits for the new establishment approved by Brig. Gen. W. Heath at Camp at Cambridge, Dec. 30, 1775, reported enlisted Dec. 25, 1775; also Capt. Ezra Badlam's co., Col. Loammi Baldwin's 26th regt. return for advance pay Jan., 1776; also same company & regt. pay abstract for Feb. to June, 1776, dated New York; also 26th regt., list of men returned as having lost articles at the evacuation of New York, Sept. 14, 1776; also private in Capt. Jonathan Poor's co., company return reported discharged Dec. 25 (year not given); also Sergeant in Capt. Amos Coggswell's co., Col. James Wesson's regt., pay accounts for service from Jan. 1, 1777, to Dec. 31, 1779, res. Newbury; also pay accounts for service from Jan. 1, 1780 to Apr. 1, 1780; reported deserted Apr. 1, 1780; also 9th Mass. regt. list of deserters subsequent to Jan. 1, 1777, from 8th regt. and part of 9th regt., commanded by Col. Michael Jackson, dated Jan. 25, 1781, stating: ae 24 years, stature 5 ft. 8 inches, complexion dark; hair brown; birthplace Newbury; res. Newbury; enlistment during War (G:30).

Benjamin Flanders was undoubtedly the son of Richard Flanders, although no statement to that effect has been found, but Richard was the only Flanders living in Newbury, Mass., who could have had a son born in 1757.

62 PHINEHAS[4] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 25, 1719, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. (int. Feb. 18, 1743/4) Apr. 10, 1744, at Salisbury, to Tabitha Clough (O:88a); dau. of Joseph Clough (I:10).

May 31, 1744, Phinehas Flanders of Salisbury, blacksmith, & Tabothy his wife, for 155 pounds, old tenor, paid by Ebenr Stevens, Jr., of Kingston, grant a certain tract of land in Kingston, it being part of a Homestead of Joseph Clough, late of Kingston, deceased, "father of ye aforesd Tabothy, part of ye portion which fell to her in ye division of her father's estate" (I:10). In 1751, Phinehas and Tabothy sell land in Salisbury, "including a dwelling house," to Jacob Rowell (I:5). It is probable that they removed from Salisbury at this time. No further trace of them has been found.

67 PHILLIP[4] FLANDERS, 3rd, b. Mch 13, 1712/13, at Salisbury, Mass., bp. May 6, 1739, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); d. 1754, at Chester, N. H. (Q:4), estate adm. Mch. 21, 1758 (K:8); m. (int. Aug. 9, 1735) Oct. 2, 1735, at Salisbury, to Hannah Morrill (O:89); b. July 7, 1713, at Salisbury (F:13); d. 1793 (Q:4), or July 20, 1782 (Q:2); dau. of Daniel Morrill and Hannah Stevens (F:13).

In 1748, Phillip Flanders, 3rd, received from his father, Phillip Flanders, "the compleat half of my home stid land & pastuar Ground situate in Salisbury & South Hampton, bounded partly on Jeremiah Flanders land" (I:10). In 1751, Phillip Flanders, 3rd, and Richard Flanders, both of Salisbury, "yeomens," sold part of this land in South Hampton to Ephraim Brown; Hannah, the wife of Phillip, and Mary, the wife of Richard, gave up their rights of thirds (I:10). In 1753, Phillip sold the remaining portion of the land in South Hampton to Samuel Morrill and Jeremiah Flanders, Jr., and on the same date, sold his land in Salisbury to Michael George; Hannah, wife of Phillip, released her dower rights (I:10).

This sale of land was made, evidently, just prior to his removal to Chester, N. H., as it is stated in the family record compiled by his grandson that Phillip died in 1754. On Mch. 21, 1758, the administration of the estate of Phillip Flanders, late of Chester, deceased, yeoman, who died intestate, was granted to Samuel Robie, Gentleman, of Hampton Falls. On May 17, 1759, an inventory of the estate was made by Andrew Craigge & John Webster. The total amount being 794 pounds. As the personal estate was insufficient to discharge the debts of the deceased, the real estate was sold for 670 pounds, one third of which was reserved for the widow's use during her life (K:8; I:10). May 7, 1759, Hannah Flanders of Salisbury, Mass., widow & relict of Phillip Flanders of Chester, sold her "right of Dower & Thirds in the estate of her late husband, Phillip Flanders, to Robert Calfe & John Underhill" (I:10).

On Jan. 19, 1759, Richard sold his property in Salisbury and South Hampton, and removed to Concord, N.H. He settled on Turkey River and built a grist mill which he ran in connection with his farm for many years. He finally sold the mill and divided his farm among his sons. He and his wife, Mary, lived with their son, Richard, in West Concord and died there (Q:2). In 1776, he signed the Association Test at Concord (G:15).

South Hampton,—"In memory of Mary, Widow of Jeremiah Flanders who died May 12, 1817, Age 90" (B:77); dau. of Nathaniel Barnard (I:5).

In the Amesbury Vital Records, Jeremiah Flanders is said to have married Sarah Barnard, but the South Hampton records give the births of the children as of Jeremiah and Mary. This is corroborated by a deed, dated Mch. 22, 1768, in which "Tristram Barnard, of Goffstown, yeoman, & Jeremiah Flanders, of South Hampton and Mary Flanders, my wife, Nathaniel Ash, Jr., of Newton, yeoman, & Elizabeth Ash, my wife, all of the Province of New Hampshire, & Joseph Barnard Jun., yeoman, & Sylvanus Barnard, yeoman, & Thomas Barnard, Jun., yeoman, & Mehetabel Barnard, singlewoman, all of Amesbury, in consideration of certain lands acquitted to us out of our Honoured late Father Nathaniel Barnards Homestead living by a deed underhand & seal baring even

GRAVESTONE OF JEREMIAH[3] FLANDERS

Grandson of the pioneer ancestor, Steven[1] Flanders, in the old burying ground at South Hampton, N. H. This stone and those nearby marking his children's graves are the oldest known to exist which bear the Flanders name.

date with these presents given to us by our brother Benjamin Noyce & Sarah, his wife, of Plasto, the recept whereof we hereby acknowledge & ourselves there with fully satisfied & contented have given, granted, bargained, sold unto our brother Benjamin Noyes & Sarah, his wife, a certain peace or part of our said Fathers Homestead Living" (I:5). The date of birth of the first child of Jeremiah and Mary is July 8, 1753, therefore, there could not have been a previous marriage to Sarah Barnard. The error is doubtless due to the clerk who recorded the marriage.

In 1757, Jeremiah Flanders, Jr., was appointed administrator of his father's estate and in 1758 and 1759, he purchased from his sisters, Sarah, Judith and Mehitable, their rights in their father's estate, both real and personal (I:11). In 1765, he purchased his brother Moses' right in the estate (I:11). For the next ten or twelve years, he bought and sold land in South Hampton, Kingston, and Contoocook.

Jeremiah Flanders was one of the proprietors of New Almsbury (Warner, N. H.), Nov. 4, 1767, when a committee was chosen to take a charter of this township, No. 1 in the Line of towns from the Merrimack river to the Connecticut river in the Province of New Hampshire. Jeremiah Flanders received two rights and a half as a grantee and proprietor on Dec. 24, 1767, at Portsmouth, N. H., when the town was regranted, on condition that, within three years, each grantee settled forty families, each having a house 16 x 18 feet and three acres of land; also on condition that the grantees lay aside three shares, one for the first minister of the Gospel to settle in the town; one for the minister of the town, and one for a school house; and also on condition that the grantees pay an aggregate of 180 pounds to the Masonian proprietors, who thereby gave up all rights to the town (G:15).

In 1776, he refused to sign the Association Test.

and was a beautiful singer. Sang in a choir in church when a girl, before her misfortune, and to her last years her voice was very clear and musical (Q:1).

+304 vii. Nathaniel[5], b. Nov. 21, 1768.

85 MOSES[4] FLANDERS, b. June 29, 1737, at Salisbury, Mass., bp. Dec. 1, 1745, at South Hampton, N. H. (D:8); d. Apr. 8, 1803, at Loudon, N. H., bur. Loudon Center cem., "In memory of Moses Flanders, Esq., d. Apr. 8, 1803 AET 66 y" (B:48); m. (int. Dec., 1765) Dec. 5, 1765, at Salisbury, Mass., to Elizabeth Batchelder (O:88); b. 1748 (B:48); d. "In memory of Elizabeth Flanders, relict of Moses Flanders, Esq., d. July 16, 1821, AET 73 y," bur. Loudon Center cem. (B:48).

Moses Flanders signed the Association Test at South Hampton, "Provided that the act or advice of the said Continental Congress be complied with Respecting minute men" (G:15). He served as Ensign in an Alarm company (F:5).

Mch. 28, 1765, "Moses Flanders of South Hampton, yeoman, for divers good causes or considerations me hereunto moving hath remised, released & forever quit claim unto my brother Jeremiah Flanders of South Hampton, yeoman, all title, interests, &c in that tract of land which was the Homestead living of our Honoured Father, Jeremiah Flanders late of South Hampton, deceased. Also all our said Fathers right or interest in Contoocook (so called) & that in both the divided and undivided lands of said Contoocook; and also all the personal estate of our sd Father, Jeremiah Flanders" (I:11).

Nov. 5, 1803, Elizabeth Flanders, widow of Moses, was appointed administratrix of his estate. Sons Nathaniel and Moses mentioned (K:9). Sept. 18, 1805, Elizabeth Flanders was appointed guardian of Polly Flanders, a minor, under 14 years of age, daughter of Moses Flanders, late of Loudon (K:9).

Children (Flanders):

305 i. Maribah[5], b. date unknown; m. June 21, 1787, at South Hampton, N. H. to Simon Eaton (O:93); child: Betsey, (K:7).

+306 ii. Nancy[5], b. 1769 (H:42).

+307 iii. Moses[5], (K:9).

308 iv. Elizabeth[5], b. date unknown; m. June 25, 1795, at Kingston, N. H. to Ephraim Currier of South Hampton (D:4; K:7).

309 v. Nathaniel B.[5], b. June 30, 1782 (B:48); d. Dec. 31, 1855, at Loudon, N. H., bur. Loudon Center cem., ae 73y, 6m. (B:48); m. Jan. 30, 1810, at Loudon, by Rev. Jedidiah Tucker of Loudon, to Polly French (M:5); b. Dec. 19, 1781 (B:48); d. Feb. 19, 1860, at Readfield, Me. (M:5); bur. Loudon Center cem., ae 78 y., 2 m. (B:48). In his will, Nathaniel Flanders mentions his wife, Polly; his sister, Betsey Currier, wife of Ephraim Currier of Sandwich; his niece, Sarah Buzwell of Readfield, Me.; Timothy F. Smith of Loudon; Betsey Eaton of Sanbornton; nephew Moses Flanders, of Gilmanton; and his brother, Lewis Flanders of Readfield, Me., who was made executor of the will (K:7). It would appear from this will that Nathaniel and Polly had no children living at the time, and, perhaps, had no issue.

310 vi. Lewis[5], b. date unknown; m. Feb. 6, 1812, at Loudon, by Rev. Jedidiah Tucker of Loudon, to Betsey Piper of Loudon (M:5). Lewis was a selectman in Loudon in 1826, 1827 and 1828 (O:63). Apr. 3, 1818, Jonathan Piper of Gilford & Sally Sherman, Nathaniel Sherburne & Jane his wife, Lewis Flanders & Betsey his wife, & David Piper, all of Loudon, grant to Jonathan & Abner Clough of Loudon, right to the real estate of "our Honoured Father, Samuel Piper, late of Loudon, deceased" (I:11). In 1810, Lewis Flanders & Ephraim Currier, both of Loudon, were described as "Clothiers," and were apparently in business together (I:11). Lewis was living in Readfield, Me. at the time of his brother Nathaniel's death. No record of his children has been found, though the "niece Sarah Buzwell of Readfield, Me.," mentioned in Nathaniel's will, may have been a daughter of Lewis.

+311 vii. Sally[5] (E:93).

312 viii. Polly[5], a minor under 14 years of age in 1803 (K:9); may have been the Mary Flanders of Loudon, who married Oct. 12, 1816, at Canterbury, N. H., Jacob Page of Sandwich, N. H. (O:24).

86 DOROTHY[4] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 21, 1740, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Dec. 1, 1745, at South Hampton, N. H. (D:8); d. July 13, 1770, at Hopkinton, N. H., ae ca 30 y (E:171); m. Jan. 5, 1764, at South Hampton, N. H., to Nehemiah Colby (O:93); b. May 7, 1739, at Amesbury, Mass. (E:171); son of Isaac Colby and Mary Martin (E:171).

Children (Colby), (E:171):

313 i. Dorothy[5], b. Nov. 13, 1764, at Amesbury, Mass.

314 ii. Merriam[5], b. Feb. 3, 1766, at Amesbury, Mass.

315 iii. Isaac[5], b. Aug. 6, 1768, at Hopkinton, N. H.

316 iv. Nehemiah[5], b. June 2, 1770, at Hopkinton, N. H.; m. Jan. 17, 1793, at Warner, N. H., to Rebecca Wire (E:171).

88 TABITHA[4] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 7, 1711, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. "when grown to years of understanding" (D:4); d. Feb. 18, 1810, "having reached the remarkable age of 101 years" (G:18). This is manifestly an error, as she must have been in her 99th year at the time of her death; m. ("Int. of mar. between Andrew Benonne and Tabbitha Flanders both of Rumford were posted up at ye Meeting House Door in said Rumford on ye 10th day of Sept. 1736") (P:19), Sept. 26, 1736, to Andrew Bohonon (F:17).

Andrew Bohonon was one of the early settlers of Contoocook (now Boscawen) residing near the Salisbury line.

Children (Bohonon), births recorded in the proprietors' records of Boscawen (H:42):

317 i. Sarah[5], b. Jan. 22, 1736.
318 ii. Andrew[5], b. Aug. 18, 1738.
319 iii. John[5], b. Feb. 29, 1740.
320 iv. Jacob[5], b. Nov. 22, 1741.
321 v. Annaniah[5], b. July 22, 1743; pensioner under Act of Mch. 18, 1818, in Orange Co., Vt. (G:35).

90 JACOB[4] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 14, 1715, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. "when grown to years of understanding" (D:4); m. July 7, 1741, at Kingston, N. H., to Naomi Darling (O:57); d. July 12, 1719, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:89); dau. of John[3] Darling and Mary Page (P:49). Naomi Darling was the granddaughter of Naomi[2] Flanders (No. 7).

The records indicate that Jacob Flanders, Jr. did not make a permanent settlement in Contoocook, or Boscawen, until 1754 or 1755. The plantation called Contoocook was granted by the government of Massachusetts Bay in 1733 to certain residents of Newbury, Mass., and the settlement was begun in that year. The early settlers were much harassed by the Indians, experiencing great difficulty in clearing the land and in planting their crops. On Nov. 29, 1743, a petition was sent to the Governor requesting that a Captain's commission might be granted to Mr. John Rollins of Contoocook. This petition was signed by,—Ezekiel, Jacob, Jacob, Jr., Jesse and John Flanders, Andrew Bohonon, Josiah and Enos Bishop, William Corser, Daniel Rolfe, and others, "We being Souldiers of Contoocook." The fact that Jacob, Jr. signed this petition may be an indication that he was there merely in the capacity of a soldier to act as guard at the garrison house, his father, sister, and other relatives, having made settlements in this plantation. The Town Records and Proprietors' Records of Boscawen begin in 1733, but there is no entry therein of a child born to Jacob and Naomi prior to 1755, the births of their other children being entered in Kingston.

Children (Flanders):

322 i. Mercy[5], b. May 27, 1745, at Kingston, N. H. (O:57); m. (int. Mch. 21, 1767), at Boscawen, N. H., to Samuel Danforth of Canterbury, N. H. (O:15); bp. Mch. 19, 1737/8, at Byfield Ch., Newbury, Mass. (E:50); son of John Danforth and Abigail (or Elizabeth) Fitts (E:50).
323 ii. Abigail[5], (Q:2).

332 v. Rhoda[5], m. Ebenezer Clifford.

333 vi. Joanna[5], m. Samuel Clifford.

93 EZEKIEL[4] FLANDERS, b. May 21, 1721 (Q:2); bp. at Kingston, N. H., Dec. 31, 1727 (D:4); d. The date usually given for this death is 1756, and is based upon the following account given in "The Annals of Concord," by Jacob B. Moore: "1756. Ezekiel Flanders and Edward Emery were killed by the Indians when hunting beaver by New Found Pond, between Bristol and Hebron in the County of Grafton, N. H. The Indians afterwards informed that one of them was shot when skinning a beaver in the camp, and the other was shot at the same time, in sight of the camp, bringing in a beaver on his back." A birth of a child to Ezekiel and Sarah is recorded under date of Oct. 9, 1758, and this child is mentioned in the settlement of his estate in 1772, therefore, his death could not have occurred prior to 1758; m. (pub. Aug. 8, 1742), at Concord, N. H., to Sarah Bishop of Contoocook (O:29); dau. of Josiah Bishop and Sarah —— (I:10). She m. (2) Thomas Carter (K:6).

"On the morning of April 13, 1753, Abraham Kimball and Samuel Putney, both young boys, were captured by the Indians at Putney's Hill, Hopkinton. The Indians, working in the interests of the French, intended to take the youths to Canada, where the French would pay them for their captives. After attempting to secure more captives, the Indians set out for Canada, and the following morning crossed the Contoocook River at Tyler's Bridge, near Boscawen (now Webster), where they killed some cattle, and selected the best part of the meat to take with them.

"There were living at that time, on a hill west of Boscawen plains, two or three families by the name of Flanders. The men were noted through the whole country in those days as 'Indian hunters', and were well known to the red-skins through that whole section to Canada, as they frequently accompanied the celebrated Rogers and his Rangers on their excursions through those wilds. The Indians had many times attempted to kill these men, but always found them on the alert and ready to receive them. This time, they thought they would again make the attempt to destroy their deadly foe. Through one of their scouts, they learned that the Flanders men had left their barricaded homes for the day. They thought this a fit opportunity to carry their plans into effect. Accordingly the whole party secreted themselves behind a log fence in the corner of a field, and close by the path where the white men would come on their return home. Here they patiently waited for the return of their intended victims. Near night-fall, as the Flanders men were ascending the hill, their large Indian dogs showed unmistakable signs, by low growls and raised hair on their backs, that Indians were in the vicinity, and in the range of their path which led to their homes. Not knowing the number of the foes they had to contend with, they determined to make a bold charge up the hill, and dislodge their enemy, and reach their houses, where they were better provided for defence against attack. Accordingly, they ordered their dogs forward, and then gave a long, loud, unearthly yell and rushed forward, firing their guns. The Indians, who intended to waylay their enemy, were surprised themselves, and imagined that they were discovered, and were attacked by a large force from Rumford and Hopkinton, and fled from their hiding place for life. At the first sound of approaching danger, the captive boys were as much frightened as the Indians, and ran nearly as fast; but they soon began to think that they were running away from friends instead of enemies, and began to slacken their pace. The Indians were anxious to retain their captives, and tried to assist them along, but soon saw the ruse, as they did not try to hurry, and found that they must loose their prisoners or be taken themselves. One, a chief of the party, being irritated by the conduct of the boys, raised his hatchet and was in the act of burying it in the head of young Putney, when one of the dogs came up and seized the Indian by the neck, throwing him to the ground and lacerating his throat terribly. After the close of the French War, it was made known that this Indian died, from the effects of the wounds inflicted on him by the dog, before he reached Canada.

"This bold attack by the Flanders men liberated the two boys, and they returned home to their anxious parents the day after they were captured.

"Ezekiel Flanders was one of the party who assisted in liberating Kimball and Putney" (H:61).

June 5, 1744, Ezekiel & Jacob Flanders signed a petition for aid at Contoocook, "being Certtainly Informed of a Declaration of war Between y$^{e}$ King of England and France and Tharefore Looking upon our selves as Exposed contenualy to y$^{e}$ atacks of y$^{e}$ Indians who are subjects or allies to y$^{e}$ King of France" (G:15). In 1755, Ezekiel and Jacob also signed a petition for a guard, as they had fields two or three miles distant from the garrison houses. They feared that the "enemy" would come down upon them in the spring, thus preventing their plowing and planting their fields, so that "we shall not be able to subsist ourselves & families, but must of necessity break up and leave the Place, and consequently be reduced to poverty, if we should escape Death, or Captivity by the Hands of the enemy" (G:15). Ezekiel Flanders served from June 6 to July 7, 1748, under Capt. Moses Foster of Suncook, who was ranging the frontier with a company (H:7).

Nov. 25, 1750, Ezekiel Flanders of Contoocook (so called), husbandman, in the right of Sarah,"my wife and daughter of Josiah Bishop, late of Contoocook,deceased, and in her own right, for 100 pounds money Old Tenor paid by our brother, Enos Bishop of Contoocook, husbandman, grants rights of Sarah (Bishop) Flanders to her father Josiah Bishops estate, also grants part of her mother, Sarah Bishop, wife of and widow of the deceased, right of thirds." Wit: John & Eunis Flanders. Ack. Oct. 17, 1753 (I:10).

May 24, 1751, Nathaniel Danforth, of Contoocook, grants a tract of land in Contoocook to Ezekiel Flanders, it being laid out to the original right of Stephen Bailey of Newbury, Mass. (I:10). In 1752, he also bought a tract of land in Contoocook from Daniel Noyes of Newbury (I:10).

June 23, 1771, Thomas Carter & Sarah Carter of Boscawen, grant interest & right to the estate of Ezekiel Flanders, late of Boscawen, deceased, to Ezekiel Flanders. "This doth by law belong to the aforementioned Sarah, who was late widow of said deceased, by her right of dower or thirds" (K:6).

Jan. 29, 1772, Administration of the estate of Ezekiel Flanders, late of Boscawen, husbandman, was granted to Ezekiel Flanders, husbandman, and on Aug. 29, 1772, the estate was apprized, both houses and lands whereof the late Ezekiel Flanders died seized. As the 192 acres of land could not be divided among the children of said Ezekiel without prejudice or injury to the whole, there being 8 in all, and Ezekiel, being the eldest son, was willing to take the whole at a set apprizement and to pay each of the other children at the rate of 12 pounds a share: "the shares to Enos, Sarah & Susannah to be paid within one month, and as soon as may be 3 other shares to Apphia, Jemima & Patience after they reach the age of 18 yr., and as soon as maybe after Benjamin reaches the age of 21 yrs., he shall be given his share. The security for payment of shares to the last 4 children, Apphia, Jemima, Patience & Benjamin shall be given their Guardian George Jackman, Esq. of Boscawen." Ezekiel, the eldest son, purchased the widow's dower (K:6).

94 JOHN[4] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 10, 1724, at Kingston, N. H. (Q:2); bp. Dec. 31, 1727, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4); d. ca 1792, will dated Mch. 1, 1791, prob. Oct. 23, 1792, at Boscawen, N. H. (K:6); m. (pub. Nov. 5, 1749), at Concord, N. H., to Eunice Jackman of Contoocook (O:29); b. Nov. 25, 1730 (Q:1); d. Jan. 17, 1818, at Boscawen (Q:1); dau. of George Jackman and Hannah Bishop (Q:1).

In 1746, Capt. John Goffe of Bedford, N. H., commanded a company of scouts in which John Flanders, Jr., brother of Dea. Jesse Flanders, served as a private for about 25 days, having been called out by the attacks of the Indians on Penacook and Contoocook (G:15; H:7). John was a member of this company when it was called out to guard the frontier known as Stevenstown (Salisbury, N. H.), because of the harm done by the Indians there (H:7).

> "John Flanders of Contoocook in the Province of New Hampshire of Lawfull age Testifys and says—
> That in May 1753 an Indian named Plauseway came to Contoocook aforesaid exulting and telling of his Frequent coming to that place in the war how many he had killed and taken at Merrymack in the war—The Deponent told him that in the Fall he intended to Catch him some Beaver to make him a hat and asked Plauseway if he would hurt him if he see him who answer'd yes if he found him a hunting he would kill him and earnestly repeated it several times —" (G:15). The fate promised to John evidently overtook his brother, Ezekiel, when he went beaver hunting.

On Jan. 2, 1747, John Flanders was one of the signers of a petition for a guard. The inhabitants of Rumford, Canterbury, & Contoocook were greatly distressed for lack of suitable Grist Mills. "Mr. Henry Lovejoy has att great Expence Erected a good Mill att a place the most advantageously Situated to accomodate the Three Towns, that it is the only Mill in all the Three Towns that stands under the Command of y[e] Guns of a Garrison—the ill consequencies of abandoning the s[d] Garrison the year past has been severely felt by us, the s[d] Lovejoy appears Desirous of Residing there again, Provided he might be favoured with Such a Number of Soldiers as Just to keep his Garrison With a Tolerable Degree of Safety" (G:15). This mill was for some years after 1747, the only mill where the inhabitants of Boscawen could bring their grain to be ground.

The early settlers had no other alternative than to walk to the mill with their bag of grain to be ground, and to carry the same home on their shoulders,—a round trip of some eighteen miles through the woods. The numerous hostile Indians added hazard to the journey (H:52). Hence the abandoning of the mill might well afford "ill consequencies" to the inhabitants of Contoocook.

In 1761, John Flanders was chosen one of a committee to call meetings of the proprietors of the town of Boscawen (the name having been changed from Contoocook to Boscawen in 1760); he was also chosen selectman this same year.

When the pews in the new Meeting-house were set up and bid off, John Flanders paid $34. for pew No. 26 in the Gallery (O:15). The first bridge over the Contoocook River was built by John Flanders and Henry Lovejoy. It was to be constructed with "king posts and Long braces" (H:7).

In 1749, John Flanders purchased lots No. 74 and No. 12 in the 2nd Range in Contoocook from John Plumer of Newbury, Mass. and in 1783, he purchased a proprietor's lot from George Jackman (I:10; I:7).

In his will, John Flanders of Boscawen, Housewright, bequeathed to his wife, Eunice Flanders, one third of his land and one third of the buildings he owned in Boscawen, also 1 cow, 5 sheep, and all the household goods, "save one bed which I reserve for my son Jackman." To his son, John Flanders, Jr.: 40 acres of land in Boscawen, laid out to the original right of John Titcomb; to his son, Aaron, one half of a 45 acre lot in Boscawen, which he bought of Enoch Gerrish; to his son, Daniel, 20 acres of land in Boscawen; to his son, Joseph, 20 acres of land "I now live on" laid out to the original right of John Plumer; to his son, Jackman, 60 pounds, "to be paid as soon as convenient after my decease, if he be capable to receive it, or to his guardian"; to his two sons, Daniel and Jacob, one half of a 45 acre lot in Boscawen, laid out to the original right of John Plumer, with 1/2 a saw mill thereon; "to my three daughters: Betty, the wife of Nicholas Elliott; Eunice, the wife of Peter Been & Louis, my daughter unmarried, my household goods after the decease of my wife, except a bed reserved for my son, Jackman; also implements for weaving and $10 apiece to be paid 2 years after my decease"; to his daughter, Louis, "the use of the easterly chambers in my house as long as she remains unmarried." The "remnant" of his estate was left to his son, Jacob, whom he appointed his executor. The will was signed, Mch. 1, 1791, in the presence of Joseph Knowlton; wit. by George & Nehemiah Jackman. Offered for probate by Jacob Flanders, Oct. 23, 1792 (K:6).

On Nov. 10, 1791, John Flanders of Boscawen Housewright, granted to Jacob Flanders, one half an 80 acre lot in Boscawen, laid out to the original right of John Plumer. The easterly half of his farm he had already granted to Jacob Bohonon, son of his sister, Tabitha. On this same date, he granted the westerly half of his farm to his son, Joseph Flanders (I:7).

Apr. 25, 1808, land was set off to Eunice, wife of John Flanders, near Aaron Flanders' house (K:6).

H. (O:15).

Jesse Flanders was elected Deacon of the 1st Baptist Church in Boscawen, and is described as "a very upright and pious man and a good and brave soldier" (Q:2).

In 1757, the inhabitants of the plantation of Contoocook petitioned that they might be incorporated into a town. "Whereas, It hath Pleased almighty God since our Settlement in this place to take from us by Death our Late Rev[d] Minister M[r]. Phineas Stephens whereby we are now deprived of having the Gospel preached to us here, And whereas we Dwell in the wilderness and are exposed to the Insults and Barbarities of Salvage & Cruel Enemies, & have been at great expense & Charge to erect Forts & places of Safeguard for ourselves & Families most of our time being obliged to Dwell in them; whereby we are not (to our great damage) able to Live on & Improve our lands, and divers other Difficulties & hardships have attended us and still continue so on account of our having no Regular order amongst us, and a great many of the non-resident Proprietors refusing or neglecting to contribute or pay any Thing towards our Necessary Charges as well towards y[e] Supporting the Gospel Ministry amongst us, we being yet a young, weak and poor Township or Plantation, humbly pray your Excellency would be pleased to incorporate us into a town" (G:15). Jesse Flanders was one of the signers of this petition.

On several occasions, Dea. Jesse served in Capt. John Goffe's company of scouts, including the scouting around Penacook and Contoocook, and from the Merrimack to the Connecticut River (G:15). He is also listed among those who have "already sarved in the following campains: viz, Cambridge, Sumer campain, Ticonderoga Campain," and among the "Quebec men" (O:15). He enlisted in Capt. Henry Dearborn's co. in the expedition to Quebec and was taken prisoner there. He was also in the command of Capt. Kimball, under Gen. John Stark, when they marched to Bennington, Vt., after the evacuation of Ticonderoga (H:7). He was on the Roll of Honor for the town of Boscawen at Bunker Hill (H:7).

In 1761, 1764, and 1765, he was one of the selectmen of Boscawen, and was moderator of the town meeting in 1767, also Town Clerk (H:7). On Feb. 20, 1756, he purchased land in Contoocook from Andrew Bohonon of Contoocook (I:10).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15):

352 i. Moses[5], b. Jan. 20, 1749; died young.

360 ix. Jane[5], b. Mch. 10, 1774.

97 Philip[4] Flanders, date of birth unknown; d. "In Rev. Mr. Price's history it is stated that Philip Flanders was killed at Crown Point in 1756; which is manifestly an error, as his name appears upon the muster roll from Apr. 24 to Nov. 1, 1758, on which day he was probably killed" (H:7); m. Oct. 23, 1753, at Amesbury, Mass., to Mary (——) Martin (P:1). This marriage is based wholly upon circumstantial evidence, as this appears to be the only Philip Flanders who could have married at this time. Also the following Probate record seems to bear out this conclusion.

Child (Flanders):

361 i. Philip[5]; June 3, 1773, Stephen Call, of Salisbury, N. H., husbandman, allowed guardian of Philip Flanders, a minor above 14 years, son of Philip Flanders, late of Boscawen, deceased (K:6).

In 1746, Philip[4] Flanders enlisted in Col. Ladd's co.; in this company was Robert Rogers, afterwards a celebrated Ranger (H:7). In 1758, Philip Flanders served in Capt. Ladd's co., Col. Hart's regt., and was sent to Crown Point (H:7).

99 HANNAH[4] FLANDERS, b. date unknown; d. 1786, at Boscawen, N. H.; bur. in a small cem. at Boscawen (B:8); m. John Knowlton (B:8); b. 1733 (B:8); d. 1808, bur. in small cem., at Boscawen (B:8); son of John Knowlton (E:100).

Children (Knowlton), b. at Boscawen, N. H. (H:52):

362 i. John[5], b. 1765 (E:100).
363 ii. Philip[5], b. Apr. 9, 1769; moved to Wentworth, N. H. (E:100).

371 vi. Mary[5], bp. Mch. 12, 1749.
372 vii. Samuel[5], b. Sept. 5, 1756.
373 viii. Elizabeth[5], b. May 24, 1761.

103 MARY[4] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 21, 1721, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. (int. Sept. 22, 1739), Oct. 25, 1739, at Second Ch., Salisbury, to Nathan Dow (E:56); b. Aug. 6, 1716, at Salisbury (E:56); d. will dated May 13, 1767, at Deer Island, Me., probated same year at Brunswick, Me. (E:56); son of John Dow and Dinah Severance (G:56).

In the Salisbury Town Records the intention of marriage is given: Mary Flanders and Nathan Dow, while in the marriage record her name is given as Sarah. That the latter is an error is shown by the will of John[3] Flanders, in which he mentions,—"my daughter, Mary Dow."

Mr. Robert Piercy Dow, in his book on the Dow Family gives the following: "Nathan got 'at outs' with the Quakers (he being one) by this marriage. For twenty years they lived somewhere around Salisbury or Haverhill. About 1760, he took his entire family to Maine and probably the home folks never heard of them again. Presumably he went by water, for there was no overland route, but perhaps not with the original settlers of Deer Island, led by Major William Eaton. Nathan was not in the original division of Deer Island, but came from the mainland in 1767. In 1764, he was living near Bath" (E:56).

Nov. 13, 1775, Lieut. John Flanders, in his will, left instructions to his son Prince, to pay 6 shillings "to my daughter, Mary Dow." (K:9).

Children (Dow):

374 i. Jemima[5], b. Sept. 22, 1740, at Salisbury, Mass. (E:56); bp. Dec. 11, 1743, at South Hampton, N. H. (F:13).

375 ii. Nathan[5], b. (before 1746, as he was of age in 1767), at Salisbury, Mass. (E:56).

376 iii. Sarah[5], b. Aug. 5, 1744, at Salisbury, Mass. (E:56); bp. Sept. 9, 1744, at South Hampton, N. H. (F:13)

113 EZEKIEL[4] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 24, 1732, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Jan. 15, 1756, at South Hampton, N. H., to Sarah Jones (O:93); dau. of Jonathan Jones and Mehitable —— (I:10).

Aug. 6, 1764, Ezekiel Flanders of South Hampton, laborer, with Sarah, my wife, for 150 pounds paid by Samuel Jones of Salisbury, yeoman, grant land in South Hampton, 1 acre, "that was in portion of my wife, Sarah (Jones) Flanders, from her Honoured Father Jonathan Jones, deceased, which was 1/9 of the estate, exclusive of the right of dower set off to our Honoured Mother Mehitable Jones, relict of Jonathan Jones, the said part lying in the Province of Massachusetts Bay." Wit. by Nathaniel Flanders and Christopher Gould; ack. by Sarah & Ezekiel Flanders Mch. 9, 1765 (I:10).

In previous records of the Flanders family, the descent of the Ezekiel, who married Sarah Jones, has been given in the line of Steven[2] Flanders and not from John[2], as here recorded. No evidence has been found in support of this former statement, while there are many indications of the descent from John[2]. It is probable that the error arose from the birth entry in the old Salisbury town records. As in the case of Eunice[4] (Josiah[3]), the birth was entered on the page headed "DEATHS," but only the word born was written after the name Ezekiel, no mention being made of his death. As has been noted under Eunice[4], there were several entries of this nature on this page, due either to lack of room on the page headed "BIRTHS," or to carelessness on the recorder's part. By those who suppose Ezekiel, son of Steven[4], married Sarah Jones, this record was interpreted to mean that Ezekiel, son of Josiah and Mehitable, died the same day he was born. The examination of the original records gives no substantiation to this supposition. It can only be construed as a birth entry.

Stephen[4] had a son Ezekiel, born in 1730, therefore, as Ezekiel, son of Josiah, had died, apparently, the compilers of the Flanders records decided that Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4], must have married Sarah Jones. The evidence against this supposition is that,—Stephen[4] settled in Kingston, and was dismissed from the church in Salisbury to the church in Kingston. An Ezekiel Flanders married in Kingston, resided there, and all his children were born there. This was the son of Stephen[4]. Josiah[3] was in South Hampton in 1737, for the births of his last four children are recorded there. There would seem then to be no question but that Ezekiel, who married Sarah Jones, in South Hampton, was the son of Josiah. It will be noted also from the above deed that Sarah Jones had a definite connection with South Hampton. She granted land in South Hampton which was part of her father's estate.

An additional piece of evidence as to the descent of Ezekiel is found in the names of his children, the first two bearing the names given to the children of Josiah[3]. The name Zebulon has not been found in the line of Stephen[2], but only in the line of John[2]. A thorough and complete examination has been made of all available records concerning Ezekiel, son of Josiah[3], and of Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4], and there is nothing to indicate that Sarah Jones married Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4].

While the names of the children, the association of Sarah Jones and of Josiah[3] Flanders with South Hampton, and the exclusive use of the name, Zebulon, in the line of John[2] Flanders afford ample proof for this descent, the evidence connecting Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4], with Kingston, as given under his record, confirms the question past any doubt.

115 ZEBULON[4] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 15, 1737, at South Hampton, N. H.; bp. Sept. 11, 1737, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury, Mass. (F:13); d. ca 1798-9, at Strafford, Vt. (O:95); m. Miriam —— (O:29); d. ca 1807-8, at Guildhall, Vt. (O:47).

Nothing is known of the parentage of Miriam, wife of Zebulon Flanders. It is possible that she was Miriam Sargent, sister of Joseph Sargent, who married Miriam[4] Flanders (No. 111), as Zebulon and Miriam Flanders had a son named Joseph Sargent Flanders.

Zebulon Flanders resided at Concord (then Rumford), N. H., for a certain period, but the date of his settlement there is unknown, as no deeds have been found showing when he bought or sold land in that town. He is listed for an abatement of taxes in Rumford in 1774. On June 18, 1785, Timothy Blake with 14 associates purchased a gore of land lying between Strafford and Sharon, Vt. This gore was designated as Blake's Gore, but the name was later changed to Strafford Gore. Zebulon Flanders was one of the 14 associates of Timothy Blake, and is mentioned in the early deeds of Strafford as an original grantee and proprietor of Strafford. It is stated in Hall's History of Eastern Vermont that, on June 10, 1780, Timothy Barthalomew was vested with the power to confiscate estates in Norwich, Sharon, Thetford, Strafford and Fairlee, which were possessed by "such as were enemies of Vermont and of the United States." Deeds of this confiscated property were given, when sold, "in the name and behalf of the representatives of the freemen of Vermont," and great care was taken to see that those who purchased such land should be firmly secured in their possession. It is possible that Strafford Gore formed part of this confiscated land, but no definite statement to that effect has yet been found. The land that was "pitched and surveyed" to Zebulon Flanders consisted of 100 acres in Blake's (or Strafford) Gore.

On Apr. 10, 1795, Zebulon Flanders sold 10 acres of this land to his son-in-law James Clifford, and on the 8th of June 1795, he sold 50 acres to his son Israel Flanders, "it being the north half of the lot on which I now live and of which I am the original grantee." Dec. 21, 1795, Israel Flanders resold this land to his father Zebulon Flanders (O:95). Nov. 14, 1796, Benjamin Bartlett of Strafford, son-in-law of Zebulon Flanders, entered into an agreement with Zebulon and Miriam his wife, whereby he (Benjamin Bartlett) would have the "up and improvement of the 100 acre lot on the Gore, it being the same land on which Zebulon Flanders now lives and is the proprietor, during the natural lives of the said Zebulon and Miriam, and I the said Benjamin do engage for myself to provide for the said Zebulon and Miriam during their natural lives, 15 bushels of wheat and 15 bushels of Indian corn to be annually paid on the 25th of December, and to keep 2 cows and 1 horse and 6 sheep to be for their only use during their lives, provided the said Zebulon shall die first and the said Miriam to have 1 cow and 6 sheep to dispose of as she shall think best, also one half of the same shall be relinquished, and when the said Zebulon and Miriam shall become infirm or by reason of age or sickness so that they cannot help themselves, then I the said Benjamin, do engage to provide all things necessary to support life and health." On Oct. 10, 1798, Zebulon Flanders of Strafford, for $500, quit claim to Benjamin Bartlett of all right, title, interest, etc., in 100 acres of land in Strafford Gore, "it being the same land I now live on and which was laid out to me as my share of said Gore" (O:95). Zebulon Flanders, apparently, died shortly after this deed was made, as on Feb. 2, 1799, Benjamin Bartlett granted the north half of the 100 acre lot in Strafford Gore to Joseph Sargent Flanders, and on Feb. 19, 1799, Joseph S. Flanders of Strafford granted to "Miriam Flanders, my natural mother of Strafford aforesd, the north lot of land lying on the gore, which was pitched and surveyed to the right of Zebulon Flanders, during her natural life upon the following conditions and reservations: if the sd Joseph shall well and truly fulfill all the conditions in this lease then the sd Joseph shall occupy and improve sd premises as he shall think best, and the sd Joseph is to take care of the sd Miriam one half of the time during her life, and is to keep one horse for the use of sd Miriam one half of the time, and one cow the whole time for her use, and 8 pounds of wool every year, and 10 pounds of well dressed flax every year, and farther to take care and provide all things necessary to support life and health for one half of the time during her natural life and at the decease of the sd Miriam, the cow above mentioned, or the value thereof, to be divided equally between her daughters, and the horse and incomm to be at her disposal" (O:95).

Miriam Flanders removed to Guildhall, Vt. in 1800, as on Feb. 15, 1800, Israel Flanders of Guildhall, granted 70 acres of land in Guildhall to his mother Miriam Flanders of Strafford, for her use during her natural life, he agreeing to provide sd Miriam with 7 bushels of wheat, 7 and 1/2 bushels of Indian corn, to be paid every other year on the 25th of December; and to keep 1 cow, 1 horse, and 3 sheep for her only use during her life, and at her death the "value of these creatures to be divided among her daughters" (O:47). Oct. 1801, Miriam Flanders sold 30 acres of her land in Strafford to Cyril Garnsey of Strafford for $1 (O:95). The 28th of Nov., 1804, Joseph Sargent Flanders leased to Miriam Flanders, "my natural Mother," 100 acres of land in Guildhall, he to occupy and improve said premises and to care for the said Miriam one half of the time during her life and to keep 1 horse, 1 cow and 3 sheep for her only use. June 14, 1805, Joseph S. Flanders and Miriam Flanders granted to Molly Clifford, 30 acres off the west end of this lot, to be for her use and that of her surviving children (O:47). The last deed under the name of Miriam Flanders is dated June 1, 1807, at Guildhall. As several of her children remained in Guildhall for some time subsequent to this date, and no further reference is made to their mother, it is probable that she died about 1807-8.

Children (Flanders), births all recorded at Concord, N. H., but it is probable that they were not all born there, as the births are entered all together and not under the respective years:

+423 i. Jacob[5], b. Nov. 19, 1759 (O:29).
+424 ii. Josiah[5], b. Apr. 3, 1761 (O:29).
425 iii. Olive[5], b. June 16, 1763 (O:29).
426 iv. Theodate[5], b. Mch. 28, 1765 (O:29).
+427 v. Anne[5], b. Apr. 10, 1767 (O:29).

428 vi. Jesse[5], b. Nov. 29, 1768 (O:29).
+429 vii. Miriam[5], b. Sept. 2, 1771 (O:29).
+430 viii. Israel[5], b. Aug. 21, 1773, at Concord, N. H. (O:47; O:29).
+431 ix. Molly[5], b. Nov. 29, 1775, at Concord, N. H. (O:29).
+432 x. Joseph Sargent[5], b. Jan. 18, 1778, at Concord, N. H. (O:29).
433 xi. Apphia[5], b. Mch. 27, 1780, at Concord, N. H. (O:29).

117 APPHIA[4] FLANDERS, bp. Nov. 13, 1743, at South Hampton, N.H.; m. Jan. 20, 1767, at South Hampton, to Philip Osgood (O:93); b. July 19, 1745 (E:108); d. Mch. 29, 1825, at Warner, N. H. (E:108); son of Henry Osgood and Rhoda Davis (E:108).

119 MEHITABLE[4] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 30, 1752, at South Hampton, N. H.; said to have married Philip Osgood, as his third wife (E:108). It is stated in the Osgood Genealogy that Philip Osgood m. (1) Elizabeth Flanders; (2) Apphia Flanders; (3) Mehitable Flanders, all supposed to be sisters, and the daughters of Josiah[3] Flanders and Mehitable Osgood. No record has been found of the birth of an Elizabeth to Josiah[3] Flanders, and no records of the marriages of Elizabeth Flanders and Mehitable Flanders to Philip Osgood. No dates of death for these three wives are given, therefore, it is impossible to determine which of the children of Philip Osgood were the issue of these respective marriages. Philip Osgood removed to Warner, N. H. about 1790, when the town was a wilderness, and owned 600 acres of land there (E:108).

Children (Osgood), (E:108):

434 i. Abigail[5], b. Mch., 1763; m. Samuel Blaisdell of South Hampton (E:108).
435 ii. Elizabeth[5], m. Richard Sanborn of Gilford, N. H. (E:108).
436 iii. Levi[5], b. Aug. 9, 1771; d. Mch. 15, 1826, at Warner, N. H. (E:108).
437 iv. Betsey[5], b. Feb. 27, 1773; d. Mch. 31, 1813 (E:108); m. Thomas Barnard of Warner, N. H. (E:108).
438 v. Enoch[5], b. June 9, 1775; d. Apr. 17, 1853 (E:108).
439 vi. Apphia[5], died young (E:108).
440 vii. Jacob[5], b. Mch. 16, 1777; d. Nov. 29, 1844 (E:108).
441 viii. Joseph[5], b. Mch. 14, 1782.
442 ix. Nehemiah[5], b. Apr. 3, 1783; d. in the Army in 1813 (E:108).
443 x. Philip[5], b. Mch. 1, 1786; d. Mch. 15, 1859 (E:108); soldier in the war of 1812, was of Cornish, N. H. (E:108).
444 xi. Tappan E.[5], b. Oct. 30, 1789; d. Mch. 21, 1861 (E:108).
445 xii. Polly[5], b. Dec. 28, 1794; died unmarried (E:108).
446 xiii. Sally[5], died young (E:108).
447 xiv. Caleb[5], b. June 24, 1798 (E:108).
448 xv. Judith[5], died young (E:108).

118 TIMOTHY[4] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 25, 1747, at South Hampton, N. H.; bp. Apr. 19, 1747, at South Hampton (D:8); m. Mch. 23, 1768, at Kensington, N. H., to Jane Norton (O:56).

In 1783, Timothy Flanders of South Hampton, granted land in South Hampton to Benjamin Barnard, this land being near that of Lieut. John Flanders, lately deceased, said land "being that whereon my late Honoured Father, Josiah Flanders, dwelt." Ack. by Timothy Flanders and Jane, his wife, Nov. 14, 1783 (I:11).

A Timothy Flanders who lived on Noyes Hill, Henniker, is mentioned in the History of Henniker, N. H. "He was said to have been 'a very honest man and much given to loud laughing.'" As the census of 1790 lists Timothy Flanders of Henniker, as having three daughters, and the births of three daughters to Timothy and Jane Flanders are recorded in the South Hampton town records, it was doubtless Timothy Flanders, son of Josiah[3] Flanders, who was living in Henniker in 1790.

Children (Flanders), all b. at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93):

449 i. Molly[5], b. Sept. 2, 1768.
450 ii. Hannah[5], b. Oct. 26, 1773.
451 iii. Eunice[5], b. May 2, 1779.

123 ABRA[4] FLANDERS, b. June 19, 1729, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Dec. 5, 1751, at South Hampton, N. H., to John Welch (O:93); b. Aug. 7, 1729, at East Kingston, N. H. (G:12); d. 1811, at Sanbornton, N. H. (G:12); son of Joseph Welch and Deborah Scribner (G:12). They resided at East Kingston, Canterbury, and Sanbornton, N. H. (Q:1).

Children (Welch) (G:12):

452 i. Joseph[5], b. 1757; m. Elizabeth Huntoon (G:12).
453 ii. Abra[5], b. May 7, 1759; m. Nov. 13, 1785, to George Drutch (G:12).
454 iii. Benjamin[5], b. 1761; m. Wid. Cotton; no issue (G:12).
455 iv. Deborah[5], b. Feb. 22, 1764; m. Aug. 22, 1785, Capt. Willard Prescott (G:12); b. Oct. 14, 1762 (G:12).
456 v. Judith[5], b. 1766; m. Simeon Brown (G:12).
457 vi. Jonathan[5], b. 1768; m. (1) Abigail Brown; m. (2) Hannah Merrill (G:12). He served in the War of 1812 (G:12).
458 vii. Elizabeth[5], b. May 19, 1770; m. Aug. 13, 1795, to Jonathan M. Smith (G:12). He lived and died in Vermont (G:12).
459 viii. Sally[5], b. 1772; died aged and single (G:12).

125 CAPT. PARKER[4] FLANDERS, b. June 13, 1733, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Nov. 23, 1797, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); bur. old South Hampton cem., date on stone; d. Nov. 3, 1798, ae 65y (B:77); m. (1) (int. Nov. 29, 1754, at Salisbury) (O:88) Apr. 15, 1755, at Haverhill, Mass., to Sarah Mitchell of Haverhill (P:28); m. (2)

(int. Aug. 16, 1766, at Salisbury) (O:88) Dec. 2, 1766, at South Hampton, N. H., to Eleanor[5] Flanders (O:93); b. Dec. 9, 1745, at South Hampton (G:12); d. June 1, 1832, at South Hampton, bur. old South Hampton cem., ae 86y (B:77); dau. of Jedidiah[4] Flanders (No. 53) and Eleanor Barnard (G:12).

Parker Flanders was a blacksmith by trade, and a celebrated hoemaker, he was also a Captain of the Militia (G:12). He served in the service of the State at Portsmouth, under Col. Dame, and signed the Association Test in 1776 (G:15).

June 25, 1755, Philip Flanders of Salisbury, sold part of his homestead in Salisbury to Parker Flanders of South Hampton, blacksmith (I:5).

The town of Hopkinton, N. H., was granted by the government of Massachusetts, Jan. 16, 1735. This town covered some of the territory granted to New Hampshire as the Bow Grant in 1727. On this account, trouble arose later in collecting taxes, and an Act was passed Dec. 13, 1763, which decreed that the estates of Parker Flanders, and others, which were in the Bow Grant, should be annexed to the District of New Hopkinton. On Jan. 10, 1765, New Hopkinton became Hopkinton (G:15). The dwelling house, which Parker Flanders built on his farm in Hopkinton in 1776, was still standing in 1883, as an out building on the farm (H:61).

Children (Flanders), all b. at South Hampton, N. H.:

460 i. Parker[5], b. Aug. 15, 1756 (Q:2); died young.

Feb. 21, 1795, Jonathan Jones of Boscawen and Calvin Flanders of Warner & Marcy Flanders, his wife, gave a quit claim to land of Daniel Jones of East Kingston, "land lying in South Hampton, set off to our Honoured Mother, Judith Jones, out of the estate of our father, Daniel Jones, late of South Hampton. At the decease of our Honoured Mother, we are the lawful heirs." Wit. by James Flanders & Molle Flanders (I:11). Mch. 3, 1795, David Jones of South Hampton, gave a quit claim to his brother Daniel Jones, to land set off to his "Honoured Mother, Judith Jones" (I:11). Mch. 3, 1790, Calvin Flanders and Marcy Flanders, his wife, sold to Daniel Jones, land set off to the share of their sister Lydia Jones (I:11).

129 JONATHAN[4] FLANDERS, b. May 3, 1741, at South Hampton, N.H.; d. Feb. 5, 1831, at Kensington, N.H., ae 90 y., bur. at Kensington (M:5); m. Jan. 9, 1765, at Kensington, by Rev. Jeremiah Fogg, to Lois Pike (O:56). Mch. 27, 1817, Jonathan Flanders of Kensington, Gentleman, administered the estate of Moses Pike of Kensington (I:11). This was doubtless the father or brother of his wife, Lois.

Jonathan Flanders, apparently, removed from South Hampton to Kensington in 1769, as on Jan. 30, 1769, Timothy Blake Lock of Kensington, cordwainer & tanner, granted to Jonathan Flanders of South Hampton, blacksmith, land in Kensington (I:10). He signed the Association Test in Kensington (G:15).

His will was dated Sept. 25, 1815. Jonathan Flanders of Kensington, Gentleman, bequeathed property to his daughter, Sarah Flanders; to his son-in-law, Jonathan Badger, husband of his daughter, Judith; and to his granddaughter, Lois Eastman, who was to live in the house with Sarah Flanders, "as she has" (K:9). Owing to his age and infirmity, he asked to be excused from administrating the estate of his brother, Merrill Flanders, who had died in 1826, and that his cousin, Col. Merrill Flanders, might be appointed to act in his place (K:7).

Children (Flanders):

+481 i. Lois[5], b. Feb. 26, 1767, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

482 ii. Infant[5], b. date unknown; d. Mch. 12, 1770, at Kensington, N. H. (O:56).

485 i. Judith[5].

486 ii. William[5], may have been the William Flanders who m. Sept. 9, 1794, at South Hampton, by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes, to Rhoda Collins (M:5).

Nathaniel Flanders acted as a witness to a deed between Ezekiel[4] Flanders and Jonathan Jones in 1765 (I:10). Nathaniel Flanders also signed the Association Test in South Hampton, 1776 (G:15).

132 RICHARD CURRIER[4] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 8, 1748, at South Hampton, N. H.; bp. June 3, 1750, at South Hampton (D:8); d. May 21, 1801, at South Hampton, bur. in old cem. at South Hampton, ae 51y (B:77); the age as given on the tombstone does not agree with the above birth date; it is possible that the age on the stone was taken from the baptismal record, or there may be an error in the date of birth as recorded in the genealogy quoted as authority. He m. Jan. 1, 1778, at South Hampton, to Rachel Colby (O:93), by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes, of South Hampton (M:5); b. Dec. 17, 1756, at South Hampton (Q:1); d. Nov. 19, 1834, at Hopkinton, N. H., bur. in old cem. at Hopkinton, ae 78 y (B:46); dau. of Er Colby and Judith Ring (F:13).

Apr. 3, 1780, Richard Currier Flanders of Salisbury, bought land of Philip Flanders of South Hampton, it being 30 acres of land bounded northerly on the highway leading from the South Hampton Meeting-house to Newton, together with the buildings thereon (I:11).

Richard Currier Flanders signed the Association Test in South Hampton in 1776 (G:15). After the death of Richard Currier Flanders in 1801, his brother Merrill Flanders took care of his family (G:12.)

Children (Flanders), all b. at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93):

FIFTH GENERATION

REVOLUTIONARY WAR PERIOD

By means of various excerpts taken from documentary sources, an effort has been made, in preceding generations, to record such fragments of the manners and the times of passing generations as will give a fuller meaning to the lives and activities of those this genealogy has traced. Now, in the latter part of the fourth generation and in the fifth, the war with England forms the background to the lives of our forefathers. So it seems of value to preface this generation with certain extracts from old State Papers and histories, with a view, not to the facts, which can be found in any history of the war, but to portray the cultural difficulties which surrounded them, and to delineate the characters of the men participating in this struggle for liberty and independence.

"In 1775, the law was passed, requiring all able-bodied men between the ages of 16 and 60 to be enrolled in train bands. A town having more than 32 men liable to do military duty, could have a military organization of its own" (H:7).

These old training greens, or parade grounds, still exist in many of the New England towns. Certain days in the week were set apart for military training, when men were obliged to come from the surrounding settlements to that town, which was large enough to own a green. Frequently these settlers travelled many miles through the wilderness, in the early morning hours, in order to reach their rendezvous by sunrise. On these greens sham battles were fought, which sometimes assumed very realistic features. The men of the settlements were divided into two companies, and the spirit of rivalry was intense, each side desirous of the pride which came from winning. Occasionally in the heat of the contest, a bullet was inserted on top of the powder in the gun, and dire results ensued. Even the boys formed companies of their own and engaged in this mimic warfare.

LEXINGTON: The response to the alarm of April 19th, 1775, was very general, and we find the names of many of the Flanders family among those who marched as soon as the news reached the various settlements. Boys of 15, 18, and 20 years of age are listed in the records of the Flanders, who fought at Bunker Hill, some continuing in service throughout the period of the war.

On June 12, 1775, Col. Reed received orders to quarter his regiment in the houses on Charlestown Neck, and to keep all necessary guards between his barracks and the "Ferrey and on Bunker Hill." The Regimental Orders on June 15th, were as follows:

> The main Gard this day is to consist of one Capt 2 Subs 4 Serjeants 4 corporals and 50 privets. The Capt of the main Gard is to keep > a trusty Serjeant with the Sentereys in the Street below the Gard house to examine all passengers. Let none pass without shoing proper pases in the Day time and none to pass after Nine o'clock at Knight without giving the counter sine and no Sentrey is to set down on his post and when any field officer passes them to stand with their firelocks rested no soldier to swim in the water on the Sabath day nor any other Day to stay in the water Longer than is necessary to wash themselves. James Reed, Coll (G:15).

BUNKER HILL: "On the morning of the battle, Gen. Ward directed Col. Stark of the first New Hampshire Regiment to send 200 men, properly officered, to the assistance of Col. Prescott. The remainder of Stark's and the whole of Col. Reed's Regiment were moved to the front in the afternoon in obedience to orders from Gen. Ward. The men under the commands of Generals Stark and Reed were located on Mystic Beach, wholly unprotected by any defence in their front. However, the men constructed a parapet of stones thrown across the beach and a rail fence extending up the hillside to the redoubt. The 23rd British Regiment, known as the Royal Fusiliers, formed opposite them. Here the most efficient fighting was done, and here the greatest number of dead were lying when the battle ceased. When a retreat was made necessary by a lack of ammunition, the regiments of Stark and Reed held the fence line clear to the river and covered the escape of Prescott's command until the last cartridge had been expended, and then their deliberate, well ordered retreat bore testimony alike to their virtue and valor. CAPT. DAVID FLANDERS, then a private in Capt. Joshua Abbott's company stated that, 'the column of Fusiliers did not deploy until they passed Abbott's company, therefore they were outflanked by us, hence we had a good chance to pick off their officers. This chance we improved, as we could distinguish the officers by observing the swords in their hands, and that they had occasion to use them in urging their men into the fight' " (G:44). McClintock, in his History of New Hampshire, furnishes a vivid picture of the battle, pointing out the strong contrast between the splendor of array, the leisure and unconcern of the British before the battle, and the plain clad men, wan from their all night's exertion in throwing up the breast-works of the redoubt, thirsty and unfed, but awaiting the issue with calm tensity.

QUEBEC EXPEDITION: "In August 1775, Gen. Washington conceived the idea of sending a force to attempt the capture of Quebec. Their route was to be up the Kennebec river, thence through the forests of Maine and Canada to the Chaudiere river, and thence down that stream to its junction with the St. Lawrence, about four miles above Quebec. The detachment was composed of men enlisted for that duty from the troops in the vicinity of Boston, and was placed under the command of Gen. Benedict Arnold, with Lt. Col. Roger Enos, as second in command. They were relieved from duty in the several organizations to which they formerly belonged, and ordered to Cambridge common on the 8th and 9th of September, where they were organized into two battalions of about 1,100 men, and remained until the evening of the 13th, when they marched to Medford. They sailed from Newburyport on the 19th, and reached the Kennebec on the day following, landing about three miles below Fort Western, which was on the site of the present city of Augusta. From that place the detachment marched in four divisions, with rations for fifty five days. About the 27th of October, Lt. Col. Enos, with three companies, became discouraged and returned to Cambridge. The remainder of the force pushed on through a pathless forest, wading through swollen streams of ice-cold water, and almost impenetrable swamps. Their provisions were exhausted long before reaching the Canadian settlements, their clothes became so dilapidated as to furnish but little protection against the rigors of a Canadian winter, and many were barefoot for days before they reached Quebec on the 8th of November. The sufferings of this band of heroes cannot be expressed, and could have been endured only by a class of men inured to hardship and exposure, and fired with a patriotism which prompts the possessors to win the victory or perish in the attempt" (G:15). John Flanders, ae 22 years, was one of this company, and was taken prisoner at Quebec. A transcript from his diary will be found under John[5] Flanders, No. 343. Deacon Jesse Flanders, also took part in the expedition to Quebec, but was not in this detachment. He also was taken prisoner. The service of other members of the Flanders family who were in the attack on Quebec, will be found listed under their respective names. A most interesting and graphic account of this expedition is given in Kenneth Robert's "Arundel," recently published.

ASSOCIATION TEST

Colony of New Hampshire

IN COMMITTEE OF SAFETY

April 12, 177 6

In order to carry the underwritten Resolve of the Hon'ble Continental Congress into Execution, You are requested to desire all Males above Twenty One Years of Age (Lunaticks, Idiots, and Negroes excepted) to sign to the Declaration on the Paper; and when so done, to make Return hereof, together with the Name or Names of all who shall refuse to sign the same, to the General Assembly, or Committee of Safety of this Colony.

M. Weare, Chairman.

IN CONGRESS, March 14th 1776

Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils, or Committee of Safety of the United Colonies, immediately to cause all Persons to be disarmed, within their Respective Colonies, who are notoriously disaffected to the Cause of AMERICA, Or who have not associated, and refuse to associate, to defend by ARMS, the United Colonies, against the Hostile Attempts of the British Fleets and Armies.

Extract from the Minutes,
Charles Thompson, Sec'ry

In Consequence of the above Resolution, of the Hon. Continental CONGRESS, and to shew our Determination in joining our American Brethren, in defending the Lives, Liberties, and Properties of the Inhabitants of the UNITED COLONIES, WE, the Subscribers, do hereby solemnly engage, and promise, that we will, to the utmost of our Power, at the Risque of our Lives and Fortunes, with ARMS, oppose the Hostile Proceedings of the British Fleets, and Armies, against the United American COLONIES. (G:15)

This test was New Hampshire's Declaration of Independence. To sign it was a bold step, for had the cause failed, every signer would have subjected himself to the penalties of treason. The test was given to discover who were Tories (G:15).

On Aug. 7, 1776, The Committee, desiring to complete the Battalion then at Portsmouth, in order that they might become Continental troops, ordered that five new companies be formed, called "Matross Companies." These were stationed for the defence of Piscataqua Harbor until Nov. 23rd, when they were ordered to reinforce the army at Ticonderoga (G:15).

TICONDEROGA: On the evening of the 2nd of May despatches were received by the Committee of Safety in New Hampshire, informing them that the garrison at Ticonderoga was in danger of being taken and to send on reinforcements at once. Messages were sent to Col. Samuel Ashley, of Winchester, Col. Benjamin Bellows of Walpole, and Col. Jonathan Chase of Cornish, entreating them "by all that is sacred to raise as many of your Militia as possible and march them to Ticonderoga." In consequence of the evacuation of Ticonderoga by the Americans and the southerly movement of the British forces under Burgoyne, threatening the subjugation of New England, the committee called the legislature together on the 14th of July for consultation. The state was destitute of money or means, and it had done all that the citizens generally supposed could be done in the way of furnishing troops, but the alternative was before them, of assisting to check the advance of Burgoyne's army by sending a force to Vermont, or of having the battlefield of the future transferred to their own territory. The question was raised as to how money could be obtained to pay and equip the men, if the state's Militia should be sent. The treasury of the state was empty, and there was no way of replenishing it, until the patriotic John Langdon arose and said: "I have one thousand dollars in hard money, I will pledge my plate for three thousand more. I have seventy hogsheads of Tobago rum, which I will sell for the most it will bring. They are at the service of the state. If we succeed in defending our firesides and homes, I may be remunerated. If we do not, then the property will be of no value to me. Our friend Stark, who so nobly defended the honor of our state at Bunker Hill, may safely be entrusted with the honor of the enterprise, and we will check the progress of Burgoyne" (G:15).

The Rev. Samuel Webster, Jr. was preaching at Groton, N. H., and while the sermon was in progress a courier rode up to the church door, and shouted: "Ticonderoga, Crown Point, they have fallen. Send men; the whole country is marching." "Let us go immediately," said Mr. Webster. A man in one of the rear pews arose and said: "I seem to hear a voice from heaven 'not to go'." "That voice is from hell," thundered Mr. Webster, "we are called upon to go" (H:67).

It is stated that no draft was necessary for this expedition, for the men enlisted with alacrity. Many of the Flanders participated in these battles and in practically all the other engagements throughout the entire period of the war, leaving a record of patriotic service, which we, their descendants, would do well to bear in mind.

As the war neared its close, it is surprising to find numerous records of desertion on the part of men who had served, in many cases, during all the years of this struggle for independence. The following petition may explain in some measure why the men left the service in this way.

PETITION FROM OFFICERS IN THE CONTINENTAL REGIMENTS 1779

"To the Honorable General Assembly of the State of New Hampshire The humble Petition and Representation of the Subscribers Officers in the Continental Line of the Army in behalf of themselves and Soldiers under their Command—Sheweth—

"That most of them have Families which they have left with their Friends in the country, and in Defence of their Rights have exposed themselves to the Hazard and Fatigue of a Military Life in Neglect of their Families to whom they could not pay that Attention which those near Connections demanded, their Situation rendering a Personal Discharge of those Duties Impossible—

"That they have patiently endured the Loss of Domestic Happiness and the Pleasures of Social Life neglecting their own private Interest in Expectation and fervent Hope that the Period would soon arrive when that Peace Liberty and Safety the best Inheritance of our Children would be transmitted and Secured to Generations yet unborn—With these Views they have endured Losses Sickness and every Species of Hardship with some degree of Patience, and as they have invariably desired so they most ardently wish to consider themselves as part of the free Citizens of a free Country and not as a separate People with separate and clashing Interests which hereafter may become the Source of Contention more Detremental to our Rights than the present Usurpation of the british Parliament—to this Assembly therefore, the Guardian of our Liberties would we look up for Relief, in whose justice and humanity we fully confide—

We have, may it Please your Honours, had Publick Assurances we should receive a Reward adequate to our Services; this Reward is fixed and determined—we ask not for an Enlargement, being willing to bear the Burthen and share Misfortunes and Publick Losses with our Brethren; but with great Concern we observe that for more than Twelve Months last past our Brethren have departed from that Line of Virtuous Conduct which before guided their Actions, and we find ourselves injured insuperably so without your Honours Interposition—Our pay once Liberal is become of little Value our Families starving, our Money refused and publick Supplies denied our Families; when we find Gentlemen of Rank in the United States publickly refusing the Currency of the Continent, and all Ranks of People who would be thought virtuous honest and religious openly fixing a Depreciation and avowing the Right of Selling Six for one compared with Silver Money, and secretly promoting a further Depreciation—We are alarmed Justly and greatly alarmed—Many of us disposed of our Interest for Paper Money at a low Rate to enter the Service free from Embarassment, this is expended on our Families, or if not, of little Value—To be compelled to sacrifice our all, beggar our Families, ruin our Constitutions, and hasten old Age upon ourselves without Prospects of Future Support or some Assurances of Satisfaction for our past Losses by the Depreciation of the Currency, and the publick Assurance of its future Credit are Sacrifices too great for us to make—

"To beg we are ashamed—to steal Honor and Virtue forbid—we therefore think it our Duty to present this Memorial to your Consideration, begging our Fears may be calmed by some publick Act of yours in which we will confide—that we may be Assured that the Assembly will make good our past Wages depreciated in Value—That some Effectual Measure be taken to supply our Families with the Necessaries of Life, and that the Unmarried be entitled to similar Benefits—We most sincerely assure your Honours—we still have the greatest Attachment to the Cause of the Country and are still willing to remain in our present Services—before Independency was declared we looked on ourselves bound by the natural Law of self-Preservation to militate with our enemies at the expense of our Private Interest and every Enjoyment, but since that Declaration and its Confirmation by our Allies, a Military Life ought to become an Occupation worthy of Attention, & we should stand morally condemned any Longer to pursue a War almost finished in Neglect of ourselves and those dear Connections God has given us, and feed on Promises and Anticipation—Honor, Ambition & Love for the best of Men our Commander-in-Chief and consequently our Country have hitherto Contented us—but Poverty will soon reduce us to the doleful Alternative of a disgraceful Appearance or forsaking him without your Interposition" (G:15).

"To the Honourable Councelors and House of Representatives at Exeter in General Court assembled. We the Subscribers, the Non Commission officers and Soldiers under the command of capt. Titus Salter at Forte Washington in the State of New Hampshire—Humbly Present this Petition to your Honours Shewing that your Honours at the time of our inlisting was Pleased to Give us forty one Shillings per month we Cheerfully all as one Entered into the Service and thought the Wages Sufficient pay for our Service Knowing that your Honours has Passed an Act Regulating the Prices of Goods and Provisions and we humbly Shew your Honours How far that Act is complied with, your Honours Stated Rum by the Quart at 2s and is Sold Currant at 4 and 5s Per Quart, Corn at 3s 6 Pr Bushel, and it is Sold at 5 and 6 Shilling a Bushel, Coffe at 1s 3d Pound and it is Sold for 4 and 5 and Seven Pence per Quart and all Sortes of Goods and Provisions at as Dear a Rate, and we humbly pray Your Honours to take the Suffering condition of your Humble Petitioners under Your Consideration and make an Addition to our Wages for the time of our Being in the Service according to the Price of all Sorte of Goods and Provisions or we must as the most of us have familis if you Do Not Give us wages So that we can Support them be under the Hard Necessity though Contaray to our Desires Beg a Discharge from the Service, which is very Dissagreeable To us we Being in Defence of So Glorious A Cause of Liberty which is Dearer than our Lives if we Could have wages To Support it and humbly Pray your Honours To Give us Discharge if you Do Not Rise our wages To Give us A Discharge from the Service that we may take Some other way to Support our Familis we Do Not want to make Estaes By Being in the Defence of So Glorious A Cause we only beg wages that we can Live by and We Humbly Pray Your Honours to Give us an Answer as Soon as you have Time To Consider of it for we Cannot Live By the wages You have Given us and your Humble Petitioners will ever Pray &c" (G:15)

WESTERN MIGRATION

Within a few years after the close of the Revolution, the western migration began, and on the tide of this migration were carried many of our ancestors who had served in the war, and many of the succeeding generations. Therefore, the war may be said to serve as a turning point between the relatively short migration in the colonial period and this much greater migration to the west.

The young men, leaving their homes in New Hampshire, moved on into Vermont, some remaining but a few years, then making their way into the northern part of the state, northern New Hampshire, and Lower Canada. From thence the migration continued into New York state, Illinois, Ohio, and Michigan, until the descendants of these early pioneers finally reached the Pacific. Oftentimes the older generation followed on, spending their remaining years with their sons in the new lands upon which they had settled.

The following accounts, given many years ago, by some of the descendants of these early settlers present an interesting and illuminating picture of the struggles and hardships encountered in making these settlements. These deal with the migrations into Lower Canada (given in "Forests and Clearings," by B. F. Hubbard).

Mrs. Roxana Flanders' Account:

"My father, Capt. Ebenezer Hovey, came to Canada in 1793, and pitched on the eastern shore of Memphramagog Lake at the place now known as Judd's Point, about three years before the survey of this locality was made. After making a small clearing, and putting up a log shanty, he returned to Vermont, and in March, 1794, again set out for his new home with an ox team carrying his wife and eight children, with bedding, provisions, etc. They were accompanied by Joseph Ives, Isaac Rexford, and David Chamberlain, with their wives and children." Although they set out in March the ground was still covered with heavy snow. From Frelighsburg on to the lake, they were obliged to break their own road, and seven days were required to traverse the densely wooded land between Frelighsburg and the lake. At night, the women and children slept on improvised beds on the sleds, while the men were obliged to cut down hemlock boughs and sleep on them in the open. They suffered greatly from cold and exposure. When they were about half way through the woods, their bread ran out, and they were faced with the necessity of procuring more food to last them while they finished their journey. The country was, of course, unsettled, there were no towns in the vicinity. But, as necessity is the mother of invention, they succeeded in finding a high wall of ledges the snow had not uncovered, and between these ledges they built a hot fire, mixed flour—which they had with them—with water, and baked bread in this improvised oven. This bread formed their food during the remainder of the journey.

When the party arrived at Judd's Point, where Capt. Hovey had built his shanty a year before, the winter had not yet broken, and all the families in the party were obliged to seek refuge in the small cabin until the weather ameliorated, and to rely upon the provisions they had brought with them, to a large extent. The families managed to live in this way, somehow, until it grew warm enough for them to erect their own homesteads.

Another settler also moved his family up into Canada during the winter. He had previously erected a shanty. His wife had a small month old baby at the time they set forth. His wife was strapped to the sled, holding the child in her arms, and covered with blankets. In this way she could hold the baby without danger of sliding off the sled. The man and his sons carried provisions on their backs, and pulled the sled. Although they suffered greatly from the cold, they arrived at their destination safely, and the man and one son returned to Vermont to get the daughters of the family. The mother and other sons were left alone in the wilderness. When they started once more for Canada, the weather became bitterly cold. The son carried a pack of provisions and the father pulled the sled, which carried his two daughters bundled up in robes. Before they could reach their new home again, the son became exhausted, and asked his father if he couldn't lie down in the snow and sleep for a little. The father knew that this feeling of exhaustion in reality marked the first stages of freezing to death, and that if his son should lie down in the snow to sleep, he would never get up again. He encouraged and exhorted the boy in vain, his son became steadily worse. So he brought his small party to a halt, hid the provisions his son carried in the woods, covered up his daughters as well as he could with the blankets, and cut a beech rod. Then he tied his son to the sled, and whipped the boy unmercifully with the beech rod all the way to their house. The boy dropped with exhaustion as soon as he reached the door, and did not recover his strength for two weeks thereafter. This was, however, the only way the father could have saved his son from freezing to death in the woods.

Mr. Hubbard describes a wolf hunt which took place in Stanstead, in 1840. During the winter, the settlers had lost many sheep and livestock of other kinds from the depredations of a large pack of wolves, which had established itself in the woods near Fitch Bay, in back of Bunker Hill. The settlers got together from the nearby towns to organize a hunt to destroy these marauders. They assembled at Fitch Bay, and spread out around the town, seeking to surround and close in on the pack. This they eventually were able to do. During the fight which ensued after they had closed in on the wolves, two men were attacked by the animals and mortally wounded with their bites. One died a few hours after, and the other within a few days.

From the foregoing accounts it is possible to form an idea of the outstanding traits of the men and women composing this fifth generation of our ancestors, and of the influences which shaped their lives.

136 MIRIAM[5] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 27, 1726, at Salisbury, Mass., bp. Mch. 3, 1728, at West Parish Ch., Salisbury (F:13); m. Dec. 5, 1750, at Kingston, N. H., to Jacob Quimby (D:4).

Child (Quimby):

495 i. Miriam[6], bp. Dec. 8, 1751, at Kingston, N. H. (F:17).

137 DAVID[5] FLANDERS, b. 1728, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. 1822, at Plaistow, N. H., ae 94y (O:83; G:4); m. (1) unknown; m. (2) (perhaps) Apr. 18, 1759, at Kingston, N. H., to Eben[r] Nichols (D:4); m. (3) Oct. 21, 1796, at Haverhill, Mass., to Charity (Fowler) Chase of Haverhill (F:28); d. 1831-32 (O:83).

David[5] Flanders was undoubtedly the son of Stephen[4] Flanders, although no actual statement to this effect has been found. This conclusion is based upon the following evidence: from the present records, the only Flanders located in Kingston at this time were Stephen[4], Asa[4], and Jacob[3] Flanders. Asa[4] Flanders had a son David, but he was born in 1737; Jacob[3] Flanders moved to Boscawen, N. H., and all his family eventually settled there, and no record has been obtained that he had a son David. Stephen[4] Flanders owned land in that part of Kingston lying near the portion of Haverhill, Mass., which later was set off to form the town of Plaistow, and David[5] Flanders owned land in Kingston and Plaistow which bordered on the land of Stephen[4] Flanders and his son, Ezekiel[5] Flanders. The children recorded for Stephen[4] Flanders were born in 1726 and 1730, therefore, David, born in 1728, might easily have been his son. It is uncertain whether David, b. in 1728, or David, b. in 1737, son of Asa[4] Flanders, married Eben[r] Nichols, but, as Ezekiel[5] Flanders, son of Stephen[4] Flanders, married Ann Nichols, it is quite probable that David, son of Stephen[4] Flanders (presumedly) was the David who married Eben[r] Nichols. An additional reason being that David, son of Asa, enlisted in the Crown Point Expedition in 1756, 1758, and 1760, returning home sick with the small pox. He was cared for by the selectmen of Kingston and no mention is made of his having a wife or children. It is possible that David[5] Flanders was married only twice and that the birth date given for his daughter Elizabeth should have been 1759, instead of 1758. No verification of this date of birth has been found.

Oct. 17, 1792, David Flanders of Kingston, granted land in Kingston, alias Plaistow, to his son, David Flanders, Jr., of Kingston (I:11). The Town Records of Plaistow for Mch. 11, 1822, contain a reference to assistance given by the town at the funeral of David Flanders, and on Aug. 31, 1822, "to see what the town will do respecting the land they had of David Flanders, deceased" (O:83). In 1827, the widow Charity Flanders was living with Mrs. Mary Merrill of Salisbury, Mass. Mch. 12, 1832, the town paid Mrs. Merrill, for caring for the widow Charity Flanders for 30 weeks and 3 days and allowed $8. for her funeral (O:83).

The census of 1790 lists David Flanders of Kingston, as head of a family of one male over 16, and two females (C:1).

Children (Flanders):

+496 i. Elizabeth[6], b. Aug. 19, 1758 (E:143).

+497 ii. David[6], (date of birth unknown) (I:11).

138 EZEKIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 24, 1730, at Salisbury, Mass.; living at Plaistow, N. H., in 1805 (I:11); m. July 10, 1750, at Kingston, N. H., to Ann Nichols of Kingston (D:4); living in 1805, at Plaistow (I:11); dau. of —— Nichols and Mary —— (O:83).

The statement has been made that Ezekiel[5] Flanders, son of Stephen[4] Flanders, married Sarah Jones of South Hampton. This question has already been discussed, to a certain extent, under Ezekiel[4] Flanders, No. 113. If, however, this were the case, then Ezekiel of South Hampton, would have married in Kingston, and Ezekiel of Kingston, would have married in South Hampton—as there were but these two Ezekiels who could have contracted these marriages, Ezekiel, son of Josiah[3] Flanders, and Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4] Flanders. Such a situation would have been unusual to say the least. Had Ezekiel of South Hampton, married Ann Nichols, he would have been less than 18 years of age at the time of his marriage, while Ezekiel of Kingston would have been married at the age of over 25 years. On the other hand, if the reverse is true, Ezekiel of South Hampton would have been in his 24th year, and Ezekiel of Kingston in his 20th, at the time of their respective marriages. These two factors alone—the locality and the age—are sufficient evidence that it was Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4] Flanders, who married Ann Nichols, when added to the fact that nothing has been found to connect Ezekiel of South Hampton with Kingston. However, the following new evidence on Ezekiel of Kingston, when taken in connection with the evidence already given on Ezekiel of South Hampton, settles the question of his paternity beyond any doubt. Miriam[5] Flanders, daughter of Stephen[4] Flanders, married Jacob Quimby in Kingston, and the old Kingston Church records state that—"Jacob Quimby and his wife, Miriam, Ezekiel Flanders and his wife, Ann, renewed the baptismal covenant and their children were baptized on Dec. 8, 1751." Ezekiel Flanders and his wife, Ann, had a son named Stephen. On Dec. 15, 1772, Ezekiel Flanders & Anna, his wife, together with their children, Nathaniel, Stephen, Ezekiel, Sarah, Francis, Jonathan & Joseph, & the widow Mary Nichols, were warned out of Plaistow and ordered to return to Kingston (O:83). Stephen[4] Flanders of Plaistow (or Kingston), sold land bordering on his own land to Ezekiel Flanders of Kingston; Ezekiel Flanders, in his turn, conveyed this land to his sons, and a portion of this property is still held by the descendants of Ezekiel and Ann (Nichols) Flanders.

Jan. 29, 1750, Stephen Flanders of Plaistow, in consideration of 100 pounds, paid by Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, yeoman, granted a tract of land in Chester, originally laid out to the right of Zachariah Clifford (I:10). Sept. 7, 1763, Stephen Flanders of Plaistow, granted a tract of land in Kingston to Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, it being land laid out to the original right of Isaac Webster (I:10). June 5, 1764, Ezekiel Flanders of Kingston, husbandman, granted a piece of land in Kensington "and part in Plastow," originally laid out to John Webster of Kingston, to Ephraim Emerson of Plaistow. "Oct. 21, 1765, Ezekiel Flanders & Anna, his wife, personally appeared and acknowledged this Instrument" (I:10).

In 1775, Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, husbandman, conveyed 40 acres of land in Kingston to Nathaniel Flanders of Hampstead, the land being bounded easterly by land of said Ezekiel Flanders. In 1782, Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, yeoman, conveyed 20 acres of land in Kingston to "my son Stephen Flanders of Kingston." This land was bounded easterly by land of Isaac Webster and Nathaniel Flanders, and southerly by land of David Flanders (I:11). Mch. 18, 1805, Ezekiel Flanders of Plaistow, yeoman, conveyed 50 acres of land in Plaistow to Jonathan Flanders of Plaistow, yeoman. This land was bounded southerly by David Flanders' land. Ack. Mch. 18, 1805, by Ezekiel Flanders & Anna, his wife (I:11).

150 ABIGAIL[5] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 27, 17(40/41 ?), at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Joseph Hoyt (E:94); b. June 3, 1739 (E:94); d. 1815, at Cabot, Vt. (E:94); son of Enoch Hoyt and Sarah French (E:94).

Joseph Hoyt was a currier and lived at Epping as late as 1771, then moved to Cabot, Vt. He was a "strait, resolute, smart man—served under General Stark in the Revolution and carried his wounded captain, Nathan Sanborn, from the battlefield on his shoulder" (E:94).

Apr. 19, 1765, Joseph & Abigail Hoyt granted to their mother, Mary Flanders of Poplin, the land that was set off to Abigail, as her share of her father's estate (I:10).

Children (Hoyt) (E:94):

518 i. Enoch[6], bp. Apr. 20, 1765; d. young (E:94).

519 ii. Enoch[6], b. 1766; m. 1788, to Mary Smith (E:94); moved to Cabot, Vt. in 1798 (E:94).

520 iii. Joanna[6], bp. May 21, 1769.

521 iv. Samuel[6], b. 1771; bp. Sept. 15, 1771; m. May 8, 1794, to Eleanor Philbrick (E:94); moved to Cabot, Vt., in 1818 (E:94); d. 1823 (E:94).

522 v. Joseph F.[6], b. 1773; m. Hannah Batchelder (E:94); d. ca 1849 (E:94).

523 vi. Ezra[6], b. Sept. 10, 1776; m. Sarah Cram (E:94); moved to Cabot, Vt. (E:94).

524 vii. Benjamin[6], b. 1778; m. Sarah Hayes (E:94).

152 Samuel[5] Flanders, b. Sept. 5, 1745, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Dec. 3, 1836, at New Hampton, N. H. (Q:1); m. Lydia Gordon, of Brentwood, N. H. (Q:1); d. ca 1820 (Q:1); dau. of James Gordon (Q:2).

In 1761, when his father's estate was divided, Samuel being the eldest son, received a double share. In 1776, his mother, Mary Flanders, granted him the land she had purchased from his sisters, Rhoda, Mary, and Abigail. In 1781, after the death of their mother, the four sisters of Samuel and his brother, Onesiphorus, granted him their share in their mother's thirds (K:8; I:11).

In 1805, Samuel Flanders was in Eaton, N. H., as is shown by a deed in which Onesiphorus Flanders of Eaton, and Samuel Flanders of Eaton, quit claim to lot No. 94. This deed is witnessed by Shepard and Stephen, and Sally Flanders (I:13). In Dec., 1805, both Onesiphorus and Samuel are said to be "of Sandwich." This second deed is witnessed by Samuel Flanders, Jr., and Elisha Beede (I:13). July 10, 1811, Samuel Flanders of Sandwich, grants land in Sandwich to Samuel Flanders, Jr., cordwainer, and in 1812, Onesiphorus Flanders & Polly, his wife; Samuel Flanders & Lydia, his wife; Samuel Flanders, Jr., & Polly, his wife, all of Sandwich, grant land in Sandwich to John Crosby & William P. Freese (I:13).

Children (Flanders):

+525 i. Onesiphorus[6], b. Jan. 14, 1772, at Brentwood, N. H. (Q:1).

+526 ii. Samuel[6], b. Jan. 10, 1775, at Brentwood, N. H. (Q:1).

+527 iii. James[6], b. Apr. 10, 1778, at Brentwood, N. H. (Q:1).

528 iv. Joseph[6], b. May 30, 1781 (Q:1); m. Nov. 10, 1803, at Sandwich, by Asa Crosby, J. P. (M:5), Sarah (——) Gilman, wid. of Jonathan Gilman (I:13). Jonathan Gilman, Jun. of Sandwich, for $100, paid by Joseph Flanders of Sandwich, grants a tract of land in Sandwich, which "descended from Jonathan Gilman, late of Sandwich, deceased, to Sarah Gilman, his widow, as her dower, now in the occupancy of Joseph Flanders, being the proportion in reversion to me, sd. Jonathan Gilman, Jr., at the decease of sd Sarah Gilman, otherwise Sarah Flanders, now wife of sd Joseph Flanders, being all my right, title & interest unto sd estate in reversion." May 11, 1811 (I:13). Mch. 30, 1842, Joseph Flanders of Sandwich, grants land in Sandwich to Warren Dearborn. Sarah, wife of Joseph Flanders, mentioned (I:2).

529 v. Mary[6], b. June 10, 1783 (Q:1); m. Aug. 4, 1805, at Tamworth, N. H., by Rev. Samuel Hidden of Tamworth, to John Vittum of Tamworth (G:18).

+530 vi. Sally[6], b. Aug. 7, 1787 (Q:1).

154 ONESIPHORUS[5] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 2, 1749, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. 1827, at Eaton (now Madison), N. H. (Q:1); m. Elizabeth Danforth (Q:1); d. 1839/40, at Eaton, N. H. (Q:1).

Onesiphorus Flanders settled first in Meredith, N. H., then removed to Eaton, Sandwich, and then back to Eaton, where he died. He was a cordwainer by trade and was also a farmer, as is shown by the numerous deeds of land in his name. In 1777, he sold his land in Meredith and his wife, Elizabeth released her dower rights (I:13). On Aug. 24, 1815, he gave a quit claim to a farm "Daniel Lary now lives on, also to 40 acres of land that I own joining south of said farm, also another piece of land in what is called Nathaniel Martin's Location." This quit claim was given to his son Shepard Flanders. The deed was signed by Onesiphorus Flanders and his wife, Elizabeth (I:13). On Nov. 26, 1824, he gave a quit claim to his son, Stephen Flanders, to the "farm I now live on" in Sandwich (I:13).

Children (Flanders):

+531 i. Anna[6], b. Jan. 20, 1776 (Q:1).

+532 ii. Samuel[6], b. Apr. 4, 1779 (Q:1).

+533 iii. Stephen[6], b. July 8, 1781 (Q:1).

+534 iv. Shepard[6], b. Sept. 10, 1783 (Q:1).

535 v. Betsey[6], b. Nov. 30, 1786 (Q:1); m. Daniel Lary (Q:1); no issue (Q:1).

+536 vi. Sally[6], b. Dec. 10, 1790 (Q:2).

158 RHODA[5] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 19, 1744, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Jacob Collins (Q:1); son of Richard Collins and Ann Fowler (B:2).

Child (Collins):

537 i. Timothy[6], b. Aug. 3, 1776, at Amesbury, Mass. (B:2); d. Mch. 26, 1857, at Amesbury, bur. old Prospect St. cem.,

Amesbury (B:2); m. Jane Osgood (Q:1); b. July 1, 1777 (Q:1); d. Jan. 4, 1832 (Q:1); dau. of David Osgood and J. Eaton (Q:1). Child, Susan, b. Oct. 10, 1797; d. July 24, 1887 (Q:1).

159 THOMAS[5] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 9, 1747, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Bennington, Vt. (Q:1; R:827); no record of this death has been found in the town records or cem. records of Bennington, Vt.; m. Betsey Stevens (Q:1; R:827); b. 1749/50 (Q:1; R:827); d. 1844, ae. 94-95 yrs., at Chautauqua, N. Y.; bur. Pleasantville cem., near Dewittville, N. Y. (R:827).

Thomas Flanders was a soldier of the Revolution from Weare, N. H. (H:48). He was on the pay roll of Capt. Jonas Kidder's co., Col. Moses Nichol's regt. of Militia, raised by the State of New Hampshire to join the Continental Army at West Point. Engaged July 9, 1780; discharged Oct. 23, 1780 (G:15). He may have been the Thomas Flanders, who was on the pay roll of Capt. Aaron Kinsman's co., Col. John Stark's regt. Enlisted May 8, 1775, served to Aug. 1st, 1775 (G:15). His brothers, John and Jacob, were in Col. Stark's regt. at this time, though in another company, so it seems probable that he also served.

Mch. 13, 1773, Thomas Flanders, of Candia, N. H., husbandman, granted land in Candia to Moses Dustan, of Chester. The land is described as consisting of 6 acres "near where I now dwell, bounded southerly on Benjamin Flanders land & on the southerly side of my land." Ack. by Thomas and Betty Flanders (I:11). In 1782, Thomas Flanders of Deering granted land to John Bartlet. This deed was also signed by Thomas & Betty Flanders (I:7). This John Bartlet was doubtless the son of Zipporah[4] Flanders (No. 68) and John Bartlet. In 1783, Thomas & Bette Flanders grant land to "widder Joanna Heath of Weare," and in 1786, they grant land in Deering to Asa Heath (I:10). In 1788, Thomas is said to be "of Weare," and he grants land in Weare to James Steele, of Amherst, a minor (I:7).

May 18, 1790, Thomas Flanders of Weare, and Jonathan Flanders of Antrim, to Joseph Steele of Amherst: "Whereas Joseph & Elizabeth his wife, have agreed to live separate & if it may be obtained get divorced the said Joseph hath conveyed to Jonathan Flanders 100 acres of land in Antrim for the purpose of support of above wife & for support of 2 children of Joseph & Elizabeth, viz, Polly & Isaac. If sd Thomas & Jonathan shall at all times support & maintain sd Elizabeth without charge to estate of sd Joseph & if she shall never claim her dower right & shall duly bring up the two children to the age of 14 then this obligation shall be void." Signed, Thomas & Jonathan Flanders & Elizabeth Steele (I:7).

Children (Flanders), as given by Parker W. Flanders, a grandson of Thomas[5] Flanders; contributed by Miss Ella Flanders (Q:1):

+538 i. Jonathan[6].
+539 ii. Moses[6].
540 iii. Lucy[6].
+541 iv. Thomas[6], b. 1777.
542 v. Betsey[6], b. date unknown; m. Feb. 20, 1801, to Bezaleel Worcester (O:85; Q:1); res. at Rochester, Vt., then removed to Hannibal, Oswego Co., N. Y. (Q:1).

161 JOHN[5] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 27, 1752, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. 1784, drowned in Peaslee's mill pond at Weare, N. H. (H:48); m. Phebe (Colburn ?) (H:48); she m. (2) Ebenezer Sargent (E:157); b. ca 1754, at Weare, N. H. (E:157); d. ca 1828, at Chateaugay, N. Y. (E:157); son of Philip Sargent and Hannah Hadley (E:157); he m. (1) Esther Quimby, who d. Oct. 8, 1788 (E:157). Ebenezer Sargent was a soldier in the Revolution (E:157).

The surname of Phebe, wife of John[5] Flanders, has not been found recorded, but as John and Elijah Flanders both resided in Weare at about the same period, it seems possible that John's wife was Phebe Colburn, in view of the following evidence: The Genealogy of the Colburn-Coburn Families contains the statement that Elijah Flanders married Phebe Colburn, but this has been shown to be incorrect, for Elijah Flanders married Sarah Colburn (History of Weare). This is corroborated by the land deeds. The inaccuracy in the Colburn genealogy would suggest that a Phebe Colburn married a Flanders of Weare. Coupling this with the fact that the wife of John Flanders of Weare was Phebe ——, it is very likely that his wife was indeed Phebe Colburn, and perhaps also a sister of Sarah, wife of Elijah Flanders.

John Flanders served several enlistments in the Revolution; enlisted for 8 months in 1775, and was at the battle of Bunker Hill (H:48). He served in 1776 and in 1777, enlisted for 3 years; was discharged Jan. 22, 1780 (G:15).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Weare, N. H. (M:5):

543 i. Miriam[6], b. Aug. 22, 1775; m. Jan. 25, 1796, at Lebanon, N. H., to Moses Woodward, of Hanover, N. H. (O:61).
+544 ii. John[6], b. Nov. 3, 1777.
+545 iii. Benjamin[6].
546 iv. Jacob[6], b. Dec. 29, 1781.

164 SUSANNA[5] FLANDERS, b. 1744 (F:3); bp. June 2, 1745, at Exeter, N. H.; d. 1781 (F:3); m. Stephen Gale (F:3); b. 1739 (F:3); d. 1813, ae 74y. (F:3).

Stephen Gale served in the French & Indian wars; was a Major, and was on the alarm list; tradition says he was the first man over the wall at Ticonderoga. He was in Gilmanton, N. H., in 1780 (F:3). In 1781, Stephen Gale of Gilmanton, grants land in Gilmanton to Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, joiner (I:13).

Child (Gale) (F:3):

547 i. Stephen[6], b. 1778; d. 1864, ae 86y; m. 1816, Polly Eastman; removed from Gilmanton to Meredith, N. H.

165 Abigail[5] Flanders, bp. July 19, 1747, at Exeter, N. H.; d. June 18, 1803, in her 56th year (H:42); m. Nov. 10, 1768, to Col. Samuel Ladd (H:42); b. Feb. 21, 1744 (E:146); d. Apr. 9, 1801 (E:146); son of Edward Ladd and Catherine Thing (E:146).

May 11, 1797, Joseph Flanders of Gilmanton, sold land in Gilmanton to Samuel Ladd of Gilmanton (I:13).

Children (Ladd), (E:146):

548 i. Samuel[6], b. Dec. 4, 1769; m. Polly Davis (E:146).
549 ii. John[6], b. Mch. 25, 1771; m. Mehitable Gale (E:146).
550 iii. Edward[6], b. Mch. 22, 1773; m. Hannah Hoit (E:146).
551 iv. Isaac[6], b. Mch. 22, 1775; m. Lois Woodman (E:146).
552 v. Abigail[6], b. Jan. 1, 1777; m. Stephen Perley (E:146); she d. Oct. 3, 1798 (E:146).
553 vi. Jonathan[6], b. Jan. 21, 1779; m. Feb. 17, 1808, to Rachel Prescott (E:146).
554 vii. Dudley[6], b. Dec. 23, 1780; m. Abigail Plummer (E:146).
555 viii. Mehitable[6], b. Apr. 5, 1783; m. Stephen Perley (E:146).
556 ix. Thomas[6], b. May 26, 1785; m. Eunice Lyford (E:146).

166 Thomas[5] Flanders, b. 1747 (B:37), at Exeter, N. H.; d. June 6, 1804, ae. 57 y.; bur. Smith Meeting House cem., Gilmanton, N. H. (B:37); m. July 3, 1777, at Gilmanton, N. H., to Catherine (Dennett) Philbrick, by Rev. Isaac Smith (M:5); she was the widow of Joseph Philbrick, who was the first to die and be buried in the Rev. Mr. Smith's Meeting House cem., he d. May, 1776 (H:62); she was b. 1737, at Portsmouth, N. H. (H:62); d. in 1830, ae 93y (H:62).

July 22, 1784, Thomas Flanders, Jr. of Gilmanton, yeoman & Catherine, his wife, "who is administratrix of the estate of Joseph Philbrick, late of Gilmanton, blacksmith, who died intestate & whereas sd Philbrick bought a lott of land at Publick Vendue sold for delinquent taxes, land laid out to the original right of Nicholas Gilman & gave 11 sh. 4d for the same, it appears to us, Thomas & Catherine, that Brigade General Moses Hazzen, Esq., late of the Continental Army, is lawful owner of sd lot of land & for 39 sh. paid by sd Moses Hazzen we grant it to him." Signed Thomas Flanders, Catherine Flanders; wit. by Moses Coggswell & Joseph Badger (I:13).

Oct. 6, 1795, Thomas Flanders, Jr., & Catherine, wife of sd Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, Gentlemen, grant to Joseph Gale, blacksmith, of Gilmanton, the rights of dower of sd Catherine in the estate of Joseph Philbrick, late of Gilmanton (I:13). Feb. 27, 1796, Zebulon Gilman & Betty Gilman, wife of sd Zebulon, both of Waldron, Orange Co., State of Vermont, for $30 paid by Thomas Flanders, Jun. of Gilmanton, Gentleman, grant "all our right, title, interest, estate & demand unto a certain Pew in the Congregational Meeting House in Gilmanton, which was the original Pew of Joseph Philbrick, late deceased of Gilmanton" (I:13). In 1797, Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, Gentleman, granted land in Gilmanton to Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, husbandman (I:13).

Dec. 13, 1803, Catherine Flanders, relict of late Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, deceased, intestate, was granted a widow's dower, and an inventory was taken of the estate (K:10). The estate was administered, Jan. 21, 1805, and Catherine received $75 and 1 cow. The only heir of Thomas Flanders was notified and appeared, attended by his guardian. No objection was made (K:10).

According to the tombstone record, Thomas Flanders died June 6, 1804, and as the estate was administered, Jan. 21, 1805, it is probable that the date of Dec. 13, 1803, when the estate was inventoried, should be, Dec. 13, 1804.

Children (Flanders):

557 i. Joseph[6], b. 1778, at Gilmanton, N. H. (B:37); d. Jan. 9th, 1795, in the 17th year of his age (B:37); bur. Smith Meeting House cem. (B:37).

558 ii. Jonathan[6], b. 1797, at Gilmanton, N. H. (B:37); d. Nov. 14, 1859, ae 62 y., bur. Smith Meeting House cem., Gilmanton. "An honest man is the noblest work of God" (B:37).

167 JONATHAN[5] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; m. Sept. 1777, at Newton, N. H., by Rev. Jonathan Eames, to Betty Boyd of South Hampton, N. H. (M:5).

Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, enlisted Mch. 1, 1776, the return states that he was in the Continental service last year and has enlisted for another year (G:15). Oct. 15, 1775, Receipt for coat money by Jonathan Flanders, in Capt. Aaron Kinsman's co., Col. Stark's regiment (G:15).

Apr. 23, 1789, Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, husbandman, granted land in Gilmanton, to his son Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, "for 5 sh. in consideration of the love & affection I have for him" (I:13). Jan. 25, 1781, John Penhallow of Portsmouth, Esq. & Anthony Wibird of Braintree, Mass., clerk, for 48 pounds of Lawfull Money, paid by Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, grant a tract of land in Gilmanton (I:13). Feb. 1, 1796, Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, granted a Pew in church to Samuel Greeley (I:13).

Jan. 18, 1808, Enoch Danford of Meredith, yeoman, was allowed the guardianship of Eliphalet Flanders of Sanbornton, a minor, above 14 years of age, son of Jonathan Flanders of said Sanbornton, "who has absconded." Sureties: Stephen Danford and Nathaniel Danford (K:10).

The census of 1790 credits Jonathan Flanders of Gilmanton, with 2 males under 16 years, and 3 females.

Children (Flanders):

559 i. Hannah[6], date of birth unknown; m. Mch. 10, 1805, at Meredith, N. H., to Enoch Danford of Meredith (O:65). Hannah was of Gilmanton, and as Enoch Danford was made guardian of Jonathan's son, Eliphalet, it seems probable that Hannah was a sister of Eliphalet.

+560 ii. Eliphalet[6], b. 1792 (H:42; K:10).

168 JOSEPH[5] FLANDERS, bp. Mch. 30, 1760, at Exeter, N. H.; d. Estate inventoried, Oct. 20, 1807, at Meredith, N. H. (K:10); m. (1) Mch. 6, 1781, at Gilmanton, by Rev. Isaac Smith of Gilmanton, to Hannah Hutchinson (O:42); m. (2) Deborah —— (K:10); who m. (2) Jan. 14, 1808, at Meredith, N. H., to Capt. Simeon Taylor of Gilmanton, N. H. (O:65).

Joseph Flanders received land in Gilmanton from his father, Thomas Flanders, in 1789; in 1797, Joseph sold land in Gilmanton, to John Wadleigh of Gilmanton, and to Samuel Ladd of Gilmanton (I:13). It is probable that he removed to Meredith soon after this, for, on Oct. 16, 1807, the administration of his estate was granted to John Wadleigh of Gilmanton. Joseph is mentioned as "of Meredith," lately deceased. Oct. 20, 1807, his estate was inventoried at Meredith, he having died intestate. Deborah Flanders, given as widow of Joseph (K:10). The Census of 1790 gives Joseph of Gilmanton, one son under 16y and 4 daughters.

Children (Flanders), by 1st wife, Hannah Hutchinson:

+561 i. Joseph[6], b. Jan. 18, 1790, at Gilmanton, N. H. (M:5).

562 ii. John[6], b. Oct. 24, 1793, at Gilmanton, N. H. (Q:2); died young (Q:2).

178 SARAH[5] FLANDERS, b. June 21, 1730, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. prior to 1765 (E:182); m. (int. Nov. 29, 1751) Dec. 19, 1751, at Amesbury, Mass., to Joseph Cass of Epping (O:5); b. Aug. 21, 1731, at Kensington, N. H. (E:182); son of Jonathan Cass and Tabitha Ring (E:182). It is stated in the Cass Family record that,—"It is not certain, but indications point to the possibility that" this was the Joseph Cass, who married as his second wife, Miriam Flanders of Danville, N. H. Miriam Flanders, dau. of Daniel[4] Flanders and Elizabeth Kingsbury Eastman (and thus an own cousin of the Sarah Flanders, who was the first wife of Joseph Cass) married Joseph Cass, at South Danville, N. H., by license, Oct. 30, 1765. They were married by Rev. John Page (D:13).

Children (Cass), all by first wife (E:182; K:4):

563 i. Daniel[6], b. at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Oct. 11, 1801, by accident, being thrown from his horse (G:34); m. Nov. 9, 1780, to Abigail Fogg (G:34); b. 1751 (G:34); d. Aug. 11, 1844 (G:34). While at Raymond, N. H., Daniel Cass enlisted in Capt. Daniel Moore's co., Col. John Stark's regt., as private, service 3m, 8d, to Aug. 1, 1775; enlisted from Col. John Webster's regt. of militia into one of the three regiments allotted to New Hampshire, as their proportion of the Continental Army. He enlisted at Epping, Mar. 8, 1777, as corporal in Capt. Dearborn's co., Col. Alexander Scammell's regt.; discharged Mar. 8, 1780, as Sergeant (G:34). Abigail Fogg, wife of Daniel Cass, was a granddaughter of Stephen Fogg and Sally Flanders (G:34).

564 ii. Jonathan[6], b. Oct. 29, 1753, at Salisbury, Mass. (E:182); d. Aug. 14, 1839, at "Wakatomaka" (his estate), Co. of Muskingum, Ohio (E:182); m. Mary Gilman, dau. of Theophilus Gilman (E:59). Their son, Lewis Cass, b. Oct. 9, 1782, became Gov. of Mich. (E:59).

565 iii. Benjamin[6], date of birth unknown; m. Abigail Bartlett (E:182).

566 iv. Eleanor[6], date of birth unknown (K:4).

179 TIMOTHY[5] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 14, 1732, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Estate adm., Aug. 26, 1765, at Amesbury, Mass. (K:4); m. (int. Dec. 2, 1752), to Betty Fitts of South Hampton, N. H. (O:88); b. Feb. 5, 1733 (E:70); dau. of Richard Fitts and Sarah Brown (E:70).

Aug. 26, 1765, Jedidiah[4] Flanders, father of Timothy[5] Flanders, acted as administrator of his son Timothy's estate, and provided for Timothy's two sons, Levi and Daniel. Timothy's land adjoined that of Jacob Weed (K:4).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5):

567 i. Nancy[6], b. July 5, 1754; bp. Aug. 16, 1756, at South Hampton, N. H. (D:8); m. (int. Feb. 17, 1776), at Salisbury, Mass., to Isaac Tewksbury (O:88).

+568 ii. Levi[6], b. Mch. 25, 1758.

+569 iii. Daniel[6], b. May 12, 1760.

570 iv. Sarah[6], b. Sept. 11, 1762.

182 DANIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 5, 1737/8, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Sept. 28, 1817, at Hopkinton, N. H. (Bible rec. R:960); m. (int. Nov. 14, 1761) Dec. 10, 1761, at Amesbury, Mass., to Sarah Weed

(P:1); b. Feb. 28, 1742, at Amesbury (Bible rec., R:960); d. Mch. 30, 1831, at Hopkinton, N. H. (Bible rec., R:960).

Daniel Flanders was made executor of his father, Jedidiah[4] Flanders' will, and shared with his two brothers, Barnard and Jedidiah, the residue of the estate, after all legacies had been paid (K:4). As administrator of the estate, he entered a bill against the estate for the support of the sons of his brother, Timothy; Levi and Daniel, being minors (K:4).

Dec. 2, 1771, he purchased land in Hopkinton (I:7). In 1776, he signed the Association Test in Hopkinton. He enlisted in Capt. John Hale's co., Col. Henry Gerrish's regt., as Serg., Sept. 29, 1777; discharged, Oct. 25, 1777 (G:15). In 1788-89, the inhabitants of Hopkinton planned to build a new Meeting House, but were unable to agree as to its location. The Selectmen from the neighboring towns were finally called in to settle the dispute, and a committee was chosen to call upon the minister to make known to him the amount of salary which the town had voted to give him. Daniel Flanders was chosen as one of this committee (H:61).

Will of Daniel Flanders, of Hopkinton, husbandman: to Sarah Flanders, my beloved wife, all my household belongings and 1/2 my dwelling house, 2 cows, and 6 sheep. If any die or fail my son Timothy Flanders shall take them and let her have others. I order my son Timothy to cultivate and carry on my homestead according to the rules of good husbandry; to my son Moses Flanders of Enfield, husbandman, 130 acres of land where Moses now dwells, given to me by quit claim deed by Jonathan Quimby; to my sons Moses and Timothy Flanders I give my wearing apparel to be equally divided between them; to my daughter Molly Straw, wife of Samuel Straw, $100 to be paid by my son Timothy within one year of my decease; also the household belongings after the decease of my wife Sarah Flanders; to my son Timothy the whole of my homestead containing about 100 acres of land with buildings, also 22 acres of land in Henniker. I nominate Timothy Flanders executor of my estate. Apr. 13, 1810. Wit. by B. Dustin and Hepsibah Dustin. Aaron Greeley & David Carleton. Administrator appointed Oct. 28, 1817 (K:6). On Nov. 22, 1813, one of the witnesses of the will having died, Daniel republished his will. Oct. 28, 1817, as the executor, Timothy Flanders, named in the will, died before the death of the testator, the guardian of the principal & residuary legatees requested that the administration should be granted to Bodwell Emerson, sd guardian (K:6).

192 EZEKIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. May 25, 1741, at Amesbury, Mass.; d. will probated May 11, 1813 (K:10); m. July 7, 1763, at Kingston, N. H., by Rev. A. Tappan, to Mehitable Glidden (D:4); living in 1813 (K:10); dau. of Richard Glidden (I:10).

July 7, 1763, Mehitable Glidden of Brentwood, for 300 pounds, paid by John Glidden, gives up her right in the estate of Richard Glidden, late deceased, father of said Mehitable. Poplin, Oct. 29, 1765, the above Mehitable Glidden which is now Mehitebell Flanders by marriage to Ezekiel Flanders, ack. the above deed (I:10).

Ezekiel Flanders went to Alton, N. H., with his father, Daniel Flanders. The land deeds show that Daniel Flanders was residing in Poplin, in 1774. Poplin (now Fremont) was set off from Brentwood, in 1764, therefore, it was Ezekiel, son of Daniel, who married Mehitable Glidden, and not Ezekiel, son of Stephen[4] Flanders, as has been stated elsewhere. Further proof is given in his will.

WILL OF EZEKIEL FLANDERS

I, Ezekiel Flanders of Alton, husbandman, weak in body but of perfect mind & memory, thanks be given to God for the same, & calling to mind the mortality of my body & knowing that it is appointed for all men to die, do make & ordain this my last will & testament.

Principally and first of all I give & recommend my Soul into the hands of God who gave it & for my body I recommend it to the Earth to be buried in a Christian like & decent manner at the discretion of my executor nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shal receive the same again by the mighty power of God. I give to my dearly beloved wife, Mehitable Flanders, so much of my dwelling house including the third part she is entitled to by Law as to make one half of it & in addition to her thirds I hereby order my son Jedidiah Flanders, to procure & provide sufficient fire wood halled to the door of said house & cut sutable to burn in the chimney where she shall live in sd house, but in case my wife should marry again then she shall have no other priviledge than her thirds as the Law directs & after my wives decease, my daughters, Elizabeth Flanders & Judith Flanders & Mehitable Flanders (if not then married) are to have the use & improvement of my West Room in the South side of the house among them while single & the use of one third of the cellar under said house & liberty to bake in the oven in the other part of the house & the priviledge of drawing water out of the well near the house & my son Jedidiah Flanders is to find them firewood halled & cut for them in the same manner as he is ordered to do for his mother while she lives. Each daughter is to forfit the above named previledge as soon as she marries & each one to have her previledges till married.

I give to my well beloved sons Richard & Ezekiel Flanders & to my well beloved daughters Meriam Buzzell & Molly Buzzell one dollar apiece to Each of them to be paid one year after my decease by my son Jedidiah Flanders.

I give to my well beloved sons Daniel Flanders & Enoch Flanders $20 apiece to each of them at the end of one year after my decease to be paid by my son Jedidiah Flanders.

I give to my well beloved daughters Elizabeth Flanders, Judith Flanders & Mehitable Flanders $20 apiece to Each of them to be paid them when married by my son Jedidiah Flanders and at the end of ten years from the date of this will if my daughter Elizabeth Flanders is not married then my son Jedidiah Flanders is to procure and find a good cow for her to keep the same the whole of the time for the use of my said daughter Elizabeth till she marries & all the remainder of my estate both real & personal I give to my well beloved son Jedidiah Flanders to him and his heirs & assigns forever he paying all my just debts & funeral charges & all the Legacies & fulfilling All the things appointed for him to fulfill as is above named

And I do constitute, make & ordaine my son Richard Flanders my only & sole Executor to this my last will & testament 12 Feb. 1799

11 May 1813, probated; presented by Jedidiah Flanders (K:10).

Jan. 31, 1799, Ezekiel Flanders, of Alton, granted land in Alton to Richard Flanders and Ezekiel Flanders, Jr. (I:13).

Thomas Flanders, brother of Ezekiel Flanders, Sr., bought land in New Durham Gore (now Alton) in 1773. David Edgerly Flanders stated in a brief family genealogy, compiled by him, that his great grandfather Daniel Flanders moved to Alton, with his wife, his two sons, Ezekiel and Thomas, and one daughter, who had married Jonathan Coffin, and that they bought adjoining land. It is probable, therefore, that the first five children of Ezekiel Flanders were born in Poplin, as the first purchase of land in Alton was in 1773.

Children (Flanders):

+601 i. Richard[6], b. Oct. 30, 1764 (Q:2).
602 ii. Elizabeth[6], b. Aug. 6, 1765 (Q:2); unmarried in 1799 (K:10).
+603 iii. Ezekiel[6], b. Oct. 10, 1767 (Q:2).
604 iv. Miriam[6], b. Sept. 26, 1769 (Q:2); died young.
605 v. Miriam[6], b. Mch. 6, 1772 (Q:2); m. prior to 1799, to —— Buzzell (K:10).
+606 vi. Daniel[6], b. 1774 (B:82; K:10), at Alton, N. H.
607 vii. Enoch[6], b. Oct. 30, 1775 (Q:2), at Alton, N. H. Dec. 26, 1795, Enoch Flanders of Alton, purchased a lot of land in Strafford, Vt., from Jesse Ward of Henniker, N. H., and on Aug. 18, 1801, Enoch Flanders of Alton, sold land in Strafford, Vt., to his brother Daniel Flanders of Strafford (I:18).
+608 viii. Mary[6], b. June 2, 1778, at Alton, N. H. (Q:2).
609 ix. Judith[6], b. June 6, 1780, at Alton, N. H. (Q:2); unmarried in 1799 (K:10).
+610 x. Jedidiah[6], b. Aug. 24, 1782, at Alton, N. H. (B:103; Q:2).
+611 xi. Mehitable[6], b. June 30, 1785, at Alton, N. H. (B:37).

193 SARAH[5] FLANDERS, b. June 4, 1743, at Amesbury, Mass.; d. prior to 1777; m. Feb. 19, 1767, at South Hampton, N. H., to Jonathan Coffin (O:93); b. Oct. 1, 1747, at Newbury, Mass. (E:41); d. "Sacred to the memory of Maj. Jonathan Coffin who died Apr. 11, 1813, in the 66th year of his age," bur. old Flanders' cem., Alton, N. H. (B:103); he m. (2) Jane Brown (M:5).

No children have been found recorded for Sarah Flanders and Jonathan Coffin. As Jonathan Coffin had a son Benjamin b. Aug. 28, 1777, by his wife Jane Brown, Sarah Flanders doubtless d. prior to 1777. Jane Brown is bur. in the old Flanders' cem., at Alton, "Sacred to the memory of Mrs. Jane Coffin, relict of Maj. Jonathan Coffin, who died at Alton Feb. 27, 1818 in the 65th year of her age" (B:103). This old cemetery is in a very neglected condition, many of the stones broken and it is probable that Sarah, wife of Jonathan Coffin, was also buried there.

In 1773, Jonathan Coffin and Thomas Flanders bought 200 acres of land in New Durham Gore (now Alton) from John Moffatt, of Portsmouth, N. H. (I:13).

195 THOMAS[5] FLANDERS, b. May 19, 1749, at Amesbury, Mass.; d. Apr. 28, 1828, at Alton, N. H. (Q:3); m. (int. Dec. 2, 1775), at Salisbury, Mass., to Eunice Eastman (O:88); b. Jan. 4, 1756 (E:62); living in 1828, at Alton, N. H. (K:10); dau. of Ezekiel Eastman and Sarah Blaisdell (E:62).

Miss Ella Flanders of Franklin, N. H., and Mrs. Harry Augustus Smith of Branford, Conn., have very kindly contributed the following data on Thomas[5] Flanders. In 1894, David Edgerly Flanders, grandson of Thomas[5] Flanders, collected this material, and compiled a brief family genealogy, which is now owned by Mrs. Smith.

> "My grandfather Thomas, his brother Ezekiel and a sister who married John Coffin, with their father and mother moved from Amesbury to Alton and bought adjoining land. Thomas Flanders was a master ship-builder and was in the battle of White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1776. He died at Alton, Apr. 28, 1828. There is a tradition that grandfather had a maiden sister living in Amesbury. My great grandfather, Daniel, moved from Salisbury to Brentwood between 1755 and 1759."
> "Thomas was a ship carpenter and built vessels for the Government at Sheepscott River, Maine. As master builder, Thomas Flanders built the first decked vessel on Winnipesaukee Lake, and the white oak frame can be seen on the south shore. His house at Alton has a white oak frame. He had a fine farm and a fine orchard of excellent fruit. The latter part of his life was spent visiting his friends and relatives. He was a great favorite with the children of whom he was very fond. He was a man of a happy disposition and a noted entertainer with his stories of war, and witch craft, having a fine memory. He was 5 feet 7 inches in height; weight from 130 to 135 pounds. He was once pressed to accept a Major's commission, but declined. His manner of dressing was according to the Continental times; hat with a wide brim made fast on the sides of the crown; pants buttoned around the hips, no suspenders, vest long and drawn over the pants; coat of Continental fashion with large brass buttons. He was a true friend of the Republic and fought under Washington at White Plains, N. Y., and also in a second enlistment, at the battle of Trenton. Previously he was in the army round about Boston at the time of and after the battles of Concord & Lexington. Thomas married Eunice Eastman, a sister of Daniel Webster's and Ezekiel Webster's mother. She was a remarkable woman, could, by reading once, remember and repeat any event.
> "Thomas died in Alton and was buried in the North west corner of the yard, with a small stone marking his grave, with the letters T. F. on the top of the stone, the cemetery is on the West line of the homestead, built previous to 1776 and in good condition." (Eunice Eastman was a niece of the mother of Daniel Webster, not a sister, as given above.) (E:62).

Thomas Flanders was on the pay roll of Capt. Aaron Kinsman's co., Col. John Stark's regt., to the 1st of Aug., 1775; time of entry, May 8, 1775 (G:30). Thomas Flanders, private, Capt. John Moody's co., Col. Baldwin's regt. This regiment was in the Battle of White Plains, Oct. 28, 1776 (G:15).

"John Moffatt of Portsmouth for 120 pounds lawfull money, paid by Jonathan Coffin & Thomas Flanders, both of Poplin, ship carpenters, grants a tract of land called the Gore, bounded northwesterly on Gilmanton, northerly on Winnepisseokee Pond, easterly on New Durham & southwesterly on Barnstead, to contain 200 acres, part of lot No. 10, in the 3rd range of lots in sd Gore, bounded by the lot conveyed to Andrew Glidden to the lot conveyed to John Glidden, not to interfere with the lot of David Glidden. 30th Nov.

4th year of His Majesty's reign Annoque Domini, 1773" (I:13). Aug. 22, 1775, Thomas Flanders of the Gore, and Jonathan Coffin of the Gore, divided the land they purchased of John Moffatt of Portsmouth (I:13).

WILL OF THOMAS FLANDERS

"I, Thomas Flanders of Alton, husbandman, being in health of body & of sound disposing mind and memory, considering the uncertainty of this life & being desirous to settle my worldly affairs while I have strength and capacity so to do Do make & publish this my last will & testament

Firstly: I give & bequeath to my beloved wife Eunice Flanders the one third part of all my Real Estate & the whole of my dwelling house, a right in said house for my daughter Sarah, as hereafter mentioned, the above I give unto my said wife so long as she shall remain my widow & no longer I also give unto her one cow 5 sheep all my household furniture & 1/3 of my farming utensils reserving however unto my son Thomas Flanders the exclusive right of his dwelling house standing on my land:

Secondly: I give unto my son Thomas Flanders all my real & personal estate not herein otherwise disposed of subject to the incumbrances hereinafter mentioned

Thirdly: I give unto my daughter Sarah Flanders, singlewoman, a right to live in my dwelling house and to be supported out of the income of my estate by my son so long as she shall remain unmarried & no longer: if she shall marry I give unto her $50 to be paid by my son at her marriage day

Fourthly: I give unto my daughter Betsey Hodgdon, wife of Benjamin Hodgdon, one dollar in 1 year after my decease

Fifthly: I give unto my daughter Eunice Demick, wife of Benjamin Demick, one dollar to be paid one year after my decease

Sixthly: I give unto my daughter Eleanor Flanders singlewoman, $50 in one year after my decease

Seventhly: I give unto my daughter Hannah Libby, wife of Moses Libby, one dollar one year after my decease

Eighthly: I give unto my daughter Fannie Flanders, singlewoman, $50 one year after my decease

Ninthly & Lastly: I appoint my son Thomas Flanders executor of this my last will & testament 8 Sept. 1813

Will probated, 16 May 1828 (K:10)

617 vi. Fannie[6], b. Oct. 20, 1788; unmarried in 1813 (K:10).

+618 vii. Thomas[6], b. Feb. 13, 1791 (Q:2), or Aug. 15, 1792 (Mss. of Norman F. Edgerly, 1856, nephew of Nancy Edgerly, wife of Thomas Flanders).

221 ELIJAH[5] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 4, 1743/4, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Deborah Martin (F:13); b. July 4, 1745 (E:171); dau. of Jonathan Martin and Deborah Worthen (E:171).

No proof of this descent has been found, but by examining and eliminating all other possibilities, meager evidence has been obtained which indicates that Elijah[5] Flanders may have been the son of Ebenezer[4] Flanders. Ebenezer[4] had an unnamed son born in Salisbury in 1743/4, no record of whose death is given. This date of birth corresponds within a year to the birth of Elijah's wife, Deborah Martin. Nehemiah[4] Flanders, brother of Ebenezer[4], had a son, Hezekiah, who may have been the father of Elijah[6] Flanders of Norwich, Conn., for the correspondence of the names between the children of Elijah[6] of Norwich and those of Nehemiah[4] suggests a close relationship. As the name, Elijah, does not occur in the family previous to this time, it would indicate a relationship between Elijah[5] Flanders of Amesbury, and the line of Nehemiah[4], which could come only through Ebenezer[4], brother of Nehemiah[4]. And again, Elijah[5] and Hezekiah[5] were both ship caulkers. Several of the sons of Benjamin[4] Flanders, cousin of Ebenezer[4], located in Weare, N. H., as did Elijah[6], son of Elijah[5] Flanders. This descent for Elijah[5] Flanders is offered as the only apparent possibility in the lack of more positive evidence of his origin.

Elijah Flanders, Amesbury, private, Capt. Timothy Barnard's co. of Minute-men, of East Parish in Amesbury, which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775, service, 6 days (G:30).

Mch. 24, 1767, Thomas Parsons of Amesbury, for 9£, 12sh., paid by Elijah Flanders of Salisbury, caulker, grants land in Amesbury, near John Martin's place (I:5).

Apr. 10, 1759, return dated Newbury, Jarvis Flanders one of the men enlisted or impressed for his Majesty's service of the province of Massachusetts Bay, in the regiment of Joseph Gerrish, Esq., Col., to be put under the immediate command of His Excellency Jeffrey Amherst, Esq., General & Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's forces in No. America for the invasion of Canada (H:58). Serg. Jarvis Flanders was in Capt. Henry Morrill's co., Col. Caleb Cushing's regt., which marched Apr. 20, 1775, in response to the alarm of Apr. 19, 1775, service, 8 days (G:30).

Jarvis Flanders was a shipwright. In 1761, he purchased a dwelling house and land adjoining, from Dean Wadleigh, and in 1773, he purchased of John Wadleigh, "one compleat third part of a grist mill in Salisbury, known as Wadleigh's Mills, and one third part of the Water Course privileges and appurtenances & all commodities anyways belonging or appertaining to said mill & privileges & Tackles thereof" (I:5).

Feb. 19, 1778, Nehemiah Flanders, of Newburyport, cordwainer, and Hezechiah Flanders, calker, of Salisbury, gave bond for the administration of the estate of Jarvis Flanders, shipwright, late of Salisbury, deceased. The inventory of the estate showed a right to land in Warner, N. H. Accounts were paid to Hezechiah, Hophni & Jacob Flanders. Nehemiah Flanders was appointed administrator (K:4).

Children (Flanders), both b. Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

Apr. 10, 1759, Hezekiah Flanders was in Col. Joseph Gerrish's regt., under command of His Excellency Jeffrey Amherst, for the invasion of Canada (H:58). He was also a Minute-man in Capt. Jonathan Evans' co., Col. James Frye's regt., which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775; was in Camp at Cambridge, May 17, 1775, and in the company return for June and October, 1775; was engaged as Serg. in Capt. Jonathan Evans' co., Col. Samuel Johnson's regt., Aug. 18, 1777; discharged, Nov. 30, 1777 (G:30).

In 1790, Hezekiah Flanders of Salisbury, calker, & Martha, his wife, sold a piece of land in Salisbury, called Webster's Point, which they bought of Peter Russell in 1765 (I:5). In 1793, he was listed as one of the settlers on the Waldo Patent, at Duck Trap, now Northport & Lincolnville, Me. Nov. 14, 1793, his rights to the possession of this land were listed for investigation (G:9). He calked the "Jennie Miller," the first vessel built in Belfast, Me. (H:5).

In 1778, Hezekiah and his brother, Nehemiah Flanders, signed a bond for the administration of the estate of their brother, Jarvis Flanders (K:4).

Children (Flanders): in the census of 1790, he is listed as having 1 male over 16y, 2 males under 16y, and 1 female:

239 JOHN[5] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 17, 1743, at Newbury, Mass.; m. Jan. 27, 1769, at Chilmark, Mass., to Sarah Hillman (P:18); b. 1745 (H:29); dau. of Joseph Hillman and Keziah Norton (H:29).

In previous genealogies of the Flanders family, John Flanders, son of Richard[4] Flanders, is said to have married Hannah Bayley. Evidence is given under John[5] Flanders (No. 388), son of Prince[4] Flanders, that this is not true.

The History of Martha's Vineyard gives the following:— "John Flanders came to Chilmark as a young man, and engaged in farming, fishing, and piloting. Nothing was known of his parentage, but he was believed to have come from Salisbury, Mass., or Hampton, N. H. A John Flanders, son of David and Susanna Flanders, baptized Aug. 7, 1748, at South Hampton, may be identical with John Flanders of Chilmark." An examination of both the published and manuscript Church records of South Hampton was made, but no entry was found of this reputed baptism, nor has any record been found of the marriage of a David Flanders to a Susanna.

The identification of this John Flanders of Chilmark with John, son of Richard[4] Flanders is based upon the following evidence:—John, son of Richard[4] Flanders, was born at Newbury, Mass. in 1743; Sarah Hillman, wife of John Flanders of Chilmark, was born in 1745. John and Sarah (Hillman) Flanders had a son named Richard, also a daughter named Betsey. As John of Newbury was a son of Richard Flanders, and had a brother named Richard, and a sister Elizabeth, this significant correspondence of names may be added to the other points serving to identify John of Newbury with John of Chilmark; then, also, the brother Richard was in the seacoast defence, as was John of Chilmark. There is no other John Flanders on record who could have gone to Chilmark and married Sarah Hillman.

John Flanders, son of Richard[4] Flanders, was born at Newbury, Mass., only a few miles from Newburyport, a seacoast town located just across the river from Salisbury, Mass. The majority of the inhabitants of Newburyport were seafaring men, and several of John's cousins were of this calling; therefore it is quite probable that John would have also followed the sea. That this identification of John Flanders of Chilmark with John Flanders, son of Richard[4] Flanders, has not been previously made is due without doubt to the false supposition that this was the John Flanders who married Hannah Bayley.

John Flanders was on the pay roll of Capt. Benjamin Smith's co., in the seacoast establishment stationed at the Island of Martha's Vineyard from June 1 to Sept. 1, 1776, and from Sept. 1st to Nov. 21st, 1776 (G:30).

June 6, 1786, Daniel Fitts and Hophni Flanders & Mehitable, his wife, all of Salisbury, "make covenant of division of land in Salisbury, on which are two homesteads, which is to be divided as the fence now stands: Daniel Fitts relinquishes his claim to land between the fence and land of widow Judith Greele to Hophni Flanders & his wife, Mehitable; Hophni & Mehitable Flanders relinquish their claim to Daniel Fitts to land between the fence and that land formerly belonging to George Brown," also they release to Daniel Fitts the piece of land in Goodale Swamp (I:5). June 25, 1787, Hophni Flanders & Mehitable Flanders grant a parcel of land in Salisbury to Thomas Arnold bounded easterly by land Dea. Nathaniel Fitts gave to Mehitable Flanders by his last will & testament (I:5).

Jan. 19, 1797, Hophni Flanders of Warner, grants land in Warner to Ezekiel Flanders of Warner (I:7).

261 DANIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 31, 1738, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. 1784, at Warner, N. H.; m. Apphia Farrington (Q:4); she m. (2) Aug. 15, 1787, at Warner, Timothy Clough of Hopkinton, N. H. (O:105).

Daniel Flanders was one of those who agreed verbally, or by letter, to become a settler of Warner. On Aug. 9, 1763, the proprietors met at the house of Capt. Jonathan Barnard, Innholder in Amesbury. Daniel was living in Hawke (Danville), N. H. at the time, and sometime between 1763 and 1773, he removed to Warner, and lived at the Lower Village (H:46). Daniel Flanders was the first Town Clerk of Warner and held the office nearly to the time of his death. On May 14, 1771, it was voted at town meeting that Daniel Flanders "shall keep the Settlers Bond taken from Daniel Gales of Concord" (H:46).

Daniel Flanders was on the "Larm List" of Capt. Daniel Flood's co. "Daniel Flood Captain; thomas Rowell, first Lev[t]; Philip Flanders, 2 Lev[t]; Joseph Currier, Ensign." The list was sent to Major Chandler in Hopkinton, with the following message: "Sir I have sent you a return of my Company according to your ordrs wee mustered and Can not make out to Chuse any Serjants as yet as for fire arms wee have not got half Enough and where to get them wee know not our men Saith they Cannot get guns for they are not in the Country & Shall See you nex[t] week—this from yours to serve Daniel Flood" (G:15).

The History of Warner, by Walter Harriman, gives the following account of the cause of Daniel Flanders' death: "—Lightening struck one of the trees on Daniel Flanders place, broke it down and shivered it to pieces. Flanders hauled it home for firewood and in doing this, stuck a sliver into his hand. He got cold in this slight wound and died. From this circumstance most of the people believed and some believe to this day (1879), that the electric fluid poisons the wood and that a scratch from a splinter from such a tree, is sure death" (H:46).

May 28, 1786, Apphia Flanders of Warner, "widdo," was appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Daniel Flanders, deceased. She sold the land in Warner to Calvin Flanders (I:7). She was allowed to sell the land to pay the debts of the deceased (K:6). Mch. 16, 1789, Timothy Clough and Apphia Clough, his wife, and Sarah Flanders of Warner, and John Cass and Apphia Cass, his wife, sell land in Warner to Joseph Bartlett of Warner (I:7).

Children (Flanders):

+703 v. Stephen[6], b. July 17, 1775 (O:106).

262 JAMES[5] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 1, 1739/40, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Jan. 8, 1820, at Warner, N. H. (G:13); m. (1) Jan. 14, 1762, at Hampstead, N. H., by Rev. Henry True of Hampstead, to Ruth Powers (O:48); m. (2) Sept. 16, 1789, at Kingston, N. H., by Elihu Thayer, to Martha Greeley of East Kingston (D:4); m. (3) Jan. 6, 1793, at Warner, N. H., to Abigail (——) Waldron (O:105).

James Flanders removed from Danville to Warner some years later than his brother, Daniel, and settled on Burnt Hill." He had a small productive farm, which occupied his time in summer, and he made and mended shoes in the winter. He was much in public life; was in the State Senate nine or ten years, and in the House as many; while his education was scant, his judgment was sound and for many years he was the leading man in the Councils of the State. He was a ready and effective speaker and his influence in the halls of legislation was large." (H:46). In 1789 and 1791, he was representative from Warner to the General Court, and again in 1807; he was State Senator of New Hampshire from 1794-1799, and from 1800-1803 (G:13). He held many town offices, being Moderator of the Town Meeting in 1786, 1799, 1800-1802, 1810, and 1813; was Justice of the Peace in 1794; tax collector in 1788, and assessor in 1793 and 1794.

May 22, 1792, James Flanders was one of a committee who ordered a road laid out from Salisbury, N. H. to Sutton, N. H. Dec. 7, 1796, he signed a petition for the grant of a township in the northern part of the state, so that "our young men, the flower and pride of the state" need not "be obliged to seek for land to cultivate and places of residing without the bounds of the Union, in the provinces of Upper and Lower Canady" (G:15).

His land transactions were very numerous and extensive. He bought and sold land in Warner, Salisbury, and Sutton, N. H. (I:7), and in 1782, James Flanders of Warner and Chase Wiggins of Hopkinton bought from John Woodward of Lebanon, N. H., "one full right or share of land, being and lying in the Township of Turnersburgh" (now Chelsea, Vt.) "county of Orange & State of Vermont" (O:25). In 1807, he granted land in Warner to his sons, Philip, Jr., and Abner, both of Warner (I:7). Mch. 14, 1817, James Flanders of Warner, & "Abigail, my wife," grant land in Warner to Samuel Page of Warner (I:8).

Jan. 25, 1771, James Flanders was a grantee of Northumberland, N. H. This land was granted by Benning Wentworth under the usual conditions: "grantees to cut and clear a road; to settle 12 families there before 1772, and all white pine trees fit for masting to be preserved" (G:15).

Ezra Flanders went from Hawke (Danville), to Warner, N. H., and finally settled in Salisbury, N. H., a town bordering on Warner.

In the latter part of his life he went to Buxton, Me., being an early pioneer of that town (H:39).

June 7, 1794, he was chosen deacon of the Baptist Church in Salisbury, N. H. (H:41). Mch. 21, 1796, Ezra Flanders of Salisbury, tanner, granted land in Warner to Abigail Flanders, wife of James Flanders, of Warner, Esq. (I:7).

264 PHILIP[5] FLANDERS, b. June 22, 1746, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. Jemima Bennett (Q:4).

But little record has been found of this Philip Flanders. It is stated in the Town History of Warner, N. H., that he came from Hawke to Warner with his brother, Daniel, and settled on the Schoodach Road. In 1782, he was a selectman of Warner and in 1815, a representative to the General Court from Warner (H:46). He is listed as 2nd Lieut. in Capt. Daniel Flood's company of Militia (see Daniel[5] Flanders, No. 261). He is on the list of the Training soldiers of the town of Salisbury, N. H., drawn May 27, 1776; was in Col. J. Wyman's regiment, Capt. James Shepard's co., in July, 1776. This regiment was organized to reinforce the army in Canada (G:15). Feb. 6, 1777, he was mustered into Capt. Amos Morrill's co., Gen. Stark's regt. After the resignation of Gen. Stark, Col. Joseph Cilley of Nottingham was appointed to the command of the 1st N. H. regt. (G:15). Philip Flanders took part in the battles of Stillwater and Saratoga (H:7). He is also listed on the rolls from the town of Salisbury, N. H., from 1781 to 1782 (G:15).

He is listed in the census of 1790, as having one male under 16 years, and two females.

Children (Flanders) (G:2; Q:4):

721 i. Anna[6], b. May 18, 1777.
+722 ii. Philip[6], b. June 24, 1780.

265 CHRISTOPHER[5] FLANDERS, b. June 25, 1749, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Feb. 2, 1825, at East Hatley, P. Q., Canada (Q:4); m. Nov. 1770, to Joanna Smith (Q:4); she died Mch. 19, 1817, at East Hatley, P. Q. (Q:4).

Christopher Flanders came to Warner from Hawke with his brother, James Flanders. In 1780, he bought land in Salisbury, N. H. from Enoch Greeley of East Kingston, N. H., and in 1784, sold this land to his brother James (I:7). In 1796, Christopher Flanders, tanner, granted land in Warner to Ephraim Rand (I:7). In 1793, he was received as a member of the Antipedo Baptist Society in Warner (H:46). About 1800, he moved to Canada, and the following account of him is given in "Forests and Clearings," by B. F. Hubbard:

> Christopher Flanders, a native of New Hampshire, settled on No. 13, first Range of Hatley in 1801. He may justly be termed the apostle of the Free Will Baptist Church in Hatley. Though a layman, he possessed gifts of a remarkable order—was frequently called upon to officiate at funerals and to administer the consolation of religion to the sick and the dying. His labors, in connection with those of the Rev. J. B. Crawford, a Methodist missionary from New Hampshire, Rev. Avery Moulton, and others, from Stanstead, resulted in 1802, in forming the nucleus of the Free Will Baptist Church of after years.

A description of the difficulties encountered by these early settlers in Canada, will be found under—"Western Migration," in the preface to this generation.

293 ABNER[5] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 18, 1754, at Salisbury, Mass.; bp. Jan. 19, 1755, at South Hampton, N. H. (D:8); d. Nov. 26, 1843, at Northfield N. H. (Q:2); m. (int. Aug. 14, 1773), at Concord, N. H., to Sarah Chandler (O:29); b. Dec. 15, 1756, at Concord (E:120); d. Sept. 26, 1840, at Northfield, N. H. (Q:2); dau. of Daniel Chandler and Sarah Eastman (his 1st wife, only child by this marriage) (E:120).

Abner Flanders was a miller and lived on the Mill Road at Millville, a part of Concord, N. H. (E:28). The latter part of his life he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Nancy Hannaford, at Northfield, N. H. She was appointed administratrix of his estate, May 28, 1844 (K:7).

He signed the Association Test at Concord, and he also signed the "non-intercourse agreement," prohibiting trade with Great Britain. This agreement was made subsequent to blocking up the harbor of Boston (G:15). Abner Flanders was in Capt. Benjamin Emery's co., Col. Loammi Baldwin's regt., in the battle of White Plains, Oct. 28, 1776; he was also in Stark's brigade and fought at Bennington, Vt. Serg. Abner Flanders discharged Sept. 20, 1777 (G:15).

"As soon as it was decided to raise volunteers, Col. Hutchins mounted his horse and reaching Concord on the Sabbath, he walked up the broad aisle of the church, while Mr. Walker was preaching; Mr. Walker paused in his sermon and said: 'Col. Hutchins, are you the bearer of any message?' 'Yes,' replied the Colonel, 'Gen. Burgoyne, with his army, is on the march to Albany, Gen. Stark has offered to take the command of the New Hampshire men, and, if we all turn out, we can cut off Burgoyne's march.' Whereupon Mr. Walker said: 'My hearers, those of you who are willing to go, better leave at once.' Twenty-eight men from Concord were in Stark's brigade" (E:28).

Abner Flanders was in Col. Stickney's regt. at the Battle of Bennington, and the following account is given in Lyford's History of Concord, N. H.: "On the extreme right of the enemy's entrenched line, in that battle, was the Tory position, a heavy breastwork of logs. This stronghold, Col. Thomas Stickney of the eleventh with Col. Hobart of the twelfth regiment, which contained the Concord volunteers, was ordered to attack. In face of a sharp fire the two companies advanced briskly upon the enemy's position thro' an intervening cornfield from which, by Stark's orders, the men stripped each a husk and placed it beneath his hat band 'to prevent mistakes' in 'close work' with foes 'dressed like themselves' in everyday garb. The fortification was stormed and surrounded. The Tories fought obstinately, but, finally succumbed to the resistless onslaught of 'bayonet and clubbed musket' " (H:16).

Abner Flanders was placed on the pension roll, Feb. 19, 1833, ae 79 years (G:15). In 1782, he was in the Ranger service, in Capt. Webster's co., for the defence of the frontiers (H:16).

295 Micah[5] Flanders, b. May 15, 1757, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. (presum.) at Newport, N. H.; m. (int. Nov. 13, 1779) at Concord, N. H., to Mary Eastman of Concord (O:29); d. (presum.) ca 1808, at Newport, N. H.

Micah Flanders, ae 18, of Concord, N. H., husbandman, was a drummer in Capt. Gordon Hutchins' co., Col. John Stark's regt. Entered Apr. 30, 1775, and was on the pay roll for Aug., 1775. He was at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Sept. 28, 1777, Michael Flanders was on the pay roll of Capt. Joshua Abbott's co., Col. Henry Gerrish's regt., of N. H. Vols., which marched from Concord and adjacent towns to join the northern Continental Army at Saratoga. Aug. 5, 1778, Micajah Flanders is listed in the company of Ebenezer Webster, Col. Nichols' regt., Gen. Whipple's brigade of N. H. Vols., for the defence of Rhode Island (G:15). Michael and Micajah are undoubtedly variations of the name Micah, and refer to the same person. In the land transactions Micah is also given as Michael in one or two instances.

Micah Flanders was a blacksmith and husbandman. He settled first at Hopkinton, N. H., where he and his wife Mary were members of the Hopkinton Congregational Ch., in 1789-91 (H:61). He removed to Newport, N. H., and he and his wife, Mary, were admitted to the Congregational Ch. in Newport, by letter in 1795 (R:1103). Apr. 7, 1790, Michael Flanders of Hopkinton, blacksmith, granted land in Hopkinton, to Isaac Cheney, blacksmith (I:7). In 1796 and 1797, Micah Flanders of Newport, N. H., ironsmith, sold land in Newport (I:4).

That the following were children of Micah and Mary (Eastman) Flanders is based on presumptive evidence, with the exception of the first child, whose birth is entered at Concord, N. H. As has been shown above, Micah Flanders settled in Newport, N. H., prior to 1795. His name does not appear as a member of the Congregational Church at Hopkinton, N. H., after 1791, therefore, it is probable that he went to Newport shortly after this time. Due to the burning of the early town records of Newport, it has been impossible to obtain records pertaining to his family at this period. However, no other bearing the name of Flanders has been found to have resided at Newport as early as 1795, or for a number of years thereafter, so there can be little question, in the light of the evidence available, that they were the parents of these children.

Oliver Flanders was a miller and farmer in Concord until 1816, he then removed to West Plymouth, taking 10 of his children with him (H:35).

The will of Oliver Flanders of Plymouth, husbandman, is dated Aug. 11, 1834. It was probated Feb. 16, 1838. The will states that the farm and grist mills he had bought of Moses Flanders by deed of June 16, 1828, he had already conveyed to his son, Oliver, Jr., "for which he agrees to keep my wife and I until our death, also for which he shall afford to his three unmarried sisters, Betsey, Mary & Orilla, so long as they shall remain unmarried, comfortable homes." In case all three daughters married before his death he gives property to them all alike, "viz, Martha, Susan, Abigail, Ann, Betsey, Mary & Orilla." No further provision was to be made for his sons, Peter, Ebenezer, and Moses. The widow, Abigail Flanders, probated the will, and "by choice of the widow Abigail and the children, Peter, Mary & Orilla, Oliver Flanders, Jr., was appointed administrator" (K:5).

The will of Abigail Flanders, of Plymouth, is dated Aug. 3, 1840; probated Jan. 27, 1841. "As my daughters, Martha, Susan & Ann are married, and my sons, Peter, Moses & Oliver, can provide for themselves, therefore, I have deeded my two tracts of land to my daughters, Betsey & Orilla Flanders, share and share alike, and in case of the death of either of them, the survivor is to receive the whole estate" (K:5).

+772 i. Betsey[6], b. Oct. 21, 1792, at Hopkinton, N. H. (M:5).

773 ii. Philip[6], date of birth unknown; d. Dec. 2, 1796, at Concord, N. H. (M:5).

(The evidence that the following were the children of Philip Flanders is presumptive, it being based upon the locality in which they resided. Philip[5] Flanders is the only Flanders found recorded as living at Barnston, P. Q., who could have been the father of these children.)

774 iii. Susan[6], of Barnston, P. Q., m. Jan. 4, 1831, at Hatley, P. Q., by Rev. C. Jackson, Ch. of Eng., Charleston, P. Q., to Elias Lee Paul of Stanstead (M:1); son of James Paul and Mary Lee (G:55).

+775 iv. Luther[6], of Barnston, P. Q. (M:1).

776 v. George P.[6], m. Apr. 10, 1838, at Stanstead, P. Q., by Rev. A. Moulton, Free Will Baptist, of Stanstead, to Miss Mary Eliza Jones of Ascot, Sherbrooke twp., P. Q.; wit. by Philip Flanders and William Jones (M:1).

777 vi. Lucinda[6], of Barnston, P. Q., of minor age, m. Sept. 18, 1838, at Hatley, P. Q., by Rev. C. Jackson, Ch. of Eng., to Laurent La Plantiff (D:3; M:1).

298 ISAIAH[5] FLANDERS, b. July 8, 1753, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Sept. 20, 1835, at Warner, N. H.; bur. Warner cem., ae. 82y (B:90); m. Aug. 12, 1773, at South Hampton, N. H., by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes of South Hampton, to Mary Morrill (Q:1); b. 1746 (B:90); d. Oct. 2, 1818, at Warner, N. H., bur. Warner cem., ae. 72y (B:90).

In 1777, Isaiah Flanders received land in Warner, N. H., from his father, Jeremiah Flanders, and settled in Warner Lower Village (1:7; H:46). He refused to sign the Association Test at South Hampton (G:15). In 1797, Isaiah Flanders of Warner, granted land in South Hampton, "at a place called Chair Hill," to his father Jeremiah Flanders (1:11). In 1813, he granted land in Warner to Stephen Tewksbury, of Warner (1:8).

Will of Isaiah Flanders of Warner:—"to daughter Anna Flanders 2/3 of my personal property; to daughter Mary Flanders, 1/3 of my personal property; to daughter Betty Hunt, wife of Timothy Hunt, 4 acres of land in Warner; to daughter Dolly Dike, wife of Samuel Dike, 4 acres of land in Warner; to daughter Mehitable Morrill, wife of True Morrill, 3 1/2 acres of land in Warner; to daughter Sally Tewksbury, single woman, 1 dollar." Sally Tewksbury was made executrix of the will, dated Dec. 6, 1824; probated "4th Tuesday in Oct. 1835." Sally Tewksbury, widow, and Benjamin Evans, were bonded for the administration of the estate. Nathaniel Flanders, Gentleman, was one of those appointed to inventory the estate (K:7).

Children (Flanders):

778 i. Betty[6], b. Mch. 29, 1774, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); m. Timothy Hunt (K:7).

779 ii. Dolly[6], b. Jan. 21, 1776, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); m. Apr. 16, 1799, at Warner, N. H., to Samuel Dike (Q:1. K:7).

+780 iii. Mehitable[6], b. Aug. 17, 1779, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

781 iv. Anna[6], b. Apr. 16, 1782, at Warner, N. H. (O:105); d. Oct. 22, 1850, at Warner, bur. Warner cem., ae. 68y (B:90). Never married.

+782 v. Sarah[6], b. Apr. 18, 1785, at Warner, N. H. (O:105).

+783 vi. Mary[6], b. Mch. 22, 1788, at Warner, N. H. (O:105).

299 JEREMIAH[5] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 5, 1755, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. will probated June 24, 1845 (K:7); m. (int. May 30, 1778) July 30, 1778, at Salisbury, Mass., to Miriam George (O:88a); b. Aug. 4, 1749 (1759 ?), at Salisbury, Mass. (O:55). This date of birth, as entered on the Hopkinton Town Records, is doubtless erroneous. The birth of Jeremiah is entered on these records as 1744, therefore it is probable that an error was also made in Miriam's birth entry, and it should be 1759. She was living in 1845, as she is mentioned in her husband's will. If the birth date of 1749 is correct, she would have been 96 years old at the time of her husband's death, and past 50 years of age when her last child was born.

The will of Jeremiah Flanders of Hopkinton, was dated Feb. 3, 1834; probated June 24, 1845. Bequests were made to his wife, Miriam, and to his daughters: Hannah Rogers, wife of Obadiah Rogers, and Miriam Straw, wife of Jacob Straw; the residue of his estate was given to six of his sons: Cutteon Flanders, Jeremiah Flanders, Moses Flanders, Thomas Flanders, Nathaniel Flanders and James Flanders; "I have heretofore given a full share to my son Micah." His son Nathaniel was appointed executor (K:7).

Jeremiah Flanders resided in South Hampton in 1776, and refused to sign the Association Test (G:15). Later he removed to Hopkinton, and signed a petition there in 1789, protesting against the ordination of the Rev. Jacob Cram, who was not popular with the townspeople because of his religious views (G:15).

Children (Flanders), births all recorded at Hopkinton, N. H., at the request of Jeremiah Flanders (O:55):

+784 i. Cutteon[6], b. Apr. 30, 1779, at South Hampton, N. H.
+785 ii. Hannah[6], b. Oct. 20, 1781, at Salisbury, Mass.
+786 iii. Jeremiah[6], b. Aug. 18, 1783, at South Hampton, N. H.
+787 iv. Moses[6], b. Aug. 28, 1786, at Hopkinton, N. H.
+788 v. Thomas[6], b. Oct. 11, 1788, at Hopkinton, N. H.
+789 vi. Micah G.[6], b. May 4, 1791, at Hopkinton, N. H.
+790 vii. Nathaniel[6], b. Jan. 20, 1794, at Hopkinton, N. H.
+791 viii. Meriam[6], b. Apr. 22, 1797, at Hopkinton, N. H.
+792 ix. James M.[6], b. Dec. 20, 1799, at Hopkinton, N. H.

302 THOMAS[5] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 12, 1763, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Sept. 5, 1852, at South Hampton, bur. old South Hampton cem., ae 89y (B:77); m. (1) (int. Apr. 27, 1793) at Salisbury, Mass., to Hannah Fowler (O:88); b. June 1, 1771, at Salisbury, Mass. (P:49); d. Apr. 12, 1803, at South Hampton, bur. old South Hampton cem. "in her 33rd year" (B:77); dau. of Ezekiel Fowler and Meriam Webster (P:49); m. (2) (int. Dec. 22, 1803) Jan. 12, 1804, at Kingston, N. H., to Priscilla Bartlett of Hawke (D:4); b. Mch. 10, 1765 (M:5); d. Oct. 30, 1840, at South Hampton, N. H., bur. old South Hampton cem., ae 75y (B:77); dau. of George Bartlett and Priscilla Tuxbury (M:5).

When the first Baptist Church was organized in Amesbury and Salisbury, their meetings were held, at first, in the 3rd story of the house of Jacob Lord. This was designated by their enemies as "The Lord's Garret" (H:1). Sept. 27, 1780, the "Brethren of Salisbury, Amesbury, and South Hampton, then numbering 24 persons, were organized into a branch of the Brentwood Church. Frequent meetings were held (1770-1780) in the different private residences of the brethren of South Hampton. This was the beginning of the Anabaptists in Salisbury and Amesbury, but the Pedo-baptists had existed previous to this time." Jeremiah Flanders, Thomas Flanders, Mary Flanders, and Mehitable Flanders were members of this branch of the Brentwood Church. The church was organized, Sept. 14, 1821, and among the members then, were—Deacon Thomas Flanders, Priscilla Flanders, Nathaniel Flanders, Judith Flanders, Samuel Flanders, Joseph Flanders, Susannah Flanders, and Betsey Flanders (D:11).

In his will, Deacon Thomas Flanders bequeathed to his son, Ezekiel, lands in Salisbury, near Rocky Hill, on condition that he paid the notes of hand he had given to Ezekiel and Mary Fowler, Daniel Webster, and Hannah Flanders; bequests were made to his sons,Thomas and Jeremiah, to his daughter, Priscilla,wife of Nathaniel Flanders, to his son, George, and to his son, Ezra. Two thirds of the residue of the estate, he gave to his son, Ezra,—"on condition he carefully support my sister Molly Flanders during her life." One third of the residue of the estate was given to his daughter Elizabeth Morrill, wife of Benjamin Morrill. The will was dated Feb. 22, 1845; probated Sept. 15, 1852 (K:9).

Children (Flanders), all b. at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93):

+793 i. Ezekiel[6], b. June 12, 1794.

794 ii. Elizabeth[6], b. Jan. 19, 1796; d. May 10, 1880, at Old Orchard, Salisbury, Mass., ae 84y, 3m, 22d (O:88); m. (int. Dec. 28, 1844) Jan. 12, 1845, at South Hampton, N. H., to Benjamin Morrill, 3rd (O:93); b. Aug. 16, 1798 (E:166); d. Feb. 5, 1885, ae 87y (E:166); son of Benjamin Morrill and Abigail —— (E:166).

+795 iii. Thomas[6], b. Aug. 16, 1797.

+796 iv. Jeremiah[6], b. Sept. 26, 1799.

+797 v. Ezra[6], b. Sept. 7, 1801.

By second wife:

+798 vi. Priscilla[6], b. Sept. 18, 1804. (See Nathaniel[6] Flanders, No. 801.)

799 vii. George[6], b. Feb. 24, 1807; m. Jan. 3, 1831, at Salisbury, Mass., to Mary Woodman of South Hampton, N. H. (O:88).

304 Nathaniel[5] Flanders, b. Nov. 21, 1768, at South Hampton, N. H.; m. (int. June 6, 1795) at Amesbury, Mass., to Judith Tewksbury of Amesbury (O:5).

Nathaniel Flanders resided at Cornville, Me. (Q:1). Oct. 27, 1825, Nathaniel Flanders of South Hampton, granted to Molly Flanders, wife of Col. Merrill Flanders of South Hampton, "my home farm in South Hampton, extending to the driftway from the road through the premises of my brother, Thomas Flanders"; Judith, wife of Nathaniel Flanders, relinquished her dower rights (I:11):

Children (Flanders), all b. at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

800 i. Judith[6], b. Sept. 19, 1796.

+801 ii. Nathaniel[6], b. Oct. 31, 1798.

802 iii. John[6], b. Apr. 28, 1801.

803 iv. Hannah[6], b. Apr. 23, 1803; d. July 26, 1875, at Kensington, N. H., "of the measles," ae 72y (M:5). Never married.

804 v. Betty Fowler[6], b. Apr. 27, 1806.
805 vi. Sally[6], b. May 16, 1812.
806 vii. Clarissa[6], b. Oct. 21, 1817.

306 NANCY[5] FLANDERS, b. 1769; d. Nov. 18, 1833, at Sanbornton, N. H., ae 64y (H:42); m. Jan. 28, 1796, at Loudon, N. H., to Simeon Cass (H:42); b. Apr. 7, 1771 (H:42); d. Oct. 9, 1847, ae 76y, 6m (H:42), son of Moses Cass and Sarah (Ring) Berry (H:42).

Children (Cass) (H:42):

807 i. Polly[6], b. Apr. 5, 1798; d. Feb. 12, 1802, ae 3y, 10m (H:42).
808 ii. Betsey[6], b. Feb. 24, 1800; d. Feb. 4, 1802, ae 2y (H:42).
809 iii. Mary Flanders[6], b. Jan. 11, 1802; d. Oct. 21, 1821, ae 19y, 9m (H:42).
810 iv. Moses Flanders[6], b. Mch. 14, 1804; d. Dec. 7, 1861, at Marcellus, 8 miles from Portage City, Wis., ae 57y, 9m (H:42); m. Nancy A. Smith, who d. Sept. 1, 1879, ae 70y (H:42). All of their sons were in the Civil War (H:42).
811 v. Betsey F.[6], b. Feb. 1, 1806; m. (1) Joseph P. Eaton, son of Jonathan Eaton (H:42). After her husband's death, she left her home in Sanbornton, Sept. 28, 1858, and went to Wisconsin to live with her brother, Moses. She m. (2) Apr. 3, 1861, Samuel Seeley Willard (H:42).
812 vi. Jonathan[6], b. Mch. 25, 1808; d. Sept. 29, 1830, ae 22y, 6m (H:42).

307 MOSES[5] FLANDERS, b. at South Hampton, N. H.; d. administration of estate granted Feb. 22, 1853 (K:7); m. (1) Mch. 2, 1795, at Atkinson, N. H., to Elizabeth Stevens of Plaistow, N. H. (O:10); living in 1826 at Loudon, N. H. (I:8); m. (2) Olive Libby. The Libby Genealogy states that Olive Libby married Thomas Flanders of Gilmanton, but, as the administration of Moses Flanders' estate was made at Gilmanton and the name of his wife was Olive Flanders, it seems probable that she was Olive Libby, especially as no Thomas Flanders has been found, who could have married Olive Libby. She was the daughter of Ephraim Libby and Judith Page (E:150).

May 10, 1810, Moses Flanders of Loudon, blacksmith, granted land in Kingston to Levi Bartlett, Esq. of Kingston, Elizabeth Flanders, wife of Moses, relinquished her dower rights (I:8). In 1826, Moses Flanders of Loudon, blacksmith, sold land in Loudon with "buildings thereon" to Lewis Flanders of Loudon, clothier; Betsey Flanders, wife of Moses Flanders, yielded her dower rights. (I:8).

Feb. 22, 1853, Olive Flanders, widow of Moses Flanders, late of Loudon, deceased, was granted the administration of the estate of Moses Flanders. June 2, 1853, Mary F. Ring and Richard W. Ring, and Daniel H. Flanders received their shares in the estate of Moses Flanders, late of Loudon, at Gilmanton; June 13, 1851, Moses Flanders was apportioned his share in the estate of Moses Flanders, late of Loudon, deceased, and received the same on June 13, 1853, at Gilmanton (K:7).

Children (Flanders):

813 i. Mary[6], date of birth unknown; m. Oct. 28, 1824, at Loudon, N. H., to Richard W. Ring (O:63).

814 ii. Moses[6], b. Apr. 1805, at Loudon, N. H. (M:5); d. Dec. 9, 1885, at Loudon, ae 80y, 8m (M:5); m. Mary Page (Q:1); d. Apr. 25, 1856, bur. Smith Meeting House cem., Gilmanton, N. H., ae 55y (B:37).

+815 iii. Daniel H.[6], b. 1807, at Loudon, N. H. (B:3).

311 Sally[5] Flanders, date of birth unknown; d. May 31, 1837, at Jersey City, N. J. (E:93); m. Jan. 21, 1805, at Loudon, N. H., to Gen. Daniel Hoyt of Sandwich, N. H. (E:93); b. Oct. 26, 1778, (E:93); son of Joseph Hoyt and Betsey Folsom (E:93).

Daniel Hoyt was a representative and a Senator of New Hampshire (E:93).

Children (Hoyt) (E:93):

816 i. Eliza Flanders[6], b. Apr. 9, 1806.

817 ii. Julia Maria[6], b. Nov. 15, 1807; m. 1832, to Enoch Piper Sherman (F:5); b. 1810 (F:5); d. 1834 (F:5); she d. 1884 (F:5).

818 iii. Albert Gallatin[6], b. Dec. 13, 1809.

819 iv. Otis Gray[6], b. Aug. 12, 1811; d. ae 1 day (E:93).

820 v. William H.[6], b. Jan. 8, 1813.

324 Andrew[5] Flanders, date of birth unknown; m. (1) Abigail —— (O:18); may have m. (2) Feb. 5, 1793, at Salisbury, Mass., to Sally Jackman (Q:1).

No actual statement has been found that this Andrew Flanders was a son of Jacob[4] Flanders. Andrew Bohonon was a brother-in-law of Jacob[4] Flanders, and they were closely associated in Boscawen, therefore, Jacob[4] Flanders might well have named a son after his brother-in-law. The name, Andrew, has not previously appeared in the Flanders family.

Child (Flanders) (O:18):

821 i. Rebecca[6], b. Jan. 31, 1772, at Salisbury, N. H.; d. Oct. 8, 1865, at Bradford, Vt., ae 93y, 6m, 9d (O:18).

327 Onesiphorus[5] Flanders, b. Dec. 20, 1761, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. Nov. 10, 1839, at Haverhill, N. H., bur. East Haverhill cem., ae 79y, 11m, 10d (B:42); m. (int. July 27, 1782, at Boscawen, N. H.) (O:15). Varying dates are given for the marriage: Apr. 20, 1778, in the Pension application of Onesiphorus Flanders, filed at Washington, D. C., while in the New Hampshire Vital Statistics, at Concord, N. H., the following record is given: Onesiphorus Flanders m. Oct. 4, 1785, at Salisbury, N. H., by Jonathan Searles of Salisbury, to Sarah Foster (M:5). As the int. of marriage was filed in 1782, it seems probable that the marriage took place in 1782, also. Sarah Foster was b. Apr. 2, 1757 (B:42); d. Aug. 24, 1849, bur. East Haverhill, N. H. cem., ae 92y, 4m, 22d (B:42).

It is stated in the Pension application that Onesiphorus Flanders was commonly called Seth; that he enlisted from Boscawen in 1776, and lived there for 22 years, then moved to Coventry (now Benton), N. H., and 4 years later moved to Haverhill, N. H. (T:1).

July 4, 1780, Seth Flanders is listed in Capt. Ebenezer Webster's Co., Col. Moses Nichols' regt., for service at West Point; discharged Oct. 25, 1780 (G:15). He was placed on the pension roll Mch. 21, 1834, ae 74y (G:15).

Children (Flanders):

+822 i. Joseph[6], b. 1782 (H:25).

823 ii. Sally[6] (presum. dau. of Onesiphorus and Sally); m. (int. Dec. 25, 1801) Mch. 7, 1802, at Coventry, N. H., by Obadiah Eastman, J. P., to Ira Martin of Bradford, Vt. (O:14).

+824 iii. John[6], date of birth unknown (J:9).

825 iv. Naomi[6] (presum. dau. of Onesiphorus and Sally, as her name suggests that she may have been named for her grandmother, Naomi (Darling) Flanders; m. (int. Nov. 11, 1812), at Haverhill, N. H., to Benjamin Page of Haverhill (O:51).

826 v. Mehitable[6], (presum. dau. of Onesiphorus and Sally); m. (int. Aug. 11, 1815), at Haverhill, N. H., to James Pike (O:51).

827 vi. Sukey[6], (presum. dau. of Onesiphorus and Sally); m. (int. May 18, 1817), at Haverhill, N. H., to David Quimby of Haverhill (O:51).

334 EZEKIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. May 10, 1743, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. June 1, 1825, at Boscawen, N. H. (H:7); m. Nov. 20, 1765, at Boscawen, to Jerusha Goodwin of Concord, N. H. (Q:1).

Ezekiel Flanders was on the pay roll of Capt. Peter Kimball's Co., Col. Thomas Stickney's regt., Gen. Stark's brigade, raised out of the 15th regt. of N. H. Militia, July 20, 1777, which company joined the Northern Continental Army at Bennington and Stillwater. Ezekiel Flanders engaged Aug. 24, 1777; discharged, Sept. 25, 1777 (G:15). He signed the Association Test in Boscawen, 1776 (G:15).

June 9, 1782, Ezekiel Flanders of Boscawen, granted half his "home place" in Boscawen to Enos Flanders of Boscawen. Jan. 1, 1799, Ezekiel Flanders of Boscawen, granted all his homestead farm in Boscawen, bordering on the land of Enos Flanders and that of Aaron Flanders to his son, Israel Flanders (I:7).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15):

+828 i. Mary[6], b. Nov. 20, 1766.
+829 ii. Sarah[6], b. Feb. 15, 1768.
+830 iii. Martha[6], b. Sept. 23, 1769.
+831 iv. Susanna[6], b. Aug. 16, 1771.
+832 v. Anna[6], b. Jan. 3, 1774.
+833 vi. Ezekiel[6], b. Aug. 1, 1775.
+834 vii. Lydia[6], b. Jan. 20, 1777.
835 viii. Betty[6], b. Dec. 28, 1778; m. John Holmes (Q:2).
+836 ix. Israel[6], b. Nov. 13, 1780.
+837 x. Benjamin[6], b. Aug. 11, 1782.

335 ENOS[5] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 8, 1745, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. date unknown, bur. at Sheffield, Vt. (G:35); m. (int. —— 15, 1769), at Boscawen, N. H., to Sarah Langley of Durham, N. H. (O:15); d. 1827-8 (Q:1).

Enos Flanders signed the Association Test in Boscawen, 1776, and when soldiers were called for the defence of Ticonderoga from the threatened attack of Sir Guy Carleton, Enos Flanders enlisted (H:7). He served as private in Capt. John Hale's co., Lt. Col. Henry Gerrish's regt. of N. H. Vols., which company marched to join the Northern Continental army at Saratoga. Engaged Sept. 28, 1777; discharged Oct. 25, 1777 (G:15). In 1782, he purchased half of his brother, Ezekiel Flanders' "home place" in Boscawen, and later moved to Vershire, Vt. (I:7; H:7). The latter part of his life was spent in Sheffield, Vt. Feb. 1, 1802, he bought lot No. 24, in the 3rd division of land in Vershire, Vt., from Ebenezer Senter of Vershire (I:15). He bought a 2nd division lot in Vershire Dec. 21, 1801. Enos was living in Boscawen when he made these purchases of land in Vershire, and apparently, moved there in 1802-3, as his next deed of land is dated Dec. 3, 1803, and he was then living in Vershire (I:15). In 1808, he sold his land in Vershire and he and his son, Enos, Jr., moved to Sheffield, Vt. (I:15).

Children (Flanders):

+838 i. Enos[6], b. July 17, 1770, at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15).
839 ii. Samuel[6], b. Feb. 7, 1773, at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15); m. (int. Oct. 1, 1796) Nov. 17, 1796, at Boscawen, N. H., to Hannah Langley of Boscawen (O:15). Dec. 3, 1803, Samuel Flanders purchased land in Vershire adjoining the land owned by his brother Enos Flanders. This land together with all the buildings thereon, was sold to Enos Flanders, Jr., by Samuel Flanders in 1805 (I:15).
840 iii. Benjamin[6], b. Dec. 21, 1775, at Boscawen, N. H. (H:52); d. Feb. 14, 1853, at Boscawen, ae 77y (H:52); m. (int.

Mch. 30, 1800) Nov. 13, 1800, at Boscawen, by Rev. Samuel Wood, to Sarah Trussell (M:5).

Dec. 13, 1844, at Boscawen, bur. little cem., Boscawen, ae 93y (B:8); dau. of Jesse[4] Flanders and Ruth Webster (O:15).

Aaron Flanders refused to sign the Association Test. "It is probable that Mr. Flanders' refusal to sign was not from any hostility to the cause of liberty, nor from fear of the consequences, but from his temperament as an individual. He was a person who found pleasure in being on the side opposite to the majority, no matter what the question" (Town History of Boscawen) (H:7).

Sept. 27, 1785, Aaron Flanders purchased land in Boscawen from Samuel Atkinson of Boscawen. This land was bounded southerly on the corner of Ezekiel Flanders' land, and on the northwest corner by the land belonging to Enos Flanders; thence to the Great Pond and easterly to a rock between John Flanders' land and the premises (I:8). In 1821, Aaron Flanders of Boscawen, husbandman, granted land in Boscawen, once owned by John Flanders and now improved by Margaret Flanders, to Jonathan Morse of Newburyport, Mass. (I:7). Apr. 25, 1826, Aaron Flanders of Boscawen, granted land in Boscawen, called the Fiske lot, to Mehitable Flanders of Boscawen, singlewoman (I:8).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15):

877 xi. Webster[6], b. May 25, 1788;. living Dec. 18, 1861, at Bangor, N. Y. (I:26); m. Olive Foster (Q:1); dau. of William Foster and Olive —— (I:12; I:26). Webster Flanders was living in St. Albans, Vt., in 1827, as he was appointed administrator of his brother, John Flanders' estate on Mch. 16, 1827. In 1829, he bought land in St. Albans from Phineas Flanders (I:12). In 1841, Webster and Olive Flanders bought land in St. Albans from Cornelius Stilphen (I:12). On Oct. 25, 1848, a suit was brought by Alanson L. Wright, for real estate awarded to Olive Foster, as her dowry from William Foster's estate (I:12). May 22, 1860, John B. Brown and Rebecca granted land in Bangor, N. Y., to Olive Flanders of St. Albans. Dec. 18, 1861, Alanson A. Hawkins and Jerusha O., his wife, of Bangor, N. Y., agreed to care for Olive and Webster Flanders during their lives, and Webster Flanders and Olive Flanders, his wife, and Olive Foster, all of Bangor, sold their property in Bangor to Alanson A. Hawkins (I:26). No issue from this marriage (Q:1).

343 JOHN[5] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 13, 1752, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. Apr. 1, 1827, at Boscawen, N. H., ae 75y (O:15); m. Elizabeth (Jackman) Stevens, wid. of John Stevens of Boscawen (H:7); b. July 4, 1758 (Q:1); d. 1834 (Q:1); dau. of George Jackman and Martha Webster (Q:1).

The following death entry is given in the Boscawen Town Records: "Phinehas, son of John Stevens, late of Boscawen, deceased, and Elizabeth his then wife, but now the wife of John Flanders, departed this life, April the eleventh, 1788 in the fourteenth year of his age" (O:15).

"The news of the battle of Lexington reached Boscawen on the 20th of April, and on the 21st, 16 men were on the march for Lexington, under Capt. Henry Gerrish. Of this 16 were John Flanders, Dea. Jesse Flanders, and David Flanders" (H:7). John Flanders is on the Roll of Honor for the town of Boscawen, as having taken part in the battle of Bunker Hill (H:7). Apr. 24, 1776, he enlisted in Capt. Abbot's co., Gen. Stark's regt. (G:15). He enlisted in Capt. Henry Dearborn's co., Gen. Arnold's detachment for the expedition to Canada, was captured in the attack on Quebec, and kept a prisoner for more than seven months, two of which he was kept in irons. He was freed from his irons on the first of March, 1776, by order of the British commander, but continued in prison until the 1st of the following August, when he was permitted to secure a parole and return home. He shipped, and on the 25th of Sept., landed in New York; from thence he travelled on foot and reached his native town after an absence of eighteen months (H:14).

While in prison he kept a diary, which has been in part preserved. It is mostly written in cipher, the key to which has been discovered (H:7).

Diary of John Flanders: "Jeny 3rd, 1776 Cloudy & snowy in the morning & cleared off at Night we had 1 pint of water 1 pound of Boiled Rice 1 pound of Brown Bread 3/4 pound of Pork.

April 1 the first day of A I was put in irons with the rest of my company and many others" (H:7).

In 1777, John Flanders joined Capt. Peter Kimball's co., Col. Thomas Stickney's regt., which company joined the northern Continental army at Bennington and Stillwater (G:15). He was also in Capt. Ebenezer Webster's co., Col. Nichols' regt., Gen. Whipple's brigade for the defence of Rhode Island (G:15). "The men hereafter named have Received the Savrill sums set against each of thare Names in Consequence of thare going to Rhode Island at the Request of the Committee of Safety. John Flanders, 10 pounds." From the Selectmen's Books of Boscawen (H:7). John Flanders signed the Association Test in Boscawen (G:15).

Lieut. John Flanders, as he is styled in the town records of Boscawen, was, evidently, a man of firm convictions, and he also possessed the determination to carry them through.

"The bitterness against religion which had manifested itself in bygone years did not wholly die out with the separation of the church and state. There were still some disaffected persons who determined to have no prayers in town meeting. Mr. John Flanders, tho' he owned a pew in the West Meeting-house, was decided in his opposition to continue the custom at the annual town meeting in 1809. While the Rev. Mr. Price was offering prayer, Mr. Flanders proceeded to renail the hinges upon his pew door in the gallery, having carried hammer and nails for that purpose. The ringing blows of the hammer disturbed the proceedings and the moderator, Col. Joseph Gerrish, calling upon several citizens to serve as constables, the disturber of order soon found himself being dragged down the stairs. This so changed his opinions that upon the next day Mr. Flanders made the following acknowledgment to the town which was placed upon record: Mch. 15, 1809, I hereby acknowledge that my conduct yesterday on disturbing the meeting in time of prayer is highly unbecoming and for which I am sincerely sorry & will never again disturb the harmony of any future meeting in the like manner on the like occasion. John Flanders."

Notice was sent to other persons who had aided or abetted Lt. Flanders in this disturbance.

It was voted that George J. Flanders & others should give a written acknowledgment of their offense. Thomas Eastman, Thomas Carter & Jonathan Eastman asked pardon (H:7). A like action on the part of George J. Flanders is not mentioned, so, apparently, he remained obdurate.

John Flanders of Boscawen, bought a proprietors' lot in Boscawen from George Jackman of Boscawen, in 1783, and in 1817, he sold his homestead farm to Nathaniel Webster of Boscawen (I:7).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15; H:7):

347 DANIEL[5] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 16, 1762, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. Mch. 22, 1840, at Dorchester, N. H. (E:85); m. (1) Sally —— (O:15); m. (2) Aug. 6, 1792, at Salisbury, N. H., to Hannah Greeley (O:90; E:85); b. Jan. 16, 1764, at Salisbury, N. H. (E:85); d. Aug. 17, 1842/3, at Dorchester, N. H. (E:85); dau. of Shubael Greeley and Hannah Pettingill. (E:85).

The Salisbury, N. H. town records give this second marriage of Daniel[5] Flanders, under date of Aug. 6, 1792, to Mrs. Hannah Parker. It is possible that Hannah Greeley was a widow at the time of her marriage with Daniel Flanders, though no mention of this is made in the genealogy of the Greeley family, nor in the returns sent by the descendants of Daniel Flanders and Hannah Greeley.

In 1791, Daniel Flanders of Boscawen, husbandman, bought 50 acres of land in Dorchester from Aaron Flanders of Boscawen (I:6). At a town meeting held in Dorchester, Mch. 27, 1812, Nathaniel Martin & Joseph Burley, selectmen of Dorchester, request the privilege to sell the school house lot in Dorchester. 100 acres of land in this lot was granted to Hannah Flanders of Dorchester (I:6). Feb. 28, 1822, Daniel Flanders of Dorchester, gave a quit claim deed to Joseph Flanders of Boscawen, to 1/4 part of land & "saw mill on it" in Boscawen together with the water privileges, this, "being devised to me in the will of my father John Flanders, late of Boscawen, deceased" (I:8). Feb. 1, 1828, Daniel Flanders, Jr., gave a deed to his "honoured parents, Daniel & Hannah Flanders, both of Dorchester." In this deed he agreed "to provide for the maintenance of my parents as is convenient for aged people." (I:6). Daniel Flanders took a very active and prominent part in the town affairs of Dorchester.

Feb. 6, 1806, at Bow, N. H., by Rev. Thomas Waterman, to Rachel (Relief) Brown (M:5); b. Nov. 29, 1783, at Bow, N. H. (Q:5); d. 1835/6 (Q:5); dau. of John Brown and Mary Burnham (Q:5).

Miss Louella Ward Flanders of New Orleans, La., a descendant of Joseph Flanders and Relief Brown, has contributed very valuable and practically complete records of her branch of the family. She has spent many months in research and it is due to her interest and untiring efforts that these widely scattered records have been brought together and preserved.

> "Mary Burnham Brown was left a widow with a family of six children, the eldest but fourteen years of age. Her daughter, Relief, was the youngest of the family, and the mother brought all these children up until her youngest child was twelve years old, when she married a second time to the Hon. Timothy Dix of Boscawen, father of Gov. John A. Dix of New York.
> "Relief (Brown) Flanders was a woman of more than ordinary attainments for the opportunities of that day, and to her, as her son, Benjamin Franklin Flanders, often remarked, he was indebted for the character and training he received and for his subsequent success in life. That she faced hardships and dangers courageously may be seen from the following excerpt from the autobiography of her son, Capt. Wardwell Clement Flanders: 'My father was a Captain in the Volunteer service in the War with Great Britain in 1812 and 1813, and while absent on service, his property was destroyed by fire during the night by Indians, consuming the products of the farm and also the stock that were snugly housed. My mother fled with me in her arms' (he was then about one or two years of age) 'to an orchard near by and remained there among the drifts of snow until morning.' When the War of 1812 broke out against Great Britain, Joseph Flanders raised a company in New Hampshire and was mustered in as the captain of the company in the Forty-fifth regiment of Infantry. He served creditably until the close of the war, when he settled in Bristol, N. H. He was sheriff of the county and represented the town of Bristol in the state Legislature several years. About 1823, he moved to Boston and commenced mercantile business there. He died at East Cambridge at the age of fifty-two years and was buried with Masonic honors."

With the exception of the article from the autobiography of Capt. Wardwell Clement Flanders, Miss Louella Flanders obtained the foregoing material from old galley proofs which had been corrected by Gov. Benjamin Franklin Flanders.

Joseph Flanders' date of birth is given in this galley proof, as Aug. 12, 1777, and his age at death, 52 years, while the Cambridge, Mass. Vital Records give his age as 54 years at time of death, which is in accordance with the birth date given in the records of Abiel Chandler Flanders.

The town of Bristol was chartered in 1819, and was formed from portions of Bridgewater, N. H. and New Chester (now Hill), N. H. By the act of incorporation, James Minot, Ichabod C. Bartlett, and Joseph Flanders, or any two of them, were authorized to call the first town meeting in March following. They united in this call, and at the first town meeting, Mch. 14, 1820, Joseph Flanders was elected moderator, James Minot, clerk, and Joseph Flanders, Moses W. Sleeper, and John Clough, selectmen (G:44a).

Children (Flanders) (Q:5):

918 i. John Brown[6], b. Oct. 21, 1806, at Landaff, N. H.; d. Oct. 12, 1864, at New Orleans, La. (Q:5); never married (Q:5). Is said to have been a wanderer all his life (Q:5).

919 ii. Rufus Noyes[6], b. Apr. 21, 1809, at Landaff, N. H.; d. 1826, at sea (Q:5); unmarried (Q:5).

+920 iii. Wardwell Clement[6], b. Feb. 16, 1811, at Landaff, N. H. (Q:5).

+921 iv. Benjamin Franklin[6], b. Jan. 26, 1816, at Bristol, N. H. (Q:5).

354 JESSE[5] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 13, 1755, at Boscawen, N. H.; m. Eleanor Morey (H:49); bp. Jan. 28, 1753, at Kingston, N. H. (H:49); dau. of William Morey and Dorcas Scylla (H:49).

Jesse Flanders is listed in the pay roll of "part of Col. Thomas Stickney's regt. of Militia, commanded by Lieut. Col. Henry Gerrish, raised in the town of Concord and towns adjacent, which company marched July 5, 1777, for the relief of the garrison at Ticonderoga on the alarm and marched seventy miles when we had news of the evacuation of the Fort" (G:15). He was in Capt. Peter Kimball's co., Col. Stickney's regt., at Bennington and Stillwater (G:15).

Jesse Flanders, Jr., is on the tax lists in Dorchester, N. H. from 1801 to 1820. Apr. 12, 1808, it was voted that Mr. Jesse Flanders be set in district No. 3, where he assisted in building the school house (O:35).

He is listed in the census of 1790 at Dorchester, as the head of a family of 2 males under 16, and 5 females (C:1).

July 15, 1779, he signed a petition in Dorchester for the adjustment of the State tax. Dorchester was not then incorporated. In 1783, he signed another petition of like nature, and again in 1786. He was a selectman of Dorchester in 1786 (G:15).

Children (Flanders):

922 i. Ruth[6], b. Oct. 1, 1773, at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15); d. Apr. 24, 1792, at Andover, N. H., ae 19y; death recorded in the Diary of Rev. Josiah Bachelder (H:49).

923 ii. Betty[6], b. Nov. 16, 1775, at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15).

+924 iii. Eliece (Elsa)[6], b. Dec. 18, 1777, at Boscawen, N. H. (O:15).

925 iv. Stephen[6], date of birth unknown; m. 1805, at Groton, N. H., by Rev. William Rolf, to Sally Sanborn of Dorchester, N. H. (M:5). No actual statement has been found that Stephen[6] Flanders was the son of Jesse and Eleanor, but as he was living in Dorchester at the time of his marriage, and as the census of 1790, lists 2 sons born to Jesse[5] Flanders before that date, it seems reasonable to suppose that this Stephen was one of them. Jesse[4] Flanders, and his sons, Jesse, Jr., David and Moses, appear to be the only Flanders residing in Dorchester at this time, and Stephen[6] could not have been a son of either David or Moses Flanders.

926 v. William[6], date of birth unknown; m. Apr. 11, 1813, at Dorchester, N. H., by Benjamin Norris, J.P., to Fanney Piper of Dorchester (O:35). This is doubtless the second son listed in the census of 1790, as born to Jesse[5] Flanders and Eleanor, although no statement has been found to that effect. Eleanor, the wife of Jesse[5] Flanders, was the daughter of William Morey, so it is probable that she would have named a son after her father. There is nothing to indicate that this William could have been the son of either David or Moses Flanders. William Flanders was on the tax list in Dorchester from 1811-1815 (O:35).

355 DAVID[5] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 19, 1758, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. Dec. 31, 1842, at Franklin, N. H. (Q:1); m. Oct. 13, 1780, by Ebenezer Kendall of Cockermouth (Groton), N. H., to Hannah Kimball, at Groton, N. H. (O:46); b. Aug. 2, 1763, at Haverhill, Mass. (E:98); d. Apr. 30, 1802, at Dorchester, N. H., bur. in old cem. at Dorchester. Inscription on grave stone, "Here lies Mrs. Hannah wife of Capt. David Flanders died Apr. 30, 1802 in the 39th yr of her age" (B:31); dau. of Peter Kimball and Elizabeth Thurston (E:98).

On Apr. 21, 1775, David Flanders set out for Cambridge in the company of Capt. Henry Gerrish, and on Apr. 24, 1775, entered Capt. Joshua Abbot's co., Col. Stark's regt., and fought at the battle of Bunker Hill (H:7; G:15). In the preface to this generation will be found a brief account by David Flanders of the part his company took in the battle. He also served under Capt. Peter Kimball, Col. Thomas Stickney's regt., Gen. Stark's brigade, in the Northern Continental Army at Bennington and Stillwater (G:15). In his application for a pension he stated that in 1819 he was residing at Boscawen, and held a half interest in a farm of 110 acres and 19 acres of woodland. He had a family dependent upon him and a grandson, David Jones, aged 6 years. This land was sold in 1825 to Benjamin S. Kimball. He stated further that he had lost $96 by the failure of Ebenezer Jones and had several debts (T:1). He was placed on the pension roll Jan. 15, 1820 (G:15). June 1, 1840, he was residing with Amos Hoit in Franklin, N. H., ae 83yrs (G:15).

In 1801, David Flanders was surveyor of the highways in Dorchester, N. H., and was a selectman of the town in 1802. In 1837, a farm "recently occupied by David Flanders" in Dorchester, was sold (O:35).

Apr. 30, 1825, David Flanders of Boscawen, Gentleman, granted to "my daughter, Hannah Jackman, widow," 1/3 of the homestead farm of Samuel Jackman late of Boscawen, deceased, on which "she is now living" in Boscawen, and it "being the same conveyed to me by Samuel Jackman by deed Mch. 27, 1822" (I:8). On Apr. 13, 1825, David Flanders sold to Benjamin F. Kimball, land & buildings in Boscawen (I:8).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Dorchester, N. H. (O:35):

+927 i. Hannah[6], b. Mch. 27, 1789.
+928 ii. Betsey I.[6], b. Apr. 6, 1792.
+929 iii. Mary C.[6], b. Aug. 23, 1801.

358 MOSES[5] FLANDERS, b. June 2, 1767, at Boscawen, N. H.; d. July 15, 1840, at Fort Covington, N. Y. (E:98); m. (1) Hannah Clark, who d. Aug.-Sept. 1802 (Q:1); m. (2) Feb. 28, 1804, at Dorchester, N. H., by Rev. Thomas Page, to Betsey Crosby of Hebron, N. H. (O:35); m. (3) 1807, at Groton, N. H., to Ruth Kimball (E:98); b. Mch. 10, 1781 (E:98); d. July 27, 1850, at Fort Covington, N. Y. (E:98); dau. of Samuel Kimball and Susanna Jewett (E:98).

Moses Flanders resided in No. 4, North District, Dorchester, N. H. He was on the tax list in Dorchester from 1811-1823 (O:35). He removed to Fort Covington, N. Y., about 1832 (Q:1). Mch. 27, 1830, Moses Flanders sold a piece of his land, lying on the road between Fotheringham and Bombay, N. Y., to Wm. Chapman and others, for a school house lot (I:26).

Children (Flanders), births of Moses and Ruth Kimball's children recorded at Dorchester, Apr. 1828 (O:35):

By first wife, Hannah Clark:

+930 i. Frances Ann[6], b. Aug. 13, 1798 (O:35); m. Daniel Flanders (No. 908).
+931 ii. David[6], b. Jan. 29, 1802 (Q:1).

By third wife, Ruth Kimball (no record of any children by Betsey Crosby):

+932 iii. Hannah Clark[6] (twin), b. Jan. 17, 1808 (Q:1; O:35).
933 iv. Betsey Crosby[6] (twin), b. Jan. 17, 1808 (Q:1); d. at Canaan, N. H. (Q:1); m. (int. May 5, 1828), at Dorchester, N. H., to Eliphalet Norris of Dorchester (O:35); she had 3 daughters and 1 son (Q:1).
934 v. Ruth[6], b. Oct. 26, 1809; d. 1854-5 (Q:1); never married (Q:1).
935 vi. Sarah[6], b. Aug. 21, 1811; m. Clifton Follansbee (Q:1); resided in Iowa (Q:1).
936 vii. Mary[6], b. June 6, 1813; d. at Bombay, N. Y. (Q:1); m. Reuben Tracy (Q:1). They had a son, George, who was in the Civil War in a Vt. regiment (Q:1).
+937 viii. Samuel Kimball[6], b. Mch. 18, 1815.
938 ix. Ann[6], b. Apr. 6, 1817.
939 x. Lucy[6], b. Oct. 13, 1818.
940 xi. Gilbert Gould[6], b. Aug. 8, 1820.
941 xii. Caroline[6], b. Dec. 28, 1822.

359 SARAH[5] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 12, 1769, at Boscawen, N. H.; m. Jan. 2, 1787, at Salisbury, N. H., to Charles Collins (O:90).

Children (Collins):

+942 i. Sarah[6], b. July 18, 1787, at Salisbury, N. H. (O:90) (see David[6] Flanders No. 931).

943 ii. Anne[6], b. Feb. 23, 1790, at Salisbury, N. H. (O:90).

944 iii. Hannah[6] (Q:1).

945 iv. Charles[6] (Q:1).

386 ELIZABETH[5] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 30, 1748, at South Hampton, N. H.; m. Nov. 9, 1773, at South Hampton, to Richard Goodwin (O:93); b. Nov. 20, 1742, at Amesbury, Mass. (E:74).

Child (Goodwin) (E:74):

946 i. Esther[6], b. Aug. 15, 1777; d. May 15, 1872, at Ellington, N. Y. (E:74); m. (1) in 1799, to John Farman (E:74); m. (2) in summer of 1818, at Augusta, N. Y., to Jason Bumpus (E:74).

388 JOHN[5] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 14, 1753, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Sept. 5, 1839, at Berlin, Vt., bur. Bowles cem. Berlin, inscription on gravestone: "b. Feb. 1753, was a soldier in 1776" (B:7); m. (1) Mch. 31, 1777, at Newbury, Mass., to Hannah Bayley (O:70); b. Apr. 11, 1760 (G:34); d. Sept. 18, 1821, in her 62nd yr., bur. Bowles cem., Berlin, Vt. (B:7); dau. of Stephen Bayley and Sarah Pilsbury (G:34); m. (2) Dec. 4, 1823, at Berlin, Vt., to Sarah Bayley (O:117); b. 1761 (B:7); d. Nov. 8, 1844, bur. Bowles cem. Berlin, ae 83yrs., "Relict of John Flanders" (B:7); dau. of Stephen Bayley and Sarah Pilsbury (M:5).

John[5] Flanders, son of Prince[4] Flanders, was undoubtedly the John Flanders who married Hannah Bayley, although no actual statement to that effect has been found. The correspondence of the date of birth, as given on the gravestone, with that of John, son of Prince[4] Flanders, seems sufficient evidence, but additional proof is that in 1767, John Flanders of South Hampton was warned out of Newbury, Mass., and was taken in by Stephen Bayley (G:2). Also several of the children of John Flanders and Hannah Bayley were born in South Hampton. The previous assumption that it was John[5], son of Richard[4] Flanders, who married Hannah Bayley, has already been discussed under John[5] Flanders (No. 239).

John Flanders, Newbury, served as private in Capt. William Roger's co. of Minute-men, Col. Samuel Gerrish's regt., which marched on the alarm of Apr. 19, 1775. He remained in the service until Dec. 28, 1775. He is also listed in Capt. Jeremiah Gilman's co., Lt. Col. Thomas Nixon's regt., from Jan. 1, 1776 to Jan. 25, 1777 (G:30).

Feb. 24, 1793, John Flanders, with Hannah Flanders of Deering, N. H., in the Co. of Hillsborough, N. H., & Simon Chase, cooper, & Eunice Chase of Newburyport, Mass., & Ebenezer Bayley & Sarah Bayley of Berlin, Vt., in the County of Orange, Vt., quit claim to the estate of "our honoured father, Stephen Bayley of Newbury, deceased, to Stephen Bayley, Jr. The above quitting claim to widow's thirds and all save household furnishings." Wit. Amos Bailey and Joshua Bayley (I:5). Feb. 7, 1807, John Flanders of Berlin, Vt., and Hannah, his wife, release right to the estate of Joshua Bayley of Newburyport, Mass. (I:5). Sept. 18, 1795, John Flanders purchased land in Berlin, Vt., from Ebenezer Bayley and Samuel Smith (I:29). Sept. 24, 1823, John Flanders sold half of his farm "upon which I now live" to his son Alpheus Flanders, "on the express condition that sd Alpheus manage & improve the whole of sd farm in good husbandlike manner & deliver to sd John half of all produce of sd farm during the natural life of sd John" (I:29).

Children (Flanders):

+947 i. Jacob[6], b. Dec. 12, 1777, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93)

948 ii. Molly[6], b. Feb. 8, 1780, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); m. May 22, 1806, at Berlin, Vt., to Richard Stevens (O:117).

+949 iii. Eliphalet[6], b. Mch. 24, 1782, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

950 iv. John[6], b. Apr. 1, 1784, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93); d. Aug. 2, 1801, at Berlin, Vt. (O:117).

+951 v. Stephen Bayley[6], b. Dec. 6, 1786, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

952 vi. Sarah[6], b. Mch. 7, 1789, at South Hampton, N. H. (O:93).

953 vii. Robert[6], b. Jan. 11, 1792, at Deering, N. H. (M:5); died young.

954 viii. Ruth[6], b. Apr. 15, 1794, at Berlin, Vt. (O:117); m. Sept. 18, 1816, at Berlin, Vt., to Nathan Colby of Bradford (O:117).

955 ix. Robert[6], b. July 25, 1796, at Berlin, Vt. (M:6).

956 x. Hannah[6], b. Mch. 14, 1799, at Berlin, Vt. (M:6).

957 xi. Eunice[6], b. July 8, 1801, at Berlin, Vt. (M:6); m. Feb. 21, 1822, to Jedidiah Colby (M:6).

958 xii. Isaac[6], b. Jan. 23, 1806, at Berlin, Vt. (M:6); d. Jan. 9, 1818, at Berlin, Vt. (M:6).

419 ZEBULON[5] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 2, 1756, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Feb. 21, 1838, at Warner, N. H., bur. Warner cem., ae 82y (B:90); m. (int. May 3, 1777) June 2, 1777, at Salisbury, Mass., to Hannah French (O:88a); b. May 19, 1756 (R:781); d. Feb. 17, 1850, at Warner, N. H., bur. Warner cem., ae 93y, 9m (B:90).

Apr. 11, 1785, Samuel Rowell of Chester, granted 40 acres of land in Warner, to Zebulon Flanders (I:7). It is probable that Zebulon Flanders removed to Warner at this time, for in 1786, he bought 3 acres of land in Warner from Amos Davis. In this deed, he is said to be "of Warner" (I:7). In 1801, he purchased land in Warner from John Davis of Warner. This land began at the northeast corner of Nathaniel Flanders land and ran westerly to the road that leads "from Isaac Flanderses land" to Zebulon Flanders house (I:7).

Children (Flanders), all recorded in Warner town records, though the first four were probably born elsewhere (O:105):

+959 i. Nathaniel[6], b. Sept. 4, 1777.
+960 ii. Ezekiel[6], b. Sept. 15, 1779.
+961 iii. Zebulon[6], b. May 24, 1782.
+962 iv. Benjamin French[6], b. Apr. 24, 1784.
+963 v. Levi[6], b. Jan. 18, 1787.
964 vi. John[6], b. June 7, 1789; d. Apr. 19, 1792, at Warner, N. H. (M:5).
+965 vii. Timothy[6], b. Nov. 8, 1791.
+966 viii. Hannah[6], b. Mch. 28, 1794.
+967 ix. Jonathan[6], b. Jan. 7, 1798.
+968 x. George Washington[6], b. Feb. 23, 1800.

422 MOSES[5] FLANDERS, b. June 2, 1762, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. 1840; this date of death was found in an old Arithmetic belonging to a grandson of Moses (R:439); m. 1784, at Henniker, N. H., to Sally Gould of Henniker (Q:1); b. 1765 (R:439); d. Aug. 31, 1834, bur. in Warner cem., Lower Village, ae 69y (B:90; R:439). The dates of birth and death of Sally Gould were also found in the old Arithmetic (R:439).

Moses Flanders settled first at Henniker and later removed to Warner. The first deed found in his name in Warner is dated 1826, but he was undoubtedly there prior to that time, as he is then called "Moses Flanders of Warner" (I:8). He is supposed to have settled in Warner about the same time as his brother Zebulon (Cutler's History of N. H.).

Children (Flanders), said to have had 11 children:

669 i. Ruth[6], b. Feb. 16, 1785 (Q:1); d. Jan. 4, 1802, at Warner, N. H. (Q:1).
+970 ii. Asa[6], b. Nov. 17, 1787 (Q:1).
971 iii. Sally[6], b. Jan. 1, 1789 (Q:2); died young (Q:2).
+972 iv. Moses[6], b. Apr. 6, 1792, at Warner, N. H. (Q:2).
973 v. John[6], b. Dec. 4, 1794, at Warner, N. H. (Q:2); died in infancy (Q:2).
974 vi. Nancy[6], date of birth unknown; m. Sept. 6, 1814, at Warner, to Mark Colby (O:105).
+975 vii. Amos[6], b. Oct. 6, 1798, at Warner, N. H. (Q:2).
+976 viii. Ezekiel[6], b. Jan. 4, 1800, at Warner, N. H. (Q:1).
+977 ix. Thomas John[6], b. at Warner, N. H. (M:5).
+978 x. John Gould[6], b. Nov. 17, 1804, at Warner, N. H. (Q:2).
+979 xi. William Gould[6], b. Jan. 21, 1807, at Warner, N. H. (Q:2).

423 JACOB[5] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 19, 1759, at South Hampton, N. H., bp. Sept. 18, 1760, at South Hampton (D:8); birth recorded at Concord, N. H. (formerly Rumford) (O:29); d. May 21, 1840, at Chelsea, Vt. (T:1); m. (1) to Ann Kenerson (Q:1); b. ca 1762; d. Mch. 12, 1829, bur. old cem. at Chelsea, Vt., ae 66y (B:18); dau. of (presum.) Joseph Kenerson and Elizabeth Freese; m. (2) Rhoda —— (T:1).

Ann Kenerson was undoubtedly born in 1762, as her age was given as 59 years in 1820, in Jacob Flanders' pension papers, while her age is given as 66 years at the time of her death in 1829. In both cases, the age is, apparently, approximate. Her parentage is based on the following data: Joseph Kenerson and Elizabeth Freese had a son Joseph, born in 1764, who was a Revolutionary soldier, and died at Chelsea, Vt., the same town in which Jacob Flanders and his wife, Ann Kenerson, were residing. Joseph Kenerson, Jr.'s son, Nathaniel, married a daughter of Jacob Flanders. The father of Joseph Kenerson, Sr., was Job Kenerson, who died at the home of a daughter in Cilleyville, Andover, N. H.; Jacob Flanders and his wife, Ann Kenerson, resided in Salisbury, N. H. (a town bordering on Andover, N. H.), before they removed to Chelsea, Vt. Their oldest son was named Job, a name not found in any other branch of the Flanders family, according to present records. (Much of the above data was contributed by Mr. Edward H. Kenerson of Boston, Mass.)

Jacob Flanders enlisted at Candia, N. H., May 1775, as private, in Capt. Coggswell's co., Col. Gerrish's Mass. regt.; at the expiration of this service, he enlisted and served one year as private, in Capt. Coggswell's co., same regt., but then commanded by Col. Baldwin; 360 miles of travel was allowed said Flanders; he enlisted late in Dec. 1776, and served until Apr. 1, 1778, in Capt. Coggswell's 2nd co., Col. James Wesson's regt.; residence Concord, N. H.; enlistment for 3 years; discharged, Apr. 1, 1778 (T:1; G:30). Jacob Flanders, Candia, Capt. Thomas Coggswell's co., Col. Loammi Baldwin's regt., took part in the battle of Bunker Hill (G:15). Enlistments from Col. Stickney's regt.: "We the subscribers do Voluntarily inlist ourselves as soldiers in the service of the United States of America, to serve six months from the time we shall join the army at Providence in the State of Rhode Island. And we do hereby promise obedience to our officers and to be subject to the Rules and Regulations of the army, July 5, 1779; Jacob Flanders, Concord; Josiah Flanders, Concord" (G:15). Pay roll of Capt. Samuel Runnell's co., Col. Hercules Mooney's regt., raised by the State of New Hampshire, for the defence of Rhode Island. Jacob Flanders, drummer, enlisted July 5, 1779; discharged Jan. 10, 1780; Jacob Flanders received 30 pounds bounty and 12 pounds for 120 miles of travel, for his service in Col. Thomas Stickney's regt., for the defence of Rhode Island (G:15).

Jacob Flanders states in his pension application that he was at the battle of White Plains in Dec. 1776, and that he re-enlisted for 3 years, but was discharged a year later on account of illness. That he enlisted in Capt. Coggswell's co., Col. Wesson's Mass. regt., and was under the command of Gen. Washington. He received a pension of $8 per annum, commencing Apr. 6, 1818. In 1820, he was living at Chelsea, Vt., and his family consisted of his wife, Anna, ae fifty nine years, and his two sons, Bartlett, aged 18 years, and James, aged 15 years (T:1).

Jacob Flanders was but 15 years and 5 months old when he first enlisted and took part in the battle of Bunker Hill, and but little over 20 years of age, when he finished his service. His second wife was a woman of Scotch descent, and much given to telling tales of ghosts and witchcraft to Jacob's small grandson, much to the disgust of this old veteran of the Revolution. His years in the service of his country left an indelible impression upon him, and he had no use for such imaginative tales, as he knew very well that dead men never returned. At the age of 80 years, he was still plying his trade, travelling back and forth to the neighboring towns.

When the census of 1790 was taken, he was living in Salisbury, N. H., and had three sons under 16 years of age and three daughters (C:1); the time of his removal to Chelsea, Vt., is not known, but he was living there in 1818, when he applied for a pension.

Mch. 14, 1828, Jacob Flanders assigned to his son, James Flanders, "a parcel of land in Chelsea, Vt., it being the West part of the second division of the Ministerial Right, so called in said Chelsea. Conditioned that the said James Flanders shall maintain the said Jacob Flanders and his wife Nancy Flanders during their natural lives and at all times furnish them with house room meat drink and clothing suitable to their station in life and pay all expenses of sickness" (I:3).

424 JOSIAH[5] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 3, 1761, birth recorded at Concord, N. H.; d. Apr. 8, 1836, at Benton, N. H., bur. East cem. No. Benton, ae 78y (B:6). According to the age given on the gravestone, Josiah would have been born in 1758, and it is stated in the pension application of Josiah Flanders that his son Israel kept a family record and Josiah's date of birth was entered under date of Apr. 3, 1758. Zebulon[4] Flanders, father of Josiah, had the births of his children entered on the town records of Concord, N. H., and gave the date of Josiah's birth as Apr. 3, 1761, therefore, this would appear to be the correct date. He m. (1) Mch. 14, 1786, at Dunbarton, N. H., by Rev. Zaccheus Colby of Pembroke, N. H., to Abigail Smith of Dunbarton (M:5); m. (2) Aug. 26, 1793, to Deborah M. George of Bradford, Vt. (T:1); b. Aug. 7,1762 (T:1); d. Sept. 12, 1846,at Benton, N. H., bur. East cem., No. Benton, ae 82y (B:6).

The census of 1790 lists Josiah Flanders in Tunbridge, Vt., and as head of a family of 2 males under 16, and 2 females.

He served in Capt. Simon Marston's co., Col. Joseph Senter's regt., raised by the State of N. H. for the defence of Rhode Island; time of entry, July 1, 1777; discharged Jan. 7, 1778. July 5, 1779, he enlisted in Capt. Samuel Runnell's co., Col. Hercules Mooney's regt. for continental service in Rhode Island; residence, Concord, N. H.; discharged Jan. 10, 1780 (G:15). Aug. 14, 1832, Josiah Flanders applied for a pension, stating that he was then a resident of Coventry (Benton), N. H., and that he enlisted at Concord, which was then his residence. He gave the above records of his service, and added that about the first of August, 1780, he enlisted in Capt. Ebenezer Webster's co., Col. Nichols' regt., and was with Gen. Benedict Arnold when he joined the enemy and Major André, the spy, was taken. He served until the last of November (T:1).

Josiah Flanders and his son, Israel, went to Benton about 1822, from Bradford, Vt., and settled in the easterly part of North Benton. James Flanders, brother of Israel, came about a year later and settled on an adjoining farm (H:17).

432 JOSEPH SARGENT[5] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 18, 1778, at Concord, N. H.; m. Anne —— (O:47).

Feb. 2, 1799, Joseph Sargent Flanders purchased from his brother-in-law, Benjamin Bartlett, one half of the 100 acre lot in Strafford, originally owned by Zebulon Flanders. This land Joseph Sargent Flanders conveyed to his mother, Miriam Flanders, on the condition that he live upon and improve the property, supporting his mother during her life. In 1801, Miriam went to live with her son, Israel Flanders, in Guildhall, Vt., and between 1802 and 1806, Joseph Sargent Flanders sold all the land in Strafford which originally belonged to his father, Zebulon Flanders. In 1803, he bought land in Guildhall, Vt., from his brother, Israel Flanders, and Nov. 28, 1804, he leased land from his mother, Miriam Flanders, in Guildhall, agreeing to support his mother one half of the time during her life. The last deed under the name of Joseph Sargent Flanders in Guildhall, is dated Apr. 20, 1808. Apparently he and his brother-in-law, Benjamin Bartlett, with their families, moved to Lower Canada shortly after this, settling in the region of Fitch Bay, P. Q. (O:95; O:47).

Only an incomplete list of the children of Joseph Sargent Flanders and his wife, Anne, has been found, and this has been obtained chiefly through interviews with the old residents in the neighborhood of Fitch Bay.

497 DAVID[6] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. Estate adm. May 19, 1817, at Plaistow, N. H. (K:9); m. July 9, 1795, at South Hampton, N. H., by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes, to Hannah Goodwin (O:93).

The administration of the estate of David Flanders, Jr., of Plaistow, was granted to his widow, Hannah Flanders, May 19, 1817; the inventory of the estate was taken Sept. 3, 1817; Timothy Flanders and John Jeffries, both of Plaistow, also assisted in the administration of the estate. Mch. 18, 1818, Judge John Harriman of Plaistow, was chosen to be guardian of Philip Flanders, a minor, over 14 years of age, son of David Flanders, late of Plaistow, deceased (K:9).

Mch. 11, 1797, David Flanders, Jr., of Kingston, alias Plaistow, granted the whole of the farm which was deeded to him by his "honoured father, David Flanders of Kingston, alias Plaistow, Oct. 17, 1792," to his father David Flanders. The farm is described as the "one upon which my father, David Flanders, now lives on." John and Sally Calfe, acted as witnesses (I:11). Dec. 18, 1822, Hannah, wid. of David Flanders, Jr., quits Claim to land in Plaistow to Timothy Flanders; this land bordered easterly on the land of Thomas, Benjamin and Francis Flanders (I:11).

Children (Flanders):

+1063 i. Timothy[7].

1064 ii. Philip[7], b. ca 1802 (K:9); m. (int. Feb. 14, 1829) Mch. 1, 1829, at Bradford, Mass., to Betsey S. Bohonon of Bradford (P:10). In the marriage entry, Philip was given as "of Haverhill, Mass.," therefore, it seems probable that it was Philip, son of David, who contracted this marriage. She was born in 1811 (P:6); d. Dec. 4, 1842, at Billerica, Mass., ae 31 yrs (P:6); dau. of Ananiah Bohonon and Lucy —— (P:6).

1065 iii. George W.[7], date of birth unknown; m. Dec. 7, 1825, at Plaistow, N. H., by Rev. Moses Welch, to Polly Sawyer (M:5). In the Plaistow Town Records, George W. Flanders is mentioned as working for his grandfather, David Flanders, in 1821 (O:83). In 1865, he was an engineer at Lynn, Mass. (C:8).

+1066 iv. David[7], b. 1808, at Plaistow, N. H. (R:199).

+1070 iv. Timothy[7], b. at Danbury, N. H. (M:5).

500 STEPHEN[6] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 8, 1757, at Plaistow, N. H. (T:1), bp. May 7, 1758, at Kingston, N. H. (D:4); d. 1835, at Lawrence, N. Y., on tombstone "A Soldier of the Revolution" (F:5); date of last payment of pension, Oct. 1, 1835 (T:1); m. Mch. 11, 1779, at Hawke (now Danville), N. H., by Rev. John Page, to Sarah Ring of Hawke (D:13).

Stephen Flanders enlisted at Plaistow, N. H., about May 1, 1775; served 8 months as a private in Capt. McFarland's co., Col. Nixon's Mass. regt., and was in the Battle of Bunker Hill, where his captain was severely wounded; was in camp at Winter Hill, Dec. 20, 1775; enlisted about Oct., 1776, served as sergeant in Capt. Benjamin Kimball's co., Col. Enoch Poor's regt., and was in the battles of Bennington, Stillwater and Saratoga; length of this service one year and two weeks; enlisted April, 1778, served 8 months as sergeant in Capt. Gile's co., Col. Peabody's N. H. regt., marched to Rhode Island and was in several skirmishes (T:1).

After the Revolution, Stephen Flanders resided at Plaistow for 7 or 8 years, then removed to Londonderry, N. H., where he lived about 5 years; thence to Thetford, Vt., where he remained until 1824, when he moved to Hopkinton (that part which was later Lawrence), St. Lawrence Co., N. Y. (T:1). He was on the tax list at Derryfield (now Manchester), N. H. from 1793 to 1803 (P:64).

March 29, 1787, Stephen Flanders of Kingston, granted to David Flanders of Hawke 20 acres of land in Kingston, bounded northerly "by land of my honoured father, Ezekiel Flanders," westerly on land of Nathaniel Flanders (I:11).

Children (Flanders):

1072 ii. James[7], date of birth unknown; d. Feb. 17, 1834, at Lawrence, N. Y. (K:24). Feb. 25, 1834, Samuel Flanders, brother of the deceased, was given letters of administration of the estate of James Flanders. Samuel Flanders stated that his brother James Flanders left no widow, or issue, "but a father Stephen Flanders of Lawrence aforesd," who renounced his right to administer the estate in favor of Samuel Flanders (K:24).

+1073 iii. Samuel[7] (R:1207;K:24).

501 EZEKIEL[6] FLANDERS, b. 1759, at Kingston, N. H.; d. July 27, 1846, at Hereford, P. Q. (T:1); m. (int. July 7, 1782) at Hampstead, N. H., to Betty Rowell of Hampstead (O:48).

March 15, 1828, Francis Flanders of Colebrook, N. H., granted the south half of lot No. 6, in the 4th Range of Hereford, P. Q., to Ezekiel Flanders, Sr. The north half of this lot was owned by Moses Rowell, Jr. (I:28). On Nov. 2, 1830, Ezekiel Flanders, Sr., entered into an agreement with Hyram Wells of Hereford. Hyram Wells was "to keep or cause to be kept for said Flanders, 1 yoke of oxen, 3 cows, 1 brood mare or horse, 2 fatting hogs, 2 shoats, and 2 calves; the whole to be well wintered and summered, and comfortably housed. Also said Flanders and his wife Betty were to have as comfortable accommodations for a dwelling as the circumstances allowed. Said Wells to furnish them annually with wood of good quality, prepared ready for the fire at their call, for one fire the year round; also 18 bushels of good sound bread corn, one third of said quantity to be wheat; 5 bushels of oats; 25 bushels of potatoes; 15 pounds of merchantable flax. The 2 hogs to be well fattened and dressed at the customary killing time, and to weigh at least 200 pounds each. Also 10 sheep to be well wintered and summered. The whole produce and income of said stock and provisions to be for the sole use and behoof of said Flanders and his wife Betty, except the work of the oxen, which said Wells is to use and enjoy the same as if they were his own for work on the farm. The said Wells is also to furnish the said Flanders with a good and sufficient spot or parcel of land for a garden. In case of the Death of said Flanders or his wife Betty, then these supplies of produce and provisions and keep of stock to be reduced one half with the exception of the oxen, horse and 2 cows in lieu of 3. The Fuel to be furnished to the Survivor. And in consideration that these stipulations are well and truly performed and fulfilled, the said Wells is to become possessed of the South Fifty acres of the South half of Lot No. Six in the Fourth Range of lots in said township of Hereford, of which the said Flanders hereby divests himself, being possessed of a good and sufficient deed for the same, executed the 15 Mch. year of Our Lord one Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty Eight by Francis Flanders in presence of Alexander Rea and John Richards, as witnesses" (I:28).

On Jan. 31, 1833, Judge Oliver Ingham of Canaan, Vt., wrote to the Pension Department that he was a judge of the County Court and that Ezekiel Flanders, then residing on the north side of the province line, came to him and showed him a discharge which appeared to be genuine. He continued,—"said Flanders lives in the town north of me adjoining the Canada line, on the Canada side, and I have been well acquainted with him for twenty years, during which time I have often seen him; in the early part of my acquaintance with him he gave me a history of his Revolutionary services and frequently said that under various enlistments he had served more than five years. No one that is acquainted with him would doubt his statements."

Jan. 31, 1833, Ezekiel Flanders of Hereford, Lower Canada, deposed that he enlisted at Plaistow, N. H., in December, 1777, commenced service Jan. 1, 1778, under Capt. Ezekiel Guild (Gile), Col. Peabody's regt., at Providence, R. I., and continued to serve until Jan. 1, 1779; that in the summer of 1779, he enlisted again, and on July 1st, commenced service under Capt. Leavitt at Providence, Col. Archelaus Mooney's regt., went to Tiverton and other places, serving until Jan. 1, 1780, when he was dismissed at Newport; that in June, 1780, he enlisted for three months and served at West Point, N. Y., under Capt. Eastman, Col. Bartlett's regt., his full term; that in the spring of 1781, he enlisted for six months, joined the army at Philipsburg, N. Y., under Capt. Robinson, Col. George Reid's regt., and went up the Mohawk river, and at the expiration of his term was discharged at Saratoga, N. Y., by Col. Reid, but lost that discharge. In Aug., 1782, he enlisted for three years and immediately joined the army at Johnstown on the Mohawk river, Capt. Robinson's co., Col. George Reid's regt.; stayed there till cold weather. During the fall of 1782, he was promoted to be Sergeant and "before we left Johnstown I exchanged places, so far as the term of enlistment was concerned, with Theophilus Loverin, another Sergeant of the same company who had enlisted during the war, and we both signed new enlistments, he one for three years and I, one for during the war, and our former enlistments were discharged, and we both received new Sergeant's warrants, after we had exchanged places. Late in the fall we went down the river to Newburgh and remained there in service until June 10 or 11, 1783, when I, still continuing a Sergeant, was discharged by Gen. Washington, and I lost that discharge and my Sergeant's warrant out of my pocket some time after I returned home, and after all my services were performed, I then, on receiving my discharge, agreed with the aforesaid Theophilus Loverin to go home and return in the space of a month and serve said Loverin's time out. I accordingly went home, and at the expiration of a month returned and took Loverin's place and then went to West Point, and staid there in service until the latter part of March, 1784, when I was discharged by Gen. Wayne. I have never at any time made application for a pension, except the one made last summer, and have never drawn any pay as a pensioner. In the fore part of the year 1820, I was at Canaan, Vt., and there had a conversation with Judge Oliver Ingham of Canaan, and with Seth Cushman, Esq. of Guildhall, Vt., concerning a pension and I then delivered my discharge to said Ingham and he delivered it to said Cushman, &c" (R:421). At the time of his death he left no widow, but the arrearages of pension were paid to his son, Francis Flanders (T:1).

Ezekiel Flanders first appeared on the tax list in Sutton, N. H., between 1780 and 1790; lived near Daniel Mastin's and removed from town early; had a large family, but little is known of his posterity. He owned land in the 1st division in 1792 (H:60). Nov. 22, 1790, Ezekiel Flanders of Sutton, husbandman, granted lot No. 10 in Sutton to Robert Odiorne Treadwell of Portsmouth, merchant. Wit. by Joseph Flanders and Samuel Penhallow (I:7). Mch. 9, 1798, Ezekiel Flanders of Sutton, yeoman, granted land in Sutton to Benjamin Wadleigh of Sutton, and paid Benjamin Wadleigh a note signed by himself and Joseph Flanders (I:7). Aug. 28, 1794, Ezekiel Flanders subscribed towards building a meeting house in the north part of Sutton (H:60).

Feb. 5, 1807, Ezekiel Flanders and Ezekiel Flanders, Jr., of

WILL OF ASA FLANDERS

Be it remembered. That I, Asa Flanders of Charlestown in the County of Middlesex & Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Gentleman, being of sound and disposing mind and memory do make and publish my last will and testament in manner following:

First. That my just debts and funeral expenses be paid.

Item. I give and bequeath to my daughters, Hannah L. Hadley, wife of Elijah Hadley and Elizabeth J. Gardner, wife of James M. Gardner, the sum of Five dollars each; I give them this small sum, not that my affection for them is less than it is for their sisters, but that their sisters need is greater.

Item. I give and bequeath to my daughters, Mary Ann Flanders and Louisa Flanders, the use and improvement of all the rest and residue of my estate—real and personal to be enjoyed by them jointly during their lives, and to the survivor of them during her life; And I enjoin it upon the said Mary Ann and Louisa, that they keep the real estate in good condition. Keep it insured and pay the Taxes which may be assessed thereon; but the personal estate I give to them outright to dispose of or sell.

Item. At the decease of my said daughters Mary Ann and Louisa, I give, bequeath and devise all the rest and residue of my estate—real and personal to my other daughters if living, or if not living, to their Children by right of representation or to their heirs at law.

And lastly. I hereby nominate and appoint, Benjamin Phipps of Charlestown, Gentleman, to be the Executor of this my last will and testament and revoking all former wills by me made I establish this as my last, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this seventh day of Feb'y A.D. 1860.

Asa Flanders

Apparently, Betsey, wife of Asa, had died prior to this time, as she is not mentioned in the will.

510 PHILIP[6] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 24, 1779, at Goffstown, N. H.; d. Jan. 23, 1857, at Coventry, Vt., bur. in Day cem., at Coventry, ae 78y (B:27); m. (1) Mch. 22, 1804, at Mt. Vernon, N. H., by Rev. John Bruce, to Parle Bradford of Mt. Vernon (M:5); b. 1782 (B:27); d. June 5, 1843, at Coventry, Vt., bur. in Day cem., Coventry, ae 61y (B:27); (presum.) dau. of William Bradford, Jr., of Mt. Vernon and Hannah —— (H:30); m. (2) Oct. 3, 1843, at Irasburg, Vt., to Rebecca (Berry) Hardy (M:6); b. Jan., 1793 (B:27); d. June 20, 1872, at Coventry, Vt., bur. Day cem., ae 79y, 6m (B:27).

Philip Flanders was a selectman in Coventry in 1827, 1835, 1836, and 1841. State Representative in 1829 and a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1836 (G:6).

Philip Flanders' name appears upon the records of Brownington, Vt., from 1810-1820 (G:60). He removed later to Coventry, Vt., where he died.

No definite proof of the parentage of Parle Bradford, wife of Philip Flanders, has been found. Her son, Dr. Jonathan Leavitt Flanders, is said to have stated that she was a descendant of Gov. Bradford of Mass. The following evidence would indicate that she was a daughter of Major William Bradford of Mt. Vernon, N. H. She married Philip Flanders at Mt. Vernon, and their first child was named William Bradford. William Bradford, Sr., resided at Middleton, Mass., and his son, Major William Bradford, Jr., was born in 1753, settled at Mt. Vernon, N. H., and removed in the latter part of his life to Barre, Vt., where he died. He was a Revolutionary soldier, and commanded under Gen. Miller at "Lindy's Lane." He m. (1) Hannah ——, who died Sept. 1, 1812, ae 56yrs; m. (2) Mrs. Lois Bruce, wid. of Rev. John Bruce, who officiated at the marriage of Philip Flanders and Parle Bradford (H:30). Only an incomplete record of the children of Major William Bradford has been found, but he had a son William, b. 1780, therefore, Parle, b. 1782, could have been his child also. The locality, the date of birth, and the naming of her first child William Bradford, are all indications that this is the correct parentage.

The will of Philip Flanders, Esq., of Coventry, Vt., was dated June 3, 1844. It was presented for probate by William B. Flanders, his executor, Mch. 18, 1857. All his real estate was bequeathed to his son William Bradford Flanders, on condition that he should "furnish for me and my beloved wife Rebecca Flanders, a good and comfortable support during one or each of our natural lives." Other bequests were made to his grandson, Alonzo P. Ranney, to his daughters, Emily Ranney and Eliza L. Day. His son, Jonathan L. Flanders, was to receive $20, if he paid a note "which I and my son, William B. Flanders, signed for the benefit of my son, Jonathan L. Flanders." The note was for $750 and was payable to Isaac Flanders of Goffstown, brother of Philip Flanders (K:21).

Oct. 19, 1858, "Shepard Flanders of Madison & wife Hannah Flanders, granted land in Madison, to Ezekiel Tibbetts of Lebanon, Me., on condition that Ezekiel Tibbetts shall maintain & support in a suitable manner, Shepard Flanders and wife Hannah, for & during their natural life with suitable food, raiment, medicine, medical adviser & attendance and pay all funeral charges; the said Ezekiel to improve said farm in a husband-like manner & not to sell or rent any part of said farm during their natural lives" (I:2).

538 JONATHAN[6] FLANDERS, b. (presum.) ca 1768/9; m. Nov. 26, 1789, at Amherst, N. H., by Rev. Jeremiah Barnard, to Sarah Steel of Amherst (O:7).

No actual statement has been found that Jonathan[6] Flanders was the son of Thomas[5] Flanders and Betsey Stevens. The names of the children of Jonathan and Sarah (Steel) Flanders, as well as a deed given under Thomas[5] Flanders (No. 158), furnish quite conclusive evidence that this Jonathan was a son of Thomas and Betsey (Stevens) Flanders.

May 8, 1792, Jonathan Flanders of Antrim, "in consideration of the maintenance of Elizabeth, late wife of Joseph Steele, and her two children, Polly & Isaac," granted land in Antrim to Joseph Steel; signed by Jonathan Flanders and Sally Flanders (I:7).

Children (Flanders), b. at Antrim, N. H. (O:9):

1190 i. Betty[7], b. Aug. 18, 1790.
+1191 ii. Thomas[7], b. Mch. 29, 1792.

539 MOSES[6] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 8, 1771, at Weare, N. H.; d. Sept. 29, 1859, at Rochester, Vt., ae 88y, 21d (M:6); m. Sally —— (O:50).

The parentage of this Moses Flanders is given in the Montpelier Vital Statistics, under his death entry, as "son of Moses and Betsey." There is no record of a Moses and Betsey Flanders residing at Weare at the time this Moses was born, whereas there was a Thomas and Betsey, who had a son Moses, as shown under Thomas Flanders (No. 158). Another indication that this is the correct parentage is that Betsey, daughter of Thomas and Betsey (Stevens) Flanders, resided for a time at Rochester, Vt., where this Moses Flanders died. At the time Jonathan Flanders (No. 538) and Thomas Flanders (No. 158) were residing in Antrim, this Moses was also a resident of that town. From this evidence it would appear that this Moses was the son of Thomas and Betsey (Stevens) Flanders.

Feb. 26, 1790, Moses Flanders of Antrim granted land to Isaac Baldwin of Antrim (I:7), and in 1794, Moses Flanders and his wife, Sally, went from Antrim to Hancock, N. H. They were warned out of Hancock Sept. 10, 1794 (O:50). A great grandson of Moses Flanders states that when his great grandfather came to Rochester, Vt., he settled on a hill between the towns of Rochester and Hancock, Vt. This hill is still called Flanders' Hill. There were no mills for grinding corn in Rochester at that time, so Moses Flanders walked a distance of some 20 miles, to the town of Royalton, Vt., carrying his bags of corn on his shoulders that it might be ground at the mills in Royalton. He was a carpenter and joiner by trade.

There were two more children of whom there is no record.

544 JOHN[6] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 13, 1777, at Weare, N. H.; m. Feb. 11, 1799, at Hanover, N. H., by Rev. Eden Burroughs, to Polly Dow (M:5).

The identification of John[6] Flanders as the John Flanders, who married Polly Dow, is based upon presumptive evidence.

John[6] and Miriam[6] Flanders were the children of John[5] Flanders, and, as a Miriam Flanders married James Woodman of Hanover, and a John Flanders married at Hanover, it seems probable that they were brother and sister. The present records show no other John and Miriam who could have made these respective marriages. Phebe, widow of John[5] Flanders had married again about 1789, and resided first at New London, later moving to Orange, Vt. Hanover, N. H. is located about half way between these two towns and it is possible that the family in their migration to Vermont resided for a short time at Hanover.

Children (Flanders), b. at Hanover, N. H. (M:5):

1208 i. Polly[7], b. Sept. 1, 1800.
1209 ii. John Dow[7], b. July 17, 1803.

545 Benjamin[6] Flanders, b. date of birth unknown; m. Nov., 1802, at Hanover, N. H., by Rev. Eben Burroughs, to Rhoda Dean (M:5); b. 1783, at Jaffrey, N. H. (O:67); d. May 26, 1867, at Mt. Holly, Vt., ae 84y, a widow (O:67).

The evidence that this Benjamin Flanders was a son of John[5] Flanders is presumptive. John[5] Flanders was the son of Benjamin[4] Flanders, therefore, might naturally have had a son named Benjamin; John[5] had a son born in 1777, and the next recorded child was born in 1781, thus Benjamin[6] could have been born in 1779; Benjamin[6] was married at Hanover, N. H., as were his (presumedly) brother John and sister Miriam; the youngest child of John[5] Flanders was named Jacob, this son may have died, as no further record of him has been found, and Benjamin[6] Flanders' first child was named Jacob, and was born in Strafford, Vt., a town not far distant from the town in which Benjamin's mother was then residing.

Children (Flanders) (O:67), these births are all entered on the town records of Mt. Holly, Vt., all but the first child b. at Mt. Holly, Vt.:

1210 i. Jacob[7], b. Jan. 7, 1804, at Strafford, Vt.; d. Mch. 24, 1872, at Mt. Holly, Vt., ae 62y, 1m, no d (O:67).

560 ELIPHALET[6] FLANDERS, b. 1792, at Gilmanton, N. H.; d. July 9, 1834, at Sanbornton, N. H., ae 42y; d. suddenly while at work in the fields from a sunstroke or fit (H:41); m. Dec. 14, 1815, at Sanbornton, by Rev. Moses Cheney, to Sally Johnson (M:5); b. May 6, 1790, at Sanbornton (H:41); d. May 7, 1878, at New Hampton, N. H., ae 88y, bur. on Calef Hill, Sanbornton (H:41); dau. of John Johnson and Mary Smith (H:41); she m. (2) May 24, 1842, Nathaniel Merrill (E:166); he d. Jan. 20, 1844, bur. Merrill cem., Sanbornton (E:166).

Eliphalet Flanders was a farmer and lived on Lot. No. 41 of the 2nd division in the town of Sanbornton, and he also occupied the Bruce place on Calef Hill (H:41). There are numerous land transactions recorded under his name in Sanbornton.

Children (Flanders), all b. at Sanbornton, N. H. (H:41):

561 JOSEPH[6] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 18, 1790, at Gilmanton, N. H.; m. (1) May 30, 1815, to Sophie Hall (M:5; Q:2); b. Mch. 7, 1793, at Exeter, N. H. (M:5); dau. of Kinsley Hall and Honor Rundlet (E:60; E:90); m. (2) May 26, 1863, at Sanbornton, N. H., by Jonathan M. Taylor, J. P. of Sanbornton (M:5), or July 6, 1865, at Laconia, N. H., by Erastus P. Jewell, J. P. of Laconia (M:5), to Sally G. (Hill) (Farrar) Philbrick of Sanbornton (M:5; H:42); b. Aug. 23, 1806 (H:42), at Sanbornton (M:5); d. May 28, 1873, in her 67th year (H:42); dau. of Joseph H. Hill and Hannah Gilman (M:5). Sally Hill was the widow of Jacob Farrar (H:42); in the N. H. Vital Statistics two records of her marriage to Joseph Flanders are given and her name is entered as Sally (Hill) Philbrick, but her marriage to Joseph Flanders is recorded as the 3rd, so her first marriage was undoubtedly to Jacob Farrar, as given in the town history of Sanbornton. No explanation has been found of the conflicting marriage records as given above.

Joseph Flanders moved from Exeter to Gilmanton and was a resident of Sanbornton at the time of his second marriage (E:91; E:60).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Gilmanton, N. H. (Q:2):

1234 vi. George Augustus[7], b. Nov. 14, 1834; d. Aug. 26, 1885, at East Saginaw, Mich. (G:14); m. Dec. 5, 1871, at East Saginaw, Mich., to Mary Philbrick (Q:2). George A. was appointed Capt. of Co. F., 4th N. H. Art., Dec. 20, 1861; residence Sanbornton, b. Gilmanton, ae 27 years at time of enlistment in 1861; wounded May 27, 1863 and June 14, 1863, at Port Hudson, La.; appointed Lt. Col. Dec. 16, 1863; mustered out Jan. 18, 1865 (G:14).

1235 vii. Mary Hall[7], b. Mch. 23, 1836; m. May 21, 1864, to Rufus Clark (Q:2).

568 Levi[6] Flanders, b. Mch. 25, 1758, at Amesbury, Mass.; d. May 6, 1836, at Danbury, N. H., bur. in cem. on road leading to Grafton, N. H., ae 77y; "A Soldier of the Revolution" (B:29); m. Mch. 21, 1780, at Newton, N. H., by Rev. Mr. Ames, to Mary Sargent of Newton (T:1); b. Mch. 31, 1761, at Newton, N. H. (O:33); d. July 23, 1849, at Monson, Me., bur. Grafton Road cem., Danbury, N. H., ae 88y (B:29); dau. of David Sargent and Jane Eastman of Newton (E:157).

Levi Flanders was buried in a family lot on his homestead in Danbury, but removed later to the Grafton Road cem., where a monument was erected to him by his great granddaughter, Anne Janette (Flanders) Stuart (E:156).

Previous genealogists have placed the descent of this Levi Flanders in the line of Nehemiah[4], Joseph[3], Stephen[2], Stephen[1]. Levi, son of Nehemiah[4] Flanders, was born in 1754, whereas Levi, son of Timothy[5] Flanders, was born in 1758. The birth date of the Levi Flanders who married Mary Sargent and lived in Danbury, N. H., is entered on the town records of Danbury as Mch. 25, 1758, which is in perfect agreement with the birth of Levi, son of Timothy[5] Flanders. Levi Flanders was a Revolutionary soldier and applied for a pension in 1818, giving his residence as Danbury, N. H., and his age as 60 years. He also makes a reference to his brother Daniel. Levi Flanders, son of Nehemiah[4] Flanders, had no brother named Daniel, but Levi, son of Timothy[5] Flanders, did have a brother Daniel. These records prove conclusively that Levi Flanders of Danbury, N. H., was the son of Timothy[5] Flanders and not of Nehemiah[4] Flanders.

Levi[7] Flanders, son of Levi[6] Flanders, was town clerk of Danbury in 1818, and it is probable that he entered the dates of his father's and mother's births on the town records at the time he entered the births of their children.

July 1, 1776, Levi & Daniel Flanders, sons of Timothy Flanders, late of Amesbury, chose Ensign Simeon Bartlett of Amesbury, as their "gardeen" (K:4). On Feb. 12, 1785, Levi Flanders of South Hampton, granted to William Bayley of Amesbury, land in Amesbury, "which was set out to me by the committee appointed by the honorable, the Judge of Probate, to divide the estate of my honored father, Timothy Flanders, late of Amesbury, deceased. Signed Levi Flanders & Molly Flanders, in token of her free consent. The seventh year of the Independence of the United States of America" (I:5).

Sergt. Levi Flanders of Salisbury & Amesbury, Mass., enlisted Dec. 25, 1775, for one year in Col. Loammi Baldwin's 26th Mass. regt., Gen. Glover's Brigade, Continental Army. Served under Capt. Ezra Badlam, Capt. William Rogers, & Capt. Jonathan Poor, mostly in New York and New Jersey. He enlisted second from Amesbury, Mass., a private, Capt. Moses Nowell's co., Col. Jonathan Titcomb's regt., arrived at Providence, R. I., May 4, 1777; discharged July 4, 1777; clerk to the commissary part of the time; enlisted again, Aug. 18, 1777, Capt. Jonathan Evans' co., Col. Samuel Johnson's 4th Essex Co. regt.; service at Ticonderoga, northern department against Burgoyne; discharged Nov. 30, 1777; enlisted fourth, Apr. 3, 1778, as Serg. in Capt. Samuel Huse's co., Col. Jacob Gerrish's regt. of Guards, stationed at Cambridge, guarding prisoners; discharged July 12, 1778; his sergeant's warrant is on file in the U. S. Pension Bureau; enlisted fifth, July 20, 1778, as Sergeant, in Capt. Jonathan Evans' co., Col. Nathaniel Wade's regt., served in Rhode Island, part of the time as boatman, Gen. John Sullivan's Expedition against Newport, discharged Jan. 1, 1779. He applied for a pension, referring to service as above, Apr. 18, 1818. He was placed on the pension roll, Sept. 8, 1819, being then a resident of Grafton Co., Town of Danbury, N. H., where he died May 6, 1836. On the 25th of Aug., 1838, his widow, Mary, applied for a pension. Mary appears as a resident of Grafton, N. H., ae 77y. She states that she was married to Levi Flanders, Mch. 21, 1780, by the Rev. Mr. Ames of Newton, N. H. David Sargent testified that he had witnessed the marriage of his sister Mary to Levi

Flanders, and that after the close of the war, they moved to Danbury, N. H. Mch. 9, 1843, Mary Flanders applied for a re-issue of pension which she drew from Mch. 4, 1836 to Mch. 4, 1841. Reuben S. Long testified that "Mary Flanders now lives and resides in my family." Mch. 3, 1847, Mary Flanders had removed to Monson, Me., and resided with her son-in-law, Reuben S. Long (R:448).

On the first Tuesday of July, 1820, Levi Flanders appeared in Court in compliance with an Act of Congress, to prove that he was in need of a pension. In addition to testimony, repeating the facts stated in 1818, he added that he lived with his son Enos, who had a large family, a weakly wife and 8 children, and had to hire help constantly, and his pension is needed, &c., and that his wife Mary lived with their son Levi. In 1838, Reuben S. Long, son-in-law of Levi, testified that Levi had passed the last years of his life in his (Long's) house; Hannah J. Long, wife of Reuben, gave the same testimony (R:448).

Daniel Flanders was a shipwright and resided at Newbury, Mass. In 1786, he granted land in Warner, N. H., to Stephen Badger of Amesbury, for 100 Spanish milled dollars (I:7). Mch. 12, 1790, Amos Whittemore and Sarah, his wife; Ebenezer Whittemore and Susanna, his wife; Daniel Flanders, shipwright, and Anna, his wife, and Mary Morrill, singlewoman and spinster, all of Newbury; Joshua Merrill of Biddeford, Me., cordwainer, children and heirs of Daniel Merrill, divide "divers land and tenements descended to above named parties at decease of Daniel Merrill" (I:5). Dec. 11, 1799, Daniel Flanders and Anne Flanders of Newbury, shipwright and spinster, granted land to John Atkinson, which "fell to us by our father, Mr. Daniel Merrill, late of Newbury, deceased" (I:5).

Daniel Flanders of Amesbury served several enlistments in the Revolutionary War. He was a private in Capt. Moses Newell's co., Col. Titcomb's regt., which arrived at its destination May 4, 1777; discharged July 4, 1777; this company marched to R. I. to serve two months from the time of their arrival at Providence. From July 2 to July 12, 1778, he was in Capt. Samuel Huse's co., Col. Jacob Gerrish's regt. of Guards; service, "Guarding at Cambridge." July 20, 1778, he enlisted in Capt. Jonathan Evans' co., Col. Nathaniel Wade's regt.; discharged Jan. 1, 1779; also in the return of men in Col. Wade's regt., who served as boatmen in the expedition against Newport (G:34). He was present at Burgoyne's surrender (G:34). He applied for a pension, Apr. 3, 1818 (G:34).

Sept. 28, 1865, bur. old Union Meeting House cem., Plainfield, ae 84y (F:9); she was the widow of Benjamin Quimby (F:9).

"The Enfield & Grantham Union Meeting house was located near the junction of the boundary lines of Enfield, Grantham, Lebanon, and Plainfield, but is now" (1908) "a private dwelling house. In its old bible is written: 'Enfield & Grantham Union Meeting house. This book is presented for the use of all religious denominations who may wish to worship the Supreme Ruler of the Universe in this house according to the Dictates of their own Consciences by Daniel Stickney, Jonathan Howe and Moses Flanders, the last and only surviving Soldiers of the American Revolution now resident in this vicinity, Aug. 17, 1837.' Some 700 feet south of this Meeting house in what is now a part of Plainfield, is a small cemetery" (F:9).

Moses Flanders received by will from his father, Daniel[5] Flanders, 130 acres of land in Enfield, which Daniel had acquired from Jonathan Quimby (K:6). From 1798 to 1808, Moses Flanders made several purchases of land in Grantham, N. H., and in 1837, he granted a parcel of land in Grantham on the highway from Enfield to Croyden Turnpike to his son-in-law, Daniel L. Smith (I:4). June 1, 1840, Moses, then 78 years of age, was residing with this son-in-law (G:15). In 1781, Moses Flanders, then a resident of Hopkinton, N. H., was on the roll of 6 mos. men raised by the state of New Hampshire to serve in the Continental Army at West Point. He was mustered in July 19, 1781; discharged Dec. 12, 1781 (G:15).

In his will, dated Mch. 3, 1838, he bequeathed to his "eldest daughter, Sarah Day, wife of Samuel S. Day of Enfield," a grant of land in Grantham; "to my 2nd daughter, Hanny Day, wife of David Day of Enfield," a parcel of land in Grantham; to his son, James Monroe Flanders, $2.; the residue of his property, both real and personal was bequeathed to his son-in-law, Daniel L. Smith, "husband of my daughter Mary." Daniel Smith was appointed executor. The will was probated at Canaan, N. H., June 21, 1853 (K:5).

Gertrude Flanders, the third wife of Moses[6] Flanders, bequeathed in her will all her real estate in Plainfield to the Free Will Baptist Church, "formerly in Grantham, now in Enfield"; bequests were made to her brother, Moses Stanley; her sister, Phebe Flanders; her sister, Betsey Wiman; her granddaughter, Mary F. Smith of Enfield; her brother, John Stanley; and her nephew, Daniel Morgan. Her will was dated Jan. 27, 1859, and probated Oct. 25, 1865 (K:11).

595 Enoch[6] Flanders, b. Apr. 10, 1772, at Amesbury, Mass.; m. Abigail Crocker (G:12); b. June 5, 1781 (G:12).

John Flanders, son of Thomas[6] Flanders (No. 596), in a return sent in about 1892, stated that his father, Thomas Flanders, had six brothers: James, Ichabod, Enoch, Daniel, Ezekiel and Moses. No actual statement of the parentage of this Enoch Flanders has been found, but, in view of the above record, and as the children of this Enoch Flanders were born at Jefferson, Me., as were several of the children of Thomas[6] Flanders, there can be no doubt but that this Enoch was the son of Enoch[5] Flanders and Anna Crocker. Additional evidence is found in the marriages of Enoch and his brother Daniel to Abigail and Mehitable Crocker, probably relatives of their mother, Anna Crocker.

606 DANIEL[6] FLANDERS, b. 1774, at Alton, N. H.; d. 1855, dates of birth and death given on cenotaph in Strafford, Vt. cem. (B:82); m. May 12, 1795, at New Durham Gore (Alton), N. H., by Rev. Benjamin Randall to Sally Elkins of Gilmanton (M:5); b. 1774; d. 1849, cenotaph, Strafford, Vt. cem. (B:82).

Aug. 18, 1801, Enoch Flanders of Alton, granted to his brother, Daniel Flanders of Strafford, Vt., lot No. 2 in the 2nd div. of land in Strafford (I:18). Mch. 11, 1845, Daniel Flanders deeded his property to his son, Daniel Flanders, Jr., on condition that he "shall well, truly and faithfully support and maintain said Daniel Flanders and Sarah his wife during their natural lives & the life of the survivor of them treating them at all times as children ought to treat parents" (I:18).

Children (Flanders):

1426 i. Abigail[7], b. ca 1796; m. Mch. 31, 1814, to Richard Glidden, and resided at Strafford, Vt. (M:6). The parentage of this Abigail Flanders is based upon presumptive evidence: in the marriage record her residence is given as Strafford, Vt.; Daniel Flanders, Jr., had a daughter named Abby or Abigail, doubtless named for this sister; Richard Glidden probably went to Strafford, Vt., from Alton, N. H., as the Gliddens were early settlers of Alton; Daniel Flanders, Sr., was living in Strafford prior to 1801, but the exact date of his removal from Alton to Strafford is not known, but he may have gone there soon after the birth of this child, as his next 2 children are recorded as born at Strafford.

+1427 ii. Sally[7], b. Sept. 10, 1798, at Strafford, Vt. (O:95).

+1428 iii. Daniel[7], b. July 26, 1800, at Strafford, Vt. (O:95).

N. H. (H:48); b. at Roxbury, Mass. (M:5); dau. of Stephen Colburn and Mary Emerson (E:42).

It is stated in the town history of Weare, N. H., that Elijah Flanders, a sailor, came to Weare just after the Revolution and married Sarah Colburn. In the genealogy of the "Colburn-Coburn Families," the name of Elijah's wife is given as Phebe, but this is apparently an error, as in 1785, Elijah Flanders deeded land in Weare to Abraham Melven, and the deed was signed by Sarah Flanders, wife of Elijah Flanders (I:7). Elijah Flanders settled on the River Road, near Emerson Bridge, in the village of Riverdale. Riverdale is located partly in the township of New Boston and partly in the township of Weare (S:1).

Aug. 10, 1810, Sally Flanders of Weare, singlewoman, quits claim to land in Weare, to John Flanders of Weare, yeoman, it being land which "my honoured father, Elijah Flanders, died seized of" (I:7).

1499 viii. John[7], b. May 28, 1807; d. at Boston, Mass., unmarried (Q:2).

629 CAPT. RALPH CROSS[6] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 6, 1770, at Salisbury, Mass., bp. Mch. 17, 1771 (F:13); d. July 29, 1809, at Salisbury, Mass., bur. Salisbury Point cem., now a part of Amesbury, ae 39y (O:88); m. (int. May 6, 1797) June 20, 1797, at Salisbury, to Sally Follansbee (O:88a); b. 1773, at Salisbury (O:88); d. Nov. 17, 1813, at Salisbury, ae 40y, bur. Salisbury Point cem. (O:88a); dau. of Samuel Follansbee and Anna —— (K:4).

Capt. Ralph Cross Flanders was a mariner and the following epitaph was placed upon his tombstone:

"Would you behold the works of God,
His wonders in the world abroad
Go with the mariners and trace
The unknown regions of the seas" (O:88).

While his wife, Sally, received the following:

"The graves of all his saints be blessed
And sofined every bed" (O:88).

Dec. 9, 1813, Joseph Flanders was appointed guardian of the children of Capt. Ralph Cross Flanders, this being the wish of their mother, Sally (Follansbee) Flanders, "as stated by her parents, Samuel and Anna Follansbee." He was also appointed administrator of the estate (K:4).

Children (Flanders), both b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

1500 i. Ralph Cross[7], b. Sept. 22, 1803; d. Sept. 29, 1829, at Newbury, Mass. (K:4); m. (int. Sept. 5, 1823) at Newburyport, Mass., to Mary Ann Shute ("Forbidden by Mary Ann Shute, Sept. 6.") (P:41).

+1501 ii. Joseph Follansbee[7], b. Dec. 15, 1805.

635 NATHAN[6] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 25, 1773, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Oct. 3, 1816, at sea (Q:1); m. (int. Dec. 17, 1796) Jan. 11, 1797, at Salisbury, Mass., by Benjamin Evans, J. P., to Abigail Follansbee (O:88a); b. Apr. 2, 1778, at Salisbury (Q:1); d. Nov. 6, 1836, at Lynn, Mass. (Q:1); dau. of Alonzo Follansbee (Q:1).

Nathan Flanders lived at Rocky Hill, Salisbury; he was a ship builder and a sea captain. During the War of 1812, he commanded the ship "Regulus," which foundered at sea, Oct. 3, 1816, during a gale, and all on board were lost. This account was given by George Edwin Flanders, a grandson of Nathan Flanders (Q:1).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

1502 i. Sally[7], b. May 20, 1797; d. Apr. 24, 1863, at Salisbury Mills, Mass., ae 65y, 11m (O:88); never married (O:88).

1503 ii. Rhoda[7], b. Oct. 14, 1803; d. Oct. 15, 1803, at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88).

1504 iii. Alfred[7], b. May 20, 1807; d. Nov. 29, 1873, at Salisbury Mills, Mass., bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 66y, 6m, 9d (O:88); m. at Port Mahon, Minorca, one of the Balearic Islands, to Madeline Bals (Q:1); b. Feb. 8, 1812, "a native of the Isle of Minorca" (B:2); d. Oct. 4, 1859, at Salisbury Mills, Mass., "Passed on to a higher, nobler and happier life" (B:2). Alfred Flanders was assistant Hospital Steward in the U. S. Navy and was with the fleet in the Mediterranean Sea. While at Port Mahon he married Mary Madeline Bals, a Spanish lady. She was killed by the cars at Salisbury. Account given by George Edwin Flanders (Q:1). No issue (Q:1).

+1505 iv. Cyrus[7], b. Mch. 8, 1810.

+1506 v. Serena[7], b. Jan. 21, 1813.

636 JAMES[6] FLANDERS, b. July 2, 1778, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Aug. 2, 1819, at Salisbury (O:88a); m. (1) (int. June 23, 1809) June 30, 1809, at Salisbury, Mass., by Rev. William Balch, to Eliza Gilman (O:88a); b. 1790, at Exeter, N. H. (G:12); d. Mch. 24, 1811, at Salisbury, bur. in Amesbury cem., ae 21y. Inscription: "This dumb Monitor informs me of Eliza wife of James Flanders, who d. Mch. 24, 1811, ae 21y. Time was, like me, She life possessed." He m. (2) (int. Sept. 6, 1811) Sept. 26, 1811, at Salisbury, by Rev. William Balch, to Jemima Stevens (O:88a); b. 1791 (B:2); d. Aug. 26, 1864, bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 73y (B:2); she m. (2) (int. Sept. 25, 1840) Oct. 15, 1840, at Salisbury, Mass., to Ezekiel Fowler (O:88; B:2).

Dec. 28, 1819, Dudley Dodge of Hampton Falls, shows that James Flanders of Salisbury, a caulker, "has on the 2nd of Aug. last died intestate, and that he has been asked by the widow, there being no children of age, to act as administrator." A bible and other books are mentioned in the inventory of the estate. Jemima Flanders, widow, stated that she had five small children (K:4).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

+1507 i. Ira[7], b. Nov. 4, 1809.

1508 ii. Elizabeth[7], b. Jan. 8, 1811; m. June 2, 1840, at Salisbury, Mass., to Cyrus Bradley (O:88); b. Sept. 4, 1816, at Plaistow, N. H. (E:16); d. Jan. 12, 1872, at Amesbury, Mass. (E:16); son of Benjamin Bradly, Jr. and Elizabeth Currier (E:16).

By second wife:

1509 iii. Gilman[7], b. July 23, 1812; d. at sea, near New Orleans, date unknown (Q:2).

1510 iv. Warren[7], b. Sept. 30, 1815; d. Nov. 27, 1835, bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 20y (B:2).

1511 v. Almira[7], b. May 30, 1817; d. Nov. 11, 1867, bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 50y, 5m (B:2); m. Oct. 7, 1858 (her 1st mar.) at Salisbury, Mass., to John Neal of Amesbury (O:5); b. 1818, at No. Berwick, Me. (O:5); son of Hiram Neal and Elizabeth —— (O:5). This was his 2nd mar. (O:5).

637 JOHN[6] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 1, 1781, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. June 14, 1843 (Q:1); m. (1) (int. Sept. 5, 1807) Oct. 10, 1807, at Salisbury, Mass., by Rev. William Balch, to Lydia Manns (O:88a); she d. May 17, 1817, at Salisbury (O:88a); m. (2) (int. Nov. 29, 1817, at Salisbury) (O:88) Jan. 13, 1818, at Hampton Falls, N. H., by Rev. Jacob Abbott, to Ruth Dow of Hampton Falls (M:5); probably the dau. of Caleb Dow and Anna Cram (E:56); she m. (2) Feb. 16, 1845, at Newbury, Mass., to Lowell Crocker, a ship carpenter (P:40).

1512 i. Andrew Hacket[7], b. Apr. 3, 1808 (O:88a).

1513 ii. Sophronia[7], b. July 22, 1810 (O:88a); d. May 30, 1814, at Salisbury (O:88a).

1514 iii. Deliverance Clifford[7], b. Aug. 6, 1812 (O:88a); m. (int. Jan. 19, 1833 or May 11, 1834) July 10, 1834, at Salisbury, Mass., to Andrew J. Merrill of Salisbury (O:88).

+1515 iv. Joseph Greeley[7], b. May 26, 1815 (O:88).

By second wife:

+1516 v. Nathan[7], b. Jan. 18, 1820 (Q:2).

1517 vi. Lydia Ann[7], b. Oct. 30, 1822 (Q:2); m. (int. June 2, 1849), at Newbury, Mass., to James Anderson (P:40); b. 1827 (P:40); son of Robert Anderson and Jane —— (P:40). The Newbury record gives Lydia, dau. of John and Ruth Flanders, ae 18y, and James Anderson, ae 22y. This would indicate an error in the birth record, as recorded by Q:2, or in the age as given in the marriage entry at Newbury. James Anderson was a ship caulker (P:40).

639 JOSEPH[6] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 9, 1769, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Jan. 21, 1839, at Salisbury, Mass., bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 69y (B:2); m. (1) (int. Jan. 25, 1794) Feb. 19, 1794 at Salisbury, Mass., to Nancy Worthen of Amesbury (O:88); b. 1770 (B:2); d. Feb. 10, 1807, bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 37y (B:2); m. (2) (int. Sept. 19, 1807) Oct. 6, 1807, at Salisbury, by Rev. William Balch, to Susanna Penson (O:88a); b. 1770, at Marblehead, Mass. (O:88); d. Apr. 18, 1846, at Salisbury, Mass., ae 76y, bur. Amesbury, Mass. (B:2).

Apr. 2, 1839, an administrator was appointed of the estate of Joseph Flanders, Sr., late of Salisbury, deceased. At the request of the widow, Susanna Flanders, Joseph Flanders, Jr., of New York City, son of deceased, was appointed (K:4).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

+1518 i. Clarissa[7], b. Apr. 22, 1795.

1519 ii. Susanna[7], b. May 17, 1798; d. Feb. 11, 1857, at Salisbury, Mills, Mass., bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 58y, 8m (B:2).

+1520 iii. Joseph[7], b. Oct. 16, 1800.

1521 iv. Benjamin[7], b. Feb. 25, 1803; m. Sarah Brown of Providence, R. I. (Q:1).

1522 v. Charles Worthen[7], b. Feb. 9, 1807; d. in the summer of 1875, ae 68y (H:16); m. May 14, 1846, at Boston, Mass., to Mary H. Lincoln O'Brien (P:7); dau. of William O'Brien of Machias, Me., and Mary Lincoln (P:7; K:4). Charles Worthen Flanders was a Baptist minister. He graduated from Brown University in 1839, and pursued his theological course under the instruction of the Rev. John Wayland, then pastor of the First Baptist Church of Salem, Mass. He settled first at Beverly, Mass., remaining there for 10 years, then removed to Concord, N. H., in 1851, where he remained 15 years. He was a man of distinguished appearance, a quiet manner, scholarly rather than brilliant; popular because of his kindly spirit and the work he did for the young people. The church was most prosperous under his ministration. In 1866, he removed to Kennebunkport, Me., and later to Westboro, Mass., where he died in the summer of 1875, ae 68y (H:16). In his will, dated May 3, 1873, his wife, Mary Lincoln Flanders, was made executrix. Bequests were made to his wife's mother, Mrs. Mary Lincoln O'Brien; his nephew, George B. Flanders of Brooklyn, N. Y.; his niece, Mrs. Clara Flanders of New York City, formerly wife of his nephew, Charles Joseph Flanders; his sister, Eliza Flanders of Salisbury, Mass.; his brother, Benjamin Flanders, formerly living in New York; and to his nephew, Daniel F. Morrill, of Vineland, N. J. (K:4).

1523 vi. Eliza[7] (K:4), living in 1873 at Salisbury, Mass. (K:4).

640 BENNET[6] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 17, 1772, at Salisbury, Mass.; drowned June 20, 1821, in Plum Island River (R:417); m. (int. July 27, 1793) Aug. 18, 1793, at Amesbury, Mass., to Ruth Randall of Amesbury (P:1); dau. of Isaac (presum.) Randall and Anna —— (I:11).

The "Providence Gazette," under date of June 21, 1821, contains an account of the drowning of the three children of Bennet Flanders, and states that "Mr. Flanders himself nearly lost his life at the same time" (N:1). According to the family records of the great grandson of Bennet Flanders, Warren Beebe Flanders, Bennet Flanders was drowned together with his three sons. As no further record of Bennet Flanders has been found, it is probable that the newspaper account was inaccurate.

In 1810, the children of Anna Randall, deceased,—Elizabeth, Easter, Anna, and Ruth, wife of Bennet Flanders,—grant land in South Hampton belonging to their mother, Anna Randall, to William Worthen (I:11). As Bennet and Ruth (Randall) Flanders had a son named Isaac Randall, it is probable that her father was Isaac Randall.

Children (Flanders), all b. at Salisbury, Mass. (O:88a):

+1524 i. Rebecca[7], b. Mch. 9, 1794.
1525 ii. Mary[7], b. May 7, 1797.
1526 iii. Ruth[7], b. Aug. 1, 1799; d. June 26, 1844, at Amesbury, Mass. (O:5); never married.

+1539 viii. William[7], b. Sept. 8, 1818.

1540 ix. Charles Newell[7], b. Sept. 25, 1823; resided at Scotch Plains, N. Y. (Q:1).

643 NANCY[6] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 4, 1783, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Mch. 7, 1871, at Salisbury, Mass., ae 88y, 3d (O:88); m. (1) (int. July 23, 1803) Dec. 11, 1803, at Salisbury, to Capt. John Lurvey (O:88; Q:2); m. (2) Capt. Nathan Long (Q:2). In the death entry, Nancy is recorded as the widow of a Long (O:88).

Children (Lurvey):

1541 i. Susan[7] (Q:2).

Children (Long):

1542 ii. Sarah Ann[7], m. —— Johnson (Q:2).

1543 iii. William[7], m. Elizabeth Hilton (Q:2).

685 EZEKIEL[6] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 5, 1771, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. will probated 4th Tuesday in March, 1858 (K:7); m. Loruhanah —— (K:7).

The will of Ezekiel Flanders of Warner, N. H. was dated May 9, 1844, and mentions only his wife, Loruhanah Flanders, and Sally Couch, dau. of William Couch. Sally Couch was a sister of the wife of True Flanders, nephew of Ezekiel. On May 19, 1849, Loruhanah

Flanders received a certain sum of money from the executor of the will (K:7).

On Jan. 19, 1797, Ezekiel Flanders received land in Warner from his father, Hophni Flanders (I:7). But one child has been found recorded to Ezekiel Flanders, and, as none are mentioned in the will, it is probable that there were none living at the time the instrument was drawn up.

Child (Flanders):

1606 i. Aaron[7], b. Dec. 6, 1799, at Warner, N. H. (O:105). No further record, may have died young.

687 MOSES[6] FLANDERS, b. June 28, 1779, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. July 20, 1829, as 50y, bur. Lower Warner cem. (B:90); m. Nov. 22, 1810, at Hopkinton, N. H., to Phebe Stanley (M:5); b. 1785 (B:90); d. Apr. 5, 1870, bur. Lower Warner cem., ae 85y (B:90).

Child (Flanders):

1607 i. Sarah[7], b. June 8, 1813, at Warner, N. H. (O:105); d. Jan. 26, 1859, ae 44y, bur. Lower Warner cem. (B:90); estate administered Mch. 22, 1859, by Nathaniel Davis; Phebe Flanders, mother and only heir of the deceased, refused the administration of the estate (K:7). The age, as given on the tombstone, does not agree with the birth record, but in general, when the age on the tombstone is given only in years, the town records can be considered the more reliable.

689 PETER[6] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 17, 1783, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Feb. 9, 1854, at Salisbury, N. H., bur. Duck Pond cem., Salisbury, N. H., ae 72y (B:72); m. Sarah True (H:41); b. 1785 (B:72); d. May 16, 1855, bur. Duck Pond cem., Salisbury, ae 70y (B:72); dau. of Jabez True (H:41).

Peter Flanders' estate was administered, Feb. 28, 1854. The widow, Sarah Flanders; children, True Flanders; Mary Eastman wife of William D. Eastman of Warner; Phebe Moody, wife of Moses Moody of Salisbury, N. H.; and Oliver Flanders of Warner, were the only heirs (K:7).

Sept. 9, 1821, at 5 P.M., a tornado swept over Warner and Salisbury, N. H. Peter Flanders said that on that day "the family had been baking and the bricks were hot. The chimney falling on 3 of the children so injured one of them, a girl, that she died that night, and so burned another child, a boy aged 5 years, about the legs, that the sores caused thereby did not fully heal for 7 years. He was made a cripple for life. The third child was uninjured." At the time the tornado struck Peter Flanders' house, he was standing at the west of the chimney by the jamb and close to the cellar door. His son, True, was standing in front of the fireplace. The child, Phebe, was asleep on the bed, and Mrs. Flanders and Mrs. Richardson were east of the chimney. The building was carried completely away, and Mr. Flanders was found with his feet partly down the cellar stairs, partially paralyzed from the shock. He did not recover for some six months. The son, True, was thrown into the fireplace (the fire being out after dinner), and was not injured. The girl, Phebe, now Mrs. Augustus Pettingill, was carried with the feather bed and dropped some rods from the house, breaking one arm. Mrs. Flanders was thrown to the floor and Mrs. Richardson on top of her, and a large stick of timber was found on Mrs. Richardson. Her arms and legs were broken and she sustained injuries from which she died in half an hour. Mrs. Flanders was so badly injured about the head that she never recovered (H:41).

1624 ix. Alonzo M.[7], b. 1841 (G:14; R:1202). Alonzo M. Flanders, b. Warner, N. H., ae 20, res. Sutton, enlisted Aug. 24, 1861; mustered in Sept. 18, 1861, as private, mustered out Sept. 27, 1864 (G:14). Alonzo M. Flanders, Co. B, Veteran Battalion, representative recruit, b. N. H., ae 23, credited to Manchester, N. H., enlisted Jan. 6, 1865, as private, assigned to Co. B, Vet. Battalion, Apr. 30, 1865; mustered out Oct. 28, 1865. Supposed to be identical with Alonzo M. Flanders in Co. I, 4th N. H. Regt. (G:14).
1625 x. Jacob M.[7], b. 1843 (G:14). Jacob M. Flanders, ae 18, res. Sutton, enlisted in Co. I, 4th N. H. Regt., Sept. 5, 1861, as private, mustered in Sept. 18, 1861; discharged July 12, 1862, at St. Augustine, Fla. (G:14).

698 DANIEL SILVER[6] FLANDERS, b. July 10, 1807, at Warner, N. H.; d. prior to 1886 (M:5); m. July 19, 1829, at Salisbury, N. H., by Rev. Thomas Worcester, to Bethiah Scribner of Salisbury, N. H. (O:90); b. at Salisbury, N. H. (O:90).

The statement in the town history of Salisbury, N. H., that Daniel, son of William and Mary (Page) Flanders, married Bethiah Scribner, is evidently wrong, in view of the following evidence:

Daniel, son of William and Mary (Page) Flanders, was born at Salisbury, N. H., and records show that the Daniel Flanders who married Bethiah Scribner was born at Warner, N. H. Then also, the Enfield census records give Daniel Flanders' age as 63, in 1870, whereas Daniel, son of William and Mary (Page) Flanders was born in 1802—not in 1807. There can be no confusion as to the Daniel Flanders of the census records, for he is given as residing with John W. Johnson, who married Betsey, dau. of Daniel and Bethiah (Scribner) Flanders; Heber Flanders, son of Daniel and Bethiah, age 18, was also residing with John W. Johnson. In certain records, Daniel, who married Bethiah Scribner, is given as Daniel Silver Flanders,—in itself, a strong indication that he was a son of Hophni[5] Flanders and his wife, Betsey Silver. (For Daniel, son of William and Mary (Page) Flanders see No. 1711.)

Children (Flanders):

+1627 i. Minerva[7], b. May 10, 1834, at Salisbury, N. H. (R:1206).

+1628 ii. Betsey[7], b. 1835, at Worcester, Vt. (R:1206).

1629 iii. Mary F.[7], b. Aug. 14, 1845, at Warner, N. H. (M:5); d. Sept. 11, 1902, at Lebanon, N. H., ae 57y, 28d (M:5); m. Harrison Stevens (M:5); divorced (M:5). Former residence Plainfield, N. H. (M:5).

+1630 iv. William C.[7], b. Sept. 1, 1848, at Salisbury, N. H. (M:5).

1631 v. Daniel Silver[7], b. Mch. 4, 1850, at Salisbury, N. H. (M:5); d. Jan. 18, 1911, at Concord, N. H., bur. Blossom Hill cem., Concord, ae 60y, 10m, 14d (M:5); m. (1) July 7, 1872, at Wilmot, N. H., by Rev. C. B. Tracy, to Harriet J. Tirrell of Andover, N. H. (M:5); b. Sept. 10, 1852, at Gilmanton, N. H. (M:5); d. Jan. 15, 1903, at Concord, N. H., bur. Blossom Hill cem., Concord, ae 50y, 4m, 5d (M:5); dau. of Rufus Tirrell and Susan Avery (O:29); m. (2) Aug. 8, 1904, at Concord, N. H., to Annie (Crossley) Graham of Concord (O:29); b. 1866, at Lawrence, Mass. (O:29); dau. of Joseph B. Crossley and Annie Troant (O:29). Daniel Silver Flanders was the Capt. of the Police at Concord, where he resided since 1888; previous residence Lebanon, N. H. (M:5); he was the 2nd son of Daniel Silver Flanders and Bethiah Scribner (M:5).

+1632 vi. Heber Kidder[7], b. 1852, at Enfield, N. H. (M:5).

701 ABIGAIL[6] FLANDERS, b. date of birth unknown; m. Nov. 17, 1791, at Warner, N. H., to Samuel Cass of New Hampton, N. H. (O:105).

Child (Cass) (R:304):

+1633 i. Abigail[7], b. Sept. 21, 1805, at Bradford, Vt. (O:18). (See Moses[7] Flanders, No. 1684.)

703 STEPHEN[6] FLANDERS, b. July 17, 1775, at Warner, N. H. (prob.); m. Mch. 6, 1796, at Warren, N. H., to Hannah Whittaker (M:5); b. June 15, 1777, at Atkinson, N. H. (O:106).

The parentage of Stephen Flanders of Warren, N. H., has not hitherto been established. That he was the son of Daniel[5] and Apphia (Farrington) Flanders is based upon the following evidence: Lewis Flanders, the great great grandson of Philip[4] Flanders, father of Daniel[5] Flanders, states in an old family genealogy that Daniel[5] Flanders had children named Stephen, Apphia, Sarah, and Abigail. Stephen Flanders of Warren, N. H., had children Daniel and Apphia, named, perhaps, for their paternal grandparents. The town records of Warren, N. H. give the place of birth of Stephen Flanders as Atkinson, N. H. Daniel[5] Flanders is supposed to have gone from Danville, N. H. (a town very near Atkinson), to Warner, N. H., between 1763 and 1773. He is mentioned in the town records of Warner in 1771, therefore it is probable that Stephen was born in Warner and not Atkinson.

Capt. Stephen Flanders was in Warren, N. H. in 1806 (O:106);

he was chosen selectman for Warren in 1812, school commissioner and highway surveyor in 1813; selectman, tax collector, surveyor, and constable in 1821. He was on the tax list in 1822, but not in 1823 (O:106).

Children (Flanders), births all but 6th child recorded at Warren, N. H. (O:106):

+1634 i. Daniel[7], b. June 7, 1798.

+1635 ii. Jonathan[7], b. Mch. 24, 1802.

1636 iii. Betty[7], b. July 12, 1804; d. Apr. 10, 1826, bur. Northumberland, N. H., ae 21y, 9m (B:65).

+1637 iv. Stephen[7], b. Apr. 5, 1809.

1638 v. Apphia[7], b. Aug. 25, 1811; d. Dec. 25, 1842, bur. Northumberland, N. H., ae 31y, 3m, 20d (B:65).

1639 vi. Almira[7], date of birth unknown (J:1); m. —— Johnson (J:1).

+1640 vii. Joseph Whittaker[7], b. Apr. 5, 1816.

1641 viii. James[7], m. in 1849, to Almira Stevens of Paris, Me. (R:1219). He started a few months after his marriage with a cargo of lumber for San Francisco, Calif.; went around Cape Horn and reached San Francisco. He was reported dead of malaria; his wife received $1000 life insurance, but no return from the lumber. There was a rumor that he lived, remarried and went to Oregon (R:1219). His wife, Almira (Stevens) Flanders, later married Jonathan[7] Flanders (No. 1635).

704 CALVIN[6] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 24, 1763, probably at Danville, N. H.; d. July 5, 1838, at Topsham, Vt. (M:6); m. Nov. 29, 1789, at South Hampton, N. H., by Rev. Nathaniel Noyes of South Hampton, to Mercy Jones (O:93); b. Apr. 30, 1769 (M:6); d. Oct. 22, 1857, at Topsham, Vt., ae 88y, 5 m, 23d (M:6); dau. of Daniel Jones and Judith[4] Flanders (No. 126) (I:11).

Feb. 21, 1795, Jonathan Jones of Boscawen; Calvin Flanders of Warner & "Marcy Flanders, his wife," quit claim to land in South Hampton, to Daniel Jones of East Kingston, "this land was set off to our honoured mother, Judith Jones, out of the estate of our father, Daniel Jones, late of South Hampton, deceased. At the decease of our honoured mother, we are the lawful heirs" (I:11).

In 1793, Calvin Flanders sold to his father, James[5] Flanders (No. 262), the estate of his uncle, Daniel[5] Flanders (No. 261), which he had purchased in 1786 from the widow, Apphia Flanders (I:11).

Children (Flanders):

+1642 i. James[7], b. Mch. 21, 1790, at South Hampton, N. H. (M:6).

1643 ii. Martha[7], b. Oct. 6, 1792, at Warner, N. H. (M:6).

1644 iii. Lydia[7], b. Apr. 15, 1793, at Warner, N. H. (M:6).

1645 iv. Calvin[7], b. Feb. 14, 1795, at Warner, N. H. (M:6).

These births are given in the Montpelier Vital Statistics as "reported from Topsham, Vt." There is, apparently, an error in the dates of birth of Martha and Lydia. It is possible that Martha was born in 1791 instead of 1792. No record has been found of these births in the New Hampshire Vital Statistics at Concord, N. H., nor in the town records of South Hampton and Warner, N. H.

705 PHILIP[6] FLANDERS, JR., b. July 31, 1765, at Danville, N. H. (M:5); d. Mch. 31, 1815, at Warner, N. H., bur. in Webster Road cem., ae 49y (B:90); m. Jan. 15, 1789, at Warner, N. H., by Rev. William Kelly of Warner, to Sarah Colby (O:105); b. 1769 (B:90); d. Apr. 5, 1815, bur. Webster Road cem., Warner, N. H., ae 46y (B:90).

Apr. 27, 1815, Ruth P. Flanders, singlewoman, administered the estate of her father, Philip Flanders, Jr., of Warner. He died leaving a widow, since deceased, and Ruth was the only child of lawful age to administer the estate of her late father, Philip Flanders, Jr., Gentleman. On July 17, 1815, an inventory of the estate of Major Philip Flanders was taken; Ezra Flanders had a claim against the estate (K:6). Mch. 16, 1818, Ruth P. Flanders of Warner sold at public auction, all right, title and interest, Philip Flanders, Jr., late of Warner, deceased, had to land in Grantham (I:14).

It is stated in the town history of Warner, N. H., that Philip[6] Flanders, son of Philip[5] Flanders (No. 264), was called "Major Philip Flanders." If this is true, then it is evident from the above probate records that this title was also given to Philip[6] Flanders, son of James[5] Flanders.

In 1807, Philip Flanders, Jr., of Warner, received a grant of land in Warner from his father, James Flanders. He purchased land in New Grantham, N. H. this same year (I:7; I:4). Philip[6] Flanders, Jr. was a selectman of Warner for several years (O:105).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Warner, N. H. (O:105):

1646 i. Ruth Powers[7], b. May 27, 1789; m. Nov. 22, 1818, at Warner, N. H., to Reuben Clough (O:105).

1647 ii. Eleanor Colby[7], b. Mch. 20, 1792; d. July 14, 1871, at Warner, N. H., bur. Webster Road cem., Warner (B:90); m. Mch. 30, 1816, at Warner, N. H., to David Sargent (E:157); b. Oct. 5, 1783, at Warner, N. H. (B:90; E:157); d. Mch. 7, 1858, bur. Webster Road cem., Warner (B:90); son of Joseph Sargent and Judith Harvey (E:157). David Sargent was a grandson of Joseph[4] Sargent and Miriam[4] Flanders (No. 111). No issue (E:157).

713 JOHN[6] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 24, 1769, birth recorded at Salisbury, N. H.; d. May 7, 1848, at Bradford, Vt. (R:304), bur. Upper Plain cem., Bradford, Vt., ae 79y, 3m (M:6); m. Feb. 25, 1794, at Salisbury, N. H., to Rebecca Pettingill (O:90); b. Mch. 11, 1772, at Salisbury, N. H. (H:8); d. Oct. 9, 1865, bur. Upper Plain cem., Bradford, Vt., ae 93y, 7m (M:6); dau. of Andrew Pettingill and Abigail Severance (I:7). Andrew Pettingill was a Revolutionary soldier (H:25).

John Flanders was a farmer and shoemaker; a Democrat in political affiliation and a Universalist in his religious faith. He was a man of positive opinions. He moved from Warner to Bradford in the summer of 1797 and cleared about 60 acres of "wild land" on "Simpson Hill" (R:304). McKeen states in his history of Bradford, Vt., that, "At the time John and Rebecca Flanders made their settlement on their mountain farm in Bradford, flour and all kinds of meal were so difficult to be obtained, that for the first six weeks they lived upon potatoes and meat, without bread. Their father Ezra Flanders, then a resident of Salisbury, N. H., sent his youngest son through the woods and new settlements, a distance of some seventy miles, on horseback, with two bushels of corn for their relief."

On Mch. 14, 1818, John Flanders of Bradford, Vt., and Rebekah, wife of John Flanders, quit claim and right of Rebekah to the dower of Abigail Severance, late of Bradford, Vt., deceased; it being the dower of said Abigail in the real estate of Andrew Pettingill, late of Salisbury, deceased; said Abigail formerly being the widow and wife of said Andrew Pettingill (I:7).

1817 i. Nancy Jane[7], d. in girlhood (H:65).

1818 ii. Benjamin Franklin[7]. He was a member of Co. D. 4th N. H. regt., and died at Beaufort, S. C., Mch. 18, 1864 (H:65).

750 AMOS[6] FLANDERS, b. ca 1782; d. Oct. 1811, at Newport, N. H. (K:2); m. Mehitable Dudley (H:33; K:2); b. June 27, 1785 (H:33); dau. of Daniel Dudley, Jr., and Mehitable Johnson (H:33). She m. (2) Sept. 29, 1814, to Benjamin Noyes (K:2); b. June 9, 1787 (E:106); son of Cutting Noyes and Molly Burbank (E:106).

Amos Flanders' date of death was computed as follows: The date of birth of Hial, son of Amos Flanders, was estimated from his tombstone inscription as Oct.-Nov. 1805. In the papers of administration of Amos Flanders' estate, it is stated that the widow supported Hial and James, sons of Amos Flanders, for 52 weeks until they were 7 years old; hence, they were 6 years old when their father died, thus indicating that his death occurred in Oct. or Nov. 1811.

The name of Amos Flanders appears in connection with several land transactions in Newport, in 1809. His land holdings being located near the Croydon town line. He was said to have been a blacksmith, by trade. In 1810, Amos and his wife, Mehitable Flanders, joined the Congregational Church in Newport, this being the same church to which his (presumptive) parents were admitted in 1795 (R:1203).

May 5, 1812, Mehitable Flanders, widow of Amos Flanders, petitioned for the administration of his estate. She was appointed administratrix. On Sept. 29, 1814, Abel Parker, Judge of Probate, showed that Mehitable had lately married without having completed the administration of the estate. Jan. 18, 1815, Samuel Wines was appointed guardian of Patty Flanders, Hial Flanders, James Flanders, Mary Flanders, and Mehitable Flanders, all minors under 14 years of age, and children of Amos Flanders, late of Newport, deceased. The estate was charged with the following accounts, to be paid the widow, Mehitable Flanders: boarding Hial Flanders 52 weeks before he was 7 years of age; supporting James Flanders 52 weeks before he was 7 years of age; supporting Mary Flanders 267 weeks until she was 7 years of age; supporting Mehitable Flanders 322 weeks up to Mch. 1st, 1818; also for keeping Mehitable from Mch. 1st, 1818 to "this time" 61 weeks and 5 days; approved by the Court, May 7, 1819 (K:2). Benjamin Noyes married Mehitable Flanders, wid. of Amos Flanders, Sept. 29, 1814 (K:2). Moses Noyes, administrator of the estate of Amos Flanders, paid Mehitable Flanders, alias Noyes, wid. of Amos Flanders, $103.70, it being understood that she had one child still under the age of 7 years (K:2).

Children (Flanders) (K:2):

1819 i. Patty[7].

+1820 ii. James[7] (twin), b. Oct.-Nov. 1805.

1821 iii. Hial[7] (twin), b. Oct.-Nov. 1805 (B:28); d. Mch. 25, 1881, at Croydon, N. H. (M:5), bur. Croydon Flat cem., ae 75y, 5m (B:28); m. Aug. 16, 1829, at Croydon, by Abijah Powers, J. P., to Mira Powers (O:32); b. Feb. 22, 1810, at Croydon, N. H. (O:32); d. Dec. 8, 1899, at Croydon, ae 89y, 10m, 12d (M:5), bur. Croydon Flat cem., (B:28); dau. of Abijah Powers and Olive —— (O:32). Mira Flanders was appointed administratrix of Hial Flanders' estate, Apr. 27, 1881. Jennie B. Hett, niece of Hial Flanders, petitioned for a share in the estate, as Mira died leaving the estate unsettled. Nov. 6, 1901, George Philips, Charles Philips and Julia Philips of Cattaraugus, N. Y., children of the deceased sister, Mehitable Brown, were the only heirs, as far as was known, of Hial Flanders' estate (K:11).

1822 iv. Mary[7], b. Nov.-Dec. 1809.

1823 v. Mehitable[7], b. Dec. 1811; m. —— Brown (K:11).

Children (Kelsey) (E:145):

1824 i. Caleb[7], b. July 28, 1802.

1825 ii. Eliza[7], b. 1804.

1826 iii. James[7], b. Aug. 21, 1806; d. July 16, 1808 (E:145).

1827 iv. Hannah[7], b. 1808.

1828 v. Oliver[7], b. 1810; m. —— Turner; lived at Waterbury, Me. (E:145).

1829 vi. Charles[7], b. 1812.

1830 vii. Myron[7], b. 1814.

1831 viii. Albert[7], b. 1816; went to Mass. (E:145).

Mrs. H. M. Stevens of Newport, N. H., states that her grandfather was James Kelsey, son of Roswell and Susan (Flanders) Kelsey. If James Kelsey, b. in 1806, died in 1808, then there must have been another son named James, whose birth record has not been given.

752 Micah E.[6] Flanders, b. probably about 1786; m. Feb. 26, 1807, at Montpelier, Vt., to Dolly Goodenough. In the Montpelier town records is the following certificate:

"Newport Feb. 23, 1807 This certifies that int. of marriage by Micah Flanders of Newport and Dolly Goodenough of Berlin has been lawfully published Jesse Willcox, Jun. Town Clerke"

"I hereby certify that I married the above couple in Montpelier at my house the 26th of February 1807. Clark Brown" (O:120).

Jesse Willcox, Jun., was Town Clerk of Newport, N. H., in 1807. From this joint certificate, it is evident that Micah Flanders was residing in Newport, N. H., at the time of his marriage. Shortly after his marriage, he settled at Croydon, N. H., where he was taxed in 1807 and 1808. In land deeds of Mch. 23, and Sept. 8, 1808, he is referred to as Micah Flanders, blacksmith, of Croydon. His wife, Dolly, is mentioned in one of these deeds. In 1810, Micah Flanders was excommunicated from the Congregational Church at Newport. As Micah Flanders was taxed in Newport from 1815 to 1817, it would seem that he must have left Croydon, and again taken up his residence in Newport, sometime between 1808 and 1815. On Dec. 31, 1818, Micah E. Flanders of Berlin, Vt., quit claim to land in Berlin, deeded him on Nov. 20, 1818. So it is apparent that Micah E. Flanders (previously given simply as Micah Flanders), left Newport, N. H. in 1817 to 1818, and settled in Berlin, Vt., which was the home of his wife, Dolly (Goodenough) Flanders.

The Micah Flanders, who sold land and mills in Newport, N. H. on May 8, 1805 and Dec. 15, 1806, may have been Micah, the elder, as his son would not then have been of legal age. But the Micah of Croydon, who sold land in 1808, and who married Dolly Goodenough of Berlin, Vt. in 1807, is clearly Micah the younger, or Micah E. Flanders. The inference is that Micah Flanders, the elder, died in Newport, N. H. about 1807.

As the date of death of Micah Flanders, the elder, is not known, the question may be raised whether or not the records given above referred to the son, Micah Flanders, or the father, as the middle initial does not appear in the son's name until 1818. However, as the above records in Croydon, Newport, and Montpelier, from 1807 to 1817 follow in consecutive order, it is evident that these records refer to the same individual. And the supposition that they all referred to Micah Flanders the elder, meets with serious objections. If we assume (as there seems ample reason to do), that Hazen Flanders, born in 1804, was a son of Micah and Mary (Eastman) Flanders, then Micah Flanders, the elder, could not have married Dolly Goodenough, as Hazen Flanders is said to have lost his mother when he was 4 years of age,—i.e. 1808, and, as is shown, this marriage was contracted Feb. 1807. Then, also, it is most unlikely that these records would not have specified the Micah to which they referred as, Jr. or Sr., or more properly, as Micah, or Micah E. Flanders, had the father been alive after Micah, the younger, became of age (about 1807), and it is most unlikely that Micah, the younger (Micah E. Flanders), would have become a landholder in Berlin, Vt. in 1818, had it not been he who married Dolly Goodenough of Berlin.

The subsequent migration of Micah E. Flanders leads from Berlin, Vt., where he quit claim to land on Dec. 31, 1818, and Mch. 23, 1819, to Williston, Vt., where he quit claim to land on Oct. 2, 1820, and where, together with his brother, Chapin Flanders, he bought land in Williston, on Nov. 13, 1822. They sold this land in Williston Apr. 30, 1823. On Sept. 29, 1823, Micah E. Flanders quit claim to "buildings I now occupy as a blacksmith's shop, standing on the land belonging to Solomon S. Miller in Williston, opposite the Meeting house." As his brother, Chapin Flanders, settled in Jay, N. Y., shortly after he left Williston, Vt., it is possible that Micah E. Flanders also went to New York State, but nothing further is known of him after he quit claim to his holdings in Williston, Vt., in 1823.

Child (Flanders) (O:32):

1832 i. Child[7], b. Nov. 22, 1807, at Croydon, N. H.

753 Polly[6] Flanders, b. 1787-8 (R:1300); d. Feb. 25, 1851, ae 64y, bur. Gallup cem., Harrisburg, N. Y. (R:1300); m. Mch. 17, 1806, at Newport, N. H., by Jesse Lane, J. P., to Oliver Kelsey (M:5); b. ca 1776, at Newport, N. H. (E:145); d. 1840, at Harrisburg, N. Y. (E:145); son of Roswell Kelsey and Hepzibah Bellows (E:145).

It is stated in the Kelsey genealogy that Oliver Kelsey and his bride removed from Newport, N. H. to Harrisburg, N. Y. in the winter of 1803-4, probably (as they were not married until 1806, it was doubtless in the winter of 1806-7), on an ox sled. There they took up a piece of land in the wilderness, but (so a descendant states), the weather was so severe, nipping the crops early and late, that this property was abandoned and another clearing made in the eastern part of the town, where they resided until their deaths (E:145).

A granddaughter of Polly (Flanders) Kelsey states that her grandmother had 14 children, 9 of whom lived to the age of maturity. After the death of Oliver Kelsey, his widow married a man named Mead (R:1301).

Children (Kelsey) (E:145):

1833 i. Roswell[7], d. at the age of 7-10 years.

1834 ii. Polly[7], m. Sterling G. Palmer.
1835 iii. Jehiel[7], m. Pauline Buck.
1836 iv. Amos[7], d. unmarried, at the age of over 90 years.
1837 v. Harmon[7], m. Julia Ann Durfee.
1838 vi. Harriet[7], m. Nelson Peck.
1839 vii. Ruth[7], b. Dec. 20, 1823; d. Jan. 27, 1901 (E:145); m. Byne Lane (R:1302).
1840 viii. Elias[7], b. Nov. 19, 1826 (R:1300); d. Feb. 10, 1914 (E:145); m. Clarissa Ann Hildreth (R:1302).
1841 ix. Eliza[7], m. Joel Mead; resided at Copenhagen, N. Y. (E:145).
1842 x. John[7], m. Alvira Parker; resided at Gouverneur, Copenhagen, and Hammond, N. Y. (E:145).

754 CHAPIN[6] FLANDERS, b. Feb. 11, 1798 (B:122), without doubt b. at Newport, N. H.; d. Mch. 6, 1864, bur. cem., at No. Jay, N. Y. (B:122); m. Caroline De Kalb (I:31); b. June 27, 1803, at Jay, N. Y. (B:122); d. June 16, 1895, ae 92y, bur. cem. at No. Jay, N. Y. (B:122); dau. of John De Kalb and Lydia Palmer (B:122).

Nov. 23, 1818, Chapin Flanders of Berlin, Vt., bought land in Berlin from Gershom Hawell of Grove Creek, Va. On Jan. 14, 1819, he sold this land (I:29). In 1821, he was on the tax list in Williston, Vt. (I:30). Nov. 13, 1822, Chapin Flanders and Micah E. Flanders bought land in Williston, which they sold, Apr. 30, 1823 (I:30). It is probable that Chapin Flanders went to New York state shortly after this, as the next trace of him is found in Jay, N. Y. Oct. 13, 1847, John De Kalb of Jay, N. Y., granted to Chapin Flanders of Jay, lot No. 110 of township No. 12 of the old Military Tract. Mch. 24, 1849, John De Kalb granted to his daughter, Caroline Flanders, wife of Chapin Flanders, lot No. 2 in a patent of land granted to Simeon De Witt, then surveyor general of the state of New York on the 21st of Oct. 1799 (I:31). Apr. 9, 1849, John De Kalb made a second grant of land to his daughter, Caroline Flanders, wife of Chapin Flanders, this land being in the tract called the Essex Tract (I:31). In 1859, Chapin Flanders and his wife, Caroline, were deeded land in St. Armand, N. Y., township No. 11, of the old Military Tract, by John D. Markham and his wife, Mary, of Manitowoc, Wis. (I:31).

WILL OF CHAPIN FLANDERS

"In the name of God, Amen. I, Chapin Flanders of Jay, Co. of Essex, State of New York, of the age of sixty six years, being of sound mind and memory, but weak in body, do make, publish and declare, this my last will and testament, in manner following, that is to say: First, I give and bequeath unto my daughter, Caroline Flanders, the sum of Five Hundred Dollars, to be paid to her within one year after my decease without interest.

Second, I give and bequeath unto my daughter, Euretta F. Bassett, wife of Dr. Harvey P. Bassett, the sum of Five Hundred Dollars, to be paid to her within one year after my decease, without interest. Third, I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Caroline Flanders, all the rest, residue & remainder of my personal estate of whatever name or nature, and I also give and devise all the real estate that shall belong to me at my decease, whether the same shall be held by contract or in fee, to my said wife, Caroline Flanders, whom I do appoint sole executrix of this my last will & testament, and I hereby revoke any or all other wills by me made.

NOTE: I have heretofore conveyed by deed to my sons, John D. Flanders, Conant S. Flanders, Martin P. Flanders, Augustus C. Flanders, and Hayson E. Flanders, real estate which is to be in full for their portions of my estate, which is the reason why they are not mentioned as legatees in this my last will and testament.

Witness my hand and seal, February 29, 1864.

Chapin Flanders" (K:25).

Children (Flanders):

1843 i. John De Kalb[7]. When the will of Chapin Flanders was offered for probate, he was cited to appear, as one of the heirs (K:25).

1844 ii. Caroline Matilda[7], b. Apr. 19, 1833, at Jay, N. Y. (B:122); d. Feb. 20, 1907, bur. No. Jay cem. (B:122). Never married. May 22, 1911, Jerome M. Stickney administered the estate of Caroline M. Flanders. The estate was distributed to Martin Post Flanders, Augustus Flanders, Conant Flanders, Hayson E. Flanders, and Harvey Bassett, Frank Bassett, Carrie Moore, and Etta Hubbell (K:25).

1845 iii. Conant Sawyer[7], b. at Jay, N. Y. (K:25); living Mch. 4, 1918, when Kitty G. Flanders applied for the administration of the estate of Caroline Flanders. Conant S. Flanders was the only surviving heir, and he had consented that his niece, Kitty G. Flanders, be appointed administrator (K:25). It is stated in the "History of the Adirondacks," by Alfred L. Donaldson, that, John Brown, "the Abolitionist" moved from Springfield, Mass. to North Elba, N. Y. in 1848-9, and rented a house from a man called "Cone" Flanders (G:84).

+1846 iv. Martin Post[7] (K:25).

+1847 v. Euretta Taylor[7] (K:25).

1848 vi. Augustus C.[7], b. Mch. 19, 1842, at Jay, N. Y. (B:122); d. May 9, 1914, bur. No. Jay cem. (B:122).

+1849 vii. Hayson Eastman[7], b. 1844, at Jay, N. Y. (B:122).

(E:178); son of Elnathan Filley and Agnes Phelps of Weathersfield, Vt. (E:178). Austin Filley settled in Leon, N. Y. (E:178).

Children (Filley) (E:178):

1850 i. George C.[7], b. Feb. 14, 1822, at Hampton, N. Y.

757 HAZEN[6] FLANDERS, b. 1804, at Newport, N. H.; d. Jan. 29, 1877, at Beaver Dam, Wis., bur. Oakwood cem. (R:1103); m. July 4, 1832, at Watertown Center, Jefferson Co., N. Y., to Emily Brown (R:1103); b. 1812 (R:1103); d. Apr. 14, 1885, at Beaver Dam, Wis., bur. Oakwood cem. (R:1103).

The following information on Hazen Flanders is contained in an obituary notice, furnished by Mr. Edward N. Flanders, a grandson of Hazen Flanders, and said to have been written by Hazen's widow at the time of her husband's death. All the facts given in this notice correspond so perfectly with the data obtained on Micah Flanders and his presumptive children as to place the question of Hazen's parentage beyond any doubt, inasmuch as it corroborates the supposition as to the other children of Micah Flanders.

"Hazen Flanders was born in Newport, N. H. 1804, his mother dying when he was 4 years old. His early years were spent under the care of an older sister. Early in life, however, he went out from his home into Northern Vermont, where he remained several years, after which, he spent two years in Northern New York, an older brother having settled there." In 1829, he removed to Copenhagen, N. Y. He joined the Presbyterian Church there and became an active member of that body, serving several years as Superintendent of the Sunday school. Six years later, this church passed out, and he joined the M. E. Church in that town. In 1855, he removed to Beaver Dam, Wis., where he spent the remainder of his life. He was a blacksmith by trade (R:1103).

This data concerning Hazen Flanders agrees in every particular with the records which have been obtained on Micah Flanders of Newport, N. H., and his family, and by so doing affords adequate circumstantial proof. On the basis of the existing records, Hazen could have had no other parentage. Thus, "Hazen Flanders was born at Newport, N. H. in 1804": No other Flanders but Micah, who could have been the head of a family, resided at Newport, N. H. from 1795 to 1821.

"Hazen was placed in the care of an older sister at Newport, after the death of his mother": Susan (Flanders) Kelsey must have been this older sister, as she lived and died at Newport.

"Early in life Hazen went to Northern Vermont": His presumptive brothers, Micah E. and Chapin Flanders, were in Williston, Vt., from 1820-1823, and it was doubtless on this account that Hazen went to Northern Vermont at the age of 16 years, though he may have joined them at Berlin, Vt., even earlier.
"From Vermont he went to Northern New York State and remained there for two years with an older brother who had settled there": Chapin Flanders went from Williston, Vt., to Jay, N. Y., and lived and died there. It is probable that Chapin was married about 1829, when Hazen set out for Copenhagen.

Chapin Flanders had a son, Hayson Eastman Flanders, the name Eastman indicating that this son received the maiden name of his grandmother, Mary Eastman, wife of Micah Flanders of Newport. The Hayson may have been Hazen, the error in spelling having been made by the clerk who wrote up the records.

Micah E., Amos, and Hazen Flanders, all were blacksmiths, as was Micah Flanders of Newport.

759 MOSES[6] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 21, 1786, at Concord, N. H.; d. June 28, 1846, at West Plymouth, N. H. (H:35); m. (1) Sept. 10, 1811, at Rumney, N. H., by Rev. E. Willmarth, to Ruth Bean (M:5); b. Sept. 23, 1790, at Rumney, N. H. (H:35); d. Jan. 1813, at Concord, N. H., ae 20y (O:29) (evidently an error in date of birth or in age at time of death); dau. of Samuel Bean and Dorothy Wells (H:35); m. (2) May 26, 1814, at Plymouth, N. H., to Sally Bean (M:5); b. Apr. 13, 1788, at Rumney, N. H. (H:35); d. Jan. 2, 1855 (H:35); dau. of Samuel Bean and Dorothy Wells (H:35), or dau. of Dearborn Bean and —— (I:6).

Feb. 14, 1838, "Moses Flanders in the right of my wife, Sally Flanders, & I Sally Flanders, both of Rumney, for $40, paid by Peabody Flanders of Rumney, yeoman, grant the estate of Dearborn Bean of Thornton, the said Bean being the father of Sally Flanders" (I:6). According to this deed, Sally Flanders, wife of Moses[6] Flanders, was the daughter of Dearborn Bean. It is possible that both Ruth and Sally were daughters of Dearborn Bean, and not of Samuel Bean, as given in the History of Plymouth. Were this the case, the error in the date of birth of Ruth Bean, might be accounted for, as Ruth, dau. of Dearborn Bean, might have been born in 1792-3, thus agreeing with the death record. Again, this question of parentage might be explained were Samuel Bean's full name, Samuel Dearborn Bean.

EXCERPTS FROM AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF WARDWELL CLEMENT FLANDERS

"At the close of the war my father moved to Bristol, N. H. I was about two years of age. When about five years of age I went to Hopkinton, N. H., and remained there with some friends, going to school there, about three years, returned home, and was sent to Newmarket, N. H. and attended the Wesleyan Academy one year, when it broke up and the scholars returned home, myself included. My landlord having purchased an old horse for a friend of his near my home, I was induced to ride him on my return. So I was put on his back with saddle bags well stuffed with doughnuts and cheese, and thus started off for my home in Bristol, a distance of about one hundred miles. I soon found the horse trotted so hard that I was compelled to walk or canter him, and I adopted and carried out the plan of Thrashing him into a canter for about one mile, then allowing him to slow down to a walk for another mile, so in a distance of one hundred miles, he moved by fits and starts, galloping fifty miles and walking an equal distance until home was reached in about five days, tired, sore and well shaken up. For several months I remained at home when my father concluded to break up and move to Boston, Mass., which was done in the following order. I was sent upon a double team sleigh laden with dressed hogs for market. The team started off at a brisk gait, thus the village of Bristol was lost to view behind the hills, and to this day has not been seen by me, all seeming as a dream. The hog sleigh I left at Concord, N. H., after a thirty mile ride and paid a few days visit in the vicinity among some relatives, when with a young lady (a niece), we started upon a stage for Boston, and after two days of terrible jolting, we arrived in Boston and were received by my parents, who had preceded us." A year later he obtained a situation in a newspaper office, the "Marine Telegraph." Among other duties, he distributed the papers to subscribers in the city, starting "long before daylight." The remainder of the day and the forepart of the night were spent at case setting and distributing type. For all of these services he received "a liberal salary of ten dollars a month, promptly paid." The second year the paper suspended, and Mr. Flanders obtained a situation in the Marine Telegraph Observatory, "signalling by flags the arrival of vessels from sea. After operating one year in this office I was sent to Quarantine Station upon Rainsford Island in the outer harbor, to transmit from thence to the main office the arrival of vessels, etc. At the raising of Quarantine (three months), I returned to the city and found I had been badly treated, for contrary to promises, my position in the main office had been permanently filled. I decided upon going to sea and after some trouble, shipped as a cabin boy upon the Brig Hampton, bound to New Orleans, at five dollars a month. This was about the close of the year 1826, being about fifteen years of age and with a very limited education. I tried my fortunes entirely among strangers, most of whom were of a rough cast." A description follows of the sea sickness on board of which he too was a victim, and of his being forced to substitute for the cook. When he reached New Orleans he saw a very different city from that of to-day. The city lay sprawled in the mud, men were still being hanged in the square in front of the Cathedral. He saw three Spaniards, charged with piracy, swung from the gibbet upon the spot now covered by the equestrian statue of Andrew Jackson.

Joseph Flanders did not approve of his son's continuing in the coasting trade, but, as the boy was sincere in his determination to follow the sea, and believing that whatever business a young man chose, he should be proficient in it, he secured a good berth for Wardwell in a ship bound to the northwest coast of America in the fur trade, a voyage of about three years. This trip was a most eventful one, storms, scurvy among the crew, hostile and friendly natives of the Society Islands, all were encountered. After leaving the Sandwich Islands and setting sail for the Columbia River, a terrific gale arose and the ship, handicapped by a broken rudder, high winds, heavy seas, and the inability of the officers to take an observation for several days, nearly met her doom off the rocky coast. This danger being past, the ship entered the mouth of the Oregon in company with an English brig. The latter, attempting to change its position during the night, became grounded upon a sand spit and the crew took to the boats, landing at Chemuke Point. They were then and there murdered by the Chemuke Indians. The news of this deed was sent to Fort Vancouver by Wardwell's ship, and a party of Canadian trappers came down and "retaliated upon the Indians."

The ship continued its voyage up the Oregon, nearly to the mouth of the Willamette River. Here they stayed for six months, trading with the Indians for furs. A trip higher up the coast followed and the wreck of the ship "Tonquin" was sighted. "A large number of Indians got possession of her; many of the crew were killed at the first attack, while others were shot from aloft. The captain retreated to his cabin, and applied a match to the magazine, and the vessel with all hands on board were blown to atoms." Stops were made at nearly "every anchorage" on the return trip south, for trading purposes. Constant vigilance was necessary throughout the entire six weeks' trip. In two instances plans were made to prevent the ship from leaving the harbor. The entrance was very narrow, and innumerable Indians collected at this point to intercept the passage. A bearing of the passage was taken by compass, the anchor tripped, and a brisk discharge of blank cartridges was made from the guns. By the aid of this smoke they succeeded in getting out to sea. After the smoke cleared away, nothing could be seen but terrified natives running away as far as the eye could see. At San Francisco, a deck load of horses was taken on board in exchange for goods and were landed at the Island of Waher, the first horses brought to the Island. The ship was sold to King Tammiah of the Sandwich Islands for a Man of War.

While at Canton, Wardwell purchased a small camphor trunk and stocked it with goods for his mother, among which were valuable silks, for which he drew "freely" upon his wages, "probably one hundred dollars out of my total of two hundred and twenty-eight for the entire voyage, at six dollars a month."

During his absence his father had died and an effort was made to induce Wardwell to remain on shore. A lucrative position in a Glass house was secured for him, and he writes that, "he succeeded beyond his expectations." The love of the sea was too strong to be long resisted, however, and at the end of six months he shipped on the Brig Rupee, bound for New Orleans. This ship did not prove to be a good venture, and the young man decided not to return to New England on her. His application for a discharge and his offer to procure a substitute were refused, so he removed his belongings on shore, one by one, and secured a position as cook on a lake sloop, in order that he might be taken out of the city while his former ship was in port. When he returned, his old ship had sailed, so he gave up his cooking job and began working along the river banks. For two months he was stevedore and then worked at building the first wharf in New Orleans. This was in 1832.

On the completion of this work, he shipped as seaman on the ship "Plutarch" and made a voyage to Liverpool, a trip of 28 days. His next ship was the "Two Brothers" in the Tempico, Mexico, trade. He wrote that he remained long enough "to become proficient in smuggling affairs," knowledge which was of great use to him later on. After a trip to the New England coast he again returned to New Orleans and shipped as mate on the steamer "Star." He left it just before the trip on which she blew up with a loss of two hundred lives.

After two years in the Mexican trade he bought, with another person, the schooner "Junius," upon 12 months' credit. On one of his Mexican trips he had met Anna Cunningham, and he states that he "stopped his roving around, became somewhat settled, and in about ten days became part owner and captain of a vessel, was married" and had sailed with a freight for Florida, and Havana, Cuba. "The joke was that an assurance of $50 was my only worldly goods at the time. However, I felt sure if my experience and pluck were properly applied, success would follow." The profits from the first two trips were discouraging and there seemed but a slight chance of meeting the note upon the vessel at the proper time. Then came a call to the office of a prominent merchant. At this office was another merchant from the City of Mexico. A proposition was made which rested upon the fact that Capt. Wardwell's ship was the favorite of all in port, "speed being the most important requisite." It is possible that the young captain's experience in the strategy of Mexican trade had something to do with his being chosen for this work of running the French blockade. The contract was drawn up and executed in a very secret manner. The Mexican merchant went as a passenger and did not reveal to Captain Flanders his destination until the ship was well into the Gulf. Then the intelligence was handed to the Captain in a sealed envelope. The young Captain, aware of spies being on the alert, altered his course to avert suspicion, and the point and time of landing was set by signalling as soon as the land was approached. The cargo was taken off in launches, having the oars muffled. When the ship was sufficiently lightened of her cargo, it was towed in over the bar by the launches. At day break, a number of blockaders were seen off the land and very close by. "It seemed almost a miracle that my ship passed by them without being seen. My gentleman passenger and owner of the cargo, caught me in his arms and jabbered Spanish with great apparent delight at my success."

The blockaders were now on the alert and return seemed hazardous. After purchasing a return cargo, Captain Flanders made an attempt to get out to sea by night, but was completely blocked a mile out. Fortunately he was able to return to the port in safety. "I determined to take matters a little more easily, thanking the Giver of all good gifts that I was still safe, but after a further delay of some ten days, the monotony became so intense that I determined upon the first shadow of a chance, to make another effort, and in the meantime to put my vessel in good trim to depend principally upon her heels. A severe gale broke out from the north and westward, and I at once noticed the blockaders were collecting under the lee of Lobos Island, about fifteen miles to the windward. Late in the afternoon I made a start, passed out to sea under a crowd of sail, with a free wind. When seen by the blockaders, one of them at once made sail and chase and so continued until dark set in." The Captain paid tribute to his "gallant ship" in meeting the heavy seas, and the vessel finally outran her pursuers, and in four days more, entered the mouth of the Mississippi, reaching New Orleans after an absence of seven weeks. The profits of the voyage, all debts having been paid, proved more than enough to meet the note due upon her purchase price.

Captain Flanders now prepared to engage in the Cuba trade, but was sent for again by the Mexican merchant. He desired to charter the "Junius" for another trip. The Captain declined, but when asked his price for making a second trip, decided to "bid high," and when it was found that he was immovable, he was asked when he would be ready for freight. He replied the following morning, and to his surprise a charter was at once drawn up and signed. A letter was then read to him from his former passenger, instructing the merchant to engage Captain Flanders at any price. This trip did not prove exciting at the start, however, as upon nearing the first port of call, he learned that peace had been concluded the previous day and the blockade raised.

While preparing to return home, an important personage came to see him, and requested the Captain to call upon a friend of his that evening. He would be met at the wharf and escorted to the place of meeting. Aware of the internal revolution in the country, and believing that his services were wanted, he was ready to take a hand in anything which might be profitable. "We met after dark and I was told to follow just keeping him in sight, and was trailed to an old building in the rear of the town. I was quietly admitted into the august presence of a score of what proved to be Revolutionists, having for their aim a change of Government. The first person to salute me upon my entrance was Gen'l Myher, with whom I was slightly acquainted, and was introduced by him to his friends. After pledging secrecy, I was informed that I was wanted to take on board troops and ammunition and deliver the same to launches of the port of Lot to Morena, about 75 miles to the Northern of Empico, the same intended to aid in an attack upon Matamoras. This job to my mind seemed to be one of extreme peril, being then surrounded by existing Gov. officials and troops. I was informed, after my terms were decided upon, that at midnight, launches with muffled oars, would deliver what I was to take, and was furnished with a letter to the pilot at the bar, who would have my vessel at sea before daylight. In due time all was on board, and the launches silently towed my vessel to the bar, a distance of about 5 miles, where anchor was dropped. I proceeded to shore and delivered the letter to the Pilot—upon his reading it, I might say, his hair stood nearly upright. I remained silent, watching his every move, until he asked, 'Captain, do you know the contents of this letter?' I stated that I thought I did, and there was no time to be lost in putting my vessel to sea out of sight, for, if she, in her present plight, was in port at daylight, many would get hurt. I was told to go on board and get ready as soon as possible, and he would collect his launches and men and be alongside, which he did, and fortunately with a dense dark night, my vessel was towed outside the bar, and to sea at break of day." The troops and ammunition were safely delivered to their destination and inside of 24 hours "I cleared $1000 and aided in great dispatch." The "Junius" reached New Orleans after an absence of three weeks.

"Thus ended my blockade running," the Captain wrote, "the only trade for which I found my vessel fit." He finally sold his ship to slave traders in Havana. Captain Flanders next took command of the schooner "Helen," and, with the permission of the owner, took his wife on board for a trip to Cuba. A few days out of Mobile, the Captain and several of the crew were stricken with a "serious type of fever and ague." The mate came down later, and the crew was so reduced in number that it was difficult to control the ship properly. "It was extremely fortunate that my wife was on board, she occupying the galley in lieu of a sick cook, and throughout the voyage was untiring in her attention to the wants of the sick through the trying scene."

His next venture was the ship "Geneva" which was wrecked upon a reef near Cuba, on a stormy night. The loss was heavy, as it was but partially insured. Captain Flanders took passage upon a ship for New York, which he reached in winter, penniless and clad only in threadbare summer clothes. He thankfully declined the proffered aid of the captain of the ship, on which he had made the trip, considering that a free passage "had been charity enough for him." He was "too chop-fallen to call upon friends in Brooklyn" and got home by his own efforts. In Sept. 1845, he was employed by Col. F. F. Hunt, U. S. Quartermaster, at New Orleans, to fit out and deliver at Arkansas, Texas, a suitable vessel for the transportation of troops and artillery to Corpus Christi. He continued in the service for some time, inspecting vessels for charter, and superintending Government vessels under repair, and was occasionally in command of vessels during the Mexican and Florida war,—ships both of steam and sail. After the Civil War he became Surveyor of the Port of New Orleans.

Shortly after his marriage, he built the home at 925 Independence Street, New Orleans. This house is now about ninety-two years old and is occupied by the Captain's great granddaughter, Mrs. Katheryn Flanders Wallace. Back of this home and facing another side of the square is the house built by Captain Flanders' son-in-law, F. A. Woolfley. In it live some of the Captain's grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great, great, grandchildren. The family was and still is, a prominent one in that section of the city, in some part of which, it has lived for almost one hundred years.

Captain Flanders' great granddaughter, Miss Louella Flanders, sums up his character as follows: "He was daring, courageous, independent, proud, self-confident (with some of the self-appreciation that such confidence entails), shrewd in business matters, capable as a leader and commander of men, adventurous, ambitious, intelligent, and self-educated. He had a decided temper, but his autobiography also shows him to have been possessed of that saving grace, a sense of humor."

"Nancy Cunningham, his wife, was of English and Scotch parentage. The story of her coming to America is a romantic one, and was told me by one of her granddaughters, Mrs. H. B. DePass. There was a well-to-do family in the town who planned to emigrate to America. It was the custom that friends of travellers went with them as far as possible, to wish them God-speed. This particular family of emigrants were very fond of Nancy, and obtained the permission of her family for her to travel with other friends to the port of departure. After the excitement of leave-taking was over, and the stay-at-homes prepared to return to their town, it was found that the emigrating family had taken the young girl with them. What arguments of persuasion had been used, I do not know, but it is a fact that the friendliness of the girl's companions soon vanished. She was treated as a servant, and made to act as one. With this family she made a trip to Mexico, and on the voyage met the young captain, Wardwell Clement Flanders. They fell in love, and were married in New Orleans. She was then just sixteen years old, and he was twenty-seven. From her portrait done in middle life, she seems to have been rather a short woman, of an upright character (even to severeness of standards, one suspects). She was a religious woman and a capable one."

The name is Danish and is pronounced "Gawse." She was of very good, even aristocratic ancestry—Danish, German, and French. Her brother Daniel married Florence Flanders (No. 2190). Willie Wardwell Flanders lived the greater part of his life at Lake Charles. He was Secretary-Treasurer of the J. A. Bel Lumber Co. He retired at about the age of forty, having decided that he had made enough money to keep his wife and himself comfortably for the rest of their lives. He was well thought of at Lake Charles and urged to run for Mayor, but he declined. The Flanders family tomb is in Cirod cem., New Orleans, the oldest Protestant cemetery in the city, but he and his wife are buried in the cemetery of the Goos family at Goosport, which is practically a part of Lake Charles. The following account of the life of Gov. Benjamin Franklin Flanders of Louisiana, was compiled from family papers, by Miss Louella Ward Flanders, his grand niece.

When Benjamin Franklin Flanders was but thirteen years of age, his father died, leaving his family in straitened circumstances. The two older sons, John Brown Flanders, and Wardwell Clement Flanders, were at sea, so in order to support his mother, Benjamin went to work in a glass factory in East Cambridge, Mass., as a glass cutter. Here he remained for six years. He was sexton of the Methodist Church in East Cambridge, at the same time. At the age of eighteen, he became foreman of a glass factory in Brooklyn, N. Y. Two years later his mother died. After the death of his mother, that he might make up for the deficiency in his education, he went to school and fitted himself for college in the New Hampton, N. H. Academy. In 1842, he graduated from Dartmouth College. After his graduation, he went to New Orleans, La., and resided there the greater part of his life. For two years he studied law n the office of the late Charles M. Emerson, and taught school to pay his expenses. In 1845, he became one of the editors and proprietors of the New Orleans Tropic, but, at the end of one year, sold out his interest in that paper and returned to his law studies and teaching. In 1847, he was elected Alderman of the Third Municipality, though a Whig, and this being a large Democratic ward. In 1850, he was elected Superintendent of the Public Schools in the Third Municipal District, and served one year. In 1852, he assisted in organizing and establishing the New Orleans Opelousas and Great Western Railroad, and was again elected Alderman of the Third Municipality. From 1851 to 1854, he served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Public Schools of that Municipality. In 1852, he was employed as secretary and treasurer of the New Orleans Opelousas and Great Western R. R., which position he held until 1861, inclusive.

On the 10th of January, 1862, he was sent out of the city by a vigilance committee, he being a Union man, through the Confederate lines to Cairo, where he was received by Gen. Grant, then stationed at that point. He was then sent by Gen. Grant and Admiral Foote, with letters to the authorities at Washington. The following June, shortly after the capture of the city by the Union Army, he returned to New Orleans where he was appointed Chairman of the Board of Relief, to distribute food to the poor. He organized a system of relief by which 35,000 people were regularly fed.

July 19, 1862, he was appointed City Treasurer by Gen. Weitzel, military commandant of New Orleans, and served in this capacity until November of that year, when he was elected to Congress from the First District, as a Union man. He served in Congress until Mch. 4, 1863. In May of that year, through Mr. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury, he received an appointment as Special Agent of the Treasury Department for the Southern District, embraced in the lines of the Federal Army operating in the South. This position he held during the war. His duty, as such agent, was to carry into effect the rules and regulations concerning commercial intercourse with the States, and parts of States, declared to be in insurrection, and also those rules relating to the collection, receipt, and disposition of captured, abandoned, and confiscated property in the Third Special Agency, comprising Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Western Florida, and the employment and general welfare of the freedmen. In the agency he had sixty or seventy agents under him, and had the care of sixty-three abandoned or captured plantations. He employed fifteen thousand negroes upon these. At the end of the war, these plantations were returned to the owners without material loss or damage. No complaint was ever made by the property owners that they had suffered loss from mismanagement on the part of Gov. Flanders in the management of this extensive and complicated business. Not a dollar or a bale of cotton came into his hands that was not as satisfactorily accounted for, as if he had been a commission agent.

When Gen. Banks was beseiging Port Hudson, and volunteers were called for the defence of New Orleans against an expected raid by Gen. Taylor, Gov. Flanders was mustered in as Captain of a company previously organized as Home-guards, in the Fifth Regiment of Louisiana Volunteers. He was appointed to this position on July 13th, by George F. Shepley, then military governor of Louisiana. When the exigency had passed, this regiment was mustered out after one month's service.

In 1864, he aided in organizing the First National Bank of New Orleans, and was its first President, serving for one year, when he resigned; leaving its stock worth thirty-five percent premium. The capital of this bank was five hundred thousand dollars.

Aug. 4, 1866, he was re-appointed special treasury agent with a salary of three thousand dollars per annum. This re-appointment was made by Mr. McCullough, then Secretary of the Treasury.

June 6, 1867, Gen. Phil Sheridan, then commanding this department, appointed Mr. Flanders Military Governor of Louisiana under the reconstruction acts. He held this position until Jan. 1, 1868, when he resigned because Gen. Hancock, then in command at New Orleans, was expected to carry out the policy of President Johnson of hostility to the reconstruction acts, the execution of which, Gov. Flanders favored. In all matters relating to the measures necessary for the government of the state, Gov. Flanders and Gen. Hancock were in harmony. Unwilling to be in a false position, or to embarass Gen. Hancock, he resigned, contrary to the general's wish, as is shown by the following commendation: In a public military order, dated Oct. 31, 1868, Gen. Hancock said: "I take occasion here to express sincere thanks to those distinguished gentlemen, Judge Joshua Baker, and Gov. Benjamin Franklin Flanders, for their cordial co-operation with me, while I was in command of the Fifth Military District. They rendered most valuable assistance in adjusting many grave matters connected with the civil government of Louisiana."

As a part of the unwritten history of the State, it is well to remark that it had been a conspicuous feature of Gov. Flanders' administration, to be conservative and to retain in office, the State officials who would simply discharge the duties of their positions, in good faith, and without active hostility to the reconstruction measures of Congress, and without regard to their own views of the wisdom of these measures. With great delicacy he handed his resignation to Gen. Hancock, who received it with reluctance, and on the recommendation of Gov. Flanders, appointed Judge Joshua Baker as his successor. Judge Baker maintained the policy of his predecessor unchanged.

In the winter of 1866-7, the city charter of New Orleans was changed by the General Assembly, and on the 29th of March, 1870, Gov. Flanders was appointed Mayor, by Gov. H. C. Warmoth, to serve until the ensuing election the following September. At the regular election, he was elected Mayor by the people and served two years to Dec. 1872. Shortly after this, with no solicitation on his part, he was appointed Assistant Treasurer of the United States, for the term of four years. This appointment was made by Gen. Grant and was confirmed by the Senate. In 1877, he was re-appointed by Gen. Grant, serving four years. In Feb. 1881, he was again appointed by President Hayes and continued to hold this office for a period of nine years without a break.

He was the author of the "Report of the Committee of Examiners, appointed by the Superior District Court of New Orleans to ascertain the condition of the Louisiana State Debt," which was the real basis of the refunding of the State debt. A pencilled note in the handwriting of Gov. Flanders on the margin of the manuscript from which this account was taken, reads: "Auditor and Expert in State Debt, 26th June, 1873."

In 1843, he became an Odd Fellow in New Orleans Commercial Lodge, No. 12. He was elected honorary member of the Institute d'Afrique, Paris, France, on account of his reputation as a distinguished Union Man and for his friendship and aid for the amelioration of the colored race.

Gov. Flanders was reared a Democrat, and his first national vote was for Gen. Jackson, but he became a Whig in the Harrison campaign, and voted the Whig ticket up to, and including, Bell and Everett; after that time he became a Republican of the most pronounced type.

"From the age of twelve," Gov. Flanders has been heard to say, "I have fought my own battles, and have depended upon my own unaided efforts for a living and success. My life has been regulated on the principle that whatever my hand finds to do, to do it with all my might, and to do nothing which I would condemn if done by another."

Gov. Flanders owned a residence and other real estate in New Orleans, a farm in Lafayette Parish, La., and land in Blanco Co., Texas.

This account was taken from old galley proofs, written about 1882, corrected by Benjamin Franklin Flanders himself. These proofs were sent to Miss Louella Ward Flanders by his son, Benjamin Franklin Flanders, Jr., of Youngsville, La.

The History of Bristol, N. H. adds this further tribute: "The New Orleans Times Democrat" said of him at the time of his death that 'He was not one of the carpet bag politicians, for he won and retained the respect of the people. He was well liked for the very consistency with which he held his convictions, and the truthfulness and honor by which all his actions were governed.' "

He was possessed of a fine physique, and was hale and hearty at the age of 76 years.

Miss Louella Ward Flanders writes: "From various newspaper articles I have read from time to time, I have seen the corroboration of the facts given above. Despite the antipathy of the New Orleanians towards all things northern, for many years after the Civil War, Benjamin Franklin Flanders, was respected and even liked by them. During his administration as Mayor of New Orleans, he was the official welcomer of the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, to the New Orleans Carnival."

Susan Hall Sawyer, wife of Gov. Flanders, was reared by her uncle, Richard Sawyer, of Bristol, N. H., as both of her parents died when she was very young. She graduated from Meriden Academy and taught school for three or four years in New Hampshire. Her great great grandfather, John McMurphy, was born in the north of Ireland. According to her son's record, Susan Hall Sawyer was born in Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 13, 1826. Her father was Alva Sawyer, b. Feb. 7, 1795, son of Caleb Sawyer, b. June 1, 1767, who moved to Bristol, N. H., from Boscawen, N. H., in 1816, and died at Bristol, Aug. 13, 1837. Alva Sawyer's mother was Susanna Hall, b. May 25, 1773, dau. of Lieut. Richard Hall. She d. Jan. 26, 1843. Alva Sawyer married Elizabeth McMurphy and moved to Bergen, N. Y. During a prevailing epidemic, the father, mother, and one child died and were buried in one grave. Two children survived, Susan and Catherine. Susan was adopted by Richard Hall Sawyer, brother of her father, and Relief Brown, wife of Richard Sawyer. Relief (Brown) Sawyer was the niece of Relief (Brown) Flanders, and was the daughter of Robert Brown. Susan Hall (Sawyer) Flanders was a Presbyterian, and her daughters were Congregationalists. Gov. Flanders was not a member of any church.

937 SAMUEL KIMBALL[6] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 18, 1815, at Dorchester, N. H.; d. Mch. 21, 1881, at Parishville, N. Y. (Q:1); m. Apr. 6, 1836, to Zipporah Trowbridge of Bombay, N. Y. (Q:1); b. Oct. 22, 1813, at Shelburne Point, Vt. (Q:1); d. Aug. 13, 1888, at Parishville, N. Y. (Q:1); dau. of Rufus Trowbridge and Lydia Tracy (Q:1).

Samuel Kimball Flanders emigrated with his father, Moses[5] Flanders (No. 357), to Fort Covington, N. Y. in 1833. They settled on a farm and in 1842, Samuel purchased a farm of his own, on which he and his wife, Zipporah, lived until 1853. At the solicitation of his brother, David Flanders, he removed to Parishville, N. Y., where he bought a half interest in his brother David's factory for manufacturing hay rakes, cloth frames, broom and fork handles. At the time of his removal, there was no house to rent in Parishville, but the hotel, which belonged to George Parish, being without a tenant, he was induced to take it, and thus became landlord of the St. Regis Hotel. Two years later, in 1855, he purchased his brother's interest in the factory and carried on the business. During the year 1855, the factory was burned with all its contents, 40,000 rakes and much other property. He immediately set about erecting a new factory on the site of Clark's Butter Tub factory. In 1858, he purchased the water power above his factory and erected a custom saw mill. This he carried on for a few years, then began making eaves-spouts. At the time of the War of the Rebellion his two sons, Moses J. Flanders and Henry Jay Flanders, enlisted. Mr. Samuel K. Flanders, not wishing to be outdone in patriotism by his sons, left the business with his oldest son, Edwin H. Flanders, and enlisted, serving in the Sixth New York Heavy Artillery. At the close of the war, Mr. Flanders associated his sons, Edwin H., Moses J., Henry Jay and Charles P. Flanders, with him in business, bought the water power, and erected the present (1894) Saw-Mill and Eaves-Spout Factory.

Mrs. Zipporah (Trowbridge) Flanders lived on a farm in Shelburne, Vt. until 1833, when, her father having died, the family removed to Fort Covington, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Flanders were identified with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Parishville, N. Y. Their sons moved to Tennessee (Q:1).

Oct. 15, 1814, Zebulon Flanders owned land in Plainfield, N. H., and in 1818, he sold land in Plainfield (I:4). It is probable that he moved to Lower Canada soon after this, as in the following account of the Indian Stream Republic by Grant Showerman (G:19), it is stated that Zebulon Flanders arrived at Indian Stream in the year 1819.

It is stated in Ferguson's History of Coos County (G:16) that James T. Boynton and Zebulon Flanders of Warner, N. H., arrived in Indian Stream in 1819. The territory of Indian Stream, formerly the stronghold of the St. Francis Indians, for a long time was known only by a few hunters and explorers. In 1796 three men from New Hampshire purchased this land from King Philip of the St. Francis Indians. These men, acting as the original proprietors, resold large portions of their purchase with "proprietors' rights." As the new proprietors in turn sold to others, the land became divided into smaller lots, and some of the lesser land-holders began to make permanent settlements in the region. In 1820, a year after the arrival of Zebulon Flanders, some forty families had come to live in the Indian Stream country. By 1824 the number of families had increased to fifty-eight, and the population stood at about two hundred and eighty-five heads.

Although attempts had been made by both the United States and Canada to establish the international boundary shortly after the close of the Revolution, a considerable portion of the Indian Stream territory remained in a state of disputed ownership. This area embraced most of the present town of Pittsburg, N. H., which was incorporated in 1840,—two years before the international boundary was finally established by the Ashburton treaty of 1842. During the period from 1824 to 1840, the settlement at Indian Stream was the scene of a rather unique and amusing episode in American history. Of course the situation was anything but amusing to the early settlers, who had come there from the comparative luxury of the established New Hampshire towns to the south, and who had expended their energy and meagre resources to bring into being a new community. Nor is it difficult to see why the humor of the situation should escape these pioneers when, just as their community was beginning to afford a means of livelihood to the industrious, the New Hampshire legislature (in 1824) notified the settlers of Indian Stream that their land was confiscate, since it lay to the north of the 45th degree of latitude, and being thus situated, had previously been constituted, in the state of New Hampshire, as public domain. Their righteous indignation finally resulted in the allotment by the State of two hundred acres to such of the settlers as had cleared and improved the land they then occupied. The proprietors, whose land holdings were extensive, derived little comfort from the State's charitable grant of two hundred acres, and on this account, no doubt, they favored Canadian ownership of Indian Stream territory, when a few years later the question of the boundary line,—the second blow to fall upon the early settlers,—became critical. Hitherto, New Hampshire, and so the United States, had quietly accepted its right to exercise judicial authority over the territory of Indian Stream. But after the King of the Netherlands had recognized the British claim in the boundary dispute, Canada became active in asserting its authority over this same region. It is supposed that Military duty was exacted from the settlers by Canada. For the next ten or twelve years, the Indian Stream settlement was in a perpetual state of uncertainty. At one time, New Hampshire appears to have regarded the settlement as part of Canada, for it levied custom duties on the goods of the settlers. It was in this period, when no one knew whether he was an American citizen, or a Canadian subject, that a New Hampshire man, called Luther Parker, organized his diminutive and precarious Indian Stream Republic. This remarkable Republic withstood the dual impositions of the United States and Canada for four uneasy years, from 1832 to 1836, and finally collapsed in the brief but bitter international conflict known as the war of the Indian Stream Republic. A very interesting account of this Republic, the efforts of Luther Parker, and the ensuing war, in which Zebulon Flanders participated, is given by Grant Showerman in his book: THE INDIAN STREAM REPUBLIC AND LUTHER PARKER (G:19).

The ambiguity of the location of the boundary between the United States and Canada, as set forth in the Paris Treaty of 1793 (the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain at the close of the Revolution), was finally cleared up by the Ashburton Treaty of 1842, and the Indian Stream settlement incorporated as Pittsburg in 1840, formally became a part of New Hampshire. During the uncomfortable years of the Republic, and the final episode of the border war, Zebulon Flanders resided at Hereford, Lower Canada, just across the line from the Indian Stream settlement.

In the "Gazetteer" of Caledonia and Essex Counties, Vt., it is stated that, Silas R. Flanders, son of Zebulon Flanders, came with his father to Pittsburg, N. H., when a youth. The Indian Stream War caused them to migrate to Hereford, Canada, as they feared the loss of property if they remained in the disputed territory. Here they resided for some years (G:72). His homestead in Hereford is described in a land deed of Jan. 24, 1834, as standing on the south side of the road leading to Ebenezer Fletcher's.

During the regime of the Indian Stream Republic, two factions were developed, one pro-Canadian, the other pro-New Hampshire. From this circumstance, Luther Parker's effort to consolidate the inhabitants into a self-governing unit, until international arbitration could define the boundary, was much hampered and thwarted. The inhabitants were, as Showerman says (G:19), men of good character and serious purpose, for the most part, and men of no mean degree of ability; they could not refrain, however, from siding either with New Hampshire or Canadian authorities, when these officers undertook to execute what they believed to be their rightful powers over the community. This led, of course, to internal unrest and disagreement, which resulted in many amusing incidents, whereby they alternately arrested each other under warrant of the King, or of the State of New Hampshire, and alternately were liberated by the efforts of others of their own party,—to the great discomfiture of the respective officers of the law.

The ire engendered by these frequent arrests finally broke forth in the border line scrimmage, known as the War of the Indian Stream Republic. Among the many depositions taken after the conflict had subsided, those who are interested will find a variety of humorous anecdotes. Some of these depositions describe the part taken by Zebulon Flanders and his son, Silas Read Flanders, in the border war, of which the following excerpt is an example:

"On the 22nd of October, 1835, Richard I. Blanchard, who was one of the 'New Hampshire boys' or pro U. S. faction, was taken from his house by Zebulon Flanders, Zaccheus Clough, and John H. Tyler, and was taken into Canada. This episode was the nucleus of the Indian Stream War. The deposition of John Harriman of Aug. 8, 1836, states that he 'had conversation with one Flanders, the son of Zebulon Flanders of Hereford, Lower Canada.' He continues, 'He is a young man of about 18 or 20 years of age' (Silas R.) 'and appeared to be a fair, candid young man.' Richard I. Blanchard deposed that, 'Zebulon Flanders, Zaccheus Clough, and John H. Tyler, came to my house, armed with one musket between them, and told me they had a warrant against me. I asked them by what authority. They answered, the King's. I asked said Clough, who appeared to be the chief man of the party, if he would read said warrant to me, and he replied yes, and attempted to read it, but was unable to do so, and I asked him to let me have it, and he did hand it to me, but before I had read it, said Flanders took it from me, and the party started with me, and were occasionally joined by others, so that by the time I was rescued, the party having custody of me amounted to twelve or fifteen. When I was within about a mile of the house of Alexander Rea, to which place I understood they were conveying me, we were met by a party of about eight men from New Hampshire, on horseback, all or most of them armed, and they demanded my release from the party having custody over me, which was refused, but after some further talk, the party from New Hampshire resolutely demanding my release, I was at length released, without any force being used on either side, and I went with the party to the store of Parmelee & Joy in Canaan, Vt.' " (G:19).

(2) in 1845, to Almira Andrews (R:781). Children: Georgiana, Walter Benjamin E. (R:781). "Walter Harriman was a natural scholar, learning with great readiness, but a diligent student. He studied much at home by dim candlelight. When 17 years old he attended Hopkinton Academy for a term of 12 weeks; in 1835, he attended school at Bartlett's Hall, Henniker, N. H., for the same length of time; a few weeks in the fall of 1836, at Elliott's Hall, Henniker ended his school days. His father offered to help him through college, but, being one of eight brothers he declined to accept the favor. Study did not end with school attendance, however, for he became an earnest student of theology, law, history and other departments of literature. In the winter of 1834-5, he taught school in Warner, and in 1836-7, in Braintree, Mass. In 1839, he taught in an Academy in Westfield, N. J. At the age of 23, Walter Harriman commenced preaching in his native town, as a Universalist. In 1841, he went to Harvard, Mass., where he preached for four years. He was regularly ordained in 1841 at Shirley, Mass., and in 1845, he accepted an invitation to return to his home town and preside over the Universalist Society there. Gradually he came to take a more active interest in politics, and at the age of 34, formally withdrew from the pulpit. In June 1849, Mr. Harriman took his seat in the legislature, as a representative from Warner, where he served a number of years. In June 1853, he was elected by the legislature, state treasurer. In 1856, he was appointed by President Pierce on a board of Commissioners to classify and appraise Indian lands in Kansas Territory. He completed his service on the commission in the autumn of that year, and then took the opportunity to engage somewhat in the national campaign of that year, which resulted in the election of James Buchanan to the presidency. Mr. Harriman's most notable efforts on the stump were in Michigan, where he travelled with Gen. Lewis Cass. In 1861, he became editor and one of the proprietors of the Manchester, N. H. "Weekly Union," and was a leader and spokesman of the "War Democrats." In 1862, Walter Harriman was made Col. of the Eleventh Reg. of N. H. Vols., and they left Concord for the south, Sept. 11, 1862. The first battle in which his regiment was in action was that of Fredericksburg in Dec. 1862. After months of war and bloodshed, this regiment under their Colonel was at the front in the Battle of the Wilderness, May 6, 1864, and finally at Petersburg, when Col. Harriman led a brigade of nine regiments into the city, as the Confederate Army were abandoning it to the assailing force. The Colonel was breveted Brig. Gen. of U. S. Vols. in 1865. After the close of the War, Gen. Harriman, was elected to the N. H. legislature, then made Secretary of State, and was later elected and re-elected Gov. of New Hampshire in which office he gave the commonwealth an able and honorable administration. Other offices came to him, and then he travelled abroad, writing a book, entitled, "In the Orient," upon his return. He also wrote the town history of Warner, N. H. He died at the age of 67 years, and was laid to rest in Pine Grove Cemetery in his native town. As a writer has said of him,—"There lies the true, self-ennobled man, gifted and gallant, wise and patriotic, eloquent and honored, Son of the Granite State, who acted well his part in all relations, public and private, and whose life and character the mother shall count among her jewels." 975 AMOS[6] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 6, 1798, at Warner, N. H.; d. June 5, 1871, at Warner, N. H., bur. Pine Grove cem., Warner, ae 71y (B:90); m. May 13, 1818, at Warner, by Abner Jones, to Judith Barnard of Warner (M:5); b. 1800 (B:90); d. July 6, 1874, at Warner, bur. Pine Grove cem., Warner, ae 74y (B:90); dau. of (presum.) Thomas Barnard and Dolly —— (I:8). The age of Amos, as given on the tombstone is, apparently, incorrect. Were this not the case, he and his brother, Ezekiel, must have been twins, and Amos would have married at the age of 18 years, which does not seem probable.

Mch. 2, 1837, Amos Flanders and Judith Flanders, both of Warner, quit claim to land in Warner, to Harrison D. Robertson of Warner, this land being part of the estate of Thomas Barnard, late of Warner, deceased; will probated in June 1833. Also to the widow Dolly Barnard's right of thirds in her late husband's estate (I:8).

977 THOMAS JOHN[6] FLANDERS, b. at Warner, N. H.; m. Oct. 2, 1823, at Sutton, N. H., by Rev. William Dodge, to Eliza Colby of Wilmot, N. H. (O:98); b. Dec. 25, 1801 (M:5), at Manchester, N. H. (M:4); d. Sept. 27, 1865, at Portsmouth, N. H., bur. Manchester, N. H., ae 63y, 9m, 2d (M:5).

No actual statement has been found that Thomas John Flanders and Nancy (No. 974) were the children of Moses Flanders and Sally Gould, but as both Thomas John Flanders and Nancy were born at Warner, and both married into the Colby family, it is to be presumed that they were brother and sister. Moses Flanders and Sally Gould had 11 children, 9 of whom have been definitely located, therefore it is probable that Thomas John and Nancy Flanders were their children, since from the records thus far obtained, they could not have been the children of any other branch of the Flanders family, located at Warner.

Wells C. Flanders of Chelsea, Vt., and others, signed a document, dated Oct. 20, 1813: "doth each for himself testify that he gave his vote for councillors of the State of Vermont in the town of Colchester, Vt., on the first Tuesday of Sept. 1813, and that he was a freeman of said State, being sworn a freeman previous to that date" (G:70). In 1813, Wells Chase Flanders purchased land in Chelsea, and in 1821, owned 50 acres of lot No. 18, in Chelsea (I:3). In 1826, he was on the resident tax list in Eaton, N. H. (Eaton formerly included the present Madison) (O:37).

Obituary, "Daily Union," printed at Madison, N. H., dated Sept. 23, 1893: "Mrs. Anna Flanders, the oldest person in Madison, died the 18th, at her home on Deer Hill. She was born Dec. 1797, and celebrated her 95th birthday last December. Her husband served in the War of 1812, and she had three sons that served in the War of the Rebellion" (Q:1).

985 AMOS[6] FLANDERS, b. 1791-2; d. Nov. 1, 1879, at Wilmot, N. H., bur. Eagle Pond cem., Wilmot, ae 88y (B:97); m. Oct. 29, 1815, at Andover, N. H., to Abigail Dudley of Andover (M:5); b. 1795 (B:97); d. Oct. 14, 1855, at Wilmot, N. H., bur. Eagle Pond cem., Wilmot, ae 60y (B:97); dau. of John Dudley and Abigail Dudley (E:60).

The inscription on the tombstone of Amos Flanders reads: "Veteran Soldier of the War of 1812." Amos Flanders volunteered from Wilmot, N. H., or New Chester (which was later Hill), N. H., and served from Oct. 4, 1814 to Nov. 7, 1814, as a private in Capt. Joshua Merriam's co. of New Hampshire militia; the soldier stated that he was discharged on account of lameness (T:1). He was allowed a pension on his application, executed Mch. 11, 1878, at which time he was eighty eight years old. He was then living with Jacob Flanders Kenerson at Potter Place, N. H. (T:1). In 1820, Amos Flanders was on the list of voters at Hill (formerly New Chester), N. H. (O:53). In 1833, he owned land in Wilmot, which was formerly part of New Chester (I:8). He is said to have resided on what was known as the New Canada Road (J:32). Oct. 18, 1864, David W. Brown and Melinda Brown, his wife, of Andover, granted land in Wilmot to Amos Flanders of Wilmot, and on Nov. 4, 1865, Amos granted land and buildings in Wilmot to Samuel S. Keyser of Wilmot (I:8).

Children (Flanders) (J:32):

2387 i. Nancy[7], married and went west (J:32). She had 2 sons who died young; a daughter Mary, and a daughter Abbie, who married Albert Perkins (J:32). Nancy Flanders was remembered as a woman who was very proud of her name and lineage, claiming Belgian ancestry (J:32).

+2388 ii. Abigail[7], b. 1825 (B:97).
+2389 iii. Melinda[7], b. July 24, 1828 (B:97).

Charles Chase, to Cynthia Clifford (O:30); b. Sept. 18, 1805, at Corinth, Vt. (O:30); d. ca 1839, at Chelsea, Vt., bur. Corinth 4 Corners cem. (Family records); dau. of Isaac Clifford and Nancy Hogg (O:30; M:6); m. (2) Dec. 2, 1840, at Chelsea, Vt., to Lucy Whitney (O:25); b. Aug. 10, 1815, at Chelsea, Vt. (E:134), or at Ackworth, N. H. (M:5); d. Jan. 15, 1898, at Andover, N. H., bur. New cem., Andover, ae 82y, 5m, 6d (B:3); dau. of Isaac Whitney and Sarah Blood (M:5; E:134).

James Flanders was a stern, self contained man, like his father, and possessed the typical Flanders reticence. Indeed, this reticence was felt by his own family, for, although he took pride in the fact that his eldest son had a quick, active mind, and led his school, he seldom gave the boy any commendation. He was a stone mason by trade, and assisted in building, what was known for many years as, the "High Bridge," located near the village of West Claremont, and crossing the Sugar River. This was a railroad bridge and was considered, at the time, quite a remarkable piece of engineering. Within the last few years, this bridge has been taken down, but the old buttresses are still standing. The story is told that when blasting for the foundations for these buttresses, a charge did not explode, thereupon James, who was smoking a cigar, went over to investigate the cause of the delayed explosion. A spark from the cigar lit upon the fuse, and the explosion immediately took place throwing James some feet into the air. He landed among the boulders and a broken leg resulted.

Children (Flanders):

+2391 i. Isaac Alonzo Buck[7], b. Dec. 6, 1828, at Chelsea, Vt. (R:1299).
+2392 ii. Orlando Stephen Danforth[7], b. Apr. 10, 1839, at Chelsea, Vt. (R:1205).

By second wife:

2393 iii. Perry B.[7], b. Sept. 14, 1842, at Chelsea, Vt. (B:3); d. Nov. 19, 1912, bur. New cem., Andover, N. H. (B:3); m. (1) June 11, 1867, to Abbie Jane Cilley of Andover, N. H. (H:49); b. (J:31). Perry B. Flanders is said to have adopted a son of his 2nd wife, by her former marriage (J:31). At the age of 21 years, Perry B. Flanders enlisted in Co. E, 10th regt. N. H. Vols. He was mustered in Sept. 1, 1862, as corporal; mustered out June 21, 1865 (G:14). He was deputy sheriff in Andover, from 1893-1897, and in 1905 (H:49).

2394 iv. Cynthia Ann[7], b. Mch. 13, 1843, at Andover, N. H. (B:3); d. Mch. 11, 1918, at Andover, bur. New cem., Andover, N. H. (B:3); m. Apr. 2, 1863, at Andover, N. H., to Solomon C. Loverin (H:49); b. Sept. 1828 (B:3); d. Feb. 6, 1892, bur. New cem., Andover, ae 65y, 5m (B:3). No issue (E:134).

+2395 v. Charles Stephen[7], b. Dec. 7, 1845, at Andover, N. H. (E:134).

+2396 vi. Julia A.[7], b. Oct. 29, 1852, at Andover, N. H. (R:134).

991 NATHANIEL[6] FLANDERS, b. 1787 (B:113), at Bradford, Vt. (M:5); d. May 25, 1828, bur. Dorman cem., Swanton, Vt., d. in his 41st year (B:113); m. (1) Feb. 21, 1812, at Bradford, Vt., to Nancy Currier of Newbury, Vt. (O:18); b. Hopkinton, N. H. (M:5); m. (2) Eliza —— (K:19).

That the Nathaniel Flanders, who was buried at Swanton, Vt., was the son of Josiah[5] Flanders, is based on presumptive evidence. Josiah Flanders was married in 1786, therefore his son, Nathaniel, could have been born in 1787. No other Nathaniel Flanders has been found born in this year, therefore it is probable that this is the correct parentage for Nathaniel of Swanton. If this is right, then he must have married twice, as his widow is given in the probate records, as Eliza Flanders.

June 20, 1828, Eliza Flanders was appointed administratrix of Nathaniel Flanders' estate. Aug. 9, 1828, an inventory was made of the estate of Nathaniel Flanders of Georgia, Vt., and the estate was assigned for the support of the widow, Eliza Flanders, and the children of the deceased (K:19).

Nathaniel Flanders was resident of Newbury, Vt. at the time of his marriage with Nancy Currier (O:18).

Child (Flanders), by first wife:

2397 i. Charles J.[7], b. June 15, 1815, at Bradford, Vt. (M:5); d. Nov. 1, 1865, at Manchester, N. H., ae 50y, 3m, 16d (M:5); m. Oct. 12, 1862, at Londonderry, N. H., by Rev. Joshua L. Whittemore, to Myra Sanborn (M:5); b. 1816, at Boscawen, N. H. (M:5); dau. of James Sanborn and Lydia —— (M:5).

992 ZEBULON[6] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. in Mich. (R:332); m. unknown.

It is stated in one of the records collected in 1892, that Josiah was the father of Zebulon Flanders, and that he had own brothers, Nathaniel and Samuel; half brothers: Israel, James, and John. That his children were Horace, Albert, Hiram, Horatio, and Harvey. This is conclusive proof that the Zebulon Flanders, who died in Michigan was the son of Josiah[5] Flanders.

Children (Flanders) (R:332):

2398 i. Horace[7].

993 Samuel S.[6] Flanders, b. 1790, in Vt. (R:1206); d. Oct. 22, 1850, bur. Enfield, N. H., cem. (R:1206); m. Apr. 29, 1821, at Wilmot, N. H., to Hannah Garland (E:77); b. Apr. 17, 1801, at Salisbury, N. H. (E:77); d. Nov. 6, 1886, at Hartford, Vt., ae 86y, 1m (M:6), bur. Enfield, N. H. cem. (B:99; R:1206); dau. of Moses Garland and Hannah Hackett (E:77).

The identification of Samuel S. Flanders with Samuel, son of Josiah[5] Flanders is presumptive. The date and place of birth, as given in the cemetery record, corresponds with Samuel, son of Josiah[5] Flanders. It is also possible that the initial S. may have stood for Smith, the maiden name of the first wife of Josiah[5] Flanders. Several of the children of Jacob[5] Flanders, brother of Josiah[5] Flanders, were located at Wilmot and Andover, N. H., therefore, it is reasonable to believe that Samuel, son of Josiah, might also have resided there at the time of his marriage to Hannah Garland. Josiah[5] Flanders served in Capt. Simon Marston's co. in the Revolutionary War, and the daughter of Samuel S. Flanders, married Smith Marston. It is probable that Samuel S. Flanders was a widower when he married Hannah Garland, as the Enfield, N. H. census of 1830, lists a female in his household, between the ages of 15 and 20. The Garland genealogy states that Samuel Flanders and Hannah Garland had but one child, so this may have been a daughter by a former marriage.

Child (Flanders):

2405 i. Lucy Ann[7], b. Feb. 28, 1822 (H:49); d. Oct. 13, 1860, bur. Enfield Center cem. (R:1206); m. Nov. 26, 1843, to Smith Marston of Andover (H:49); b. Sept. 28, 1818, at Andover, N. H. Child (Flanders):

2406 i. John Josiah[7], b. July 1832 (B:42); d. Aug. 17, 1834, bur. East Haverhill, N. H. cem., ae 2y, 1m (B:42).

995 JAMES[6] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 1, 1796, at Bradford, Vt.; d. Sept. 13, 1876, at Paw Paw, Mich. (R:828); m. Abigail Bailey of Benton, N. H., at Benton (R:828); d. ca 1878, at Paw Paw, Mich. (R:828).

James Flanders moved from Bradford, Vt. to Benton, N. H. in 1823, about a year after his father and brother, Israel, had settled there (H:53). He was on the tax lists in Benton until 1835 (O:14), and it is probable that he went to Michigan soon after this, his brother, Zebulon, having already settled there.

Children (Flanders) (R:828):

2407 i. Ira[7], b. at Benton, N. H.; d. at Paw Paw, Mich. (R:828).

996 ISRAEL[6] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 8, 1799, at Bradford, Vt.; d. Dec. 16, 1887, at Benton, N. H., bur. East cem., No. Benton, ae 87y (B:6); m. Oct. 6, 1825, at Lisbon, N. H., by Rev. Haskel Wheelock, to Polly Wells of Benton (M:5); b. Mch. 20, 1798, at Canaan, N. H. (R:1148); d. July 25, 1894, at Benton, N. H., bur. East cem., No. Benton, ae 96y, 4m (B:6); dau. of Ezekiel Wells and Polly Meacham (R:1148). In the record of the marriage of Israel Flanders to Polly Wells, she is given as "a widow."

W. F. Whicher, in his "History of Coventry-Benton," gives the following account of Israel Flanders and his wife, Polly Wells:

"Israel and Polly Flanders were simple, quiet, thirfty, God-fearing people, who brought their family up, so far as lay in their power, to follow in their steps. They 'got religion' of the fervid Methodist sort early and enjoyed it during their long lives of nearly ninety years. They seldom ventured far from home; their hill farm supplied their simple wants. They avoided debt, and, while their earthly possessions were few, they would have scorned the tho't of being considered poor. There are some scores of people living who would travel some distance to hear 'Uncle Israel' once more sing in Methodist prayer meeting:—'Oh how happy are they Who their Saviour obey, etc.' or to hear 'Aunt Polly' declare that she meant 'to persevere on to the end and at last land her weary soul in the broad bay of heaven, to go no more out forever in a never ending eternity.' Aunt Polly sometimes mixed her figures of speech, but she was fervidly eloquent."

Children (Flanders), all b. at Benton, N. H. (R:1148):

Josiah Gustin was a Captain in the Revolution, and his wife, Margaret Wardner was born on the Ocean while her parents were coming from Holland to America (G:67).

Miriam Flanders came with her parents to Fitch Bay about 1806 (G:55). In 1856, Marshall Gustin "binds" himself to his father, Aaron Gustin "to give said Aaron Gustin & his wife, Miriam, a good, comfortable support as long as they live & decent burial after they are dead. Also to provide a home for their youngest daughter, Julianna Gustin, and see that she is clothed, decent to appear in public until 18 years of age" (I:23).

Apr. 24, 1789 (H:49); d. Apr. 8, 1866, at South Danbury, N. H. (H:49); dau. of Henry Robie and Ruth Howe (H:49).

The name of the Rev. Timothy Flanders is on the War Memorial at Wilmot Flat, N. H. "In the Marines, War of 1812" (L:4). His will was dated Feb. 22, 1848. To his son Nathan he gave one dollar; to his son Henry R., a note bearing date, Jan. 24, 1843, made payable to Timothy Flanders "on which I have a mortgage deed of his house"; to his dau. Mary G. Sanborn one bed; "to my beloved wife Abigail Flanders, all the residue of my estate after the payment of debts" (K:5).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Wilmot, N. H. (M:5):

2492 i. Henry R.[8], b. July 20, 1810.

2493 ii. Nathan[8], b. Oct. 24, 1812. The census records of Enfield, N. H., for 1850, list Nathan Flanders, ae 38y, farmer in family of shakers (R:1206).

2494 iii. Mary[8], b. June 14, 1817; m. Apr. 15, 1840, to Green Sanborn (H:49).

1071 JOSEPH BARTLETT[7] FLANDERS, b. Nov. 8, 1794, at Manchester, N. H.; d. Nov. 6, 1873, at Tunbridge, Vt., ae 78y, 11m, 29d (O:116), bur. Mt. Pleasant cem., Tunbridge (B:86); m. Jan. 23, 1817, at Strafford, Vt., to Sophia Tyler (O:95); b. May 28, 1796, at Strafford, Vt. (E:125); d. Feb. 15, 1859, at Strafford, ae 72y, 8m, 13d (M:6; O:116), bur. Mt. Pleasant cem., Tunbridge, Vt. (B:86); dau. of Derias Tyler and Rhoda Bishop of Hartland, Vt. (E:125; M:6).

The identification of Joseph Bartlett Flanders as a son of Stephen Flanders and Sally Ring, is based on the following evidence: Stephen[7] Flanders was a resident of Manchester, N. H. from 1793 to 1803, which corresponds with the date and place of birth of Joseph Bartlett Flanders. In the death record of Joseph B. Flanders, on the Tunbridge town records, his parents are given as Joseph Flanders and Sally Ring; no record has been found of a Joseph Flanders who married a Sally Ring, but Stephen[7] Flanders did marry Sally Ring. Stephen[7] Flanders resided for some years, at Thetford, Vt., a town but a few miles distant from Strafford and Tunbridge, Vt., where Joseph B. Flanders was located. Stephen[7] Flanders later moved to Lawrence, N. Y., and Joseph B. Flanders also went to New York State, two of his children being born at Malone, N. Y.

Joseph B. Flanders was a pensioner of the War of 1812 (R:1021). His will was probated Nov. 20, 1873; all his estate being left to Mary D. Flanders, wife of his son George W. Flanders (K:12).

Children (Flanders):

+2495 i. Lorenzo D.[8], b. Oct. 14, 1820 (E:125); at Morristown, Vt. (M:6).

+2496 ii. Vernon Albert[8], b. Apr. 26, 1822, at Malone, N. Y. (M:6).

+2497 iii. Emily[8], b. Feb. 13, 1823 (E:125); at Tunbridge, Vt. (R: 1021). (See David Newton Flanders, No. 3147).

+2498 iv. George Washington[8], b. June 2, 1829, at Malone, N. Y. (M:6).

1073 SAMUEL[7] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. 1841, at Otsego, N. Y. (H:73), or at Maumee, Ohio (R:1207); m. in N. Y., to Harriet Durfey (F:5); b. Dec. 5, 1807 (H:73); d. Nov. 29, 1876, at Henderson, Ky (H:73); dau. of Phineas Durfey and Ruth Brooks (H:73). Phineas Durfey lived about three miles west of Hopkinton, N. Y. (H:73), and it is probable that Samuel Flanders married Harriet Durfey at Hopkinton. Samuel and his father, Stephen Flanders, were then residing in that part of Hopkinton, which later was called Lawrence (T:1).

Children (Flanders) (H:73):

+2499 i. Calista Lovisa[8], b. June 9, 1832.
+2500 ii. Harriet Melissa[8], b. Apr. 20, 1834.
+2501 iii. Lovisa Maria[8], b. Apr. 6, 1840.

1074 EZEKIEL[7] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. 1838, at, or near, Farmersville, Cattaraugus Co., N. Y. (R:352); m. (1) Nov. 15, 1804, at Lyman, N. H., to Stella Moore of Lyman (M:5); m. (2) Lydia White (R:352); d. 1845, at Freedom, St. Joseph Co., Mich., bur. at Fawn River, Mich. (R:778).

Mr. Frank Flanders of Bronson, Mich. stated that Ezekiel Flanders was twice married, and that he had 2 sons by the first marriage, but he was not able to give the name of the 1st wife. As Ezekiel Flanders, Jr., and his father, Ezekiel Flanders, Sr., bought land in Lyman, N. H. in 1807, it is reasonable to believe that it was Ezekiel Flanders, Jr. who married Stella Moore, as given above, though no actual statement to that effect has been found. Ezekiel Flanders, Sr. could not have contracted this marriage, as his wife, Betty Rowell, was living at the time. Ezekiel Flanders, Jr. was in Farmersville in 1825, but his name does not appear on the records in 1822 (G:58).

Children (Flanders) (R:778; R:339; R:352):

2502 i. Son[8].
2503 ii. Son[8].

By second wife:

2504 iii. Elizabeth[8].
2505 iv. Mary[8].
2506 v. Ann[8].

+2508 vii. David White[8], b. July 16, 1818, at Farmersville, N. Y.
+2509 viii. Richard[8] (always called Ezekiel. R:352).
+2510 ix. Zoroaster Semirarius[8].
2511 x. Lydia[8].
+2512 xi. Calvin Hunter[8], b. Aug. 5, 1830, at Farmersville, N. Y. (R:339).

1075 FRANCIS[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 5, 1792, at Sutton, N. H.; d. Sept. 14, 1861, at Fawn River, Mich. (E:28); m. Jan. 1, 1818, at Hereford, P. Q., to Elizabeth S. Chandler (E:28); b. Aug. 29, 1798, at Colebrook, N. H. (E:28); dau. of Joseph Chandler and Lydia Hawkins of Colebrook (E:28).

In 1828, Francis Flanders was residing in Colebrook, N. H. In Mch. of that year he granted land in Hereford to his father, Ezekiel Flanders (I:28). He was a woolen manufacturer, and owned mills at Three Rivers, P. Q. These mills were burned, and he then moved to Michigan, settling about six miles from Vandalia, Cass Co., Mich. (E:28). July 31, 1848, he was appointed administrator of his father's estate (K:18).

Children (Flanders) (E:28):

2513 i. Ann B.[8], b. Oct. 9, 1818, at Hereford, P. Q.; m. Oct. 9, 1838, to William N. Lewis (E:28); b. Jan. 21, 1812 (E:28); son of Wait Lewis and Elvisa Tomlinson (E:28). Resided at Canaan, Wayne Co., Ohio (E:28).

2514 ii. Francis[8], b. Dec. 22, 1819, at Colebrook, N. H. At the age of 18 he enlisted in the U. S. service as a musician, and served 5 years. He was in the Florida war and came home and stayed until the war with Mexico began, when he enlisted in the 15th U. S. Inf. He served as Drum Major under Worth at the taking of Chapultepec; returned home, studied and practiced medicine until the discovery of gold in California in 1850. In the spring of that year he went by the overland route to California (E:28).

4515 iii. Jonathan[8], b. Apr. 18, 1822, at Colebrook, N. H.; m. Sept. 1857 to Betsey Irtherland (E:28). He was a lawyer at Sturgis, St. Joseph Co., Mich. (E:28).

+2516 iv. David Lambert Isham[8], b. Feb. 25, 1824.

2517 v. Elizabeth Chandler[8], b. Sept. 4, 1826; d. Aug. 8, 1858(E:28); m. June 17, 1858, to Loren H. Howard of Petty Prairie, Ind. (E:28).

2518 vi. Lydia[8], b. July 10, 1831; d. Jan. 13, 1833 (E:28).

Dr. Jonathan Leavitt Flanders attended Browning Academy and later taught school. He received his degree of M.D. at Dartmouth College, June 21, 1841, and practiced medicine with an uncle, Dr. David P. Flanders, who married Lucy Baldwin, a sister of Dr. Jonathan's first wife. About 1846, he went out to Illinois, settling first at Russellville, later in Dennison Township and finally in Lukin Township, where he died. As a physician and surgeon, he was a man of outstanding ability. Many anecdotes are told concerning Dr. Jonathan Flanders, who was evidently a man of decided opinions. The following were contributed by Mr. Charles Newton French, now and for many years an attorney in Chicago, and eldest brother of George Franklin French, who married a daughter of Dr. Flanders:

"Some miles distant from the town where Dr. Jonathan Flanders resided, was a village, in which a more or less successful 'quack' doctor lived,—the quack being a worthy man who commenced as nurse in time of the Cholera epidemic of 1852, then came into doctoring by degrees in times of great need. Dr. Flanders did not like him and carried his hatred, in some instances, to those who employed the uneducated man. On one occasion a man who lived nearer to the quack than to Dr. Flanders, sent for the latter; who replied: 'Tell Mr. B. L. I have my boots off.' (He did not respond to the call.) Dr. Flanders was a man of undoubted integrity, was temperate, and used no tobacco."

"Dr. Flanders was a thoughtful man, and when his mind was occupied by one thing, he was dead to all else. About the year 1875, or later, he spent a few months at the home of Rozander Smith in northeastern Texas. When the day came for Dr. Flanders' departure, he was much excited, notwithstanding his sturdy and calm nature; in packing his trunk he missed one shirt, a favorite of his. He had much to say on the subject, causing the Smith family considerable merriment, inasmuch as he was wearing the garment at the time. He finally stated that he would search no further, and so drifted into the kitchen, seating himself upon a bench which, he believed, bore an inviting cushion; but his mind was still upon that lost shirt. He did not observe that the supposed 'cushion' was a shallow pan of dough in the process of rising, nor was he aware that the dough overflowed the pan and ran out upon the bench and down to the floor."

Dr. Flanders served in the General Assembly, 1872-1874, from Lawrence Co., Ill. In political affiliation he was a Democrat, and had no religious affiliation (R:1203).

1137 JASON[7] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 30, 1818, at Bow, N. H.; date and place of death unknown.

When Jason Flanders was seven years old his father died and he was placed under the guardianship of Seth Woodbury. Soon after the death of his mother in 1834, he ran away to sea. In the Hillsboro County Probate records, the following account of Jason Flanders is given:

Martha J. Flanders and Harriet Coburn state that said Jason Flanders left his home in the year 1837; shipped at New Bedford on a whaling voyage and nothing was heard from him until April 1841, when he came to his uncle's at Charlestown, Mass. He then wrote a letter to said Harriet which she, being away from home, did not receive for three weeks. She replied to it at once, and used every inducement in her power to persuade him to return to his friends. Nothing has been heard from him since that time. Mary Ann Flanders of Charlestown, Mass., states that she knew Jason Flanders, that he was a son of James Flanders of Goffstown, who was her father's brother. Said Jason came to my father's house in the spring of 1841; stayed a week, then took all his baggage and said he was going to sea again, naming some southern port, I think. I have never seen or heard of him since. The reason I remember the date is because it was just before my nephew, Elijah L. Hadley, went to sea on his first voyage at the age of sixteen, and Jason taught him the sailors' knots. Elijah L. Hadley stated that he saw Jason Flanders of Goffstown at the house of his grandfather, Asa Flanders, in Charlestown. Jason was his cousin. In 1841, Elijah Hadley was 15 years old (K:6).

Sept. 6, 1848, David Flanders, uncle of Jason Flanders, stated that Jason left no widow, father or mother (K:6).

Letter from Jason Flanders to his sister, Harriet, dated Apr. 21, 1841 (K:6):

"Dear sister I now write a few lines to you to let you know how I ame and that I ame a live and now in good health and would like to fine you the same I saled on the Ship Sharon of Faire Haven the 14 day of June 1837 fore a Cape Hone voyage and was in that Shipe 31 months and then rune a way on the coast of Prue in the town of Pyta and stayed ther 2 months and then shiped a bord of the Shipe Forrester of New Bedford and was in her 13 months and come home in her as well could be until she arrived at Long Island and the Shipe rune on the Shore and became a compleet reck a bout halfe of the Oile was saived now lives lost all went a shore safe I come to New Bedford in the Shipe Hamlet of Long Island tuesday the 20 day of the month and have got nothing to help myself with but sul look afore lubores as son as I prompley can I know not when I shel return home a gin but you may look for me sometime in October or November and then I shal in forme you all about the Shipe reck and myself in all my travels I shal not goy a Whaleing a gain

"Harriet Coburn of Londonderry, wife of Joel Coburn, Philip C. Flanders of Manchester, and Martha J. Flanders of Londonderry, state that Jason Flanders of Goffstown has lately deceased, leaving no widow, that the above are his brothers and sisters;—also said Jason was for many years prior to his decease, a mariner and unsettled in his mode of life and that the above named brother and sisters have made diligent inquiry for the last seven years as to the residence and survivorship of said Jason but have been unable to ascertain any intelligence of him since April or May 1841 and they conclude he is deceased and pray administration of his estate be granted to Doc. David Flanders of Londonderry."

On the 6th of Sept. 1848, David Flanders was appointed administrator.

1191 DR. THOMAS[7] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 29, 1792, at Antrim, N. H.; d. 1867 (K:10); m. (1) Feb. 9, 1815, at Grafton, N. H.; to Susanna Follansbee (M:5); d. 1822 (N:1); m. (2) June 8, 1823, at Cambridge, Mass., to Ann Hilliard (P:14); living in 1868 (K:10).

The Providence Gazette published the following: "Thomas Albert d. Oct. 9, 1822, ae 6 years, son of Dr. Thomas Flanders of Lee, N. H. Within four years he has buried his wife and four children, and he has but one now to look upon and this one has not a house to live in, as it was burned a few days since" (N:1).

In 1818, Dr. Thomas Flanders of Colebrook, N. H., bought land and buildings in Lee, N. H., from Dr. Joseph Brown of Lee (I:13). The year following the burning of his house in Lee, Dr. Flanders sold his land in Lee, and resided in Exeter, N. H. In 1846, Alphonso Bickford of Durham, physician, sold land and buildings in Durham, N. H., to Dr. Thomas Flanders and Anna his wife, of Exeter. This land was formerly owned by Betsey Stevens (I:13). Perhaps the grandmother of Dr. Thomas Flanders.

Dr. Thomas Flanders' will was dated Apr. 14, 1838. His wife Anna was appointed executrix, and bequests were made to his three children, John Gilbert, Abraham Hilliard, and Sarah Ann Loverin. In a codicil dated Sept. 3, 1866, he revoked the appointment of his wife Anna, as executrix, at her request, and named his son Abraham Hilliard Flanders and his daughter Sarah Ann Herbert, as executors. To his son John Gilbert Flanders, he bequeathed "two card tables and one pair of crickets, which were his mother's, also my desk and bookcase and dressing case." The will was probated the 1st Tuesday in March, 1867. Aug. 10, 1868, Anna Flanders acknowledged the receipt of her portion of the estate. The executors' account was rendered Jan. 28, 1869, by Sarah Ann Herbert of Milford, Mass. (K:10).

1192 MOSES[7] FLANDERS, b. on Flanders Hill, in the town of Hancock, Vt.; d. estate adm. July 7, 1874 (K:16); m. (1) July 29, 1826, at Hancock, Vt., to Ernestine Naomi Clogsden (M:6); m. (2) Maria Towle (R:1103).

Moses Flanders lived on Flanders Hill which is situated between the towns of Hancock and Rochester, Vt. This hill received its name from Moses Flanders, Sr., as he made his first settlement there when he came to Rochester. The following story is told by a grandson of Moses Flanders, Jr.: "My father, John Flanders was out in the field one day with his father and grandfather, hoeing corn. Little John became tired of the hoeing, so climbed a fence and began to play mud pies in a brook near by. After a while, my grandfather became tired of hoeing, so he too, climbed the fence, and just as he was on the other side of it, he saw a bear cub, and thought he would play with it, so he turned it over on its back with a stick. He had no sooner done this, than the mother bear came out of the woods and before my grandfather could get away, she struck him on the side of the head with her paw. The force of the blow made my grandfather unconscious, and when he came to himself, he found his face was badly torn and bleeding, so he went back to the house. After a time, it was discovered that little John had not appeared, and all thought the bear had found him too. They hastened out and discovered John still playing mud pies by the brook, but a few feet away from where the bear had appeared." It evidently required more than the sight of a bear to disturb little John's tranquillity.

1211 WILLIAM[7] FLANDERS, b. June 19, 1805, at Mt. Holly, Vt.; d. ca 1852 (R:746); m. ca 1833 in Cattaraugus Co., N. Y., to Electa Houghton Collins (R:746); b. ca 1816, at Sugartown (or Ellicottville), N. Y. (R:746); d. 1883, at Harris, Minn. (R:746); dau. of William Collins and —— Houghton (R:746); she m. (2) 1853, at Springfield, N. Y., to Abel Holman (R:746).

That this was the William Flanders who married Electa Houghton Collins is based upon the following evidence: William and Electa Flanders had two sons, who were named Benjamin and Azariah. William[7] Flanders of Mt. Holly, was the son of Benjamin[6] Flanders (No. 545), and he had a brother, Azariah. This correspondence of names, while not conclusive proof, is an indication that this is the William Flanders who married Electa Houghton Collins, especially as Azariah is a very uncommon name in the Flanders family.

Children (Flanders), all b. at Sugartown, N. Y. (R:746):

2707 i. William[8].
2708 ii. Benjamin[8].

Times, Nov. 27, 1933); son of Daniel Bean and Mary Powell (H:49). At his death, Major Bean was the oldest officer on the army retired list, who had a distinguished record in the Civil War and Indian campaigns against the Apache and Ute tribes. He was the recipient of the Purple Heart decoration of the War Department with an oak leaf cluster, as a result of wounds he received in 1862 and 1864, while serving with the 5th N. H. regt., in which he enlisted, as a private, after the Battle of Bull Run. He participated in nineteen engagements in the Civil War, was breveted twice for gallant action, and was wounded at the Battles of Fair Oaks, Fredericksburg, and Cold Harbor. Only 82 of the 1,400 men who enlisted in the 5th N. H. regt. survived the war. One of his proudest recollections was the time he shook hands with Pres. Lincoln in 1862, when he was breveted for gallantry under fire. He took part in the Indian campaign which led to the capture of Sitting Bull and was head of the Fort Rand Garrison in North Dakota where the warrior was held after his surrender. Major Bean was one of the oldest members of New England Masonry, having joined 58 years ago. (Obituary notice, N. Y. Times, Nov. 27, 1933.)

2847 iv. Kinne[8], m. Levi Webster of Canaan, N. H. (H:10).

2848 v. Mary Flanders[8], b. June 1841 (B:109); d. Nov. 18, 1885, bur. old Union Meeting house cem., Plainfield, N. H., ae 44y (B:109).

1264 CAPT. DANIEL[7] FLANDERS, b. Sept. 25, 1799, at Hopkinton, N. H.; d. Aug. 10, 1886, at Hopkinton, bur. old cem., Hopkinton, ae 86y, 10m, 15d (B:46); m. July 7, 1825, at Hopkinton, by Elder Michael Carleton, to Mary Eliza Lerned (M:5); b. Mch. 9, 1807, at Hopkinton, N. H. (R:960, old Bible rec.); d. Nov. 27, 1890, at Hopkinton (B:46); dau. of Dr. Ebenezer Lerned and Mary Hall (R:960).

Aug. 20, 1825, Daniel Flanders of Hopkinton, Gentleman, relinquished all claim he had in the estate of Daniel Flanders, late of Hopkinton, deceased, to Martha and Rhoda Flanders, singlewomen, of Hopkinton. He also relinquished his claim to the estate of Timothy Flanders, late of Hopkinton, deceased, and his right in the reversion of the widow's dower in the estate of Timothy Flanders. Mary Eliza Flanders, wife of Daniel, yielded her dower rights in said premises (I:8). Nov. 19, 1829, Martha and Rhoda Flanders, singlewomen, of Hopkinton, quit claim to one half title in these estates which had accrued to them by deed from Daniel Flanders, to Pluma Flanders, singlewoman, and Horace Flanders, yeoman, of Hopkinton. This deed from Daniel Flanders conveyed "to us all right, title & interest, the said Daniel Flanders had in and unto the estate, both real and personal of his grandfather Daniel Flanders, deceased; also his right, title & interest in and unto the estate both real and personal of his father Timothy Flanders, deceased, including his right in his mother's dower" (I:8). Apr. 16, 1832, Hugh McAllister, Esq., Louisa McAllister, his wife; Calvin McQuestion, Physician, and Margaret B. McQuestion, his wife, all of Sanbornton; and Daniel Flanders, Gentleman, and Mary Eliza Flanders, his wife; released all interest they had in a tract of land in Henniker, formerly owned by Ebenezer Lerned, deceased, to John Currier and Horace Flanders, yeomen, of Hopkinton (I:8).

Mrs. Mary Eliza (Flanders) Howard gives the following account of her ancestry: "Ebenezer Lerned married Mary Hall of Londonderry, N. H., and had 4 children: Louisa, Mary Eliza, Margaret, and Brooks Holyoke. The name Brooks is that of Peter Brooks' family of Medford, Mass., where my great grandfather, Dr. Lerned was born and where, I am told, he founded a library; he was one of the earliest Harvard graduates. To this Brooks family belonged Phillips Brooks and his brother, John Brooks, a former rector of Christ Church Cathedral in Springfield. Grandmother Flanders' grandfather, Dr. John Hall, was with George Washington at the crossing of the Delaware at Trenton, N. J.; also at Bunker Hill."

With the exception of 4 years in Manchester, N. H., Daniel Flanders' life was spent in Hopkinton, N. H. (H:61). The 4 years Daniel Flanders spent at Manchester, N. H. were probably from 1845-49, as his 10th child is reported as having died there in 1846, and his 13th child is given in the Vt. Vital Statistics as having been born at Manchester, N. H. in 1848. Therefore, although the births of all these children are recorded on the town records of Hopkinton, the 11th, 12th, and 13th were undoubtedly born at Manchester.

Children (Flanders), births all recorded at Hopkinton, N. H. (O:55):

1297 REUBEN[7] FLANDERS, b. 1811, at Cornville, Me.; m. 1840, to Abigail A. Allen (G:48); b. at Cambridge, Me. (G:48); d. at Dexter, Me. (G:48).

In the "Aroostook Flurry" when Great Britain was claiming the whole of the St. Johns River, Reuben Flanders was a sergeant in Capt. Leighton's co. of Dexter, Me. This company rendezvoused Feb. 20, and Mch. 11, 1839; were discharged Apr. 22, 1839 (G:48).

Reuben Flanders was brought up on a farm in Cornville, Me., and remained there until he was 19 years of age, when he went to Dexter, Me., and engaged in the business of cabinet making, being a pioneer in that trade in Dexter. He sold out in 1867, and purchased the Charles Jennifer Mill property about four miles north of the village of Dexter, and for many years was engaged in the business of manufacturing long and short lumber. He was the founder of the village known since as No. Dexter. In 1856, he invented a machine for manufacturing orange and lemon boxes, but never got it patented. In 1882, he was in possession of the machine which cut the first two boxes ever manufactured in the world. He received a common school education and was an old line Whig until the organization of the Republican party, which he joined. In religion, he was a Universalist (G:36; G:48).

1406 EZEKIEL[7] FLANDERS, b. 1793, at Alton, N. H.; d. Nov. 1865, at Alton, N. H., ae 72y (M:5), or Nov. 1866, ae 72y (M:5); m. (1) Dec. 10, 1813, at Gilford, N. H., by Rev. Abel Glidden, to Sarah (Hinckley) Flanders (wid. of his brother, Moses) (O:41); m. (2) (int. Oct. 17, 1824) at Alton, N. H., to Charlotte Buzzell of Gilford (O:4); b. Oct. 3, 1795, at New Durham, N. H. (M:5); d. Mch. 17, 1869, at Alton, N. H., ae 73y, 5m, 14d (M:5); dau. of Isaac Buzzell and Mehitable —— (M:5).

Children (Flanders) (J:46):

+3040 i. Ezekiel[8], b. Sept. 9, 1814, at Gilmanton, N. H. (R:135).

3041 ii. Eleanor (J:46), or Ellen (P:35)[8], b. 1820-1, at Alton, N. H. (P:35); m. Apr. 19, 1846, at Lynn, Mass., to Sylvester Lewis (P:35); b. 1826 (P:35); son of Daniel Lewis and Ann —— (P:35). The marriage record at Lynn, Mass. gives this Ellen as the daughter of Ezekiel and Charlotte Flanders of Alton, N. H.; her age is given as 26 years, therefore, she must have been the daughter of Ezekiel Flanders and his 1st wife, Sarah (Hinckley) Flanders, as the second marriage of Ezekiel to Charlotte Buzzell was in 1824.

+3042 iii. John P.[8], b. Apr. 30, 1822, at Alton, N. H. (J:46; M:5).

3043 iv. Ruth[8] (See Amasa K. J. Flanders, No. 3071).

By second wife:

+3044 iv. Stephen Buzzell[8], b. Dec. 3, 1825, at Gilford, N. H. (M:5; J:46).

3045 v. Charlotte[8].

+3046 vi. Ira M.[8], b. 1829, at Alton, N. H. (G:14; J:46).

3047 vii. Mehitable[8], m. Mch. 20, 1850, at Gilmanton, N. H., to Levi Plummer of Gilford (O:42).

+3048 viii. Moses Wesley[8], b. Mch. 31, 1835, at Alton, N. H. (O:29; J:46).

3049 ix. Richard[8], d. at age of 21 or 22 years (J:46).

3050 x. Ann E.[8], b. 1839, at Alton, N. H. (O:4); m. (pub. May 19, 1860), at Alton, N. H., to Charles H. Jones (O:4); b. 1840, at Alton (O:4).

3051 xi. Mary A.[8], b. 1842, at Alton, N. H. (O:4; J:46); m. (pub. June 30, 1860), at Alton, N. H., to Jeremiah B. Jones (O:4); b. 1836, at Alton (O:4).

1407 RICHARD[7] FLANDERS, JR., b. (presum.) ca 1795, at Alton, N. H.; m. June 30, 1817, at Gilford, N. H., by Elder Abel Glidden, to Rachel Lamprey (O:41).

In 1831, Richard Flanders, Sr. deeded the land near his dwelling house, and that near the land of William Hinckley to his sons Richard, Jr. and Daniel Flanders, reserving for himself "the right to occupy and control these premises during my life" (I:13). Oct. 22, 1834, Richard Flanders, Jr. bought land in Alton from John and Benjamin Mooney and in Nov. of that year, he granted land in Alton to his brother, Daniel Flanders; granting him the privilege of "passing across my homestead farm, to and from this land with teams or anything else in a proper manner." Rachel, wife of Richard, yielded her dower rights (I:13). Sept. 14, 1840, Richard Flanders, Jr. of Alton, granted land in Alton, lying near his dwelling house, and near the land of Daniel Flanders, to Francis Flanders of Boston (I:13).

Children (Flanders):

+3052 i. Francis[8], presum. the son of Richard Flanders, Jr., the identification being based upon the above deed, for it seems improbable that Richard Flanders of Alton, N. H. would have deeded land in Alton to a Flanders in Boston, Mass., unless there had been some close relationship. Then also, Richard Flanders' mother was a Page, and his grandmother, a Glidden; Francis Flanders m. a Page, and had a daughter, named Ellen Glidden. Richard Flanders' brother Ezekiel (No. 1406), had a daughter who was married in Lynn, Mass., and Francis Flanders was also married in Lynn.

3053 ii. Eleanor Page[8], m. (pub. Sept. 29, 1843), at Alton, N. H., to Bethuel Glidden of Gilford (O:4). No actual statement has been found that this Eleanor Flanders was a daughter of Richard[7] Flanders, but she could have been the daughter of no other than Richard[7] Flanders or his brother, Ezekiel[7] (No. 1406). As she was married in 1843, it is not probable that she was born earlier than 1820; hence she could not have been a daughter of Ezekiel[7] Flanders, as his daughter Eleanor, or Ellen, was born about 1820-1, and was married at Lynn, Mass.

3054 iii. Ruth P.[8], b. Feb. 9, 1830, at Alton, N. H. (M:5); d. July 17, 1907, at Gilford, N. H., ae 77y, 5m, 8d (M:5). Never married (M:5).

1411 CHARLES[7] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 11, 1805; d. Apr. 1, 1863, at Effingham, N. H., bur. Davis Meeting house cem., Effingham, ae 57y, 7m, 21d (B:33); m. (1) Apr. 29, 1832, at Lexington, Mass., to Sarah Smiles (P:32); d. Oct. 27, 1837 (P:32); m. (2) Feb. 19, 1843, at Somersworth, N. H., by Rev. Silas Green, to Dorothy Marston (M:5); b. July 6, 1817, at Effingham, N. H. (M:5); d. Oct. 9, 1889, at Effingham, bur. Davis Meeting house cem., Effingham, ae 72y, 3m, 3d (B:33; M:5); dau. of Benjamin Marston and Betsey Meloon (M:5).

The identification of Charles[7] Flanders as a son of Richard[6] Flanders is presumptive. Several of the daughters of Richard[6] Flanders resided at Moultonboro, a town not far from Effingham, and on May 22, 1832, Charles Flanders purchased land in Somersworth, N. H., selling this land to Herman Barden of Boston, Mass., in 1833. Charles Flanders' wife Sarah released her dower rights, and the deed was witnessed by Sally and Elizabeth Marston (I:13). Sally Marston may have been the Sarah Flanders, who married Caleb Marston, and was (presum.) a daughter of Richard Flanders. Charles Flanders' second marriage to Dorothy Marston indicates a relationship to the Caleb Marston who married Sarah Flanders at Gilford, N. H.

The will of Dolly Flanders, late of Effingham, was probated the 1st Tuesday in Nov. 1889. Bequests were made to her son, Newel C. Flanders; her daughter, Sarah Ann Hayes; her granddaughter, Minnie B. Hayes; her son, John H. Flanders. Stones were to be set at the graves of her father, Benjamin Marston and her mother, Betsey Marston; also at the graves of her husband, Charles Flanders, and her daughter, Emma Louise Flanders (K:1).

Children (Flanders), by second wife:

+3055 i. Newell C.[8] (K:1).

3056 ii. Mary E.[8], b. Aug. 1, 1851, at Effingham, N. H. (M:5); d. Apr. 14, 1887, at Effingham, bur. Davis Meeting house cem., Effingham, ae 35y, 8m, 13d (B:33; M:5).

3057 iii. John H.[8] (K:1).

3058 iv. Emma Louise[8], b. 1855, at Effingham, N. H. (M:5); d. July 1, 1856, at Effingham, ae 1y (M:5).

+3059 v. Sarah Ann[8], b. Jan. 13, 1856, at Effingham, N. H. (B:33).

+3060 vi. Frank M.[8], b. Nov. 14, 1857, at Effingham, N. H. (B:33).

1412 DANIEL[7] FLANDERS, b. 1807, at Alton, N. H.; d. prior to 1883 (M:5); m. (int. July 7, 1832) at Alton, N. H., to Ruth Lamprey of Gilford N. H. (O:4); b. 1808, at Gilford, N. H. (M:5); d. Jan. 10, 1883, at Alton, ae 77y, a widow (M:5); dau. of John Lamprey and Miriam Chase (Q:1).

Daniel Flanders lived near his brother Richard, in Alton, as is shown by the deeds under Richard Flanders, Jr. (No. 1407).

Children (Flanders), b. at West Alton, N. H. (Q:1):

3061 i. Miriam Lamprey[8], b. Mch. 10, 1833; m. Jan. 19, 1854, at Laconia, N. H., to William Henry Gilman (Q:1); b. Feb. 22, 1833, at Gilmanton, N. H. (Q:1); son of Bradstreet Gilman and Mary Libby (Q:1). They resided first at Upper Gilmanton, later removed to Peabody, Mass. (Q:1).

+3062 ii. Sarah Celeste[8], b. Mch. 5, 1838. (See Alvah Buzzell Flanders, No. 3075.)

1416 ANDREW[7] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 28, 1790, at Alton, N. H.; d. Apr. 8, 1872, at Alton, ae 82y, 8m (M:5); m. (1) May 5, 1810, at Pittsfield, N. H., by Rev. Benjamin Sargent, to Elizabeth Eaton (M:5); b. May 14, 1790, at Pittsfield, N. H. (R:396); d. Sept. 4, 1854, at Alton, N. H. (R:396); m. (2) Jan. 1, 1859, at Alton, by Daniel B. Eaton, J. P., to Sally (Meader) Gilman (M:5); b. 1790, at Lee, N. H. (M:5); dau. of John Meader and Patience Clark (M:5).

In 1813, Richard Flanders of Alton, granted land in Alton to Andrew Flanders, and in 1828, John and Sarah Eaton granted land in Gilford to Andrew Flanders (I:13). John and Sarah Eaton may have been the parents of Elizabeth Eaton, the first wife of Andrew Flanders, as in 1831, Elisha Eaton granted part of the estate of Sally Eaton, widow of John Eaton of Gilford, deceased, to Andrew Flanders (I:13).

Andrew Flanders was Justice of the Peace in Alton in 1834, and for many years later (O:4).

Children (Flanders), all b. at Alton, N. H. (R:396):

3063 i. Sarah B.[8], b. June 24, 1811; d. June 25, 1811, at Alton, N. H. (R:396).

3064 ii. John E.[8], b. Aug. 18, 1812; d. Aug. 19, 1812, at Alton, N. H. (R:396).

The History of Garland, Me. gives an account of the planting of an apple orchard. David Dearborn cleared half an acre of land and planted apple seeds he brought from New Hampshire. From this nursery many of the old orchards of Garland were planted. In the absence of roads, men carried trees from this orchard upon their shoulders many miles, guided on their way through the dense forests by spotted trees. Enos Flanders of Sangerville, carried 12 trees on his shoulders through the woods to his home; a distance of 12 miles (H:21).

1460 DAVID EDGERLY[7] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 4, 1815, at Alton, N. H.; d. Apr. 6, 1901, at East Hampden, Me., ae 86y, 3m, 2d (M:4); m. Mch. 29, 1841, at Orrington, Me., to Lucinda Pierce (Q:1); b. Apr. 19, 1812, at Orrington, Me. (Q:1); d. Feb. 12, 1885, at East Hampden, Me. (Q:1).

Some years before his death, David Edgerly Flanders became interested in genealogical research and compiled a brief genealogy of his branch of the Flanders family. This record is now owned by Mrs. Harry Augustus Smith of Branford, Conn. The major portion of the material on Thomas[5] Flanders (No. 195), and his descendants, was copied from this genealogy and from records loaned by Miss Ella Flanders of Franklin, N. H.

David Edgerly Flanders was in the engineering department of the U. S. service on the western frontier in 1837, commencing service June 27th of that year. He was at Ft. Smith, Ark., and in 1845, at Ft. Knox on the Penobscot river, Me. Here he remained until after the close of the War of the Rebellion, and completed his service for the government at Ft. Opposite on the Delaware river (Q:1).

Vital Statistics as Adren Welch and Amy. In the Family Register of the descendants of Jonathan Flanders and Amy Wells, her parents are given Aaron Wells and Amy. The latter is evidently the correct parentage. Errors of this nature are not infrequent in these copied records, due, doubtless, to the difficulty encountered in deciphering the handwriting of the old Town Clerks, or to the faded condition of the town records.

Jonathan Flanders served in the War of 1812; resided in Weare until 1850, then removed to Henniker, N. H., taking up his residence in the south part of the town (S:1).

Child (Flanders) (P:41):

3184 i. Mary Ann C.[8], b. 1826, at Newburyport, Mass.; m. Dec. 11, 1845, at Newburyport, to William H. Horton (P:41); b. 1823 (P:41); son of John Horton and Elizabeth L. —— (P:41).

1505 CYRUS[7] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 8, 1810, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Sept. 22, 1887, at Topeka, Kans. (Q:1); m. June 21, 1834, at Newburyport, Mass., to Joanna Jones (P:41); b. July 12, 1810, at East Salisbury, Mass. (Q:1); d. Sept. 11, 1870, at Topeka, Kans. (Q:1); dau. of Simon Jones and Sally Stevens (Q:1).

"After the death of his father, Cyrus, then six years old, lived for several years with an uncle Flanders in Pittston, Me. When he returned home he was apprenticed to Major Boyd to learn the carpenter's trade; while working as an apprentice he helped build a house for Simon Jones. He was then eighteen years of age. He met and fell in love with Joanna, daughter of Simon Jones, and after a courtship of six years, they were married. Soon after they moved to Lynn, Mass., and in 1841, to Lowell, Mass., where Cyrus worked as a foreman for the Lackawanna Canal Co., and Lackawanna Machine Co. In 1845, he moved to Boston, Mass., working at his trade as carpenter and builder. He superintended the building of the Medical College, connected with the Mass. Gen. Hospital; also the Sailor's Home on Purchase St. His health began to fail, so he was forced to give up active work, and became sexton of the Church St. Meth. Epis. Church from 1849 to 1856, when he went to Kansas. In early life he united with the Common St. Meth. Church at Lynn, and after moving to Lowell, he joined the Werthen St. Church, and later the Church St. church in Boston. He held every position possible for a lay member to hold. Was Steward Class leader up to the time of his death. He left Boston with his family for Kansas Territory, Apr. 18, 1856, and settled in Topeka, and immediately filed upon a precented quarter section that became the family homestead and where he died. He was a man of strong personalities and an active temperance advocate, as well as a radical anti-slavery man. He was present in Boston when the U. S. Marines conveyed Anthony Burns in 1854 back to slavery, and was threatened with arrest by U. S. officers for his sympathy with the poor slave. Accordingly when the fight commenced to decide who should settle in the young Territory of Kansas, freemen or slaveholders, he concluded to cast his lot with the Free State men, and moved with his family to Kansas. He took an active part in the struggle to make Kansas a free state. His home was one of the stations on the underground railroad, where many slaves rested until the track was clear and free from obstruction, so they could travel on to the next station. One night a party of border ruffians tried to break into his house after a runaway slave, but the determined stand taken by the father and the two sons soon convinced the slave hunters that they had waked up the wrong household, and they hurriedly left. During the War of the Rebellion, while his two sons were absent in the Union Army, he joined the Gray Beard Company of Home Guards, and was in active service for some time during the Quantral Raid. He was one of the founders of the M. E. Church in Topeka. Joanna Jones was of Welch extraction and held the same radical views as her husband. She was small of stature, but of a lion heart. When her son, George Edwin left home, a boy, to help fight the battles of his country, she said: "God bless you, never show your back to the enemy. I had rather have you sent home in a box than with a hole in your back."

This article was written by his son, George Edwin Flanders, and contributed by Miss Ella Flanders of Franklin, N. H.

3196 v. Almira Gilman[8], b. Oct. 10, 1841, at Boston, Mass.

3197 vi. Lucy Ann[8], b. Feb. 28, 1843, at Boston, Mass.

3198 vii. Augustus Bradley[8], b. June 10, 1844, at Boston, Mass. He enlisted in Co. E, 8th regt. Inf. Mass. Vol. Militia, as private; must. in Apr. 30, 1861, ae 22; disch. Aug. 1, 1861, at expiration of service (G:41). He is given "of Lynn, Mass." A second record gives,—Augustus B. Flanders of Lynn, Mass., private Co. D, 17th regt. Inf. Mass. Vols.; must. in Aug. 20, 1861, ae 20; disch. Aug. 3, 1864, at expiration of service (G:41). These two records evidently refer to the same Augustus B. Flanders, though there is a variation in the age. Both are doubtless erroneous, as no record has been found of any other than the above Augustus B. Flanders of Lynn. His brother, George Ira Flanders was also a member of Co. D, 17th regt. Inf. Mass. Vols.

In the Lynn, Mass. V. R., there is an entry that a child of Ira Flanders was bur. in the Western Burying Ground at Lynn, Aug. 11, 1841, ae 6m.

1515 JOSEPH GREELEY[7] FLANDERS, b. May 26, 1815, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Mch. 17, 1888 (Q:2); m. (1) Sept. 3, 1838, at Newbury, Mass., to Mary Ann Currier (P:40); b. Dec. 1818 (Q:2); d. 3205 vii. Joseph Greeley[8], b. Oct. 2, 1851 (Q:1); d. Oct. 12, 1859 (Q:1).

3206 viii. George Edgar[8], b. Mch. 4, 1856 (Q:1); d. Nov. 7, 1859 (Q:1).

1516 NATHAN A.[7] FLANDERS, b. Jan. 18, 1820, at Salisbury, Mass.; m. (int. Aug. 10, 1844, at Newburyport, Mass. (P:41); Nov. 2, 1844, at Newbury, Mass., to Harriet M. Gurney (P:40); dau. of Nathaniel Gurney (P:40). Nathan A. Flanders was a shipwright (P:40).

Children (Flanders), b. at Newbury, Mass. (P:40):

3207 i. Harriet[8], b. May 11, 1845.

3208 ii. Ruth Ann[8], b. Feb. 12, 1848.

1518 CLARISSA[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 22, 1795, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Aug. 23, 1857, bur. Amesbury, Mass., ae 62y, 4m (B:2); m. (int. Sept. 10, 1814) Oct. 15, 1814, at Salisbury, Mass., to Daniel Morrill of Salisbury (O:88); b. Dec. 23, 1794 (E:166); son of Jonathan Morrill and Hannah Follansbee (E:166).

In the Salisbury, Mass. V. R. two dates of birth are given for Clarissa Flanders: Apr. 22, 1795, and Apr. 22, 1796. The inscription on her tombstone is,—"To my mother, Mrs. Clarissa F. Morrill who was born Apr. 22, 1795, and died Aug. 23, 1857, ae 62y, 4m" (B:2). Therefore, the date of 1795 is doubtless the correct one.

Child (Morrill) (E:166):

3209 i. Daniel F.[8], b. May 28, 1817; m. Hannah Holden at Vineland, N. J. (E:166); he d. Aug. 17, 1900, at Vineland, N. J. (E:166); she d. Aug. 8, 1900, at Vineland, N. J. (E:166).

1520 JOSEPH[7] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 16, 1800, at Salisbury, Mass.; d. Jan. 16, 1850, at Brooklyn, N. Y., ae 49y, bur. Prospect St. cem., Amesbury, Mass. (B:2); m. (1) (int. 1584 CAPT. GEORGE HALL[7] FLANDERS, b. Dec. 25, 1821, at Newburyport, Mass.; d. Nov. 20, 1892, at Portland, Ore., bur. at Riverside (E:75); m. Apr. 5, 1864, at Portland, Ore., to Maria Louisa Foster (R:331); b. July 15, 1834, at Winthrop, Me. (R:331); d. Jan. 8, 1916, at Portland, Ore. (R:331); dau. of Nathan Foster and Hannah Fairbanks (R:331).

Capt. George Hall Flanders was one of the pioneers of Portland, Ore. He evidently inherited the love for the sea which seems so inherent in many of the Flanders family, for he commenced his sea voyages at the age of twelve years in the company of his brother-in-law, Capt. John Couch. "They followed the sea for many years. In 1840, Capt. Couch was sent to the trading post at Astoria by Caleb Cushing. In 1842, they reached the Clackamas Rapids, just below Oregon City, then the chief post of the Hudson Bay Company. In 1848, Capt. Flanders took command of the bark, while Capt. Couch established a store and sold the cargo, agreeable to instructions. In 1850, they settled in Portland, built wharves, engaged in trading, and from the day on which they left Newburyport together, to the day of Capt. Couch's death, they were like David and Jonathan (a period of 20 years). Capt. Flanders saw great possibilities in Portland, and always urged his brother-in-law to take and afterwards to prove the claim, which he did on the passage of the donation act. This was known as 'Couch's Addition',—a section about a mile square. On condition that Capt. Flanders managed this, it was equally divided. He built docks, engaged in general freighting; built the first brick store, and worked for the advancement of the place. The two men gave a strip through the center of their land for a park. Capt. Flanders gave the land to the railroad on which to locate a depot. His hands were always open to the needs of the city which he saw grow about him. He died beloved and respected by all who knew him" (E:75).

Maria Louisa Foster, wife of Capt. George Hall Flanders was "a graduate of the old Ipswich Female Seminary," and inherited all the ability of her father. She was a teacher for a number of years, her first attempt being a private school at South Gardiner, Me. It was composed of pupils of all ages, but was most successful notwithstanding. Her former pupils spoke of her as the only one who knew how to teach, particularly mathematics. She taught in Boonville, Mo., in Philadelphia, and in the old seminary at Ipswich. In 1862, at the call of Bishop Scott for teachers, she went to Oregon, teaching in Portland and Milwaukee, here she was stricken with conical cornea. Unlike most cases, it came on gradually, and she became almost totally blind" (E:75).

(R:1293); dau. of Edward Barnwell and Elizabeth —— (R:1293).

Henry Flanders was educated at Kimball Academy, N. H., and Newbury Seminary, but did not receive a University training, although in 1856, he was given an honorary degree of M.A. by Dartmouth College. In 1842, he commenced the study of law in his father's office and in 1845, was admitted to the New Hampshire bar. He then spent some time in the south and married Elizabeth Barnwell of So. Carolina. After his return to the north he made his home in Philadelphia, and commenced practicing in that city, on being admitted to the Philadelphia bar in 1853. From the outset he devoted special attention to Maritime law, his studies on that subject being prosecuted to such purpose, that early in his career, he wrote two works,—A Treatise on Maritime Law, 1852; and A Treatise on the Law of Shipping, in 1853, which gave evidence of deep research and unusual ability. These works in a short time became acknowledged authorities upon the subjects with which they dealt. He attained high rank among the leaders of the Philadelphia bar, being considered one of the ablest Admiralty lawyers in the country. In 1855, he published the first volume of The Lives and Times of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, from Jay to Marshall. The second volume appeared in 1858. He also wrote several other books. In 1904, being then 80 years old, he was elected a member of the Auxiliary Faculty of the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, and as such, lectured on legal biography until shortly before his death, a period of seven years. A practitioner of the old school, he retained throughout his long life all the characteristics of a bygone age. Genial yet dignified, noted for his courtesy and consideration, his was a singularly attractive personality (F:6).

Samuel Flanders was head light keeper at Gay Head, Martha's Vineyard, Mass. for a period of 13 years. Gay Head light was considered one of the four best on the coast at the time. Previous to its installation the lenses were on exhibition at the World's Fair in Paris. In political principles, Samuel Flanders was a Democrat, and when Lincoln was elected, as he could not change his party and become a Republican, another keeper was installed in the place of Samuel. In 1903, Mr. and Mrs. Flanders had a family reunion on the occasion of their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary, and nine of the eleven surviving children out of their family of fourteen were present. Samuel Flanders lived to be over 95 years of age; his wife was nearly 92 at the time of her death; Mr. Flanders' mother lived to be over 100 years of age, and his wife's mother died at the age of 94. One of Mr. Flanders' sisters died in her 99th year (R:667).

The following extract is taken from an article published in Harper's Magazine for Sept. 1860, reference is made to the tumble down shacks of the Indian Colony at Gay Head, then the writer continues:—"in pleasing contrast with this desolation is the appearance of the Government lighthouse and surroundings, that stand upon the breezy headland overlooking the sea. This well-kept and cheerful exterior led us to seek shelter and hospitality within the federal enclosure rather than from the natives, and the welcome we received from Squire Flanders, the light keeper, was worthy of his person and fame, and the glorious flag under which he serves. Having rested and eaten, and partaken of a cup of coffee equivalent of both, we went to visit the Head. . . . As the shadows of evening deepened, we returned to the lighthouse and were there invited by the faithful guardian of the tower to go up and witness the lighting of the wonderful lamp. And a magnificent illuminator it is, the finest on our coasts and perhaps unsurpassed in the world. . . . The whole is of French manufacture exhibited at the World's Fair in London, and purchased by our Government at the cost of 16,000 dollars. If our pride of Nationality was touched at hearing that we owed this Chef d'Oeuvre to the genius of a Frenchman, we were consoled by the reflection that the worthy keeper himself was a native production.

"Squire Flanders is not only a man of consequence on Gay Head, but his renown has extended over the whole Island; and to those who delight in studying the diverse phases of human character he is well worthy of attention. As a public officer he has weathered the storms and changes of political affairs, immovable as the wave beaten cliff upon which he dwells; yet his integrity has never been questioned, and his lamp has never gone out. A natural and moral philosopher according to the teaching of St. Paul and Professor Agassiz, he lectures with equal clearness on antediluvian ichthyology and the ethics of scripture. In short, no one can long sojourn with Squire Flanders without being touched by his obliging and amiable character and impressed with his substantial worth and honesty. It is a matter of conscience with him to keep his lamp always trimmed and his light set upon a hill. Long may it shine, a luminous example to federal office holders, a beacon of safety to the homeward bound mariner!"

1616 JOHN C.[7] FLANDERS, b. at Warner, N. H.; d. will probated 4th Tuesday in Sept. 1864, at Warner, N. H. (K:7); m. July 19, 1846, at Warner, N. H., to Fannie D. Jones of Warner (O:105); d. prior to 1864, presumedly, as she is not mentioned in John C. Flanders' will.

In his will, John C. Flanders made a bequest to Lydia Melville "in consideration of services rendered, especially during my sickness"; half of the homestead and land, together with the residue of his property, was left to his son George J. Flanders. The will was dated Aug. 19, 1864. Ephraim Dunbar was appointed executor (K:7).

Sept. 16, 1864, Ephraim M. Dunbar was appointed guardian of George J. Flanders, child and heir of John C. Flanders, late of Warner, a minor over 14 yrs. of age. On June 1, 1868, George J. Flanders received the property left him by his father (K:7). The inventory of the estate of John C. Flanders was made by Benjamin C. Davis, Moses Morrill, and Oliver Flanders, all of Warner (K:7).

Child (Flanders):

+3345 i. George J.[8], b. 1847, at Warner, N. H. This date of birth is based on the fact that he received his property in 1868, and was then of age (K:7).

1617 ABIGAIL[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 23, 1825, at Warner, N. H.; d. May 19, 1925, at Warner, N. H., ae 100y, 26d (R:545); m. (1) Jacob O. Morgan of Sutton, N. H. (R:545); m. (2) Ross Spaulding (R:545).

No. Sutton cem. (B:105); son of William K. Howe and Isabella (Thompson) Bean, wid. of Ephraim Bean of Sutton (H:60).

Children (Howe) (H:60):

3351 i. Willis H.[8], b. July 4, 1857; m. Nov. 6, 1880, to Augusta M. Dexter (H:60).

3352 ii. Fred L.[8], b. July 30, 1859; m. twice (H:60).

3353 iii. Hattie M.[8], b. Feb. 26, 1864; m. June 11, 1881, to Fred A. Felch.

1623 CHARLES HENRY[7] FLANDERS, b. 1838, at Warner, N. H.; d. Aug. 9, 1863, at Cairo, Ill. (G:14); m. (1) Sept. 16, 1858, at Pembroke, N. H., by Rev. Lewis Goodrich, to Martha D. Hemphill (M:5); b. Mch. 17, 1838, at Pembroke, N. H. (M:5); d. Aug. 15, 1860, at Warner, N. H., ae 22y, 5m, 8d (M:5); dau. of Matthew Hemphill and Rhoda Morgan (J:8); m. (2) Aug. 14, 1862, at Sutton, N. H., by Moses Hazen, J. P., to Jane (Morgan) Smith (M:5); b. 1834, at Warner, N. H. (M:5); dau. of John B. Morgan and Hannah Hoyt (M:5).

Charles Henry Flanders enlisted Sept. 15, 1862, ae 24, b. Warner; mustered into Co. H, 16th regt. N. H. Vols., Oct. 23, 1862, as private; died of disease Aug. 9, 1863, at Cairo, Ill. (G:14).

Aug. 25, 1863, Franklin Simonds was appointed administrator of the estate of Charles H. Flanders, late of Warner, deceased. Jane H. Flanders was the widow of Charles H. Flanders (K:7). Sept. 11, 1863, Abigail Flanders of Sutton, stated that she was the grandmother of Charles M. Flanders, a minor, and son of Charles H. Flanders, late of Warner, deceased, and recommended that Robert Thompson be appointed guardian of this minor child. Matthew Hemphill represented that he was the grandfather of Charles M. Flanders, both of whose parents were deceased, and he was appointed guardian of the child (K:7). Dec. 18, 1879, Jennie Hemphill was appointed guardian, as Matthew Hemphill had died. Charles M. was over 14 years of age at this time, and on Mch. 25, 1881, inherited his property (K:7).

Child (Flanders):

3354 i. Charles Matthew[8], b. Mch. 8, 1860, at Warner, N. H. (J:8); living at Waterloo, N. H. in 1933 (J:8). Never married (J:8).

1626 ALFRED K.[7] FLANDERS, b. 1850, at Warner, N. H. (M:5); living in 1932, at Boscawen, N. H. (Q:1); m. (1) Carrie Scott (M:5); b. 1855, at Goshen, N. H. (M:5); m. No record of the 1st mar. of Alfred K. Flanders has been found, but as Fred W. Flanders gives his father's name as Alfred Flanders of Boscawen, and his mother's name as Carrie Scott, she was presumedly the 1st wife of Alfred K. Flanders.

Children (Flanders):

+3355 i. Frank W.[8], b. 1873, at Goshen, N. H. (M:5).

+3356 ii. Fred W.[8], b. Jan. 2, 1875, at Goshen, N. H. (M:5).

Holmes and Priscilla Bryant (M:5). No children mentioned in the wills of James R. Flanders and his wife, Sophronia, so there was probably no issue. James R. Flanders was a member of Masonic North Star Lodge of Lancaster in 1896-7; also North Star Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Secretary of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World (H:63).

1637 STEPHEN[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 5, 1809, at Warren, N. H.; d. Mch. 25, 1884, at Springfield, Vt., ae 74y, 11m, 20d (M:6); m. Theda Almira Sanderson (M:6).

Children (Flanders):

3372 i. Almira[8], b. at Northumberland, N. H. (M:6); m. Jan. 23, 1861, to David F. Safford (M:6).

3373 ii. Maria E.[8], b. 1839-40 (M:6); m. July 20, 1882, at Springfield, Vt., to Stillman L. Barrett, her 1st mar., ae 42y (M:6). As her brother, Edwin J. was born in 1840, she may have been in her 43rd year at the time of her marriage, or she may have been a twin of Edwin J.

3374 iii. Edwin J.[8], b. Nov. 11, 1840 (M:6); d. June 1, 1864, at Cold Harbor, Va., ae 23y, 6m, 21d (M:6), bur. Summer Hill cem. Springfield, Vt. (M:6). He enlisted Aug. 29, 1861, in Co. A, 3rd Vt. regt.; must. in Oct. 29, 1861; re-enlisted Dec. 21, 1863; killed in action June 1, 1864, at Cold Harbor, Va. (G:51). His estate was administered by David F. Safford, Jan. 28, 1870 (K:14).

3375 iv. Alden P.[8], b. Apr. 1843 (M:6); d. Oct. 21, 1862, ae 19y, 6m, bur. Summer Hill cem., Springfield, Vt. (M:6). Enlisted June 1, 1861, in Co. A, 3rd Vt. regt.; must. in July 16, 1861; died Oct. 21, 1862 of disease (G:51).

3376 v. Apphia M.[8], b. Feb. 11, 1845, at Northumberland, N. H. (M:6); d. July 18, 1866, at Springfield, Vt., ae 21y, 5m, 7d (M:6).

1640 JOSEPH WHITTAKER[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 5, 1816, at Warren, N. H.; d. July 14, 1872, ae 56y, 3m, bur. Northumberland, N. H. cem. (B:65); m. H. cem., ae 56y, 6m, 14d (B:65); dau. of Benjamin Farr and Mary Stevens (M:5).

Joseph W. Flanders was the keeper of the old toll bridge, built in 1802, between Guildhall, Vt. and Northumberland, N. H. He resided on the Northumberland side, and the old house is still standing and has been preserved.

Children (Flanders):

3377 i. Unnamed son[8], died young (J:7).

+3378 ii. Elizabeth H.[8], b. May 31, 1848, at Guildhall, Vt. (M:5) (See Mason D. Flanders, No. 4036).

3379 iii. Jane A.[8], b. Aug. 1850, at Guildhall, Vt. (M:5); d. Nov. 30, 1931, at Northumberland, N. H., ae 81y, 3m (M:5), bur. Northumberland cem. (B:65). Never married (J:7). Her will was dated Dec. 26, 1929; probated Jan. 4, 1932. Bequests were made to her nieces: Lillian Knapp of Cortland, N. Y.; Adda J. Flanders of Colebrook, N. H.; Sarah Tibbetts of Colebrook, N. H., and her nephew Elmer Fairbanks of East Milton, Mass. and his wife, Lillian Fairbanks (K:3).

3380 iv. Charles James[8], b. Dec. 5, 1852, at Guildhall, Vt. (J:7); d. Mch. 9, 1920, at Guildhall, ae 67y, 3m, 4d (M:6); m. Dec. 14, 1882, at Guildhall, to Helen N. Rickards (J:7); b. 3381 v. John Nelson[8], b. Aug. 1855 (B:65); d. June 12, 1866, at Northumberland, N. H., bur. Northumberland cem., ae 10y, 10m (B:65). Scalded to death in a mill (J:7).

3382 vi. Mary A.[8], b. 1858 (R:1219); m. Dexter Sanborn (R:1219).

+3383 vii. Emma M.[8], b. 1860, at Guildhall, Vt. (M:6).

+3384 viii. Elmer Ellsworth[8], b. Jan. 10, 1862 (J:27).

3385 ix. Albert Wesley[8], b. June 1867 (B:65); d. Aug. 19, 1869, bur. Northumberland cem., ae 1y, 2m (B:65).

1641 JAMES[7] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 21, 1790, at South Hampton, N. H.; d. Apr. 11, 1829, at Weare, N. H., bur. Weare cem., ae 39y (B:93); m. Dec. 24, 1817, at Weare, N. H., by Samuel Eaton, J. P.,

to Mary Peaslee of Weare (O:108); b. 1783 (B:93); d. July 16, 1853, at Weare, bur. Weare cem., ae 70y (B:93); dau. of Ebenezer Peaslee and Abigail Hodgdon (M:5).

Apr. 28, 1829, at the request of Mary Flanders, widow of James Flanders, late of Hopkinton, deceased, Israel Peaslee was appointed administrator of the estate, the heirs and next of kindred of the deceased being all minors (K:7).

Children (Flanders):

3386 i. Betsey P.[8], b. May 12, 1811, at Topsham, Vt. (M:5); d. Dec. 22, 1873, at Hopkinton, N. H., ae 62y, 7m, 10d (M:5). Never married (M:5). This may have been a child by a former marriage, or the dates given in the records may be erroneous. The death record of Betsey P. Flanders states that she was a dau. of James Flanders, b. Warner, and his wife, Mary, b. Weare. This agrees with the above parentage, as, although James Flanders is recorded as born at South Hampton, all the other children of Calvin[6] Flanders are recorded as born at Warner. This being the case, it would not have been unnatural to place the birth of James at Warner also, when this death record was made out. Calvin[6] Flanders and his family resided at Topsham, Vt., and Betsey P. is reported as born at Topsham. It is possible that an error was made in the date of marriage of James Flanders to Mary Peaslee, or in the age of Betsey P. at her death, no record having been found of her birth other than that computed from the age given in the death record.

3387 ii. Ebenezer[8], b. Dec. 17, 1820, at Hopkinton, N. H. (M:5); d. Oct. 26, 1889, at Henniker, N. H., ae 68y, 10m, 9d (M:5), bur. Weare Center cem. (S:1); m. July 8, 1849, at Swanzey, N. H., by Rev. D. G. Mason, to Mercy Holbrook (M:5); b. Sept. 3, 1821, at Swanzey, N. H. (M:5); d. Sept. 1, 1899, at Henniker, N. H., ae 77y, 11m, 29d, bur. Weare Center cem. (M:5); dau. of John Holbrook and Mercy Hill (M:5). In the death record of Ebenezer Flanders, his father, James Flanders, is recorded as born at Warner, thus corresponding with the death record of Betsey P. Flanders.

3388 iii. Mary Ann[8] (H:61).

Children (Sargent), b. at Warner, N. H. (E:157):

1660 WALTER POWERS[7] FLANDERS, b. May 29, 1805, at Haverhill, N. H.; d. Jan. 24, 1883, at Milwaukee, Wis. (H:32); m. Sept. 23, 1834, at New London, N. H., to Susan Everett Greeley (E:85); b. Jan. 8, 1811, at New London, N. H. (E:85), or Jan. 11, 1811 (R:165); d. May 10, 1888, at Milwaukee, Wis. (R:165); dau. of Jonathan Greeley and Polly Shepard (E:85).

According to the Greeley genealogy, Walter Powers Flanders was born at Haverhill, N. H., but the History of New London, N. H. gives his birthplace as Warner, N. H., with the additional information that his father moved to Haverhill, N. H., when Walter was a child, and that his early education was begun in that town. "Years of struggle, self denial and self support enabled him to graduate from Dartmouth College in 1831, with honor. He studied law with Judge Nesmith in Franklin and was admitted to the bar in 1834. He settled in New London where he married. For 14 years Mr. Flanders had an extended practice throughout the state and no record of the New Hampshire bar would be complete without a tribute to his legal acumen and foresight, his resistless energy and his power as an advocate. He was in active sympathy with the anti-slavery movement, receiving as personal guests, Frederick Douglas, George Latimer and others. In 1848 he removed to Milwaukee, where through a long and honored life, he was prominently identified with public affairs, with the extension of railway systems and with educational interests. His wife was a woman of rare mental endowments and a singularly beautiful character" (H:32).

Children (Flanders), all but the last child b. at New London, N. H. (E:85; R:165):

Children (Flanders):

3464 i. Matilda E.[8] (K:12). The administration of the estate of Thomas L. Flanders was granted to Matilda E. Flanders, Feb. 21, 1889; she paid the funeral expenses (K:12).

3465 ii. Mahala Little, b. 1848, at Bradford, Vt. (M:6); m. Oct. 1, 1874, at Newbury, Vt., to George Hutchinson (M:6).

1694 MOSES[7] FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; m. Nov. 12, 1843, at Plymouth, Vt., to Caroline M. Pratt (M:6); b. Jan. 2, 1823, at Plymouth, Vt. (M:6); d. Oct. 9, 1876, at Castleton, Vt. (M:6); dau. of Timothy Pratt and Caroline —— (M:6).

The identification of Moses, son of James[6] Flanders and Nancy Lang, with the Moses Flanders who married Caroline Pratt, is presumptive. From the present records this is the only Moses Flanders who could have contracted this marriage, also Abner F. Flanders, son of James[6] and Nancy (Lang) Flanders, died at Ludlow, Vt., and Moses and Caroline (Pratt) Flanders had a daughter born at Ludlow, and a son buried there. Thus indicating that this Moses was a brother of Abner F. Flanders.

1711 DANIEL[7] FLANDERS, b. Apr. 10, 1802, at Salisbury, N. H.; d. 1840, at Providence, R. I. (E:64); m. Nov. 6, 1823, at Boscawen, N. H., by Rev. E. Price, to Hannah Elliott (M:5); b. Apr. 9, 1796, at Boscawen, N. H. (E:64); d. Nov. 29, 1854, at Salisbury, N. H. (E:64); dau. of John Elliott and Susannah Boynton (E:64).

It is stated in the Elliott genealogy that Daniel, son of Ezra[5] and Sarah (Blaisdell) Flanders, married Hannah Elliott. Daniel, son of Ezra[5] Flanders could not have contracted this marriage, as he married Hannah Boynton in 1802, at Buxton, Me., and died there in 1843; his wife, Hannah, also died at Buxton, Me. in 1851. (See Daniel[6] Flanders, No. 716.) As the Daniel Flanders, who married Hannah Elliott, was of Salisbury, N. H., according to the marriage record, he could have been no other than Daniel, son of William and Mary (Page) Flanders; grandson of Ezra and Sarah (Blaisdell) Flanders. Additional evidence is found in the records of the children of Daniel and Hannah (Elliott) Flanders. Their son, James, died at Woburn, Mass., where all the younger children of William and Mary (Page) Flanders resided; their daughter, Mary, had children bearing the same names as the children of William and Mary (Page) Flanders.

Joseph R. Flanders obtained his early education at Fort Covington, N. Y., and afterwards taught school. He studied law and removed to Malone, N. Y. between 1845 and 1860; was judge of Franklin Co., N. Y. While living at Fort Covington, he was a member of the Assembly and later a delegate to the Constitutional Convention. In 1868, Judge Flanders moved to New York City where he practiced law until six months before his death. In the last year of his life he removed to Richmond Hill, L. I. (now part of New York City), on account of his health (E:64).

Children (Flanders) (E:64):

3511 i. Joseph R.[8], b. Apr. 1, 1850, at Malone, N. Y.; m. Oct. 5, 1876, to Frances G. Martin (E:64). He resided at Malone, N. Y., and was vice president of the Malone Woolen Mills (E:64).

1729 DAVID SMITH[7] FLANDERS, b. Oct. 3, 1812, at Hatley, P. Q., Canada; d. 1888, bur. in old cem. at Hatley (B:41); m. "by banns, Apr. 27, 1835, at Compton, P. Q., by Rev. C. Jackson, Church of Eng., to Sally Leavitt of Compton, P. Q., of major age, spinster; in presence of witnesses: Lydia Leavitt and Jeremiah Leavitt" (M:1); b. 1812, at Compton, P. Q. (M:1); d. 1894, bur. old cem. Hatley, P. Q. (B:41); dau. of Jonathan Leavitt and Rebecca Ring (M:1; B:41). David Smith Flanders and his wife, Sally Leavitt, were both baptised Aug. 2, 1840, by Rev. E. Botterell, Methodist minister of Compton (M:1).

The old cemetery where David Smith Flanders and his wife, Sally Leavitt, are buried, is located behind the site of the old Hatley church. A monument built of stones taken from the homes of the early settlers, who are buried in this cemetery, marks the spot where this church once stood. The inscription on the monument reads: "On this site stood the church erected in 1818 by Charles James Stewart, pioneer missionary of the Church of England in the Eastern Townships, and afterwards second Bishop of Quebec." Bishop Niles of New Hampshire, a Hatley boy, preached many times in this church. This section of Hatley goes by the name of Charlestown, Hatley, or East Hatley.

Rufus Arlington Flanders left his home in Hatley, P. Q. in the year 1836 for Haverhill, Mass. Here he remained for one year, then returned to Canada and commenced the study of medicine. In 1838, he joined the Methodist Church and was baptised by the Rev. E. Botterell of the Sherbrooke Circuit, and began to study for the ministry. In 1839, he left home once more to begin his work as a minister, and was for many years a successful preacher in connection with the Canada Wesleyan Conference, "laboring with acceptance and usefulness on different circuits" (G:55; Old Diary of Lewis[7] Flanders).

Mrs. Sidney Stevens of Stanstead, P. Q., a daughter of the Rev. Rufus Arlington Flanders, has made a very valuable contribution to the family history by loaning to the compiler many old papers formerly belonging to her father. Among these papers was a family record bearing the following notation: "Received from my uncle Philip Flanders, June 1848." Signed: "R. A. Flanders." From this brief genealogy, and the additional records prepared by the Rev. Mr. Flanders, it has been possible to secure much important data not only on the Canadian branch of the family, but also on the early generations before the migration to Canada took place.

"Miss Mary Elizabeth Flanders taught school in Boston and vicinity for a period of forty years, endearing herself alike to both parents and scholars. She also took an active part in church and Sunday School work. At the outbreak of the World War, Miss Flanders was at once elected president of the Red Cross Societies of Stanstead and Rock Island, and a more efficient, zealous, untiring president never existed. She toiled unceasingly at this noble work until the end of the war, but it left its mark upon her, taking toll of her reserve strength. Those who saw it felt it was a badge of honor. She died 'in harness' as was her wish. She was 'Aunt Molly' to hosts of people who could in no wise claim relationship, but who felt the spell of her sweet personality. Interesting, broad-minded, full of zest for everything that was best worth while in life, her simple Christian faith was like a rock in these days of shifting creeds. She was so consistently good, and yet so cheerful, so sunny, so unassuming, 'doing little kindnesses which most left undone,' that we did not fully realize what a rare spirit had passed our way until she had done." (Extract from an "Appreciation," written at the time of the death of Miss Mary E. Flanders) (R:780).

Cyrus Flanders left Hatley, P. Q. in 1836, and went to Newmarket, N. H. to learn the cabinet trade, returning to Hatley in 1839. After remaining there about eight months, he went to Reading, Mass. to work at his trade, and in 1844, he went into the provision business in Boston. In 1854, Cyrus decided to join his brothers, Alvan and Jackson, in California, starting on the 3rd of February. He sailed 1734 GOV. ALVAN[7] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 8, 1823, at Hatley, P. Q.; d. Mch. 13, 1894, at San Francisco, Calif. (R:488); m. (1) June 14, 1848, at Boston, Mass., to Nancy Acorn (R:488); d. July 20, 1849, at Boston, Mass., bur. Boston, but later removed to California (R:488); m. (2) Dec. 7, 1855, at San Francisco, Calif., to Elizabeth M. Smith (R:488); b. Oct. 1832, at Newburyport, Mass. (R:488); d. May 18, 1908, at Alameda, Calif. (R:488); dau. of Foster Smith and Jane Gerrish (R:488).

In 1839, Alvan Flanders left home to learn the blacksmith's trade under a Mr. Hazeltine, serving an apprenticeship of four years, after which he moved to Reading, Mass., where he worked at his trade until 1845, when he went to Boston and started as a machinist. He was moderately successful in this business and continued in it until late in 1851; then spent six months as editor of a small paper. For some years past he had become interested in California, and in 1852, he had a sawmill built for him, which he shipped to California on the sailing vessel "Staffordshire." July 6, 1852, he sailed from New York on the S. S. "Prometheus," arriving in San Francisco Aug. 20th. Early in 1853, he returned to Boston on business, sailing back to California July 5, 1853, accompanied by his younger brother, Jackson Flanders.

In San Francisco, Alvan Flanders became greatly interested in forming the first Republican Club of that city. In 1858, in connection with C. A. Washburn, he started the "San Francisco Daily News." He represented San Francisco in the California legislature a number of times, and afterwards was appointed, by President Lincoln, to a position in the San Francisco mint, and later to the land office of the Humboldt District. In March 1863, he moved to Washington Territory, entering business in Wallula. He served as Governor of Washington Territory from 1869-1870. Prior to this he had been appointed by President Grant as Representative in Congress for the Territory (R:488).

The following clipping from "The Pacific Tribune," Olympia, Wash. Ter., dated May 8, 1869, has been contributed by Mr. Lewis Flanders, of Brookline, Mass.: "The newly appointed Governor of Washington Territory, Hon. Alvan Flanders, late Delegate in Congress, arrived at Olympia on Tuesday evening last, direct from Washington City. His arrival at Skookum Chuck was announced by telegraph early in the day; and, a buggy having been despatched for him, his friends prepared to receive him in a suitable manner. On reaching the brow of the hill at the rear of the town, he was saluted with the booming of cannon, which continued until some time after he had arrived at his hotel. Here he was greeted by his numerous friends, who welcomed his return to his adopted home as Governor. He had left his family in the East, to rejoin him here at an early date."

His journey from Washington to Olympia is described as follows: "He came overland to Sacramento, thence by water to Portland. He made the trip from Boston to Astoria in 15 days." The account continues: "Gov. Flanders, while acting as delegate, proved himself second to none who ever represented the Territory in Congress, and has won the esteem of all honest minded people in the Territory, regardless of political parties, by his honest, honorable, impartial course, and by his untiring industry and energy in looking after the interests of his entire constituency. And, notwithstanding the fact of his being defeated for renomination by fraud, treachery, and whisky, he is, today, deservedly the most popular man in Washington Territory, and is the choice of three-fourths of the true Republicans of the Territory. The man who was so faithful a delegate to Congress cannot fail to make an acceptable Governor, so we bid Governor Flanders a cordial welcome to the executive chair of the Territory."

Conclusion of Gov. Alvan Flanders message to the Council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Washington, as printed in the "Olympia Transcript" under date of October 9, 1869:

"Having the best interests of our Territory at heart, being identified with its material development, and with the future prosperity, I have no doubt but in your deliberations you will be guided by these considerations of patriotism, of justice, and of prudence which will lead only to the enactment of such laws as the present interest of our Territory demands, and such as the future will justify. Avoiding, as far as possible, local and special legislation, which fill the statute books of too many States and Territories with a mass of Legislative enactments, often contradictory and seldom wise and beneficial. Although I do not fully endorse the statement that the 'wisest legislation of the present is that which repeals the legislation of the past,' yet I am decidedly of the opinion that altogether too many laws are enacted, and that widsom in legislation will make every law, as far as possible, general in its provisions and application, and that legislation for the benefit of distant counties, towns, corporations, or individuals, should as far as possible be avoided. In the discussion of the various questions which will demand your consideration, I would counsel moderation and forbearance, and hope that your present session may be harmonious and pleasant. In all measures which may be devised by your united wisdom, which will tend to increase our material wealth or promote our political tranquillity, you will have my cordial co-operation. For our Territory there is a bright future, everything points to this. If our progress heretofore has been comparatively slow, our advancement has been steady and certain. Here has been laid the sure foundation of what is to hereafter be a rich and prosperous state. A steady and rapid increase in population and wealth will be sure in the immediate future. Manufacturers will spring up, our agricultural resources will be developed, towns and cities will be built, and our Territory become the home of a dense and prosperous community. On Puget Sound, will be built a city from whose wharves ships will sail to every ocean, and whose steamers will connect with every port on the coast, with the Pacific Islands, and with Asia. A city that will compete successfully with San Francisco for the control of the commerce of the Pacific, when that commerce shall be a hundred fold greater than now. It is your duty to foster and encourage every enterprise of capital and labor which will tend to produce this result, and by wise laws to secure to every individual the largest liberty possible, and to all equal protection and exact justice. ALVAN FLANDERS"

The following account of the life of Lewis[7] Flanders is based upon the records contained in a Diary, written by him in 1852. This book was kindly loaned to the compiler by his grandson, Lewis Flanders of Brookline, Mass.

"I lived at home with my parents until father's death in 1835, then my oldest brother was married and moved on the old farm. They stopped there about a year, then I lived with my mother until Philip was married, and went to live with him on the old farm which he had bought until I was one and twenty. My mother lived with him until 1841, when she was removed by death. Jackson my youngest brother, made his home with Philip Smith. I worked out my time, then went to school for a month. The 22nd of March, 1847, I started for Boston. It was a very snowy day, and Philip carried me to the village, where I took stage for Boston, arriving on the 25th of the same month." He "let" himself out to Alden White, as a teamster, receiving $24 a month, and boarding himself. He describes his first boarding place as "a room in an attic with four others." This proved unsatisfactory so Mr. White offered him a room in his own house. Here he met his future wife, Caroline White. He worked for the firm of Patch & White until 1849, then went to work for the firm of Manning & Stanwood in their store on Central Wharf. In 1851, he started a trucking business of his own, and for some years was very successful. After the death of his brother Philip in California, he went to Canada and brought Philip's wife and children back to Boston with him. He took one of the little girls to live with him, and his brother Cyrus took Philip's wife and the other two children into his home. Mrs. Philip Flanders became dissatisfied with Boston and in 1853 took her son, Cyrus, and returned to Canada, leaving her little girls in Boston with their uncles. In 1854, Cyrus Flanders started for California, leaving his wife and children with his brother Lewis. Cyrus' wife lived but a few months after his departure, and in October of that year, the maternal grandmother and "Uncle Gillette" came from New York and took Cyrus' children to live with them. Lewis met with business reverses and had great difficulty in getting along, as he writes that "in the year 1855 all business was slack." Shortly after this business affairs became better and he prospered once more. In 1856, he bought a house in Chelsea, Mass. The 22nd of September, 1861, his wife was taken sick with "consumption." She died January 11th, 1862. "She was only 28 years and six months lacking 8 days, old." Lewis Flanders died after a prolonged illness, during which he suffered excruciating pain, but his son writes that,—"from the first to the last, his mind was as strong and active, and his interest in his business as great as ever. He was always cheerful and patient, never complained, and never failed to greet his family and friends with a smile, even when enduring intense pain." He was buried from the Tremont St. Methodist Church on Sunday, September the 21st, 1878, and was laid to rest in Woodlawn Cemetery. We lost a dear father whose only thought was for his family" (R:488).

About forty five years ago, an effort was made on the part of certain Flanders descendants to collect the records of the family with the intention of compiling a genealogy, but they received so little encouragement that all but two of the original group gave up the task in despair. Abiel Chandler Flanders was one of the two. Due to the patient and persevering efforts of these two members of the Flanders Family Association, many of these records now incorporated in this family history were preserved. We of the present day owe an inestimable debt of gratitude to these two members of our family, who labored against great discouragement in order that our family records might be preserved for posterity. At this late day, it would have been almost impossible to gather together this material, as practically all with whom Mr. and Miss Flanders corresponded, have passed away. Due to the kindness of the daughter of Abiel Chandler Flanders, Mrs. Charles Brown of Fall River, the material which her father had collected was made available for the present publication.

For many years after the old "Flanders Family Association" had passed out of existence, Miss Ella Flanders continued her work of collecting data on the family, and has in her possession a large amount of genealogical material sent in from all parts of the country, and which she has carefully preserved. These records have furnished an invaluable source of information for this present volume. She very kindly gave the compiler the privilege of copying her records, many of which consist of the original letters sent in by members of the family who have now passed away, so that much of this data, given under her number, Q:1, was contributed by the people themselves, and forms a most authentic source of information. Without this assistance, which she so willingly gave, this family history would have been far less complete than it is. The Flanders family owe her a debt of gratitude for the work she so faithfully performed at the expense of much wearisome labor.

Dr. Flanders always used as his signature: Alonzo B. Flanders; his first name, Isaac, having dropped into disuse early in his boyhood. He was a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and his long pastorate of nearly fifty years was spent in Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Vermont. For many years he was on the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Vermont. At the death of Bishop Bissell he was asked to be a candidate for Bishop of Vermont, but he declined, as he felt that a younger man should succeed to that office. He enlisted in the 4th R. I. Vols. and served as chaplain of that regiment. During this service he contracted malaria, from which he never fully recovered.

Enlisted Oct. 30, 1861, in 4th Rhode Island Vols., Chaplain; honorably discharged, for disability, at his own request, Oct. 31, 1862 (G:1).

The following sketch was written by one who knew him well:

"Alonzo Buck Flanders, D.D., to whom this book is dedicated, was born on a farm in Central Vermont. Even as the brooks in his native hills sometimes disappear in the gloomy depths of the woods, eventually to appear again, sparkling in the sunshine of the meadows; so this man, descended from a stern and unemotional ancestry, came into this world with an understanding heart and an innate sympathy for the trials of all mankind. Children trusted him, their parents loved him, the old welcomed him, and even the profligate respected him.

"With this endowment it is not surprising that in choosing his profession he turned to the Christian ministry, and practically all his life was spent in little parishes in Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Vermont.

"His early educational advantages were not many, but it was characteristic of that day that the things taught were taught with absolute thoroughness. Dr. Flanders seems to have exhausted the possibilities in every opportunity which presented itself. It was to be expected that he should excel in the liberal arts rather than in exact science. Fine things appealed to him most strongly and his sermons are filled with the poetry of all nature.

"He was more of a minister than a theologian, and when one considers the primitive meaning of the terms, it seems possible that the people among whom his life was spent, needed his assistance in their daily problems much more than they needed theology. The degree of D.D. was conferred upon him by the University of Vermont in acknowledgment of his services to the people of his native state. Often was he called to preach in the cities and his natural gift of adaptation to his environment made him acceptable, but his heart lay with his people of the hills.

"At the outbreak of the Civil War he was rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church in Wickford, R. I. He enlisted in the Fourth Rhode Island Volunteers and was made regimental chaplain. He bore the rank of Captain, a fact that nobody today can explain since the accepted rank of a chaplain was that of First Lieutenant. However that may be, his commission as captain is still in existence and his shoulder straps with the two bars are still in the possession of his family.

"He was full of the fervent patriotism of his day, and although when he enlisted he left behind a young wife and three small children, yet he wrote from the field: 'Ours is a just cause, and if confronted again with the same problem, I should do as I have done now.' This same correspondence shows that he was called upon for duties outside his profession. Often he was a bearer of dispatches; many times he did his turn with scouting parties.

"Popular with his men in wartime, he was equally popular in the Grand Army of the Republic. The one great event in the lives of those men was the Civil War, and he was almost a perennial Memorial Day speaker.

"In the beginning of this little biography it is written: 'The profligate respected him.' A year or two ago an old man said to the writer: 'I was never afraid of Alonzo B. I was a pretty wild fellow in my youth, but I liked to go fishing and so did he. One time we had been out on a pond all day in a boat, not having much luck, and somehow a bit of village gossip came up between us. A. B. said to me, "Frank, if you can't say anything good of a man, it is best to say nothing at all."'

"A chance remark, but remembered after more than fifty years.

"Children loved him. When his end came, his body lay in his church for a few hours before burial. Four Knights Templars watching there, saw the door open softly to admit three children from the tenement district of the town. They bore in their hands a few imperfect blooms from house plants. These they deposited reverently in the casket, stood looking for a moment and then crept out quietly. It was, perhaps, the grandest tribute of all."

Sarah Anne (Ide) Flanders, wife of Rev. Alonzo B. Flanders, was educated at Claremont, N. H., and at Stanstead Academy, Stanstead, P. Q., where she specialized in art and French. She lived to be nearly 93 years of age, and retained the unusual mental faculties with which she was endowed, unimpaired up to the time of her last illness. During her long life, she never lost her interest in all that went on about her, and was deeply concerned in the welfare of her country. She was well posted in the affairs of the day and in the literature and thought of the time. Possessing great adaptability, she adjusted herself to the changing ideals of the three generations in which her life was passed. Sympathetic, understanding, and impartial in her judgments, her influence was strongly felt by the youth with whom she came in contact. Her calm and strong personality endeared her to all who knew her.

Orlando S. D. Flanders, the second child of James Flanders and Cynthia Clifford, lost his mother soon after his birth. On her death bed the mother charged her eldest son, then a boy of 11 years, to watch over his brother as long as he lived. This promise was faithfully kept. At the outbreak of the Civil War, when Orlando wished to enlist, his brother arranged for his enlistment in his own regiment, the 4th R. I. The diary of Alonzo B. Flanders, kept during his war service, bears evidence to his constant thought for the welfare of his young brother during this dangerous period.

Orlando S. D. Flanders was enrolled Sept. 18, 1861, at Camp Greene, R. I., and was must. in Oct. 30, 1861, as private, Co. H, 4th R. I. Vol. Inf., at Washington, D. C. Transferred to Co. A, re-enlisted as Veteran Vol. Jan. 5, 1864. Transferred to Co. G, 7th R. I. Vols. (new organization), by order dated Oct. 21, 1864. Transferred to Battalion 7th R. I. Vols. by order dated June 6, 1865. Mustered out July 13, 1865.

The soldier was wounded by bursting shell at Antietam, Md., Sept. 17, 1862. He was captured in the assault on Petersburg, Va., June 30, 1864, and borne on the rolls as a prisoner of war until paroled at James River, Va., Feb. 20, 1865, and sent to Camp Parole, Md. It appears that the soldier was imprisoned at Libby Prison, Richmond, Va., and at Danville, Va., but the time in each place is not mentioned (T:1).

Mr. Flanders was wounded in the right shoulder by a bursting shell at the battle of Antietam, and was taken prisoner at the mine explosion in front of Petersburg. He was confined in Danville and Libby prisons, where he nearly died of starvation and disease (R:1205).

The following sketch was contributed by one who was well acquainted with Mr. Flanders:

"A natural-born soldier, he illustrated the reckless, venturesome spirit of the Pioneer. Prison, starvation, major engagements, these were incidents in a life crowded with excitement and adventure. Of capacious memory he could give the details of a battle, could name those who were with him and what they and he did; but of death and wounds and perils he never spoke. He was all for the jokes they played, for isolated experiences and escapades. His sense of humor seemingly was superior to what we call the 'horrors of war.' In any event it was in war that he found what his spirit craved; in peace he was restless and the first to volunteer for anything promising adventure. He never really grew old. At seventy he said of those against whom he fought: 'They thought they were right, the same as we did. They were good fighters. None better. No, I have no grudge.' "

"William Flanders went with his family to Kansas in 1856, and lived on the home farm for several years, when he became bookkeeper for a firm in Topeka, Kan. He enlisted in Co. B, 2nd Cavalry C.M., and was taken prisoner at the Battle of the Blue, was soon after paroled. He settled in Salina, Kan., where he became a merchant. He has held several official positions, among them Clerk of the Board of Education for several years. While living in Boston, he was employed by a company having charge of the renting, collecting and settlement of estates for a company styled '50 Associates', often called in derision the '40 thieves.' They were a company of young men banded together in the early days of Boston, 1700 and some odd, and bought a large amount of real estate. His employer was the Secretary and Treasurer. He had a great deal to do with the settlement of estates of the deceased members and frequently had occasion to search the old records, also the English records in the Boston Atheneum's Heraldic Library, which gave him quite a taste for ancient lore, and with the assistance of his employer, he traced out the genealogy of the Flanders from the ancient town records to Stephen Flanders, who settled at Rocky Hill. He farther traced through heraldic records and made a copy of the Flanders coat of arms, carved out of wood, according to the records, but never completed it as the family moved to Kansas about that time." (Written by George Edwin Flanders, in Miss Ella Flanders' records.)

"George E. Flanders went with his father to Kansas in 1856; lived on the home farm with his parents. He enlisted as a private, in Co. A, Kan. Vol. Cavalry in 1861. He served in the army of the Southwest 7th Army Corps in Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas. He was taken prisoner of war at the Battle of Marks Mills, Ark., Apr. 25, 1864, at 5 o'clock P.M., after a severe engagement in which the Union Troops were defeated. The prisoners were marched on foot for 52 miles during the next 24 hours, without food or rest, and after 20 days of weary marching and suffering untold hardships, were confined at Camp Ford, Tyler, Texas. We were exchanged at the mouth of the Red River, Feb. 25, 1865, after a captivity of just 10 months. After having been mustered out of Fort Leavenworth, he returned to the old homestead at Topeka. He was by occupation a farmer. His wife was the daughter of John Gould Carleton of Wiscasset, Me., and grandson of Moses Carleton one of the early pioneers of the State of Maine, and one of its Revolutionary heroes." Mrs. Johnson relates an interesting incident which occurred in her husband's store in La Jolla, Calif. A gentleman staying in La Jolla for a short time, came in and bought some goods, asking that they be sent to Mr. Albert A. Flanders. This being the name of Mrs. Johnson's father, Mr. Johnson was surprised and entered into conversation with the gentleman, in course of which he learned that this Mr. Albert A. Flanders had been tracing the Flanders family, stating that he had found the "Family coat of arms" in a little church in Belgium, and it consisted of "a Lion with a Red tongue and five claws," and he then stated that either a father and three sons, or else three brothers (Mr. Johnson was uncertain which), by the name of Flanders, left Belgium, went to England and staid there for a time, then came to this country, this happening some three hundred years ago. An effort has been made to trace this Mr. Albert A. Flanders, but has not been successful.

Feb. 4, 1867-8, at Chilmark, Mass. (R:386); living in 1932, at Hartford, Conn. (R:386); dau. of Franklin Benjamin Hammett and Nancy Lambert Tilton (R:386).

Samuel H. Flanders had but little schooling, and after fishing for a living until 25, or 26 years of age, he entered the employ of the Bradstreet Co., in Iowa, Aug. 1, 1886. With the exception of two brief interruptions, one to go to Alaska in the gold stampede, and the second time to enter business for a short time, he has remained in their employ ever since. He has been manager at several points: Des Moines and Dubuque, Iowa, Springfield, Mass., and Hartford, Conn. He is still manager at Hartford. His wife went alone to Iowa at the age of 18, to marry him. While he was in Alaska, she kept things going, although she had three children at the time (R:385). The following is quoted from a newspaper clipping: "Mr. Flanders has been a fisherman at Martha's Vineyard, Mass., a gold miner in the Yukon, and at all times a staunch New England Yankee. He has a tremendous store of persistence. His record of achievement in Providence, and his thirteen years managership at Hartford, bear ample testimony to this fact. He made his debut at Bradstreet's, as a reporter at the Dubuque, Iowa office, in 1886. His career at Bradstreet's has been a varied one, as he went from reporter to clerk, to manager; now at Dubuque, then at Des Moines, later at Burlington, and then at Grand Rapids. Finally he returned to New England and joined the Providence office in 1902. He was appointed manager at Hartford, July 1, 1918.

3526 REV. CHARLES RUSTON[8] FLANDERS, b. Aug. 2, 1852, at Frost Village, P. Q., Canada; d. 1920, at Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, bur. Stanstead, P. Q. cem. (B:80; R:780); m. 1881, to Martha Elizabeth Davies (R:780); b. 1860, at Phillipsburg, P. Q. (R:780); d. June 25, 1931, at Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada (R:780); dau. of Rev. John Davies (R:780).

Rev. Charles Ruston Flanders, M.A., D.D. died suddenly on Tuesday morning, having preached the previous Sunday, then being, apparently, in the best of health. He was very deeply loved and respected, as is shown in the following extract:

"A prophet of the new day was among us, ministering to the needs of the community, and there was music in his voice, as he spoke the eternal message found in the hills of God. He was one of God's gentlemen, who walked along the common road, wearing 'the white flower of a blameless life.' The poor have lost a kind benefactor, whose purse was always open to the needy; the sick and well will often think of his gentle words and tender prayers in the room where the shadows linger; the children will miss a great friend, who always found delight in their company. The nation and the world are now without this loyal citizen, who loved all men, and our common religion mourns the departure of a great soul, whose faith embraced all creeds and nationalities."

"To perpetuate the memory of Rev. Charles R. Flanders, late pastor of Broadway Methodist Church, a beautiful marble baptismal font was presented to the church by the Ladies' Aid Society. The presentation address was made by Rev. J. H. Riddell, D.D., principal of Wesley College. 'This memorial,' said Dr. Riddell, 'is unique in that rather than suggesting death,—as we so often do in raising monuments to our departed—it suggests life, by making provision for the baptism of those yet unborn. In choosing this font as a memorial, no greater tribute could be offered, for the provision of such a font, was a desire often expressed by him whose memory we commemorate.' The Rev. L. F. Dimmitt, D.D., pastor of the church, said: 'There are many among the congregation who would need no such memorial, to keep green the memory of their former pastor. There are those of them at whose marriage he officiated, who will remember him for the kindly word spoken, others will not soon forget the hand which was held out to them in trouble and which guided them through the dark hours of bereavement. Those with whom he came in contact need no commemorative tablets, his deeds are graven on the tablets of their memory'."

Mrs. C. R. Flanders, wife of the late Rev. C. R. Flanders, was educated at the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, graduating as M.L.A. in 1880, with the distinction of being gold medallist in her year. "In 1881, she was married to Rev. C. R. Flanders, a name widely known and highly honored in the former Methodist Church. After serving several charges in Magog, Coaticook and Sherbrooke Street, Montreal, she, with her husband, assumed the responsibility of the principalship of Stanstead College in the province of Quebec, and here for fifteen years she served the church and the community with great zeal and wise devotion. In her own quiet, unassuming way she won for herself the confidence and respect of all who knew her."

In 1893 he was appointed Assistant State Commissioner of Agriculture, a position he has held for many years. He is considered an authority on agricultural law, and has lectured and written much upon questions of vital importance to agriculturists. Through the press and on the platform he has created deep interest, and made his department one of practical value. In 1901, he was President of the Farmers National Congress, and for three years was the first Vice-President of the National Association of the Dairy and Land Commissioners, and in 1909, was elected President. He was also elected Director of the National Dairy Union in that year, and subsequently, President. He is a member of the Ancient City Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Albany and of State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry (F:14).

"Dana Judson Flanders received a limited education at his native place, and at the age of 13 went to work helping his father, who was station agent at the Plaistow Brick yards station of the B. & M., now Westville. He became a Morse operator, self taught, and went to work for the B. & M., as a spare operator at North Berwick, Me. Later he was transferred to Haverhill, then to Boston in the office of Pres. Wm. Merritt, finally winning advancement to the position of general passenger and ticket agent of the entire system, and finally general passenger traffic manager. In all he was with the B. & M. 43 years, and he was retired on a pension some 25 years ago. He was one of the original directors of the Malden Trust Co., and had served as a director since the bank's inception. He followed the late Col. E. E. Locke in the presidency and also as chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Flanders was for many years an outstanding figure in Masonry. He was a past master of Merrimac Lodge of Haverhill and was also a member of Converse Lodge of this city, advancing into the Grand Lodge and passing thru all chairs of that organization, being the senior grand master at the time of his death. He also represented the Grand Lodge at the International gathering in London. In the Knights Templar branch of Masonry he was also a leading figure and had been thru all the offices in the Grand Commandery of Mass. and R. I. He was trustee of the First Universalist church for nearly half a century and was chairman of the trustees most of the time." As a young man, Mr. Flanders took an active interest in municipal affairs and served as alderman from ward three in 1897 (Obituary notice in Malden Evening News, May 4, 1933).

Mr. Flanders was one of the original members of the old Flanders Family Association. He owned the property in Plaistow, called "Barcelona," which has descended from father to eldest son for many generations.

Children (Flanders) (R:482):

5922 i. Herbert Merritt[10], b. May 6, 1878, at Haverhill, Mass.; living in 1932 at Longmeadow, Mass. (R:482); m. Mch. 22, 1905, at Malden, Mass., to Elizabeth Burchmore Coburn (R:482); b. Mch. 13, 1884 (E:42); living in 1932 at Longmeadow, Mass. (R:482); dau. of Alonzo

Coburn and Elizabeth West (E:42; R:482). No issue (R:482). Mr. Flanders was educated at the Malden public schools and the Mass. Inst. of Tech. from which he graduated in 1900 (R:482). "Like his father, Mr. Flanders was a youth of much energy and possessed an enterprising spirit. Upon his graduation from the Institute, he immediately entered the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad Company, engaging in constructions and grade crossing work on their electric line between Portsmouth and Northampton, New Hampshire. For five years he continued this work rendering excellent service to the company and gaining for himself valuable experience. He then associated himself with the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company, engaging in construction work for them for about a year, when he resigned in order that he might work with various contractors who were engaged in the building of street railways. He made the survey for the interurban lines between Boston and Providence, with G. M. Thompson, chief engineer, and did other constructive work, some of which attracted the attention of the Stone & Webster Company which was contemplating large construction work in Texas. They made Mr. Flanders an offer which he accepted, going to Houston, Texas, as chief engineer of the Houston Electric Company. Here he had charge of the property of the Houston Texas, Electric Railroad, and later went to Fort Worth, Texas, as chief engineer of the Northern Texas Traction Company. Ill health, probably due to the climate, interfered with his plans and he was obliged to come North to recuperate." He was offered a position with an engineering company in Tacoma, Wash., but declined it, and later became associated with the Newton Street Railway Co. Still later, he became associated with Mr. Storrs, president of the New England Investment Company. "Possessed of large ability and well prepared for his work by general and special training and practical experience, Mr. Flanders had now become an expert in his line. His was the type of ability which demands large responsibilities. In 1909, he came to Springfield, Mass., as roadmaster of the Springfield Street Railway Company, and in 1914 was made General Manager, which position he continues to hold at the present time. He married Elizabeth Burchmore Coburn, of Lowell, Mass. Almost everybody on the property knows Mrs. Flanders, once you meet her you will never forget that smile of her's and her pleasing personality" (Stryco News, Springfield, Mass., Sept. 2, 1931).

4429 JAMES ALLEN[9] FLANDERS, b. Mch. 7, 1856, at Plaistow, N. H.; d. Sept. 20, 1932, at Phillips, Me., bur. Mt. Auburn cem., Cambridge, Mass. (Mrs. J. A. Flanders); m. Apr. 22, 1880, at Somerville, Mass., to Lucretia Howe Newton (R:421); b. May 15, 1857, at Buckfield, Me. (R:421); living in 1933, at Framingham, Mass. (R:1299); dau. of John Pitman Newton and Camille Howe Tucker (R:421).

"James Allen Flanders graduated from Phillips Andover Academy in 1873, and entered the employ of the Boston & Maine railroad, and later the New York & New England railroad as chief clerk of the passenger department. In 1889, he became New England agent of the Clyde Steamship Company, and established the resort at Bass Point, Nahant. In 1896, he became agent for the Plant system and subsequently passenger traffic manager of the Plant line to the maritime provinces. In 1907, he became associated with the Bull Steamship Company in Maine, and from 1909 to 1914, in the tourist business in New York City." (Obituary notice, Boston Herald.) Mr. Flanders was a director in the Framingham National Bank, and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution; life member of the Soley Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Somerville, and Coeur de Lion commandery and the Traffic Club. He was at one time the secretary and director of the Merchants Co-operative Bank of Boston.

"The Mt. Auburn Chapel last month witnessed an outpouring of friends and neighbors who desired to pay tribute of their affection and esteem at the funeral of one of the most loyal of the sons of Phillips. He loved Andover and proved his love for the school in many ways. He was present in 1923 when his class celebrated its fifty years of graduate life, and was also present when the academy set forth its sesquicentennial exercises. A son, a son-in-law, and a grandson have all been members of the school, and a second grandson enters soon. He left his impress upon many phases of the life of the nation, and Phillips is glad here to make mention that he once Louis Arthur Flanders is a veteran of the Spanish War, and gives the following account of his service: "I ran away from home, Aug. 1899, at the age of 18 years. I gave my age as 21, in order that I might be admitted into the U. S. Army and go to the Philippines. Enlisted Sept. 2, 1899, at Hoboken, N. J.; left Camp Mead on Nov. 1st for Pier 22, Brooklyn, and boarded the U.S.S.T. Thomas; sailed Nov. 4, stopping at Malta, Gibralter, Suez, through the Suez Canal to Port Said, Egypt; then to Colombo, Singapore, West Indies. Arrived at Manila, Dec. 24, 1899; was on the Islands Samar, Negro Island, and on the south firing line for one year and 9 months. Was in the Expedition to the southern end of Luzon with Gen. Kobbies; capture of Bulan; was wounded in the knee. This expedition was assisted by the Gunboat Nashville, Jan. 1900; skirmishes at Buena Vista, Jan. 28, 1900; Donsol, Jan. 28, and 30, 1900; San Roque Bridge, Mch. 13-16, Apr. 24, 1900; Bulasan, Sept. 4 and 5, Matnog, Oct. 3, 1900; Busaingen, Oct. 4-6, Expedition to Donsol, Feb. 8, 1900. Ten skirmishes at Goto and San Ramon, Jan. 3-7, 1901. Forced surrender of Gen. Emartirio Funez Insurgent army and entire staff of officers, army consisted of 1000 men; surrender was forced by cutting off food and blockading entrance to insurgent stronghold, this was done by 40 men of my Co. B, 47th U. S. Vol. The 47th regiment participated in the capture of Emiald Aguenelda. Returned from the Philippines in May by way of Nagasaki, Yokahoma, San Francisco, and back to Fredonia. In 1922, I was Commander of Seyburn-Liscum Camp No. 12, United Spanish War Veterans; in 1932, Commander of Greater Buffalo Post No. 1615, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S." (R:367)

Mr. Flanders graduated from the preparatory (academic) department of Lewis Inst. of Technology, Chicago, 1902; A.B., Stanford Univ., Civil Engineering, 1908. Mr. Flanders has been engaged in his profession of Engineering, and has also done some writing, both technical and fiction. He volunteered and enlisted in the World War, serving as 1st Lieut. in the Infantry Reserve; was called into active service May 8, 1917. Was transferred to the Field Artillery Reserve in June 1917; ordered to France, Aug. 1917. He attended the Field Artillery School of Instruction at Saumur, France, and on completing the course, was sent to the 1st Div. A. E. F., in Dec. 1917; assigned to the 5th Field Artillery and served with C and D batteries of that regt.; also had service with the 1st Anti-Tank Battery, 1st Trench Mortar Battery and 1st Field Artillery Brigade. Mr. Flanders states that he "didn't become a hero by being either killed or wounded, but had a lot of hard work, excitement and experiences, mostly unpleasant." He was cited by Gen. Charles P. Summerall, brigade and divisional commander, and later Chief of Staff, for "zeal, energy, efficiency and high qualities of leadership." He was discharged as Captain, Field Artillery, in Oct. 1919, and was offered a commission in the regular service, but declined it. The above is the exact wording of the citation, so I think we may conclude that Mr. Flanders made good, if he disclaims being "a hero." [Note:—Mr. Flanders died Aug. 1934 (R:1259)].

When he was about five years old, the Rev. Mr. Flanders moved with his parents to Chapin, Morgan Co., Ill., where he attended the public schools of that place. His father had poor health for many years, and being the eldest child of the family, he did not have the advantages of school to any great extent, he and his mother being the main support of the family. When he was about nineteen years of age he became converted and decided to unite with the Baptist church at Jacksonville, Ill., although his mother was a Methodist. Not long after uniting with the church, he felt the call to the Ministry and preached his first sermon at Sandy Creek Baptist Church on Sept. 25, 1887. In Dec. 1888, he entered Shurtleff College Academy to prepare for his life work. He was ordained by the Baptist Church of Stronhurst, Ill., Dec. 29, 1891. His course of study was interrupted by being obliged to earn his way through school and he was disappointed in not being able to complete his course. He began his active ministry in Oct. 1894, in Havana, Ill. His work was chiefly with the weaker churches and many small fields in Illinois owe their present existence to his labors. From Nov. 1913, to Aug. 1915, he was Pastor at large of the Bloomfield Ass. of Ill., under appointment of the Baptist State Convention. In 1917, he went to a mission field in southwestern Colorado and spent nine years in the pastoral charge at Dolores; closing his pastorate in 1926, he took other fields in Colorado and in June, 1931, he was called a second time to Dolores, where he was residing in 1932 (R:1069).

UNDETERMINED DESCENT

Section I

The following lines are unquestionably descendants of Steven[1] Flanders and his wife, Jane.

LINE OF BENJAMIN FLANDERS

1 Benjamin Flanders, date of birth unknown; m. Hannah —— (O:92). Benjamin Flanders was in Sandown in 1790, as an allowance was made to him for 18sh, 4d, which he had paid to Mr. Samuel Collins. He was constable in Sandown in 1789, 1792, and 1793 (O:92). He may have been the son of Asa[4] Flanders (No. 41). Only an incomplete list of the children of Asa[4] Flanders has been found, and he might have had a child born between 1739 and 1743, which would be the approximate date of birth for this Benjamin Flanders. Asa[4] Flanders had a son, Isaac, and this Benjamin Flanders had a son, Isaac; Asa[4] Flanders lived in Kingston, and his son, Isaac, in Danville, a town very near Sandown, N. H.

In 1803, Benjamin Flanders was Town Clerk of Sandown (O:92).

LINE OF JOHN FLANDERS

1 JOHN FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; m. Sally —— (O:106); No identification of this John Flanders has been made. His son, Samuel, is said to have been born at Old Chester, Mass., but no town of that name has been located in Mass. It is possible that the record should read Old Chester, N. H., as in 1778, the town of Hill, N. H., was incorporated as New Chester, and the old town of Chester may have been called Old Chester to distinguish between the two towns bearing the same name of Chester. New Chester was changed to Hill, N. H. in 1836.

2 SAMUEL FLANDERS, son of above, b. Oct. 28, 1785, at Old Chester, Mass. (O:106); d. Mch. 31, 1862, at Orford, N. H., ae 76y, 5m, 3d (O:106); m. (1) Sept. 30, 1813, at Warren, N. H., to Betsey Farnum of Warren (O:106); m. (2) Sept. 24, 1830, at Warren, N. H., to Eliza Fogg of Meredith, N. H. (O:106); m. (3) ca 1832, to Anne Foote of Warren (M:5); b. May 29, 1808 (M:5); d. Apr. 8, 1889, at Orford, N. H., ae 80y, 10m, 10d (M:5).

Samuel Flanders is said to have lost his father when he was very young and to have been adopted by a carpenter in Warren, who taught him his trade (J:2). He was styled Gov. Samuel Flanders, as he once received a few votes for Governor at a town meeting in Warren. The following is quoted from the Town History of Warren, N. H. "Gov. Samuel Flanders once took his stint of Capt. David S. Craige, who lived by Blue Ridge. It was to dig so many potatoes, and he had three days in which to do it. The first day he looked at it and said he knew he could do it in two days, and so he put on his boots with red morocco tops and silk tassels, and went a-visiting. The next morning he looked at the stint again and said he had no doubt but that he could do it in one day, and so went visiting once more. The third morning he looked at it and said he couldn't do it without killing himself; that he wouldn't try; that he might as well die for an old sheep as a lamb, and went visiting again. That night he set his boots on a red silk handkerchief, so they would not get soiled. Such was the Governor's style through life, and he was always poorer than Job's turkey" (H:47).

Children (Flanders) (J:2):

\+ 3 i. Granville E., b. 1817, at Warren, N. H.

4 ii. Mary Ann, may be the Mary Ann Flanders who m. Jan. 1, 1843, at Bradford, Vt., to Samuel H. Baker (M:6).

5 iii. Eliza, b. 1824, at Wentworth, N. H. (M:5); m. Jan. 8, 1859, at Rumney, N. H., to Robert B. Merrill (M:5); b. 1825, at Concord, N. H. (M:5).

19 vii. Rufus F., b. Feb. 28, 1850.
+ 20 viii. Dana M. (J:11).

6 SAMUEL FLANDERS, b. May 18, 1830, in Vt.; d. Oct. 4, 1905, at Aurora, Ill. (R:946); m. Feb. 1856, at Squam Grove, Ill., to Sophia La Brant (R:946); b. Jan. 28, 1838, at Tuscarawas Co., Ohio (R:946); d. June 16, 1902, at Aurora, Ill. (R:946); dau. of Jonathan La Brant and Margaret —— (R:946).

The identification of this Samuel Flanders with Samuel, the son of Samuel Flanders of Warren, N. H., is based on the fact that the latter went to Chicago, Ill., and went into business there, as stated by a descendant. As this Samuel Flanders died at Aurora, Ill., this is apparently his correct parentage.

LINE OF JESSE FLANDERS

From the research which has been made on this branch of the Flanders family, certain facts have been found which indicate that he was Jesse[5] Flanders, son of Zebulon[4] Flanders, No. 115.

The Newport N. H., town records state that James Flanders was the son of Jesse Flanders of Concord, N. H., and Margaret Haskell of Mass., and that he was born in Canada. From interviews with old residents of Fitch Bay and vicinity, it was learned that James was the brother of Hosea, Royal H., and Persis Flanders, many of whose descendants are still living at Fitch Bay, P. Q. It was also stated that Hosea Flanders married his cousin, who was a daughter of Joseph Sargent[5] Flanders, a son of Zebulon[4] Flanders. As has been shown, Miriam[5] Flanders, No. 429, Molly[5] Flanders, No. 431, and Joseph S.[5] Flanders, No. 432, all children of Zebulon[4] Flanders, settled in Stanstead twp., Canada, so it is most probable that Jesse[5]

Flanders, their brother, also settled there, and that the following are all descendants of Zebulon[4] Flanders.

1 JESSE FLANDERS (presum. son of Zebulon[4] Flanders), b. Nov. 29, 1768, birth recorded at Concord, N. H.; m. Margaret Haskell of Mass. (O:73).

Children (Flanders):

+ 2 i. Miriam.
+ 3 ii. Hosea.
+ 4 iii. James.
+ 5 iv. Royal H., b. June 26, 1811, at Fitch Bay, P. Q., Canada (M:5).
+ 6 v. Persis.

2 MIRIAM FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. Apr. 23, 1840, at Melbourne, P. Q., Canada, bur. in cem. near the Congregational Church, Melbourne, P. Q. (M:1); m. Aaron Morrill (M:1; R:1235); son of Jabez Morrill and Keturah —— (R:1235).

The identification of Miriam Flanders as a daughter of Jesse and Margaret (Haskell) Flanders is based upon the following presumptive evidence. If, as has been indicated, Jesse was the son of Zebulon[4] and Miriam Flanders, he might naturally have had a daughter Miriam; deeds denoting leasing of land by John T. Morrill, son of Miriam and Aaron Morrill, to Miriam Bartlett, sister of Jesse Flanders (I:32)

Miriam Morrill is said to have been buried at Melbourne, but no stone was found in any of the cemeteries there which marked her grave.

Children (Morrill) (R:1235):

7 i. Miriam. Mrs. Annie Miller, a granddaughter of Aaron and Miriam Morrill has contributed the following: "I know my grandmother was one of the best, and that she and grandfather came to Canada from one of the eastern states, bringing with them one little girl whom they called Miriam."
8 ii. Jabez.
9 iii. Polly.
10 iv. Horace (twin), b. Apr. 7, 1812; d. May 29, 1900, bur. old cem. Melbourne (B:120).
11 v. Aaron (twin), b. Apr. 7, 1812.
12 vi. John, who m. Esther Blake, and was the father of Mrs. Annie Miller, mentioned above.
13 vii. Betsey.
14 viii. William.

3 HOSEA FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; d. in 1847, of black diphtheria, bur. in cem. in Bissell Neighborhood, Fitch Bay, P. Q. (J:43); m. Rhoda[6] Flanders (No. 1021) (J:15); b. in Canada (J:15);

d. 1847, of black diphtheria, bur. cem. in Bissell Neighborhood, Fitch Bay, P. Q. (J:43); dau. of Joseph Sargent[5] Flanders and Anne —— (J:15).

Children (Flanders) (J:43):

+ 15 i. Luther Cook, b. June 4, 1822, at Newport, Vt. (O:74).
16 ii. George, probably the George Flanders who m. Sept. 5, 1848, at Stanstead, P. Q., to Dorcas Drew of Barnston, P. Q. (M:1).
+ 17 iii. Joseph Sargent, date of birth unknown.
+ 18 iv. Willard.

4 JAMES FLANDERS, b. in Canada (M:5), or b. Jan. 14, 1874, at Newport, N. H. (O:73); m. (1) Sept. 8, 1831, at Bristol, N. H., by Rev. Walter Sleeper, to Lucinda Corliss (M:5; J:33); b. at Alexandria, N. H. (M:5); m. (2) Mary Elizabeth Bixby (O:86); m. (3) Dec. 25, 1862, at Newport, N. H., to Abigail J. Messer (O:73); b. 1822 (O:73); dau. of Benjamin Messer and Charlotte A. Cheney (O:73); she m. (2) —— Pratt (K:11; J:28).

The name of James Flanders' 1st wife is given in the N. H. Vital Statistics as Lucinda Crosby, but in the birth records of her children her name is said to be Lucinda Corliss; as this is the name given by the descendants of James and Lucinda Flanders, it is undoubtedly the correct one. James Flanders' parentage is given in the record of his 3rd marriage, as Jesse Flanders of Concord, N. H., and Margaret Haskell of Mass. It is to be presumed that he gave this information himself at the time of his marriage; in his death record his parents are given as James L. Flanders and —— Breckinridge. As this was doubtless given by some relative, it cannot be considered as reliable as the first record. In both instances he was said to have been born in Canada.

Children (Flanders), by 1st wife:

+ 19 i. Harriet M., b. 1832 (B:108).
20 ii. Mary. It is said that she ran away from home and was never heard of again (J:34).
+ 21 iii. Sanford, b. Nov. 12, 1836, at St. Albans, Vt. (M:5).
+ 22 iv. George S., b. Nov. 12, 1837, at Alexandria, N. H. (M:5).
+ 23 v. Frederick Levi, b. 1838. The records give his place of birth as Canada, St. Albans, Alexandria, and Orange, N. H.
+ 24 vi. Oscar A., b. Sept. 4, 1848, at St. Albans, Vt. (M:5).

By second wife:

+ 25 vii. Albert Eugene, b. Nov. 30, 1849, at Pomfret, Vt.
26 viii. Lucinda, b. 1850, at Hartford, Vt. (H:4; J:28); m. Feb. 15, 1871, to Salmon W. Edson (H:4); b. 1831, at Brookfield, Vt. (H:4); son of Salmon Edson and Mary —— (H:4).
+ 27 ix. James A. (Almond), b. 1856, at Woodstock, Vt. (M:5).

5 ROYAL H. FLANDERS, b. June 26, 1811, at Fitch Bay, P. Q., Canada; d. Oct. 11, 1889, at Fitch Bay, bur. in family cem. near homestead, Fitch Bay (B:35; J:14); m. Apr. 15, 1835, at Newport, Vt., to Lucretia Wilson (M:6; J:14); b. Aug. 9, 1812, at St. Albans, Vt. (J:19); d. Apr. 9, 1896, at Fitch Bay, P. Q., bur. family cem. near homestead, Fitch Bay (B:35; J:14).

The old family cemetery in which Royal H. Flanders and his wife are buried is located on the west side of the road leading from Fitch Bay to Ayer's Cliff. It is very much overgrown and no stones are now left to mark their graves.

Children (Flanders), b. in Stanstead twp., P. Q., Canada (J:19):

(M:6); d. Jan. 12, 1887, at Albany, Vt., ae 71y, 19d (M:6); dau. of Ebenezer Cummings and Elizabeth —— (M:6).

"The Rev. Jasper E. Flanders was converted when he was 12 years of age, under the labors of Elder Aaron Buzzell. Brother Flanders was ordained to the work of the Gospel Ministry, according to the usages of the F. Baptist denomination, on the 19th of Jan. 1840. He labored as an evangelist for nine years. Success attended his labors, and many were gathered into the churches of such as shall be saved, who will be stars in the crown of his rejoicing. In 1849, Brother Flanders united with the First F. Baptist church in Albany, Vt., and remained a faithful and worthy member until called from labor to reward." Obituary notice written by Rev. A. J. Dutton (Q:1).

Jasper E. Flanders may have been a son of Daniel[6] Flanders (No. 606), who resided at Strafford, Vt. in the early part of 1800.

LINE OF PHILIP FLANDERS

1 PHILIP FLANDERS, 3rd, date of birth unknown; m. May 19, 1796, at Hopkinton, N. H., to Eunice Eastman of Hopkinton (O:55).

This Philip Flanders may have been Philip[5] Flanders (No. 297), as his marriage to Apphia Farrington took place at Hopkinton, N. H., and she was a daughter of Miriam Eastman. No record of her death has been found, and there is nothing to indicate that he ever resided at Warner, N. H., where the following son was born.

2 COLLINS EASTMAN FLANDERS, b. Mch. 6, 1814, at Warner, N. H. (R:1013); m. (1) Dec. 18, 1834, at Hopkinton, N. H., by Daniel Moody, to Mehitable Dow of Boscawen, N. H. (M:5); presum. dau. of Nathaniel Dow and Sarah Pettingill (E:56); m. (2) (sealed) July 10, 1857, at Salt Lake City, Utah, to Ellen Sophia Jacobs (R:1013); b. Apr. 5, 1832, at Stangvik, Norway (R:1013); dau. of Goodman Jacobs and Betsey —— (R:1013); m. (3) (sealed) Dec. 20, 1857, at Salt Lake City, Utah, to Anna Joneson Simonson (R:1013); b. Dec. 15, 1820, in Sweden (R:1013); d. Dec. 30, 1872 (R:1013); m. (4) Harriet (——) Bell, a widow (R:1013).

Collins Eastman Flanders was baptized July 17, 1854, at the Mormon Temple, Salt Lake City, and was endowed July 10, 1857. On his arm he had tattooed a picture of a woman with the name Mehitable beneath it. It is probable that his first wife, Mehitable Dow, died before he went to Utah. The records concerning him and his family were taken from the Temple records at Salt Lake City (R:1013).

Children (Flanders) (R:1013), no record of issue by the first wife has been found:

By Ellen Sophia Jacobs:

LINE OF BAILEY FLANDERS

1 BAILEY FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; m. Maria L. —— (I:31).

Maria L. Flanders of Franklin Co., N. Y. conveyed a tract of land in township No. 10, of the old Military Tract to Bradshaw D. Costlaw, on Apr. 1, 1866. This deed was signed by Maria L. Flanders and Mr. Bailey Flanders (I:26). May 11, 1866, Mrs. Maria L. Flanders and Mr. Bailey Flanders conveyed land to Sarah A. Hills (I:26). Nov. 5, 1874, Philura E. Flanders and Warren C. Flanders of St. Armand, Essex Co., N. Y., conveyed land in Bloomingdale to Maria L. Flanders, it being part of lot No. 82, in Township No. 11 of the old Military tract, "and near land now occupied by Maria L. Flanders" (I:31). Nov. 17, 1883, Maria L. Flanders of Bloomingdale, sold to Hiram J. Flanders of Bloomingdale, land in St. Armand, in township No. 11 of the old Military Tract, "it being all that part of a village lot where Maria L. Flanders is living, and called the Bailey Flanders lot" (I:31).

From the above deeds it is evident that Maria L. Flanders was the wife of Bailey Flanders and without doubt Warren C. Flanders was their son.

2 WARREN C. FLANDERS, b. 1843 (G:46), at Bloomingdale, N. Y. (R:883); d. at Saranac Lake, N. Y. (R:883); m. (1) at Bloomingdale, N. ## SECTION II

It is uncertain whether the following lines can be classed as descendants of Steven[1] Flanders and his wife Jane. Owing to lack of data on the earlier generations of these lines, this cannot be determined.

If, as has been pointed out under Steven[1] Flanders, he was twice married, these may be descendants from the first marriage, or their descent may be traced to others bearing the name of Flanders, or some variation of that name, who came to this country at some other period than our pioneer ancestor, Steven[1] Flanders.

In the "Abstract of New York Wills," vol. ii, p. 371, there is a record of a certain Nicholas Flanders, "late of Kingston, in the Island of Jamaica, but now of New York." His will was dated Sept. 20, 1726.

In 1663, Thomas Flaunders owned 50 acres of land in York Co., Virginia, and in 1704, Francis Flanders owned 350 acres of land in James City Co., Virginia. In 1763, William Flanders was entitled to 50 acres of land in Virginia, as he was a soldier in a Virginia regiment under Col. William Byrd. The King's Proclamation of 1763 entitled soldiers, who fought in the French and Indian wars, to grants of land—50 acres to a private, more to an officer (G:53).

In New Rochelle, N. Y., a James fflanders is listed in 1710, age 46 years. His name is also given as Flandreau in other records. The town of New Rochelle was early settled by Huguenots who came over from Rochelle, a sea-port town of France (J. Daniel Rupp, 1865).

Whether any, or all, of these were descendants of Steven[1] Flanders can be only a matter of conjecture. Further research may possibly determine this question.

LINE OF FRANCIS RICHARD FLANDERS

1 FRANCIS RICHARD FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; bur. near Bethel Church, Emanuel Co., Ga.; m. (1) no record; m. (2) in Jefferson Co., Ga., to Martha Jordan (R:967).

It is possible that he was a descendant of Francis Flanders, who owned land in Virginia in 1704. Francis Richard Flanders moved from Northampton Co., Va. in 1782, and settled in Emanuel Co., Ga. He was a widower with one son, aged 8 years (R:967).

The following quotations are excerpts from records contributed by two of the great, great grandsons of Francis Richard Flanders:

"It is said that two Flanders brothers came to America with the early settlers. One remained in the north, while the other first settled in Carolina, where he married a Miss Chestnut (I think that was her name). There they raised a family." One of the sons "saw a family of Jordans passing their home, travelling southward, and among them was a daughter riding a horse. She smiled and spoke to the young man as she passed. She being very beautiful, he fell in love with her at first sight. Being of age, he hastened to his father and asked him for a horse and 'the portion of goods that falleth to me.' His father granted his request, and he packed up his belongings in saddlebags, mounted the horse, and hastened on until he overtook the family who were headed for Georgia. During the long ride he courted the girl, and married her. They settled in Emanuel County. The young wife, being a Christian, succeeded in winning him to Christ, and within a few years he became a charter member, with her, of a Methodist chapel, which is now known as Old Bethel church, one of the oldest and most outstanding Methodist churches in that section of Georgia. He was licensed as a local preacher, and held services in his and other churches in that section until his death" (R:1034).

After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Flanders went "to Virginia, where at least one of their children was born. After that, in the year of 1786, they migrated to Jefferson Co., Ga., and one year later to Emanuel Co., Ga., where they settled on a little farm near the Little Ohoopee River. They lived happily there until his death about 1802.

He was buried on the old plantation. Later a number of graves were made there and it was known as "the Kersey graveyard" (R:1036).

Children (Flanders) (R:967):

2 i. Barnabas B. He came with his father to Emanuel Co., Ga., in 1782, being then 8 years of age.

Dec. 24, 1907 (R:1034).

"Rev. Alexander Chestnut Flanders was giant-like in size. He was about six feet tall, had a very large frame and weighed well over two hundred pounds. He was converted sometime about the beginning of the war between the States. He was a great preacher, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. Rev. Bascom Anthony, D.D. of the Methodist church, and, at one time, presiding elder of the Dublin district in which the Flanders family resided, wrote a series of articles for the Macon Daily Telegraph on 'Unusual People,' and had this to say about my grandfather: 'The old soldiers called him Captain Flanders, Everybody else, from little children to old gray heads, called him Uncle Chess. I first saw him at a quarterly conference at Poplar Springs, near Adrian. He was old, a bit deaf, and was seated in a chair within the chancel where he could hear. He had a leonine head and a body that had once been worthy of a gladiator. I called on him to make the concluding prayer. I found that his head, heart and lungs were as good as ever. He fairly made the shingles rattle as he prayed for his neighbors, his neighbors' children, and everybody else. All of it had the strain of "Right now, Lord," running through it. He was an extra good specimen of that rather large family of Flanders scattered through lower Georgia. He had the family qualities. They are always on the right as they see it. A half dozen of them have been preachers. They know their own minds. They stand by their convictions with both feet, and like some others of us, sometimes stand there with all four feet. It is not an uncommon thing for us when thus standing to mistake the flapping of ears for the waving of the plumes of Navarre.

Uncle Chess grew up in the wiregrass at the same stage of civilization depicted by Longstreet in his Georgia Scenes—the days of log rolling, free fights, turkey shootings and gander pullings. I heard him say that he could outrun any man in his section in the days of his youth. I have heard others say that he could whip in a "fist and skull" fight any man of his day, or could put the other man's knuckles in the ground with a hand spike at a log rolling.

When the Civil War began he was elected captain of his company by the soldiers, for he was a born leader by virtue of his personality, his strong common sense and innate sense of fair play.

I don't know when he was converted and began to preach as a local preacher, I only know that he was long regarded as a power for good in the wiregrass section of Georgia. When I was presiding elder down there I occasionally heard the older people tell of the high day of all district conferences reached in the town of Swainsboro, when my father preached at 11 o'clock and Uncle Chess held forth at 3 in the afternoon. They say the dry bones in the valley got up and walked that day after a fashion never seen by them before or since. Like most of his tribe he was outspoken in condemning evil or commending good.

It so happened at my first meeting with him that I had something to say in my sermon about the young being considerate of the old. At the dinner hour (quarterly conference dinner for the whole congregation) kind friends had brought him a chair and were piling more dinner on his plate than he could eat. Being a bit deaf and having a great voice he spoke louder than he knew, when his words rose above the hum of conversation, saying, "The preacher was right about the way some children treat the old folks, but all you children have always been good to your Uncle Chess. I've never been slighted a minute by one of you." And it was the truth. It was the old case of "with what measure you mete shall men give unto you again—good measure, heaped up, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, shall men pay into your bosom." I looked at him and the happy crowd around him and saw the Biblical scene of the days of the Patriarchs renewed, which made me breathe anew the ancient prayer of Balak, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like this." '

My grandfather spent four years as captain in the Civil War, was wounded twice. A bullet took away a part of his skull, which left a soft spot. He was brave and courageous. Just four days before the war came to a close, he was made a General, but never received his commission. He met with and fought many great battles of life. He was an avowed enemy of all kinds of evil, especially drinking, gambling, profanity, and the like. He was a great soldier who finally laid his armour by and went home triumphant.

Occasionally I was in my father's home, where grandfather spent the last eight years of his life, the last six he spent confined to his room. He was cheerful and happy to the end. His mind was clear and his eyesight was very good for a person over ninety years of age. I have never heard him complain about anything. He always had me pray with him, as our family knelt in his room. I was called home on four different occasions to be there when the end came. I was there when he finally passed out and it was a glorious passing. I said that I had never heard him complain. I do remember that he said to me one day just before his death, "Walter, why does the Lord want to keep me here. I am so much trouble to those about me. Your father is worn out lifting me up in bed,' and with tears in his eyes, he said, 'I am so homesick, why don't the Lord send after me.' He seemed very homesick and was ready when the end came" (R:1034). He served in Co. H, 46th Ga.; was wounded at Petersburgh and the 2nd battle of Manassas (R:967).

The identification of the Rev. Frederick William Flanders as a son of John R. Flanders is presumptive. As John R. Flanders was said to have had a large family of children, but one of whom has been given, namely the Rev. Alexander Chestnut Flanders, and as the son of Frederick W. Flanders was named John Chestnut, it is an indication that this is the correct parentage.

VARIATIONS IN THE NAME

FLANDER

The origin of this branch of the family has not been traced. It is possible that they are descendants of the James fflanders, or Flandreau, who was listed in New Rochelle, N. Y. in 1698, age 30 years, and again in 1710, age 46 years. As has been previously mentioned he is supposed to have come to this country from Rochelle, France.

A second possibility is that they are descendants of the Van Vlaanderen family of Ghent (see section on Foreign Research).

The dropping of the s from the name was due either to their settlement in a Dutch community, where the transcriber of the records was usually a minister of the Dutch Reform Church, or to the fact that this would be the anglicized form of the name Van Vlaanderen. In many cases both terminations of the name are found, and in recent years, many who were formerly known as Flander are now called Flanders.

1 JACOB FLANDER. In Frothingham's History of Montgomery Co., N. Y., he is given as an emigrant from Holland. If this is true, it indicates descent from the Van Vlaanderen family of Ghent. His name appears in the naturalization list of Dec. 31, 1768, and the same name again in 1771. He m. Elizabeth —— (Fox ?) (S:2). He is presumedly the father of the following children:

+ 2 i. Augustinus (Teunis, or Dennis), b. Oct. 16, 1758, at St. Johnsville, N. Y. (S:2; R:1002).

+ 3 ii. Jacob, b. 1763 (S:2).

+ 4 iii. John, b. ca 1765 (S:2).

+ 5 iv. Ernest (S:2).

6 v. Phillip, bapt. Feb. 17, 1769, at the Stone Arabia Lutheran Church; sponsor, Phillip Helmer (S:2); m. (1) in 1792, to Maria Reuter (St. Johnsville, N. Y. Dutch Reformed church record); m. (presum.) (2) in 1793, to Eva Fox (St. Johnsville Dutch Reformed church rec.). In the list of Mohawk Valley Householders in 1800, Town of Palatine, Phillip Flander is given as follows: 4 males under 10; 1 under 26; 1 under 45; 1 female under 26; 1 over 45 (R:1002).

7 vi. George, bapt. July 27, 1771, at Stone Arabia, Lutheran Church (S:2); m. (1) in 1791 (St. Johnsville, Dutch Reformed ch. rec.), to Delia Fox (S:2); m. (2) (presum.) in 1792, to Anna Klock (St. Johnsville Dutch Reformed ch. rec.) (S:2). George Flander is listed in the Mohawk Valley Householders in 1800, Town of Palatine as follows: 1 male under 10; 1 under 16; 2 under 26; 1 under 45; 1 female under 16; 1 under 26 (R:1002). In June, 1804, George Flander subscribed for a pew in the Dutch Reformed Church at St. Johnsville (D:9).

\+ 8 vii. Heinrich (Henry), b. Jan. 3, 1773 (S:2).

2 AUGUSTINUS FLANDER, b. Oct. 16, 1758, at St. Johnsville, N. Y.; d. Mch. 19, 1848, at Youkers Bush, N. Y. (R:1002); m. Magdalena Fox (S:2; R:1002); b. Aug. 15, 1760 (S:2), or Aug. 15, 1761 (R:1002); d. Sept. 9, 1831 (S:2); dau. of Major Christopher Philip Fox and Anna Margaretha Klock (S:2; R:1002).

The name of Augustinus appears in various forms in the records, as Teunis, Tines, and Dennis. On July 10, 1816, Tenus Flander contributed towards the support of the minister, Rev. David Devoe, of the St. Johnsville church (D:9). In some of the birth records of his children he is given as Dines Flander (D:9). Tenus Flander served as private in Lieut. Col. Peter Wagoner's Co., Col. Jacob Klock's regt., Tryon Co., Militia (F:5).

Major Christopher Fox of Palatine mentions in his will, dated May 7, 1804, his daughter Lana, wife of Denis Flander and his daughter, Catherine, wife of Jacob Flander (R:1002).

Augustine Flander is listed in the Mohawk Valley Householders, Town of Palatine, in 1800, as follows: 2 males under 16, 3 under 26, 1 under 45; 1 female under 10 (R:1002).

The identification of the following lines as descendants of Jacob[1] Flander, is based upon presumptive evidence.

LINE OF JOHN FLANDERS

1 JOHN FLANDERS, date of birth unknown; m. Mary Houser, who came from Berks Co., Pa. (R:914).

John Flanders came from New York to Pennsylvania about 1828 (R:914).

In the early days many Dutch and German families emigrated from the Schoharie Valley, N. Y. to Pennsylvania, settling in Berks, Lebanon and Dauphin counties. As the Flander family resided in the vicinity of the Schoharie Valley it is probable that John Flanders went from this section of New York state into Pennsylvania, and was a descendant of Jacob Flander. An additional indication of this is that he settled in a county adjoining Dauphin Co. and married into one of the Dutch families who had settled in Berks Co. He may have been a son of John D. Flander (No. 9), the record of whose children is evidently incomplete, and, this being the case, could have been born about 1804. This is suggested as a possible line of descent.

2 Isaac Flanders, son of John and Mary (Houser) Flanders, was b. Sept. 27, 1830, at Port Trevorton, Pa. (R:914); d. Feb. 16, 1889, at Port Trevorton, Pa. (R:914); m. ## FLANDREAUX

This variation of the name of Flanders is found under various forms. In the records of New Rochelle, N. Y., there are "brief notices of JAQUE FLANDREAUX and his wife, Elizabeth. His name is given as James Flanders, Flandro, Flandrew, etc., in 1709, he is first mentioned as Jaque Flandreaux, and as James Flanders in 1745. He signed his name in 1771 as James Flandro, and this spelling is common in the records. Benjamin Flandrau is mentioned in 1763, and Elias and John Flandreau in 1798-1805. No indication of relationship is given, but there are no vital records." (Records of the Town of New Rochelle, 1699-1828, by Jeanne A. Forbes, 1916.)

The following records have been contributed:

James fflanders with his wife Catherine, and children, James, Peter and Betty, were residents of New Rochelle, N. Y. in 1710; a native of France, b. 1664 (S:2).

In the census of 1698, Jeams Flandeu, or Flandren, is listed in New Rochelle, N. Y., ae 30 (R:1002).

Feb. 8, 1800, BENJAMINE FLANDEAU willed all his estate, except Goat Island, to his wife, Esther; his son, Peter, was mentioned (R:1002).

May 23, 1811, ESTHER FLANDREAU of New Rochelle, N. Y. died intestate; letters to her son-in-law, Gilbert Guion (R:1002).

Nov. 11, 1807, BENJAMINE FLANDREAU died intestate; letters to his widow, Elizabeth Flandeau. In the census of 1800, New Rochelle, Benjamine Flandeau is listed as follows: 1 male under 45; 1 female under 10, 1 under 26 (R:1002).

Feb. 11, 1809, JOHN FLANDREAU died intestate; letters to his widow, Hannah Flandreau (R:1002).

PETER FLANDREAU witnessed the will of James Pell of Pelham, N. Y., Feb. 22, 1790. In the census of 1800, New Rochelle, Peter Flandreau is listed as follows: 1 male under 26; 1 female under 26, 2 over 45. Deborah dau. of Peter Flandreau is mentioned in the will of Joseph Smith Weed of Ridgefield, Conn. Ex. Timothy Weed and James Flandreau (R:1002).

ELIAS FLANDREAU witnessed the will of Thomas Huntington, Mch. 11, 1799. In the census of 1800, New Rochelle, N. Y., he is listed as follows: 1 male under 10, 1 under 45; 3 females under 10, 2 under 16, 1 under 45 (R:1002).

DANIEL FLANDREAU, is listed in the census of 1800, New Rochelle, N. Y. as follows: 1 male under 26, 1 under 45; 1 female under 26 (R:1002).

As these were all residents of New Rochelle, N. Y., they were doubtless closely related to James Flandreau. But little research has been undertaken on this line.

FLINDAR

1 RICHARD FLINDAR, b. 1638; d. Oct. 19, 1707, at Salem, Mass. ae 69y (P:48); m. "Richard Flindar and Jane Edde were maryed by Major Hathorne ye 12th of July 1663" (G:2).

This name is found also as Flinder, Flendor, and Flandor. "Nov. 25, 1679, Richard Flandor, aged forty years, deposed that he had been employed on fishing accounts in Salem for many years, and had been a shoreman. It has been a general custom for the shoreman to take charge of what fish was committed to them by the kitch's company to which he belongs, and to weigh out & deliver to every man, or his order, his proper part" (G:3). June 1681, Richard Flinder was master of a vessel (G:3). "At a meeting of the Towne" (Salem) "8:1: 1683/4 Rich$^{d}$ fflender was nominated for constable" (G:2).

Nothing has been found in regard to the origin of this Richard Flindar, nor as to the date of his arrival in this country. Whether he was related in any way to Steven[1] Flanders can be only a matter of conjecture. Joseph[3] Flanders (No. 13, line of Steven Flanders) married Hester Cash in Salem, and Sarah, daughter of Richard Flindar, married William Cash, brother of Hester. No descendants of Richard Flindar's sons have been located. It is possible that the name was changed to Flanders, and that some of those listed under Section II of Undetermined Descent may belong in this line.

Children (Flindar), b. at Salem, Mass. (P:48; G:2):

2 i. Richard, b. May 13, 1664; d. July 10, 1664, at Salem, Mass. (P:48).
3 ii. James, "borne ye 27th Aug. 1665" (G:2).
4 iii. Richard, b. Jan. 1, 1667 (P:48).
5 iv. Jane, "borne 12th mo. 1669/70" (G:2).
\+ 6 v. Sarah (E:59).
7 vi. Hanna, b. July 10, 1672 (P:48).
8 vii. John, "borne ye 28th 10mo, 1674" (G:2).

6 SARAH FLINDAR, date of birth unknown; m. May 1693, at Salem, Mass., to William Cash (P:48); b. Feb. 23, 1668, at Salem, Mass. (E:59); d. 1729 (E:59); son of William Cash and Elizabeth Lambert (E:59).

Children (Cash) (E:59):

9 i. William, b. Feb. 13, 1693/4; d. Aug. 1727 (E:59). He was a master mariner (E:59).
10 ii. Elizabeth, b. July 19, 1696.
11 iii. John, b. Sept. 7, 1699; m. Oct. 18, 1723, to Sarah Neal (E:59).
12 iv. Sarah, b. Aug. 5, 1702.
13 v. Richard, b. May 23, 1706.

There is also a record of the int. of marriage between Mrs. Mary Flinder and Dea. Henry Sweitzer at Salem, Jan. 7, 1715/16 (P:48).

FLINDERS

In Ernest Weekley's book on "Surnames," it is stated that the change from the name of Flanders to Flinders was due to the thinning of the vowel in pronunciation.

The following records have been contributed by descendants of the Flinders family in England.

FOREIGN RESEARCH

1 TRADITIONS

The value of family traditions in genealogical research is variously estimated. Many authorities take the position that traditions can be of no real value, using in their argument the fact that the majority of traditions are cut by the same die, and yield little definite information to work upon. For example: the tradition of the "Three Brothers" has arisen in so many different families as to lead one to suppose that the early pioneers to this country came only in triplets. The tradition has variations, but usually indicates that after the three brothers arrived in America they immediately got as far away from each other as possible, "one settling in the North, one in the South, and one in the West." Many traditions mention that the pioneer escaped from religious persecution in a "pork barrel." Sometimes they are supposed to have crossed the Atlantic in the pork barrel, and sometimes their voyages in that manner are less extensive. The fact that traditions concerning the American origin of the very same family often differ quite widely and remarkably is certain proof that all traditions are not to be trusted.

But despite the mythological element prevalent in most traditions, they may have at times a good deal of interest and a good deal of truth. When a number of traditions concerning the same family are at hand, it is interesting to note the points of similarity as well as divergence. Sometimes it happens that the account given is very unique, and that several accounts tell essentially the same peculiar story. In such a case, there is something definite to work upon. Something which research may disprove or verify. In the case of the Flanders family, a tradition of this nature has been found, and research carried on in the old provinces of Flanders has revealed a very striking similarity in fact. This is fully treated under the line of Jacques de Flandres, given in a following section.

One very striking point of similarity among all traditions of the Flanders family is that the pioneer ancestor came from Belgium or France. Many members of the family, with whom the compiler has spoken, have stated that they had always understood the family came from one or the other of these two countries. Also a Flanders in England has written that her uncle had told her that his grandparents came from Belgium, and that papers giving their descent were lost or burned by his grandmother, as she thought them of no value. This idea of Belgian or French origin might possibly have originated because the old provinces of Flanders, which lie partly in Belgium and partly in Northern France, suggested the place of origin by the similarity of name. However, research in Belgium and France has shown that families of the name were living in what was then the provinces of Flanders at the time when Steven[1] Flanders came to this country. And, furthermore, research in England has shown that those of the name living in England at that period were emigrants, or descendants of emigrants, who had come at an earlier date from the provinces of Flanders. Thus it is certain that Steven[1] Flanders came from stock in one of the old provinces of Flanders, then a part of the Flemish Netherlands. Whether he came from Flanders directly, or from England, cannot be so readily determined but the following sections devoted to foreign research are designed to answer this question as fully as is at present possible.

The following list includes some of the more interesting family traditions, sent to the compiler by members of the family:

1. Stephen Flanders was found as a little lost boy on a battlefield of Flanders. The English soldiers who befriended him took him to England, and gave him as a surname that of the place in which they had found him.
2. Stephen Flanders, being a dear friend of the reigning sovereign, King Philip, expressed a desire to go to the New Country. The King, loath to let him depart, as he would sorely miss his jolly companionship and entertaining ways, asked why he wished to go. Stephen replied: "I want to go to a free country where I can worship God according to the dictates of my own conscience." When the King found he could not be prevailed upon to stay with his old friends, even after several alluring offers had been made to him, he said: "Then go, and God go with you. I will name one of my provinces in your memory."
3. My father tells me a story that Flandorie was the name in France. In one great battle our side was losing and the standard bearer was killed as they were storming Flanders Hill. Flandorie seized the standard as it fell, and shouted to the boys, "Come on boys, come on." They rallied to his enthusiasm and won the heights. The governor, or king, of the province wanted to honor Flandorie so he changed the name to Flanders after the province. Flanders then came to America, soon after the Mayflower.
4. A tradition has come to us through Stephen's son John that his father was the first son of an earl, and that he was found on the field after a battle in Flanders, from which fact he derived the name of Flanders.
5. Stephen Flanders fled to America from Belgium on account of religious persecution.
6. Stephen, or his father, was a Huguenot, who fled from France, settled in England for a while, then came to America.
7. On his way over to America, Stephen Flanders is said to have encountered a severe storm at sea, and lost papers entitling him to property.

The tradition that Stephen Flanders came to America soon after the Mayflower has been received from many diverse sources and widely separated sections of the country.

2 DISTRIBUTION OF THE NAME

Foreign research has shown that the Flanders name is most uncommon prior to 1700. For this reason, there are relatively few lines from which Steven[1] Flanders might have descended. In England, records of the name are confined to the eastern section, north of London and in the vicinity of London, and so quite near the Channel and Belgium. Indeed those in England who bore the name are generally considered to have come there from Belgium, or from the old provinces of Flanders. This supposition is indicated not only by the fact that they settled in a section near the Flemish coast, but also by the fact that many variations of the name occur in England, as would be expected when a name is introduced into a foreign country.

In Belgium and France, there are none but chance records of the name save in Ghent, Belgium, and in the vicinity of Lille in northern France. As both Lille and Ghent lie within the boundaries of the old provinces of East and West Flanders, it may be assumed that the origin of the family is intimately associated with these ancient provinces of Flanders. In Ghent, the form of the name indicates the Dutch influence: Van Vlaenderen. In Lille, the French form is found: de Flandres.

Because of this rarity of the name, the foreign research may be placed under the three headings of England, Ghent, and Lille. The following considerations are designed to indicate to which of these three localities Steven[1] Flanders owed his origin.

I FLANDERS IN ENGLAND

Under this section are given the results of research on the part of the compiler and that which was carried on for several months in England by an expert English genealogist, Mr. J. H. Morrison.

EARLY RECORDS; 1066-1425

In the N. E. Hist. & Geneal. Reg., vol. 38, it is stated that Walter de Flandres (the first to bear the name in England) was made Duke of Wahal by William the Conqueror.

References to Flanders, Flaunders and de Flandres are found in the English records from the 13th century onwards, showing that, although distinctly very rare, the name existed in the midlands and eastern counties of England, and that it may have belonged to more than one family. Its origin was probably the obvious one—a Fleming, or Flemings, who came to settle in England (S:4).

Two of the Counts of Flanders were connected with England: Thomas de Sabandia, who was dead in 1259, and Guy de Dampierre. Thomas de Sabandia was one of the large family of Thomas, Count of Savoy. One of his brothers, Peter, became Earl of Richmond, and another, Boniface, became Archbishop of Canterbury. His sister, Beatrice, was the mother of Eleanor, wife of King Henry III of England. This Thomas was ancestor of the Royal family of Italy (G:7). There is no evidence that there was any English issue from the above bearing the name of Flanders, or de Flandres.

Guy de Dampierre, younger son of Margaret, Countess of Flanders, married at Ipswich, Jan. 7, 1297, Elizabeth, daughter of King Edward I, but had no issue by her. By a previous marriage he had sons, John, Guy, and Philip, and a daughter, Margaret, who married Alexander of Scotland. He had other daughters, Phillippa and Isabella. He died in prison in 1304 (G:7). As there was no issue from the English marriage of Guy de Dampierre, it is improbable that any bearing the name of Flanders in England were descendants of this Count of Flanders.

At this early period all of the name in England were doubtless descendants of Walter de Flandres.

William Burton in his "Description of Leicestershire," published in 1777, gives a pedigree table of William de Flanders, who married Elenor, a daughter of one of the Lords of Maxstoke, county Warwick. His heirs are given as far as his great grandson, John de Flanders of Shepey, county Leicester, who died about 1425, leaving three daughters as co-heirs. No male descendants of later date in junior branches are noted by Burton (S:4). One would conclude from this that the line ended here.

LATER RECORDS; 1574-1700

No records of the name of Flanders, or of variations of the name, have yet been found which connect these two periods. This period is of special interest as it covers the time in which Steven[1] Flanders could have been born. The gap in the records suggests that these later Flanders were descendants of Flemish immigrants, who had fled to England to escape religious persecution. In the 16th century, the new religion preached by Luther and Calvin had caused thousands of Belgians, until then Catholics, to become Protestant, and these fled in great numbers to foreign countries, mainly Holland and England ("The Belgians," by Henry G. Bayer).

A yeoman family named Flaunders, or Flanders, can be traced for several generations in the 17th century in Cambridgeshire, on the borders of Suffolk. This family also spelled their name Flanner (S:4). Several other families using variations of the name have been found.

FLUNDERS

From the Parish Register of Kirkleatham, County York:

1574, June 27, John Flunders married Ann Harwood.
1577, Feb. 20, Alice Flunders baptized.
1579, July 5, Agnes Flunders baptized.
1581, Feb. 12, Thomas Flunders baptized.
1577, June 16, Thomas Flunders married Elizabeth Smythe.
1583, Feb. 26, Elizabeth Flunders buried.
1587, Feb. 26, Thomas Flunders buried.
1593, July 13, Alison Flunders buried.
1603, May 29, John Flunders married Mary Harison.
1613, June 29, John Flunders married Agnes Bankes.

FLANNER

Extracts from Withersfield Parish Reg., West Suffolk (S:4):

1591/2, Mch. 21, Thomas, son of Thomas Flanner, baptized; bur. Nov. 2, 1658; m. (1) Apr. 30, 1617, to Thomasine Mortlock; she was bur. July 22, 1621; m. (2) Feb. 4, 1622/3, to Anne Clarke; who was bur. Oct. 16, 1646.

Children, by 1st wife:

1. Thomas, bapt. Nov. 11, 1618.
2. Thomasinne, bapt. Aug. 21, 1621.

By 2nd wife:

3. John, bapt. Aug. 11, 1625.
4. Phillip, bapt. July 30, 1627.
5. William, bapt. July 19, 1629.
6. Anne, bapt. June 5, 1631.
7. George, bapt. Oct. 10, 1633.
8. Ambrose, bapt. Feb. 5, 1636/7.
9. Mary, bapt. June 19, 1639.

1600, July 6, Phillip Flanner married Sara Cooke.

Children:

1. Thomas, bapt. Nov. 16, 1607.
2. Samuel, bapt. July 6, 1617.

1624, Apr. 17, Katherin Flanner, wife of Thomas Flanner, buried.
1628, Oct. 9, Ann Flanner, widow, buried.
1630, June 5, Thomas Flanner, the elder, buried.

The following may have been the children of Thomas Flanner, bapt. Nov. 11, 1618:

1646, Oct. 30, Thomas, son of Thomas and Margaret Flanner, baptized.
1652, June 1, Thomasin, dau. of Thomas and Margaret Flanner, baptized.
1654, Mch. 28, John, son of Thomas and Margaret Flanner, baptized.
1657, July 7, William, son of Thomas and Margaret Flanner, baptized.
1659, Dec. 1, Robert, son of Thomas and Margaret Flanner, baptized.

FLAUNDERS

1614, July 13, Edward Flaunders married Ann Morgan of Yelling, Hunts. (R:1058). The will of Edward Flanders of Yelling, Hunts., Gentleman, was dated Nov. 10, 1627; proved Dec. 15, 1627. He mentioned his wife, Anne; his son Thomas, "who is not yet 21 years of age; his other 5 children: Edward, Anne, Phoebe, Elizabeth, and Frances, all under 17. Mention was also made of land he had inherited from his father, William Flanders.

Sept. 5, 1637, administration of the estate of Edward Flaunders, deceased in parts beyond the seas, was granted to his brother, Walter Flaunders (S:4).

The Thomas Flaunders who owned 50 acres of land in York Co., Virginia, in 1663 (see Section II of Undetermined Descent), may have been the son Thomas mentioned in the above will.

Will of "John Flanner of Wesson Colvile", Cambs., dated Mch. 2 1639/40, yeoman, mentions his brother John Flanner "of this town"; his sister, Susan Boone, widow; Henry, son of his brother Thomas Flanner of Withersfield, Suffolk. Proved July 16, 1640, by Susan Boone, executrix (S:4).

A second will, dated Oct. 24, 1648, of "John Flaunders of Weston Colvil," Cambs., mentions his sister, Bridget Chanter; his wife, Margaret, and his sister, Susan Boone (Year Book of Probates, Vol. V).

These two wills are difficult to understand, for one is under the name of John Flanner and the other is the will of John Flaunders, both of whom were living in Wesson Colvile, Cambs., and both mention "my sister, Susan Boone." Apparently they cannot be the same person for one will is proved in 1640, and the other is dated in 1648. John Flanner mentions, "my brother, John Flanner of this town." It seems improbable that there could have been brothers of the same name living in the same town. It would appear that the names Flanner and Flaunders were interchangeable. John, Thomas, and Susan, mentioned in the wills were doubtless children of Phillip Flanner and Sara Cooke.

FLANDERS

1619, Jan. 20, Isabel Flanders of Kempston, Bedfordshire, married John Fountaine of Kempston (R:1058).

1619, May 5, Katherin Flanders of St. Dunstan in the West, London, married at Chelsea, Middlesex, to John Wilcocks of St. Botolph, Aldersgate, London (S:4).

1628/9, Feb. 16, Walter Flanders (or Flaunders) of St. Katherine's near the Tower, married Sara Lilley of St. Dunstanes in the East, widow (S:4). In 1637, he was granted the administration of his brother, Edward Flaunders' estate.

1658, May 6, administration of the estate of Walter Flanders, late of Stepney, Middlesex, deceased, was granted to Sarah Flanders, otherwise Belmore, the natural and lawful and only daughter of the deceased. This implies that he had no male heirs (S:4).

Children of Walter and Sara (Lilley) Flanders (S:4):

1. Sara, bapt. June 20, 1630; m. Aug. 2, 1653, to Martin Belmore. She may have been the Sarah Flanders who married (2) Sept. 3, 1665, to Thomas English.
2. Robert, bapt. Oct. 19, 1632; bur. June 18, 1634.
3. William, bapt. Oct. 20, 1633.
4. William, son of Walter and Mary Flanders, bapt. Apr. 1, 1640; bur. Nov. 24, 1642.

St. Katherine's by the Tower seemed to serve as a sort of headquarters for the members of the family of Flanner or Flanders when they came to London. There may be some connection between this and the fact that in Elizabeth's reign, the parish is known to have been a center for Flemish immigrants (S:4).

1661, May 23, Edward Flanders married Elizabeth Manton, at the parish church of St. John the Baptist, Peterborough; he was bur. Dec. 18, 1681 (S:4). Children (S:4):

1. Edward, bapt. Aug. 19, 1661.
2. John, bapt. Mch. 22, 1662/3.
3. Mary, buried June 19, 1671.

Stephen Flanders of Peterborough m. (1) Anne ——, who was bur. Sept. 26, 1698; m. (2) Jan. 15, 1698/9, to Anne Buck, who was bur. Oct. 16, 1701; m. (3) Feb. 3, 1701/2, to Elizabeth Pine of Peakirk. Stephen Flanders was bur. Oct. 31, 1721 (S:4).

Children, by 1st wife (S:4):

1. Mary, bapt. Jan. 23, 1678/9; bur. Feb. 8, 1678/9.
2. Mary, buried Apr. 29, 1680.
3. William, bapt. privately, Oct. 14, 1681; bur. Jan. 29, 1681/2.
4. An, bapt. Aug. 8, 1686.
5. Anne, bapt. June 10, 1688.
6. Stephen, bapt. Oct. 29, 1693.

By 2nd wife (S:4):

7. Elizabeth, bapt. Nov. 13, 1700; bur. Nov. 24, 1700.

The will of Thomas Flanders of Ely, was dated Nov. 9, 1672; proved Oct. 10, 1674. Mention was made of his wife, Jone; William Flanders, his son; Elizabeth Flanders, his daughter, wife of Richard Ambrooke of Swaffham, Cambs.; Jone, his daughter, wife of Jonathan Westwood; his son, Richard Flanders (S:4).

FLINDERS

From "Memorials of St. Margaret's ch., Westminster":

1646, Feb. 27, Elizabeth, dau. of Henry and Elizabeth Flinders, baptized.
1653, May 22, Richard, son of Henry and Elizabeth Flinders, baptized.
1653, Feb. 26, Mary, dau. of Hersy and Ann Flanders, baptized.
1658, Dec. 12, John Flynders' child buried.

1662, Jan. 14, Amy Flinders married Robert Momford of Cambridge, Cambs. (R:1058).

1666, Feb. 17, John Flinders married Elizabeth Gooby of Cambridge, Cambs. (R:1058).

1676, May 21, John Flinders married Mary Wilson of Cambridge, Cambs. (R:1058).

1678, Apr. 2, William Flinders married Sarah Turner of Cambridge, Cambs. (R:1058).

As will be seen from the above, very few records prior to 1700 give the surname in the form used by our pioneer ancestor. The name of Flanders, as distinct from its variations, is found only twice in the period in which Steven[1] Flanders could have been born. And in both these cases, the name is also given as Flaunders. In point of time, these two, Walter and Edward Flaunders, or Flanders, might conceivably have been brothers of Steven[1] Flanders. However, Flaunders seems to have been the preferred spelling of the name, for the Thomas Flaunders of Virginia, who, as has been suggested, was doubtless the son of Edward Flaunders, or Flanders, is recorded only as Flaunders, whereas Steven[1] Flanders' name is always given as Flanders. Another example of the variant spelling of the name found in this country prior to 1663 is that of Richard Flindar of Salem, Mass. If both Thomas Flaunders and Richard Flindar retained the variant spelling of the name, when they came to this country, why should Steven Flanders have used the original form? For, if he had been born, or had resided for some time in England, it is reasonable to suppose that he also would have used one of the variant forms, as prior to 1619 only the variant spellings of the name are found.

Thus this rarity in English records of the Flanders spelling of the name makes it seem doubtful if Steven Flanders could have been descended from an English line.

Another point casting doubt upon an English origin is that the christian name of Stephen (and especially Steven) is very rare in English records of that period.

But perhaps the most important difficulty to be met in any attempt to connect Steven[1] Flanders with the English lines is that all emigrants from England to America were required in those times, to make a deposition before embarking. None has been found in England under the name of Steven Flanders.

II LINE OF GHENT, EAST FLANDERS

The line whose records were found at Ghent were known by the name of Van Vlaenderen, which is the Dutch or Flemish equivalent of the name. The records extended from 1568 to 1680, a period covering the date of Steven Flanders' birth.

The disappearance of the name from the records after about 1680 would seem to signify a removal, but as the name is encountered only in a rare instance or two among records of the surrounding towns in East and West Flanders, the removal must have been to distant parts.

In addition to the failure of these records to give the birth of any Steven Flanders, or Steven Van Vlaenderen, there is another reason for supposing that Steven was not descended from this line. Under English or American influence, the name, Van Vlaenderen, would become Flander or Flender—without the s. Aside from this detail, there is no positive evidence that Steven could not have come from Ghent. But there is a great deal more evidence to indicate that he came from the line at Lille, mentioned in the section following this.

Then too, the occurrence of a Flander family in New York state, early in the 18th century, beginning with a Jacob Flander, said to have been an emigrant from Holland, would strongly suggest that the American line of Flander which settled in the Mohawk Valley, might have come from this line in Ghent. As the main part of this family disappeared from Ghent early in the 17th century, it is quite possible that they emigrated either to England, or to Holland, and thence to America. The supposition is strengthened by the similarity of the given names of these Van Vlaenderen of Ghent to those of the early Flander settlers of the Mohawk Valley in New York.

1622, Apr., Joīs Van Vlaenderen, married Joanna Wackeus. They had a dau. Joanna Catherine Van Vlaenderen, who d. in 1680.

III LINE OF LILLE, FRENCH FLANDERS

In the Archives at Lille was found an old genealogy of a family of de Flandres, which had been identified with this section of the old provinces of Flanders from 1230 to 1771. As Flanders with the s is the natural derivative of the French, de Flandres, just as Flander without the s is the derivative of the Flemish Van Vlaenderen, and as, in certain of the earliest records of our family in America, the name was found spelled Flandres, and finally, as the major portions of the family traditions are confirmed by the records of this family in Lille, the connection of Steven[1] Flanders with this line seems more probable than with either the English Flanders, Flaunders, etc., or the Van Vlaenderen line of Ghent.

This family of Flanders, or de Flandres, associated with Lille, was confined to Lille and the surrounding towns, lying in the territory that once formed the Southern part of the old Province of West Flanders. At the time when Steven[1] Flanders could have been born, this section was still a part of the Province of Flanders, for it was not until 1658 to 1678 that France gained possession, under the reign of Louis XIV.

The belief that Steven Flanders came to this country directly from Belgium or France is widespread among the members of the older generation of the Flanders family today. In fact, it is a tradition as much as a belief. It is recalled as the opinion of their fathers and grandfathers. And in traditions 2 and 3, this statement is also made.

But the records of this family of de Flandres in the environs of Lille offer much more striking evidence of a connection. In traditions 2 and 3, mention is made of honors bestowed upon Steven for services rendered to the ruler of the Provinces of Flanders. And in tradition 3, this ruler is specifically designated as King Philip. Bearing this in mind, it can hardly be regarded as a meaningless coincidence that the records found among the Archives at Lille testify that a certain Jacques de Flandres, Sr. de Froment et de Herseaux, received ennoblement at the hands of King Philip II of Spain, for the loyal service he and his family had rendered in the wars. Here is a striking confirmation of the traditions, save for the name. For it was Jacques, not Steven, who was ennobled by King Philip. But this discrepancy may be accounted for by a consideration of the dates, and of the traditions. Jacques de Flandres was ennobled in 1595, and King Philip II died in 1598. Hence Steven Flanders, born in all probability after 1600, could never have known, or been honored by King Philip. But if Jacques de Flandres had been his father or grandfather, Steven would have known of this. In this case, nothing would have been more simple than for this service and consequent reward to have come to be associated with Steven instead of his ancestors, when he came to America. The tradition, transmitted by word of mouth from his children to his children's children, gradually would have come to be associated with Steven, whom they had known, and Jacques, whom they had never seen, would have passed into obscurity.

The coat of arms, bestowed upon Jacques de Flandres, bears a ducal coronet. In tradition 4, Steven is said to have been the son of an earl.

Traditions 5 and 6 record that Steven Flanders fled to America to escape religious persecution. Prior to 1598, the Calvinists had made many converts in Lille, Arras, and other sections of the provinces of Flanders. As has been shown in the first part of this volume under Steven[1] Flanders, there was no evidence that Steven was in sympathy with the Puritan Church at Salisbury, Mass. And furthermore the prevailing form of religious faith among the early generations of his descendants was (and is today) the Baptist and Methodist forms of worship,—both derived from the old Calvinistic sect.

The revolt against Catholicism in the provinces of Flanders occurred under the reigns of Charles V and Philip II of Spain. While Charles V was well liked by the Flemish people, and, being born at Ghent, was felt to be one of them, Philip II became most unpopular. He was born in Spain, and his education was essentially that of a Spanish King. The persecution of the followers of Calvin and Luther commenced under Charles V and was continued under the reign of Philip II with much greater severity. Philip sent the Duke of Alva to the Provinces as his representative, and the cruelty and intolerance of this Duke caused great numbers of the Flemish Protestants to flee to foreign countries.

In 1623, the boat "New Netherland" brought over to America a large number of these Walloon emigrants—that is to say, people from the southern part of what is now Belgium. They came from the cities of Avesnes, Valenciennes, Lille, etc., then called the Comté de Hainaut and the Comté de Flandres. Some writers have been under the impression that these refugees to America were of French origin, and have mistaken the Walloons for the Huguenots. The latter were Calvinists from France, whereas the Walloons were Calvinists from Belgium. They preceded both the Pilgrims and the Huguenots to Holland. The great exodus of the Huguenots from France did not take place until 1685 (Extract from "The Belgians" by Henry G. Bayer).

Mr. Bayer continues that the passenger list of 150 people, who came over to America on the "New Netherland," does not exist, or has never been found. Again, when we turn to the family traditions, we find that in number 3 it is stated that Steven came to America shortly after the "Mayflower." (A statement which, as has been noted, has been received from several other sources as well.) In tradition 6, it is further stated that he was a French Huguenot. It may well be that Steven came to America on the "New Netherland," and that he was a Walloon, easily confused with Huguenot.

Jacques de Flandres was undoubtedly of the Catholic faith when he was honored by King Philip II, and it may be that he was never influenced by Calvinism, for it is known that the Southern part of the Flemish Netherlands was much slower in receiving the new religious doctrines of Protestantism. By the time Steven would have been a young man, however, the new religion had had time to further establish itself.

The Walloons excelled in metallurgy, weaving, making of pottery, leather making, household furnishings,—mainly of wood,—and the textile industry (cf. "The Belgians," by Henry G. Bayer). Here we find other points of resemblance to our family. Steven[1] Flanders' grandson Stephen was a weaver, his grandson Joseph was a potter, his grandson Daniel was a carpenter, and his grandson Philip was a blacksmith. The trades of carpenter, shoemaker (cordwainer), blacksmith, weaver, and potter are found in abundance in the earlier generations of the Flanders family in America.

In this discussion it has been shown how Steven Flanders might have been a Walloon emigrant from the vicinity of Lille, that he might have come over on the "New Netherland," and that the family traditions bear a close correspondence to the records of the line of Jacques de Flandres at Lille. There remains to be considered the question of his direct parentage, and it is unfortunate that no definite conclusion can, as yet, be reached.

In the course of the World War, a great many records were destroyed in the vicinity of Lille. The compiler personally examined such records as remained in many of the surrounding towns. At Arras, the birthplace of Jacques de Flandres, several items which added to the sadly incomplete genealogy found at Lille, were discovered among the records still preserved. But at Wambrechies, where many of the immediate descendants of Jacques de Flandres resided, all records prior to 1694 had been destroyed in the World War.

It may be said, however, that in point of time, there is no reason why Steven could not have been a grandson of Jacques de Flandres of Lille. The name of Steven, in contrast to its rarity in England, is found frequently among the Belgian records. For example, among the records of other families at Bruges, West Flanders, were noted, "Stephanus Verstrati, b. 1598; Stephanus Vinck, b. 1609; Steven Verhouve, b. 1607; Stephanus Vermerre, b. 1607; Stephanus de Voo, b. 1604," etc.

As the list of the children of Jacques de Flandres, and their children, is quite incomplete, there is ample opportunity for Steven to be among the missing ones. Further research may perhaps fill in these gaps, and add the final necessary link to this chain of evidence.

It is rather interesting to find that the traits of the Flanders in America show a close correspondence to those of the Flemings, as is instanced in the following quotation: "Le Flamand c'est un volcan sous un iceberg . . . il aime sa liberté, sa terre, sa maison, sa famille, sa patrie. Le Flamand recourt volontiers aux armes; il sait attaquer, il excelle à se défendre." ("Hommes et Choses de Flandre," par Chanoine L. Salembier. Lille: Libr. de la Croix du Nord, 1911.) (The Fleming is a volcano under an iceberg. . . . he loves his liberty, his land, his house, his family, his country. The Fleming hastens willingly to arms; he knows how to attack, he excels in self defense.) This warlike disposition pervades many of our family traditions concerning Steven, finding its confirmation in the ennoblement of Jacques de Flandres by King Philip II for his services in the wars, and is well borne out by the patriotic lives of Steven[1] Flanders' descendants in America.

Concerning this Jacques de Flandres, Seigneur of Fromont and Herseaux, the following account, based upon the old genealogy found at Lille, the scattered records of the nearby towns, and the original papers of his ennoblement, is of great interest. His ancestry may be traced definitely to about 1400 A.D., and evidence is at hand suggesting his actual descent from the Counts of Flanders, whose long, valiant and redoubtable line reaches back to Charlemagne, crowned king of the "Holy Roman Empire" in 800 A.D., at Rome. This evidence of a connection between Jacques de Flandres and the Counts of Flanders is indeed represented in his coat of arms, for the escutcheon on his arms is the coat of arms originally conferred upon the Counts of Flanders. (See detailed description under Coat of Arms.)

DE FLANDRES

Armes: d'or au chevron de sable accompagné de trois étoiles à six raies du même et chargé sur sa pointe d'un écusson d'or au lion de sable, armé et lampassé de gueules.

(Arms: gold with a chevron of black accompanied by three six pointed stars of the same color, superposed in the center with an escutcheon of gold with a lion in black, claws and tongue in red).

From the Archives at Lille:

Mahieu De Flandres was a burgher of Forest in 1230. A burgher at that period was in the intermediate class between the nobles and common people, and was entitled to certain privileges. Forest is a small town in the vicinity of Brussels in the province of Brabant.

Jean De Flandres was a "bailli" in Lille in 1259, and was probably a son of Mahieu. A "bailli" was one who held a position under the King or under some ruling Lord, for dispensing justice.

No records have been found to definitely connect this Mahieu and Jean de Flandres with the following line, but as Pierre de Flandres, the first of the line of Jacques de Flandres, was the son of a Mahieu, and as he resided at Lille, a connection is suggested by these two facts.

1 Pierre De Flandres, son of Mahieu de Flandres, was a burgher at Lille in 1441. He became a burgher by right of purchase. In accordance with the customs of the country and period, a man could attain this right on the payment of a certain sum of money, if, in other respects, he was deemed worthy to be admitted to this standing in the community. This was also true of those raised to the rank of nobles. A distinction is made in the later records between those who purchased this right and those who became burghers by repurchasing, or had the rank conferred upon them as a mark of honor for some service rendered, or because of their worth. These were styled burghers "par rachat" and "par relief."

Children:

+ 2 i. Pierre.
3 ii. Colin, b. at Lezennes; burgher of Lille, by right of purchase.
+ 4 iii. Michel.

2 PIERRE DE FLANDRES, or PIEROT DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille in 1461, by right of purchase. He held a position corresponding to an Alderman of the town.

Child:

+ 5 i. Daniel.

4 MICHEL DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille by right of purchase the last of Feb. 1475; d. prior to 1503.

Children:

6 i. Daniel, burgher by "rachat," Apr. 7, 1508.
+ 7 ii. Michel.
8 iii. Jean, burgher "par relief," Dec. 20, 1532.
+ 9 iv. Jaspart.

5 DANIEL DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille by "rachat," Feb. 12, 1481; d. prior to 1514; m. Jeanne du Puich; dau. of Fiérin du Puich.

Children:

10 i. Jacques, priest and canon at Valenciennes.
+ 11 ii. Daniel.
12 iii. Marguerite, m. Pierre Le Pers.

7 MICHEL DE FLANDRES, burgher "par relief," July 26, 1527.

Children:

+ 13 i. Mathieu.
+ 14 ii. Jérôme.

9 JASPART DE FLANDRES, burgher by purchase, Jan. 8, 1535.

Children:

15 i. Jennin.
16 ii. Guillemot.
17 iii. François.
18 iv. Huchon, burgher "par relief," May 1590.
+ 19 v. Pierrechon.
20 vi. Margotine.

11 DANIEL DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille, "par relief," Apr. 12, 1515; m. Catherine Dupont; dau. of Antoine Dupont.

Daniel de Flandres served for 10 years under Charles V. He is described as a cavalier in complete armor.

Children:

21 i. Fiérin, burgher of Lille "par relief," May 14, 1535.
+ 22 ii. Antoine.
+ 23 iii. Louis.

13 MATHIEU DE FLANDRES, who took up his rank as burgher again June 15, 1568, after his marriage with Michelle de Five.

Children:

24 i. Mathieu, bapt. Nov. 23, 1570, at St. Catherine.
25 ii. Jean. His rights of inheritance were renounced by the guardians of the children, Jan. 13, 1580.

14 JÉRÔME DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille "par relief," July 21, 1561; m. Catherine de le Montaigne; dau. of Charles de le Montaigne; she d. prior to Oct. 1586.

Child:

26 i. Marguerite, a minor in 1586.

19 PIERRECHON DE FLANDRES, took up his rank as burgher again Apr. 21, 1562.

Children:

27 i. Marie, bapt. at St. Étienne, Sept. 3, 1568.
28 ii. Jacques, bapt. at St. Étienne, Dec. 21, 1573.

22 ANTOINE DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille "par relief," Nov. 8, 1538. He was an Alderman of Lille; m. Catherine des Plancques; dau. of Pierre des Plancques and Simone de Vendeville.

Antoine de Flandres served 10 years under Charles V, whom he accompanied in all his expeditions, as in Algiers and elsewhere.

Children:

+ 29 i. Jean.
30 ii. Jehanne, m. after 1562, to Paul Parmentier; son of Jacques Parmentier. He was burgher of Lille "par relief," July 9, 1563.
+ 31 iii. Jacques.

23 LOUIS DE FLANDRES, burgher of Arras, by rights of purchase, Sept. 17, 1547.

Child:

32 i. Abibon.

29 JEAN DE FLANDRES, Seigneur de l'Empire, burgher of Lille "par relief," Jan. 3, 1575; d. Jan. 14, 1621, at Wambrechies; m. (1) Mch. 6, 1574, to Michelle de Sailly; b. Aug. 24, 1555; d. Feb. 24, 1591; dau. of Antoine de Sailly and Marie Dancoisne; m. (2) Anne Petit; m. (3) Jan. 7, 1600, at Tournai, to Madeleine d'Ennetières; dau. of Jean d'Ennetières, Sr. de Lassus, and Jehanne Le Clercq.

In the old genealogy at Lille, this Jean de Flandres is given as the son of Antoine de Flandres, but in the papers of ennoblement of his grandson, Josse de Flandres, he is said to have been the son of Jacques de Flandres, Sr. de Fromont. As Josse de Flandres was ennobled by King Louis XIV of France, the ennoblement being based on the previous ennoblement of the "great grandfather of Josse, Jacques de Flandres," by King Philip II of Spain, it would seem probable that this Jean de Flandres was a grandson of Antoine, and not his son, as given in the genealogy.

In an old manuscript in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris an account is given of Josse de Flandres, grandson of this Jean, and mention is made of the fact that Jean de Flandres was once very wealthy, but having exhausted nearly all his resources, he had had one of his sons educated in the legal profession that he might be able to earn his own livelihood. It was stated that Jean de Flandres married several times and had a very large family.

As only a few of these children are recorded, it is possible that Steven[1] Flanders may have been a son of this Jean. Owing to the straightened resources of this (his presumptive father), an adequate reason would be found for his emigration to America. It is also possible that he might have become a convert to Calvinism and thus would have been out of sympathy with his family who were of the Catholic faith. It is equally possible that there may have been others in this large family, who had embraced the new religion.

Children, by 1st wife:

33 i. Jean, who was a canon at St. Piat-à-Seclin.

34 ii. Marie, who m. Jean Havet, a magistrate of Sainghin-en-Mélantois.

+ 35 iii. Jacques, b. Sept. 6, 1589, at Wambrechies.

36 iv. Daughter, who m. François de Wilde.

By 2nd wife:

+ 37 v. Josse.

38 vi. Catherine, who became a nun of the order of St. Clair, and died Abbess of that Convent at Lille in 1666.

31 JACQUES DE FLANDRES, Seigneur de Fromont et de Herseaux, b. at Arras, where he became a burgher, by right of purchase, June 29, 1563; burgher of Lille "par relief," Jan. 8, 1564; m. Anne Herlin; dau. of Jean Herlin and Catherine de Croix.

Jacques de Flandres received the titles of "Grand Bailli" and Forester of the woods and forests of the seigniory of Lille, from Philip II, by letters given at Brussels, Aug. 7, 1595. He was ennobled by King Philip II Nov. 29, 1595 (see letters of ennoblement at the end of this genealogy).

Children:

39 i. Jacques, Sr. de Fromont, b. at Arras; burgher of Arras, Aug. 23, 1595; canon of St. Piat-à-Seclin, later canon of Arras; bur. at Douai.

40 ii. Pierre, a capuchin monk.

41 iii. François, b. at Arras, burgher of Arras, Aug. 23, 1595.

42 iv. Éléonore, dame de Carnin, who, in 1615, built the choir of the Chapel of the Capuchins at Lille. "In the hope that she may share in the prayers and oraisons, and other forms of self mortification which are practiced here, for the salvation of her soul and those of her relatives."

+ 43 v. Charles, bapt. at St. Étienne, Lille, Nov. 13, 1569.

44 vi. Barbe, bapt. at St. Étienne, May 16, 1573.

45 vii. Marguerite, bapt. at St. Étienne, July 15, 1577.

46 viii. Jeanne, bapt. at St. Étienne, Sept. 19, 1579; d. Dec. 27, 1661, bur. in the Chapel of St. Joseph à St. Sauveur.

47 ix. Marie Thérèse.

35 JACQUES DE FLANDRES, b. Sept. 6, 1589, at Wambrechies; burgher of Lille, "par relief," Mch. 4, 1613; m. (1) Feb. 11, 1613, to Jossinne de Bourel; d. Apr. 1, 1621; dau. of Jean de Bourel and Isabeau de Hainin; m. (2) Jan. 31, 1622, to Agnès Cuvillon; d. June 4, 1667; dau. of Guillaume Cuvillon and Jacqueline Dupont.

Jacques de Flandres was a notary in Lille in 1613; an attorney of the Royal jurisdiction of Lille and a "bailli" of Noyelles.

Children, by 1st wife:

48 i. Élisabeth, bapt. at St. Étienne in Lille, Nov. 26, 1613; living in 1622.

49 ii. Marie, bapt. at St. Étienne, Feb. 6, 1616; m. at St. Catherine, May 24, 1632, to Jacques du Retz; bapt. at St. Étienne, Aug. 11, 1612; son of Laurent du Retz and Anne de Mons. He was a burgher of Lille, "par relief," Jan. 28, 1633.

50 iii. Jean, bapt. at St. Catherine, Dec. 1, 1617.

51 iv. Jacques, bapt. at St. Étienne, Apr. 24, 1619.

52 v. Gaspard, bapt. at St. Étienne, Mch. 27, 1621.

By 2nd wife:

53 vi. Josse Guillaume, bapt. at St. Étienne, Dec. 13, 1622.

54 vii. Agnès, bapt. at St. Étienne, May 28, 1624.

+ 55 viii. Simon, bapt. at St. Catherine, June 6, 1626.

56 ix. François, bapt. at St. Catherine, July 1, 1628; d. May 21, 1667.

57 x. Marguerite, bapt. at St. Catherine, Feb. 10, 1631.

58 xi. Jacques, bapt. at St. Catherine, Feb. 18, 1633; d. in the parish of St. Pierre, July 13, 1683; m. at St. Maurice, June 18, 1680, to Jeanne Dubus, widow of Robert Lorthioir; bapt. at St. Maurice, Feb. 5, 1641; dau. of Mathias Dubus and Jeanne Chevalier. No issue.

37 JOSSE DE FLANDRES, burgher of Lille, "par relief," Aug. 7, 1620; m. at St. Pierre, May 18, 1620, to Anne Lefebvre; dau. of Liévin Lefebvre and Agnès de Roubaix; she was dead in 1655.

Josse de Flandres was a lawyer, lieutenant of the tribunal of Justice at Lille; constable of the Cross-bowmen.

As previously mentioned, the father of Josse de Flandres became impoverished and had his son, Josse, educated in the legal profession, as a means of gaining a livelihood. He was very successful in his profession, and, in the old manuscript it is stated, that fearing lest his children would be unwilling to study or enter upon a business career, because of pride in their noble birth, he resolved to renounce all claim to his titles of nobility, and to bring his children up in ignorance of their heritage.

Children:

59 i. Gérard, bapt. at St. Pierre, Mch. 5, 1621; d. May 22, 1671. He became a priest, and canon of Notre Dame of Arras.

60 ii. Jacques, bapt. at St. Étienne, Jan. 18, 1622.

61 iii. Marie, bapt. at St. Étienne, Nov. 28, 1622; d. Nov. 28, 1672. She was a nun at the Hospice Ganthois, later Superior of the Convent of St. Esprit.

Josse de Flandres was a burgher of Lille, "par relief" Aug. 6, 1666. In the old manuscript in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris, it is stated that Josse de Flandres wished to reacquire the titles of nobility which his father had renounced, and succeeded in finding enough letters to justify his claim, in addition to family traditions, showing that his family had formerly been of very high rank in the nobility. On these grounds his titles were restored to him by Louis XIV of France. The following extract is taken from the "Lettres de chevalerie pour Josse de Flandres":

"Louis, by the grace of God, King of France and Navarre, etc., to all present and to come, Salutation. By our edict of March 1696 for the ennoblement of five hundred people, who should be chosen for their merit, their attributes and their good qualities, as worthy to be raised to this degree of honor and distinction. For this reason we have esteemed it no more than right that we should number among these our well loved Josse de Flandres, sieur du Coutre and de Beauvoir, native of our town of Lille in Flanders, he being the son of Josse de Flandres whose father was Jean de Flandres, Sr. de l'Empire, son of Jacques de Flandres, Sr. de Froidmond, who was ennobled by letters from the King of Spain, Phillipe II, given at Madrid, the last day of November in the year 1595, in addition to the fact that he has always lived in a manner becoming a noble, as did his father and grandfather before him, and for 28 years he has borne many honorable offices in the magistracy of Lille, and all the more because by birth, his nobility was incontestably acquired by the aforesaid letters of the King of Spain; moreover in supplicating us to confirm these said letters of ennoblement, since he has become our subject he has asked that it might be our pleasure to raise him to the degree, name, title and dignity of chevalier, on the condition that he pay a certain fixed sum. For these reasons and for certain other considerations, wishing to treat the said Sr. Josse de Flandres favorably, and from our certain knowledge, special grace, full power and royal authority, we have maintained and confirmed, and by these presents, signed by our hand, will maintain and confirm the said Josse de Flandres in the same title and quality of noble, formerly granted to his forefathers, and in restoring to him this right, unwilling to prejudice the letters of ennoblement conferred upon his great grandfather by the King of Spain, his sovereign, we, in so far as it may be necessary, do ennoble him. He, his children, and their posterity, born and to be born in lawful marriage, are to enjoy all the honors, prerogatives, privileges, franchises, liberties, immunities and exemptions heretofore enjoyed by the aforesaid Josse, Jean and Jacques de Flandres, his father, grandfather, and great grandfather, and by other nobles of our realm, who are descended from noble and ancient extraction. And that we may show him special signs of our favor, we have created him and named him by our royal authority, Chevalier. Given at Versailles, in the month of February, in the year of grace 1697. Signed: Louis."

DE FLANDRES

COAT OF ARMS

Shield: The black chevron accompanied by three black stars was the arms of the Counts of Thierry.

Escutcheon: Arms of the Counts of Flanders.

The superposition of the escutcheon, bearing the arms of the Counts of Flanders, denotes an alliance between the Counts of Flanders and the Thierry Family.

Helmet: The helmet is of steel, barred with gold, inclining to a profile. This denotes a helmet of the nobility. The full faced helmet of gold was used only for Kings and Princes of the Blood Royal.

Coronet: A ducal coronet, or crest coronet, chased and jewelled, and, in the representment, showing three strawberry leaves, and supporting the crest.

Crest: An eagle with wings spread.

Supporters: Two lions rampant. Rampant signifies that only one eye, and one ear can be seen, with the head in profile, and that the beast stands upright.

The origin of the supporters is ascribed to a practice at the tournaments. Only those of noble descent or warlike renown were permitted to participate in these chivalrous pastimes. Each contestant, to prove his title to these qualifications, exhibited his armorial shield upon the barriers and pavilions within the lists. Pages and esquires attended to watch their masters' escutcheons, and it is stated that the armour bearers, who were thus employed, enveloped themselves in the skins of lions or bears, and that this gave rise to the custom of using supporters.

ENNOBLEMENT OF JACQUES DE FLANDRES BY PHILIPPE II, KING OF SPAIN

(Archives du Nord; Chambres des Comptes de Lille, Art. B. 1676; Registre Supplémentaire aux Registres des Chartes: Titres Nobilaires Ier, 165 à 169.)

The following is a brief summary of these letters of ennoblement:

Philip II of Spain "in behalf of our well loved Jacques de Flandre, Sr. de Fromont, native of our town of Arras." In consideration of the following facts which had been presented to him, Philip granted a title of nobility to Jacques de Flandre and his family, with permission to use his ancient coat of arms: Daniel de Flandre, grandfather of Jacques de Flandre, had served for a period of ten years as a man at arms with the father of King Philip; Antoine de Flandre, father of Jacques, had also served for an equal length of time under King Philip's father, and had accompanied him in all his journeys, as, for example, to Algiers and other places; Jacques de Flandre himself, had been a faithful and loyal vassal to King Philip, and had shown his duty and affection towards the king by aiding him during the troublesome times in the Pays-bas, and had raised and equipped a company, at his own expense, to assist in quelling these insurrections, serving so well that when he left the town of Arras, the magistracy of that town testified to the satisfaction he had rendered, not only by his deeds but by his personal bearing, granting him exemption from the watch and from guard duty for the rest of his life; Charles, son of Jacques de Flandre, had served for 7 or 8 years, as assistant to the secretary in the Councils of State in the Pays-bas, and also to the secretary of the Privy Council and to the Registrar and was still continuing in that service; many of the ancestors of Jacques de Flandre were nobles and nobly allied. These reasons were considered sufficient for granting the title of noble and for permission to use the old coat of arms belonging to this family, and these privileges were conferred upon Jacques de Flandre, his children, both male and female, and upon their posterity, born in lawful marriage, for their use forever. In order that they might live in a manner becoming to nobles of the realm, they were to hold in undisputed possession all the estates which were theirs at that time, and any which they might thereafter acquire. They were to receive all emoluments due to nobles; lands, seigniories, rents, revenues, and all things appertaining to a feudal lord. These honors were bestowed without any financial recompense, as the services which had been rendered by this family were considered sufficient compensation. No future ruler was permitted to collect from them any fees for this patent of nobility, which was bestowed upon them in perpetuity. The following arms and blasons were granted to Jacques de Flandre, his children and their posterity, to be used and borne by them forever on all occasions, and wherever it was fitting for them to be displayed: a shield of gold bearing a chevron in black, accompanied by three stars in black and with an escutcheon of gold, bearing a lion in black, superposed in the center of the shield; such as had been painted and portrayed in these letters of ennoblement. A barred helmet with the bars in gold and black, and for a crest, an eagle in gold. "In order that this may be in a form valid and immutable forever, we have signed these presents with our hand and have had our great seal attached to them." "Given in our town of Madrid, the royal domain of Castille, the next to the last day in the month of November in the year of grace, 1595." This was signed "Philippes." On a fold was written: "By the King, and signed: A. De La Loo." It was sealed with a seal attached to a double strip of black silk, intermingled with gold,—the seal of red wax.

On the supposition that Steven Flanders was a descendant of Jacques de Flandres, it may be of interest to give a short sketch of the early historical background of this family.

Originally limited to Bruges and its immediate environs, Flanders (Flemish, Vlaanderen) was extended during the eighth and ninth centuries to include the entire coast region from Calais to the Scheldt River. In the time of Caesar this territory was occupied by Celtic Tribes. Mr. Henry G. Bayer in his book, "The Belgians," states that the Walloons are the lineal descendants of the old Gallic Belgae (or Celtic people). The inhabitants of the ancient Belgian Gaul, and the people of the southern provinces of Belgium were designated by the name, Walloons, very likely on account of their Gallic origin. In transition from the Latin and Romance languages to the tongue of the North, the "g" is often changed to "w," so the name Gaulois would become Waalsch or Walloon. The Flemish and the Dutch call the Walloon, a "Waal," and give to the Walloon country the name of "Waalsch" (Extract from "The Belgians").

Later on the country was overrun by German invaders, and eventually it became a part of the Frankish Dominion. It is of interest to note that Flanders was included in the Kingdom of West Francia (later to be France) by the treaty of Verdun (843), by which the Empire of Charlemagne was broken up. West Francia was the share of Charlemagne's grandson, Charles the Bald, while East Francia (later to become Lorraine and Germany) was assigned to Lothaire (Lorraine), and Louis the German (Germany) brothers of Charles the Bald. This association with the West Frankish Dominion made Flanders unique among the other Netherlandish Provinces, which were all included in the territory assigned to Lothaire and Louis the German. Because of this early division, it is not surprising to find Flanders as a fief of the French crown throughout the succeeding centuries until 1385, when, through marriage, Flanders became part of the great Burgundian Domain.

About a century later (1477), Flanders, together with the rest of the Netherlands, came into the hands of Austria through the marriage of Mary, daughter of Charles the Bold, to Maximilian I of the house of Hapsburg. Although Flanders never regained its independence after its union with the Burgundian Dominion, the commercial and industrial prosperity of the land continued under the Burgundian and Austrian regime (indeed, it was fostered by Emperor Maximilian I and his son, Charles V), until the injustice and cruelty of Philip II of Spain (son of Charles V) aroused the whole Netherlands to rebellion under the leadership of William of Orange.

The prolonged effort for independence from Spain which followed entailed much loss and destruction, and the commercial and industrial prosperity, as exemplified by the Flemish towns of Bruges and Ghent, was lost. Many of the inhabitants fled across the Channel to England. Flanders became a part of the United Netherlands only to revert to Spanish rule in 1633. The Netherlands remained as Spanish possessions until the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 transferred them to Austria. During the seventeenth century a series of treaties resulted in the transferrence of a large part of the southern portion of the original province of Flanders to France. In 1815, the Austrian Netherlands once more became the United Netherlands by the Congress of Vienna, and of them Flanders remained a part until 1831, when the Flemish people, racially and in religion, differing from the Dutch of the Northern Netherlands, rebelled and won their independence, forming the present Kingdom of Belgium.

The title, Count of Flanders, was revived in 1840 by Leopold I of Belgium, it being conferred upon his second son, Philip Eugene Ferdinand.

Notwithstanding the many and varied influences to which Flanders had been subjected as a fief of the French crown, a part of the Domain of Burgundy, a possession of Austria, Spain and Holland, its people, nevertheless, retained a strong racial integrity of Frankish origin and French affinity, and an inborn rebelliousness and craving for independence.

As the southern provinces of Belgium remained under the rule of Philip II, Protestantism did not gain such a foothold there as in the northern section, but in 1563, the Synod of the Walloon churches in the provinces of Artois, Flanders, Brabant and Hainaut was formed, and Antwerp soon became a strong Calvinist place, a rallying center for the Flemish and Walloon communities. ("The Belgians," by Henry G. Bayer.)

In the letters of ennoblement of Jacques de Flandres, many strong indications are found of his descent from the Counts of Flanders. For several generations his family had served in the wars under Charles V and Philip II; many of his ancestors were said to have been nobles and nobly allied; permission was given for the restoration of the ancient coat of arms belonging to his family; these represented the arms of the Counts of Flanders combined with those of the Thierry family, who were allied by marriage with some of the early Counts.

The first Count of Flanders was Baldwin Bras-de-fer (the iron arm). Originally he bore the title of Forester. Due to a runaway match with Judith, daughter of Charles the Bald, he was created Count of Flanders. Judith was married at the age of thirteen, and two years later her husband died. She made a second marriage with her stepson, and, in the space of three years, was again widowed. In 860, she returned to her father's court and soon after eloped with Baldwin the Forester. After a secret marriage, they fled to Rome and implored the Pope to intercede in their behalf. A reconciliation was effected with Charles the Bald by Pope Nicholas I, and Charles conferred the County of Flanders upon Baldwin, raising him to the dignity of a peer of the realm. Baldwin Bras-de-fer died in 879, and was succeeded by his son, Baldwin the Bald, who married the third daughter of Alfred the Great of England.

The third Count of Flanders was Arnould le Grand, who married Adela, daughter of the Count of Vermandois. He placed his son, Baldwin III in command of the County of Flanders, but the son died in 961, and Arnould again assumed the rule, dying in 989. He was succeeded by Baldwin IV, son of Baldwin III, who died in 1036, leaving his son, Baldwin V, called le Debonnaire, to become the 6th Count of Flanders. He married Adela, daughter of Robert II of France. His children were: Baldwin, Duke of Mons; Robert le Friser (the curly head); Henry, who became an ecclesiastic; Ludes, who became Archbishop of Trèves; Matilda, who married William the Conqueror; and Judith.

Baldwin, Duke of Mons, became the 7th Count of Flanders, and married Richilde, heiress of the Count of Hainaut, and so came into possession of this province. Baldwin VI was killed in battle and his brother, Robert le Friser, became the 8th Count of Flanders, being succeeded by his son, Robert II, who took part in the first Crusade and won the title of The Lance and Sword of Christendom. He was drowned by the breaking of a bridge in 1111. His son, Baldwin VII, was the next Count of Flanders, who died in 1119, at the age of 27 years, leaving no heir. His cousin, Charles, son of Adela, the dau. of Robert I, and wife of Knut of Denmark, became the 11th Count of Flanders. This Count was murdered at Bruges, and left no heir.

The struggle for the Countship then lay between William Clito, great grandson of Baldwin V, by his daughter, Matilda, and Thierry of Alsace, grandson of Robert I. William Clito won the title and became ruler of the County of Flanders and was succeeded by Thierry of Alsace, who took part in the second Crusade in 1146. In 1157, Thierry resigned the Countship to his son, Philip of Alsace.

Philip, Count of Flanders, was a strong and able man and was also a Crusader. He reconstructed the castle of the Counts at Ghent, a description of which follows. At his death in 1191, the succession passed to Baldwin, Count of Hainaut, grandson of Baldwin VI, thus uniting the province of Hainaut with that of Flanders. He married Margaret of Thierry, a sister of Philip, the preceding Count of Flanders. At his death in 1206, his children were placed under the guardianship of their uncle, Philip of Namur, but he proved faithless to his trust, and the two eldest daughters, who were under age at the time of their father's death, fell into the hands of Philip Augustus of France. He married the eldest, Joanna, to Ferdinand of Portugal and she became Countess of Flanders. She died without issue and was succeeded by her sister Margaret, whose sons, William and Guy de Dampierre, ruled over Flanders in turn. Then followed Robert of Bethune, son of Guy, who was succeeded by his grandson Louis, whose son Louis de Maele, was the last Count of Flanders in the direct line from Baldwin Bras-de-fer. With the marriage of his daughter, Margaret, to Philip the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, Flanders became part of the Burgundian Domain. The Burgundian rulers were John the Fearless, Philip the Good, and Charles the Rash, whose only child, Mary, married Maximilian I of Austria. Their son Charles V, born at Ghent in 1500 then became the ruler of Flanders, and was succeeded by his son, Philip II of Spain. It was from this ruler that Jacques de Flandres received his patent of nobility, as has been previously shown.

The connection between Jacques de Flandres and some junior branch of the Counts of Flanders is clearly indicated by the coat of arms. As the arms of Thierry are combined with those of the Counts of Flanders, it strongly suggests descent from Baldwin, the 15th Count of Flanders, who married Margaret, dau. of the Count of Thierry. Philip of Alsace, the 14th Count of Flanders, brother of Margaret, and thus also a son of the Count of Thierry, is said to have left no issue, whereas the children of Baldwin and Margaret were numerous.

Owing to the rarity of the name, it is also probable that the Van Vlaenderen of Ghent were descendants of the Counts of Flanders, for they resided at Ghent where the old castle of the Counts of Flanders still stands.

This old castle at Ghent is a very imposing example of the fortresses of those ancient times. It is in an excellent state of preservation and commands a wide extent of territory. The lower floors of this castle are supposed to have been built in the 9th or 10th century, and were used as dungeons when Philip of Alsace rebuilt the castle in 1180, upon these old foundations. Over the entrance is an opening built in the form of a cross, and above this, upon three stones from Tournai, an inscription is carved which, being translated, reads: "The year of the Incarnation 1180, Philippe, Count of Flanders and of Vermandois, son of the Count of Thierry and Sybille, had this castle built."

During his expedition to Palestine, Count Philip had studied the strong fortresses of the Crusades and this castle of the Counts in Ghent is said to bear a striking resemblance to those of the Orient. Philip built this castle that he might have a fortress from which he could keep watch over his turbulent town of Ghent and over the boats which plied up and down the river, forming a direct communication with the north of Flanders. An entire garrison could be accommodated on the ground floor of the castle. Around the battlements were placed projecting turrets, provided with openings in the floor, through which heavy projectiles, or burning brands, could be thrown upon a besieging enemy. In the upper part of these turrets were loopholes, through which stones, or other missiles, could be hurled upon the besiegers, while the defenders of the castle were sheltered by the turrets from those without. This castle of the Counts was considered to be the strongest and best equipped for defense of any in the country.

In the upper floors of the castle are the apartments of the Count and Countess, the large banqueting halls and the hall of justice. At one end of the hall of justice, or audience chamber, is a large vaulted arch, within which were displayed the arms of the Count, and above them was carved the war cry: "Vlaendren en de Leu" (Flanders and the Lion).

LINE OF DANIEL[6] FLANDERS

"Our great grandfather, Daniel Flanders of Salisbury (Mass.), married Ann Merrell of Newburyport, (Mass.).

"He served in the War of the Revolution of 1775 from Salisbury and carried an English bullet in his person to his grave.

"He became a noted ship builder; was 2nd in the building of the U. S. Ship 'Constitution' of Boston, and in building of the Navy during the War of 1812. He had two sons Daniel and Charles."

"Charles Flanders, our grandfather, went to Sea in 1809 in the ship 'Romulus,' built by his father, from Norfolk, Virginia, with Naval stores to London.

"He was in capacity of Midshipman on board the 'Constitution' during her engagement with the British Corvette 'Guerrière' in 1812, off Boston Harbour and received two wounds. He made two voyages to Charlestown, S. C., running the English blockade during the War of 1812.

"He sailed in 'the Cross Line' of Rockets from New York to Liverpool in 1832. Afterwards went to different parts of the World. He was then given command of the Naval Ship 'Onward,' and while cruising around Africa, put into Algoa Bay, where he gave a luncheon on board to all the Consuls in Port Elizabeth. At 4 o'clock the company withdrew to the deck to witness a 'feu de joie' of 21 guns and as the guests left the ship a salute of 9 guns was given.

"Captain Charles Flanders, our grandfather, in 1858, in coming to England in command of the Ship 'Onward' saved the crew of the British barque 'Lady Canelle,' for which he received a gold medal, 1st class, from the British Government."
